We Make All Our Own Clothing

on our own premises, by your own townfolks. It is good, strong, neat and cheap, much more so than those sold by someone else, who just deals in clothes but does not make them. We are the only merchant between the cities of Wilkes-Barre and Pottsville who buys Cloths direct from the mills and makes them up at home. We are therefore able to make them up much better and cheaper, and sell them for less money than any other merchant, than if we were to buy them elsewhere and bring them here to sell. By making them ourselves

We Save You The Middleman's Profit!

Which is equal at least to one-third, and perhaps more than the selling price, and give you the benefit of it. Remember we have no rent to pay, and although we are beginners we are no strangers, having been in business for over

15 years at our old stand. So we ought to know just what the people want and need in the line of Clothing, and by making it up ourselves we can give them just what they need for very little money, especially in

Boys' and Children's Clothing.

We carry a very large stock of all kinds and sizes of these goods at extremely low prices. We will not quote you prices, but will mention a few so as to give you an idea how cheap we are selling Clothing.

Boys' Suits, age 14 to 19, $1.98.

Children's Suits, age 4 to 14, 74 cents.

which is superintended by an experienced cutter, we guarantee that you will find as large and fine an assortment of Suitings and Trouserings to select from as you will find anywhere. We make tailoring a specialty and will sell you an all-work

WHAT THEY THINK OF IT

Prominent Views on the Income Tax Decision.

Senator Hill is Gratified—Sure the Whole Act Will Eventually Be Declared Unconstitutional—Chauncey Depew Says It is a Nice Law—Henry George Denounces It.

Washington, April 9.—Senator Hill of New York, who more than any one else antagonized the enactment of the income tax into law when it was before the senate, was an interested spectator and close listener in the court room when the opinion was handed down yesterday.

Hill is Gratified. "I am naturally gratified," said Senator Hill to a United Press representative, "at the decision of the court by a vote of 9 to 2, on two important questions involved in the act. They are both questions I had carefully considered and vigorously pressed in the senate among other objections to the law. For myself, I have never had any doubt that the tax imposed by the income tax law, is a direct tax in all its features, and, hence, an unconstitutional tax. I naturally think the opinions of Justices Fuller and Field are very able and convincing and will receive the approval of the bar throughout the United States."

Class Legislation of the Worst Kind. "There never was any good reason for the enactment of the income tax law. It was pressed upon congress by a lot of populists, socialists, cranks and disturbers and their views were unwisely adopted. It was class legislation of the worst kind. From a political point of view it was the height of folly to adopt legislation of that character."

Excellent for the Country. "The effect of the decision will, in my judgment, be excellent for the country. I have no question but that the whole act will eventually be declared unconstitutional. The first act of the next congress should be to repeal the law and atone for our blunder; unfortunately the republicans will get the benefit of the repeal. It would be the most supreme folly on the part of the democratic party to maintain an income tax law now, when some of its principal features have already been declared to be unconstitutional."

OPINIONS IN NEW YORK.

Views of Chauncey Depew, Henry George and Others. New York, April 9.—The announcement of the result of the decision of the supreme court in the income tax law created something of a stir in this city and many bankers, brokers, capitalists and professional men gave their opinions on the subject.

A Nice Law, Says Chauncey Depew. Chauncey M. Depew, president of the New York Central railroad, said he thought the decision, so far as it applies to real estate, was an excellent law. "Under the decision," he went on, "the capitalist who derives all his income from tenement houses, flat houses, hotels and the like is not required to pay a dollar of taxes. The unfortunate man who rents places from him, however, but who makes his living in a different way, is taxed heavily. That is a nice law."

Preposterous, Says Henry George. Henry George: "In my opinion that part of the court that held the law to be unconstitutional is right. As the income tax law now practically stands, it is even more preposterous than it was as originally passed."

Views of Judge Dillon. Judge John F. Dillon said: "This will be the turning point in the minds of many people who have been undecided whether to buy municipal or railroad bonds. It will add very much to the generality of municipal bonds when people know they are not subject to taxation. It will not effect the railroads especially, I think. The sustaining of the court's decision in the matter of the income tax seems to me quite constitutional and I expected it."

