Castoria. "Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children." Dr. G. C. Osmond, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various lozenges, nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves." Dr. J. P. Mitchell, Conway, Ark.

Castoria. "Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it." UNITED HOSPITAL AND DISPENSARY, Boston, Mass.

NOTICE TO DELINQUENTS.

This notice is of no particular interest but to those of our subscribers who are indebted to the Tribune for more than one year. To such we wish to remind them that the aggregate sum owed in subscriptions for this paper now amounts to several hundreds of dollars. We have waited patiently for the delinquents to settle their accounts, and while many of them have done so, there are still some who appear to give no heed to their debts. We do not propose to continue this notice or plead for what is due. Those who owe for the paper can easily ascertain the amount. The date from which each is indebted is distinctly printed on the paper or on the wrapper, following the name of the subscriber, and all who owe for a year or more are requested to give this their prompt attention. The money is needed now more than it ever was before, and in this call we do not want any delinquent to consider himself an exception. Understand it plainly, we want every subscriber who owes $1.50 or more to settle up.

This is a matter which is seldom referred to in these columns, for the Tribune's subscribers, by a large majority, are people who pay their way. We appreciate their promptness and thank them for it, and have no desire to annoy them by publishing dunning notices every week.

STATE LEGISLATURE

Over a Thousand New Measures Introduced Thus Far.

COMPULSORY ARBITRATION BILL.

Champions of This Proposition Cannot Agree Upon a Satisfactory Bill, and This May Defeat the Plan—a Bill to Protect the State Foresters.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—The legislature settled down to business again this evening with prospects of doing considerable routine work before the close of the week. For the first time this session the senate has shown a desire to do something by meeting at 9 o'clock this evening, instead of 10 o'clock, and was approved by the house. The bill will be introduced at 10 o'clock instead of 11, as heretofore, with no fixed hour of adjournment. The members from the rural districts wanted to fix the hour of meeting at 9 o'clock, but they were outvoted by the city members. The house will probably begin holding afternoon sessions toward the close of the month.

This session is far in advance of that of two years ago with its work. This may be accepted as a proof of the desire on the part of a majority of the members to adjourn earlier than usual. Two years ago the first bill reached the governor March 15. This bill will go to the governor this session on Jan. 23 and was approved the same day. The governor received two other bills the past week, and during the current week it is expected to send to him not less than ten.

More than 1,000 bills have been introduced in the two bodies, one-half of which have been passed upon by committee. Except the appropriation bills for the legislature, the committees have few bills to consider. Chairman Marshall, of the house appropriations committee, is preparing a special calendar for appropriation bills to be reported the latter part of the week, in order that they may be read the first time at the meeting on Monday next.

The proceedings of the senate are not likely to excite much interest unless Senator Porter's bill abolishing sectional school boards in Philadelphia and creating a department of education is reported from the education committee, to which it was committed last week after it had been read the first time. The advocates of the measure will be given a hearing on the bill during the week. The political opinions of Senator Porter are opposed to it on personal and political grounds, and will kill it when it is reached on third reading, if it is ever advanced to that stage.

For a Custodian of State Supplies.

The senate has passed finally the bill introduced by Senator McCarrill, of this city, creating the office of custodian of state supplies and fixing the salary at $8,000 annually. It will come up in the house during the week, and the Democrats, though in a decided minority, will make an aggressive fight against its passage. They will be aided by some of the strongest leaders of the minority. Governor Hastings is in favor of the bill, and should become a law in order that he may appoint his friend, Captain John C. Delaney, of this city, to the place, and there doesn't seem to be much doubt of its passage.

The forestry bill will come up in the house during the week. It was prepared by the forestry commission to protect the state forests from ravages by fire, and provides for the appointment of fire wardens by the commission, who shall have authority to employ assistants to aid in extinguishing the flames. The bill excited much discussion in committee and on the floor of the house. The debate will revolve upon the question of the salary of the fire wardens, which comes up on third reading and final passage.

Governor Hastings tells a good story on Colonel Stable, of York, the first Republican ever elected to congress from the Nineteenth district. Five years ago, when the governor was a candidate for the nomination against Delanoy, one of his staunchest opponents was Colonel Stable, who was one of the delegates to the convention from York county, and after that body had adjourned and the governor was not nominated the colonel called on him at the adjacent general's office. He went up on the elevator and after he had condoled with him he asked:

"Oh, $50 or $75 a month," was the reply.

Then Colonel Stable said, "General, we are going to try for the governorship four years from now?"

"Yes," said the governor.

"And after you will be nominated and elected," said the colonel, "there is one thing I want to ask of you. If you are elected and we are all living at that time I want to be appointed to run that elevator?"

"It beats farming!"

Governor Hastings told Colonel Stable if he was elected governor he (Stable) should run the elevator. It happened that Colonel Stable was nominated for congress by the Republicans of the Nineteenth district, and during the campaign the governor spoke at York. Among those who sat on the platform was Colonel Stable. After Governor Hastings had spoken he took a seat near him and had a chat.

"Colonel," said the governor, "what are your chances?"

"Oh, it is pretty hard to tell," was the reply. "So far as I am concerned it is going to be a tight race. But you are all right, you are sure to be elected governor; and, say, general, don't you forget me on that elevator job?"

Stable Doesn't Want the Job.

Stable doesn't want the place, now as he will get $5,000 for his term as congressman, and the "Sunny" Baker of Hollingsburg, who has charge of the elevator, will be retained.

