Nominations for grand officers will be made at this convocation.

The revised constitutions for the grand and subordinate commanderies will be submitted for action.

The fraternal side of Malta will receive unusual consideration, and the two receptions tendered will add in bringing the members of the grand commandery more closely in touch with each other.

The members of the local committee request the citizens of Freeland to take an active interest in the convocation, and by a liberal display of decorations, etc., will give the hundreds of visitors who will be here an opportunity to notice the enterprise of our people. Persons will be here that week from all portions of the state of Pennsylvania, and the town will reap the benefit of their presence. Assist in making their visit a pleasant one, and their recollections of the convocation will aid materially in making Freeland's name familiar throughout the commonwealth.

Maloy Found Guilty.

ally in making Freeland's name familiar throughout the commonwealth.

**Maloy Found Guitty.**

James W. Maloy, of Lansford, whose libel suit occupied the attention of the Carbon county court last week, was found guilty as charged in the indictment. The prosecutor was E. E. Scott, a Summit Hill school teacher, who was accused by Editor Maloy in the **Record** of teaching school while his own children were afflicted with measles. During the fifal it was proven that the article printed was true in every respect, and as the school teacher is a public official his actions are open to criticism by the press. The prosecution maintained that thers was ill-will and malice back of the paragraph, and this claim was upfield by the jury, according to the verdict rendered. A new trial has been applied for, and newspaper publishers in general hope the editor will succeed in obtaining one, as the present decision abridges the liberty of the press and would prevent editors from calling attention to the misdemeanors and careless neglect of duty on the part of a public officer, unless both parties were exceedingly friendly.

John D. Davis was the other supervisor. His bill for personal services was 305½ days, $458.25; J. J. Davis' horse, 305½ days, $609; and Samuel Davis, 247 days, $247. The auditors took off that account $152.25 excess on horse.

In Foster the Davis family seems to have been in it. The two John Davis', supervisors, spent $6,179.85, though the funds in the treasury amounted to only $5,016.41 for their use, and the township is in debt $1,163.44 for the year on road account.

JOURNALISTIC.

The Sunday Truth, of Hazleton, made its first appearance yesterday. Its ten pages were filled with bright matter, and it has every appearance of a paper which will fill its field most creditably. It had a large sale here. The publishers are energetic young men who have had much experience in local newspaper work, and Truth ought to prosper.

The Shickshinhy Echo began its twenty-third year on Friday last. From its sprightliness one would judge it to be much younger. The Echo is in the front rank of Pennsylvania weeklies, and is well-printed and ably edited by Mr. Tubbs.

BASE BALL.

his field equal to any in the league.

Annual Ball Tonight.

Tonight the St. Patrick's cornet band will hold its annual Easter Monday ball at the opera house, and the event will undoubtedly be one of the most successful of the season. Nothing has been left undone to make the evening a pleasant one for all who may participate in the ball. Like on all former occasions the band boys have devoted several weeks to making preparations for the comfort and enjoyment of their patrons, and from their long experience in entertaing the public the ball tonight will excel all previous efforts.

Hargreaves, aged 13, and Henry Young, a ged 16, left the school and went to play on a railroad bridge. Mertz left the bridge and started to go toward the school. The other lads followed, and Hargreaves, raising the pistol cried: "If you don't come back I'll shoot," Mertz made some reply and Hargreaves immediately fired.

Mertz fell face downward without a scry, and Hargreaves and Young turned and ran away as fast as they could. No attempt was made to follow them at the time, as it was not known what injury and extra had received. He was picked up and carried to his home nearby, and there it was found that the bullet had penetrated the head a short distance above the left eye. Mertz was unconscious and is yet very low. He is the only son of a widowed mother.

As soon as it was learned that the boy was fatally injured a couple of constables set out to find Young and Hargreaves, and they were soon joined by many young boys, who searched the woods into which they had disappeared, but could not find them until Saturday, when the youthful murderer was arrested at Nanticoke.

Reading's Position in the Coal Fight.
The refusal of the Reading Railroa to submit to arbitration its claim to 2 per cent of the anthracite coal trade and the withdrawal of President Oly tant of the Delaware and Hudson per cent of the anthractic coal trade, and the withdrawal of President Olyphant, of the Deleware and Hudson Company, from the committee of presidents appointed to select the arbitrators, have put something of a damper on the plans for settling the differences between the anthractic companies, and it is doubtful if any meeting of the presidents' committee will be held this week, as was originally intended. The position taken by the Reading excited much comment among those interested in the coal roads, and was generally regarded as being not unreasonable and not necessarily offering any serious-obstacle to harmony among the different coal companies. In past years the Reading's proportion of the trade has been as high as 28 per cent, and 21 per cent is not Patrick Sharkey was one of the supervisors of Hazle township last year, and expended $5,531.88. Among the items he charged against the township were for his own services 344 days, $646.22; and John McGinnis, horse; 331½ days, $983. The auditors would not allow the total claim, and surcharged Sharkey with $121.25 excessive horse hire; $170.82 excessive time and wages for himself; $118.80 pay for minor children; making a total surcharge of $410.87.

Daniel Conners was the other supervisor last year. He spent $6,028.87. Two of the items of his expenditures are Daniel Conners, 186 days, $279. The auditors, however, knocked off $168.81 as excessive horse hire and wages.

Together these two supervisors spent $11,560.75 last year.

FOSTER TOWNSHIP.

John W.