Henry Clews Deplores the Decision. "It is a most unfortunate decision," said Henry Clews. "The tax will now be paid with a feeling that it is unconstitutional, and will be given under protest in the hope that it will eventually be returned. The courts should have been either overwhelmingly on one side or the other, and then there would have been confidence in the decision. It is dispiriting for the hardworking people to have to pay a tax on their income while the Astors pay nothing on their inherited wealth."

Hetty Green Believes It All Wrong. Mrs. Hetty Green, the richest woman in America, when told of the news in Washington, said: "They should have declared the whole bill unconstitutional. It's all wrong, every bit of it. We have too many taxes as it is."

POLITICS IN CHURCH AFFAIRS.

President Cleveland's Brother To Be Asked To Resign His Pastorate. Washington, N. Y., April 4. By a vote of 28 to 1, during an exciting session, the congregation of the Presbyterian church at Chaumont, this county, decided to ask the Rev. William Cleveland, brother of the president, to tender his resignation of the pastorate. It is reported that politics has entered into the church among the congregation as a disturbing element, although the Rev. Mr. Cleveland took no part in politics. He will appeal to the presbytery.

FOR ESCORTING EULALIA.

Commander Davis Receives a Cross from the Spanish Government. Washington, April 5.—Commander Davis, of the Montgomery, has acknowledged to the navy department the receipt of a cross of the Royal Order of Isabel la Catolica presented to him by the Spanish government in recognition of his services in escorting the Infanta Eulalia to the world's fair in 1893. Commander Davis was permitted by special act of congress to receive this decoration.

O'BRIEN THE BUNCO SWINDLER.

Identity Acknowledged by the Man Who Shot a Bookmaker in Paris. Paris, April 5.—Thomas O'Brien, the man who shot the American bookmaker, Waddell, on March 27, admits that he is Thomas O'Brien, the "bunco stealer" who was arrested in London nearly three years ago on a requisition from the United States and extradited to that country, but who afterwards escaped. Waddell died yesterday afternoon.

Caesar Held Without Bail.

New York, April 6.—William Caesar, the negro who is under arrest for the murder of Mamie Martin, alias Mamie Caesar, was held without bail by Police Justice Ryan in the Tombs court for examination on Wednesday. By advice of his lawyer, William F. Howe, he refused to plead.

Russia's War Against Hebrews.

St. Petersburg, April 9.—The government has instructed the local military officials by circular letter to enforce most strictly the anti-Jew edict. This edict excluded Jews from the health resorts in the Caucasus.

Isolde Built for a Prince.

Providence, R. I., April 5.—It now appears that the 20-rater Isolde, launched at Bristol last Saturday, is for no less a personage than Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern. At least, that is what is announced at Bristol.

Wages To Be Advanced.

Chester, Pa., April 5.—Notice has been posted in the mills of Wolfenden, Shore & Co., at Cardington, that 5 of the 10 per cent. reduction lately made in the wages of employes will be put on again.

NO EXTRA SESSION

The President Sees No Necessity for It.

Income Tax Decision a Disappointment to the Administration, But Instructions Will Be Issued to Once to Collectors To Conform to the Emasculated Law.

Washington, April 9.—The president, on being asked whether, in view of the decision of the supreme court on the income tax law, an extra session of congress would be called, said that neither he nor the secretary of the treasury saw any necessity for such action, and that unless there was an unexpected change in conditions, he had no idea that congress would meet again before the time appointed for its regular session.

Carlisle Summoned.

The president was informed of the decision shortly after it was rendered and he at once summoned Secretary Carlisle to the executive mansion and the two discussed the matter for some time. Other members of the cabinet dropped in later, among them the attorney-general.

Administration Disappointed.

The decision was a disappointment, but the administration will at once issue instructions to collectors of internal revenue to conform to the emasculated law. Secretary Carlisle followed his well defined custom not to discuss the matter for publication. Attorney-General Olney said the government would not ask for a rehearing, but would accept the decision as rendered.

Getting the Machinery in Order.

Commissioner Miller and the officials of the income tax division held a conference of several hours' duration at the treasury discussing the bearing of the opinion on the present income tax machinery in operation and changing it where necessary to meet the changed condition. These instructions will probably be ready for publication to-morrow or next day.

VOID IN TWO SECTIONS.