Two bills which will materially affect the profits of the Pullman Sleeping Car company in this state if they become laws have been introduced in the legislature; one by Senator Cloyd of Schuylkill, and the other by Governor-elect, H. B. DeLaware. The bills will fix the rate of fare at two cents a mile for 100 miles, and a third of a cent for every additional mile. It prohibits the lowering of an upper berth unless sold, makes it unlawful to sell intoxicating liquors on board the cars, and prohibits the steward, porter and conductor from receiving tips. Mr. Cloyd's bill provides for the payment of a license of $100 to be paid for each buffet or dining car handled through the state upon which intoxicating liquors are sold. The license must be posted in a prominent place in the car. The penalty is $300 or sixty days in prison, or both.

Representative Seyfert, of Lancaster, has introduced a bill in the house appropriating $5,000 to erect a monument at Ephrata, Lancaster county, to the memory of the heroes of the revolutionary war. After the battle of Brandywine about 500 of the wounded of the continental army were removed to the convent of the Seven Day Baptists on the site of Ephrata. Nearly two hundred of those poor fellows died of their wounds and a deadly fever which broke out among them, and were buried in the old graveyard adjoining the convent. Their graves are unmarked, although a half century ago a movement was started to erect to them a monument. After the cornerstone was laid the project was abandoned until two years ago, when Mr. Seyfert introduced the bill in the house appropriate to erect the monument. The bill was defeated in the hurry and bustle at the close of the session.

Commissioner Reader's Little Bill.

State Dairy and Food Commissioner Reader has had introduced in the legislature a bill appropriating $20,000 to pay the salary and expenses of his office the past two years, the last Legislature having failed to make the appropriation at the time the office was created. There is a strong feeling against the commissioner among the members of the house appropriation committee, to which the bill was referred. They claim he used his office in an endeavor to prevent their election, and that he had arranged with his agents who have prosecuted hotel and restaurant keepers for using oleomargarine and butterine solely for the purpose of securing the fine provided for by the act prohibiting the sale in Pennsylvania of such products.

The quarrel between Senator Quay and David Marshall, the Republican leader of Philadelphia, has broken Senator Penrose, of Philadelphia, to the front as a political leader in the state. Mr. Penrose is one of the brightest and most promising young men in Pennsylvania, notwithstanding his recent failure to secure the nomination of his party for mayor of Philadelphia. Ten years ago when Penrose was candidate for the legislature the Republican leaders of Philadelphia arranged for a meeting between him and Senator Quay, who happened to be in the city before the nominations were made looking over the political situation.

After the conference between them and Penrose had retired Senator Quay said to a friend who was present during the conversation, "That young fellow seems all right, but what queer shoes he wears." Those days Senator Penrose did not dress with the style and good taste that now characterize his make up, and on this special occasion he had on old shoes. One was evidently fixed with a piece of white twine and the other was a congress gaiter. The senator is the handsomest man in the state legislature, and has the respect of all who know him, even his political enemies.

The senate will take up tomorrow on final passage the bill introduced by Senator Gobin, of Lebanon, authorizing the adjutant of the Grand Army of the Republic to administer oaths and affirmations to pensioners on their vouchers for the payment of pensions, the charge for each oath to be fifteen cents. The bill will take away from many justices of the peace a deal of money, as they are allowed twenty-five cents apiece for such oaths.

Compulsory Education Bills Dying.

The movement in favor of compulsory education has practically been abandoned by the failure of Representative Farr, of Lackawanna, and Seyfert, of Lancaster, their rival champions, to agree on a bill satisfactory to themselves or a majority of the members of the house. The patriotic orders have taken a hand in the movement, and if such a measure does become a law it will be through their efforts. They favor the Seyfert bill, but have agreed to leave the matter to the legislature.

The patriotic orders are making a strong fight for the passage of the bill introduced in the house by Mr. Smith, of Philadelphia, making it a misdemeanor for any public school teacher to wear a religious garb of any sort in the school room. The house committee on judiciary general has eliminated the penalty clause and will report the bill to the house in that form, unless it can be persuaded to rescind its action. The legislative committees of the Executive Order of Sons of America and Junior Order of United American Mechanics will give a hearing tomorrow before the committee.

The house has concurred in the action of the senate for the appointment of a legislative committee to investigate the charges against the management of the state insane hospital at Norristown and Wernersville. Speaker Walker has announced the committee on the part of the house to be the same as that of the senate.

The members of the legislature opposed to the reelection of Senator Cameron to the United States senate in 1897 have formed a compact with David Martin and Senator Porter, of Philadelphia, which they believe will be mutually beneficial to both parties. In return for their support of the Martin-Porter combine the anti-Cameronites have received a promise of assistance from the friends of the two Philadelphians. Cameron's enemies are secretly working for the nomination of Charles Emory Smith, of the Philadelphia Press, for Cameron's seat two years hence.

To Govern Revocation of Liquor Licenses.

A bill was introduced in the house to-night by Mr. Comarath, of Philadelphia, providing that no rule to show cause why a retail liquor license should be revoked shall be granted by any court of quarter sessions except upon an affidavit first made and filed of record, giving the names and residences of the persons making the same, and the specific and particular grounds upon which it is based, together with accurate and exact dates and particulars of the alleged violation of the law. A certified copy of the affidavit shall be served upon the person or persons upon whom the rule is taken to revoke the license, and no such rule shall be heard or considered by the court until proof is made to the satisfaction of the court that the provisions of the act have been complied with.

Among other bills were: By Mr. Talbot, Chester, appropriating $5,000 for the erection of a monument on the battlefield of Brandywine to the memory of Lafayette, under the direction of a commission to be appointed by the governor; by Mr. Donath, Berks, creating a school book board to consist of the governor, the superintendent of public instruction and secretary of the commonwealth, to correspond with the publishers of school books to ascertain the standard price of such books.

Concurrent resolutions were offered by Mr. Reinhold, of Lebanon, providing for the appointment of a committee, to consist of three members of the house and two of the senate, to investigate charges that a number of employes of state insane hospital at Wernersville are unnatural