Poll of the Supreme Court on the In Washington, April 9.—The following is the poll of the United States supreme court on the various questions of the income tax law: On the constitutionality of levying on rents, Chief Justice Fuller, Field, Gray, Brown, Brewer and Shiras against. White and Harlan in its favor. On the constitutionality of a tax on the income from municipal and state bonds all the members of the court except White voted in the negative.

Justice Field Alone Against It.

Mr. Justice Field was against the whole act alone. On the question of whether the other provisions are valid in view of the unconstitutionality of a part of the law, the court was equally divided. Besides the majority opinion on the unconstitutionality of the two sections referred to, which was read by Chief Justice Fuller, three other opinions were rendered, one by Mr. Justice Field to the effect that the whole law was unconstitutional, another by Mr. Justice White disagreeing with him in toto, and a third opinion by Mr. Justice Harlan, who differed with the majority of the court on the subject of rentals from real estate, the tax on which he held to be constitutional.

Outlook Uncertain.

Other suits will be brought to test the balance of the law. The outlook is all uncertainty, but the government will proceed with the collection of those taxes which have not been touched upon. The returns will begin on April 15, but payment is not mandatory until the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

Refovich offers great bargains in clothing.

THE COUNTESS RUSSELL'S SUI.

She Does Not Believe the Charges Made Against Her Husband. London, April 9.—The case of Countess Russell against her husband for restitution of her conjugal rights was continued yesterday. The countess was placed in the witness box and she testified that the Dowager Countess Russell and Lady Agatha Russell told her about her husband's disgraceful conduct. The dowager countess said that Hollo Russell had advised the earl to blow out his own brains. Countess Russell said that she did not now believe the charge which had been made about her husband.

SPAIN IS ALARMED

The Gravity of the Situation in Cuba Recognized.

No Disguising the Fact of the Rapid Spread of the Revolution—Government Troops Landed Have Accomplished Little, if Anything—Everything Favoring the Rebels.

Madrid, April 8.—There is no doubt in the minds of those close to the government that the situation in Cuba is considered of the gravest concern by the officials and there is a strong feeling of alarm as to the final outcome. That the revolution is spreading and at a dangerous rate, too, there is no denying. The troops sent from Spain have done nothing, unless, perhaps to temporarily retard the growth of the revolt.

It is generally believed that General Martinez Campos will not be able to commence operations before September. He will arrive in Cuba in May, but he cannot complete the necessary preparations before June, at which date begins the rainy season, which will put a stop to military operations for a period of three months. Meanwhile, the insurgents will have plenty of opportunity to prepare their grounds and even to proclaim a provisional government.

If a provisional government is recognized by any American government a most serious blow will have been struck at the Spanish rule in Cuba. The domestic troubles of the Spanish government likewise are great, and for twenty years past Spain has not found herself face to face with a position of such difficulty as the present.

Havana, Cuba, April 8.—Consul General Williams is preparing his resignation on account of his difficulties with the Spanish government. The consul's resignation is the outcome of a long series of misunderstandings with the government. It is understood here that Secretary Gresham upbraided the consul for his outspoken ways. This has rankled in the consul's mind, and his resignation follows, because he is tired of the affair.

Santiago de Cuba, April 8.—The revolution spreads every day. About twenty persons disappear every night to join the insurgents in the field. Bands of insurgents are within two miles of the city. The government has no troops on hand with which to control the situation, and has not taken any vigorous measures for fear of having the majority of the inhabitants join the rebels.

New York, April 8.—A special from Key West, Fla., says: It is rumored here that Julio Sangullily will be sent from Havana to Spain on April 15 and released there. It is also said that Juan Gualberto Gomez will be started for Matanzas and shot on the way, ostensibly while he is trying to escape.

SIGNS OF IMPROVING TIMES.

Postoffice Department Report a Large Increase in Sale of Stamps. Washington, April 8.—The auditor's division of the postoffice department has just completed the settlement of accounts of postoffice for the last quarter of the calendar year, 1894, and the figures, as compared with those of the same quarter of 1893, are viewed with much satisfaction by the officials. The volume of business transacted by the postal service has long been considered a reliable index of the condition of trade and commerce of the country.

Children of American Revolution.

Washington, April 6.—The anticipated society of children of the American revolution is now a reality. Mrs. Daniel Lathrop of Massachusetts, who originated the idea, has presented her plans to the national executive board. D. A. R. They were unanimously adopted, and Mrs. Lathrop was elected president for four years.
