

FREELAND TRIBUNE.

VOL. VII. NO. 86.

FREELAND, PA., MONDAY, APRIL 29, 1895.

$1.50 PER YEAR.

BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

PARAGRAPHS GATHERED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE REGION.

Synopsis of Local and Miscellaneous Occurrences That Can Be Read Quickly. What the Folks of This and Other Towns are Doing.

Ask to see the Trilby hat, the latest, at Olsho's.

Commencing on May 1 devotions will be held every Wednesday and Friday evenings at St. Ann's Catholic church at 7.30 o'clock.

Refowich has the best $1.50 and $2 boys' suits in town.

E. B. Shelhamer received a team of fine horses from the West on Saturday. They will be used in drawing his ice wagon this summer.

The Winner is a $1.75 shoe that can't be beat at the price. Sold only at the Wear Well, 55 Centre street.

M. Schwabe, of South Heberton, has given out a contract for a large barn, to be erected on the site of the one destroyed by fire on the 21st inst.

The Clair Patee Company will be at the opera house on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

The tea store of John Darak, at Centre and South streets, has been closed by Barber & Co., Hazleton. The stock will be sold by Constable Quigley on Wednesday.

Ask to see the Trilby hat, the latest, at Olsho's.

The time consumed by the traction cars in running between Hazleton and Freeland has been reduced five minutes. There is now no delay at either end of the road.

Refowich offers great bargains in clothing.

A. W. Washburn was presented with an elegant gold-headed cane on Wednesday evening by the J. R. O. U. A. M. drum corps. Mr. Washburn was 49 years of age on that day.

The Wear Well Shoe House opened up on Saturday with a full line of men's, ladies' and children's footwear.

The Lehigh Valley Coal Company has adopted a new system of fighting the Hazle Mines fire. All the fans are shut off and the air passages closed, and the fire will be smothered, if that is possible.

The Wear Well Shoe House asks railroad men to try the Growler, an elegant working shoe, which sells very low.

E. E. Berlin, at one time train-master on the D. S. & S., and later a ticket operator for the Lehigh Valley at Hazleton, has accepted a position with the Jersey Central Railroad and will locate in Mauch Chunk.

Ladies, the best-fitting and most stylish shoe in the market is the Vision, sold at $2. Can be had only at the Wear Well, Eberts' old stand.

The eastern conference of the P. M. church will meet at Avoca on Thursday. Rev. S. Cooper, of St. Paul's, Freeland, will leave for that place tomorrow, and George Bird, the lay delegate, will go there on Thursday.

The Clair Patee Company gave such good satisfaction at Hazleton every night last week that they were re-engaged for the first three nights of this week. On Thursday they come to Freeland, where they will play the following three evenings. Read their ad.

C. A. Smith, general agent for the Lehigh Valley Company at Hazleton, has tendered his resignation to accept the management of the Pardee Brick and Tile Works, Perth Amboy, N. J. Mr. Smith will assume the duties of his new position on May 1.

The engine drawing the train from Wilkes-Barre, which should arrive at 6.58 p. m., was three quarters of an hour late on Friday. The drawhead broke on the road down, and the engine attached to a train here had to go to Highland and take the Wilkes-Barre train to Hazleton.

The Hazleton Plain Speaker states positively that $200 a vote has been offered in the legislature by the anti-nucleus county boosters. This partly explains why there is so much opposition to the bill from "disinterested" representatives. The final vote may be taken tomorrow.

The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company is considering a plan to strip the burning mine at Summit Hill, and in this manner quench a fire that has been raging for over thirty years. Mining engineers have estimated that the cost of the work would be at least a quarter of a million dollars.

John Early, of Beaver Meadow, whose wife and child were killed by the trolley accident at Jonesville some time ago, entered suit on Thursday at Wilkes-Barre against the Lehigh Traction Company in the sum of $25,000. John McGarran, of Wilkes-Barre, and John M. Carr, of Freeland, are his attorneys.

Eight people had a narrow escape from death in the Sinclair house, Pittston, early Friday morning. During the night a gas pipe burst in the house and filled several of the rooms. Among those found unconscious were W. R. VanDerveer and wife, who conducted a phonographic exhibition here recently.

Knee pants, 19c, at Refowich's.

Burglars on Their Rounds Again.

The people of Freeland who reside outside the business portion of town are becoming alarmed at the numerous petty burglaries reported. From all accounts the night hawks were out in force on Thursday night, no less than seven dwellings having been entered before Friday morning. Strange to say, they selected the dwellings of several families wherein they could not expect to find many articles of value or any large sums of money. Up in Bivanton they investigated the homes of Moses Trauter, George Sweet, Condy McElwee and Henry Kishlek, and on Washington street entered the residence of James Moore. On Ridge street they were frightened off by Condy Boyle, the father of Postmaster W. F. Boyle, who interrupted their explorations in his pantry.

So far as can be learned the burglars gave their attention principally to articles of clothing, and the only great losses reported are on goods of that character. Something was taken in each of the places visited, except Mr. Boyle's. No clue has yet been found that might lead to their capture.

The residents of the central part of the town have so far escaped the annoyance caused by midnight prowlers. However, they have nearly all made preparations to meet the disturbers of slumbers on their next trip, and something in the shape of a funeral or two will probably follow the next burglary in Freeland.

Preparing for the Parade.

The Knights of Malta of Freeland have received letters from nearly all the commanderies in this section of the state, signifying their intention to take part in the parade here at 4 p. m. on May 7, in honor of the state convocation of the grand commandery. There will be several thousand Knights in line, providing the weather is favorable. Reduced rates on the Jersey Central, Lehigh Valley, Pennsylvania and the Reading Railroads have been secured from all points in the state, and the number of visitors expected is very large. In the evening the public reception to the supreme and grand officers will take place. Burgess McLaughlin will deliver the address of welcome, which will be followed by a musical and literary entertainment, including addresses by Supreme Commander Dr. W. J. Rugh, of Pittsburg; Supreme Recorder Frank Gray, of Philadelphia; Grand Commander Dr. E. W. Samuel, of Mt. Carmel, and Grand Recorder George H. Pierce, of Philadelphia.

Saved a Life, But Lost Her Own.

Annie Dunganbago, a thirteen-year-old girl, met a dreadful death on Friday while saving the life of her ten-month-old sister at her home in Wilkes-Barre. The mother, who was washing, took a tub of scalding water from the stove and placed it on the floor. She was then called out by a neighbor, and told Annie to watch the baby. The girl went on with her work and was only reminded of the baby when it screamed with pain. She was horrified to find it hanging over one side of the tub with its hands in the water. In an instant she dashed across the room, and throwing herself on the opposite side of the tub, reached across and pushed the baby backward to the floor, but at the same time she lost her balance and fell forward, face downward, into the water. Her mother, attracted by the cries of the baby, hurried in and pulled the girl out of the water, but she was so badly scalded that she died a few hours later.

The Early Inquest.

The jury that was appointed by Deputy Coroner Gorman to investigate the cause of Constable Early's death, whose body was found in a mine hole at Harwood, held another session last Thursday night. Evidence of no special interest was introduced, and Early's friends requested that the inquest be continued until today, when they expect to produce testimony that will conclusively prove that the officer was foully dealt with. The indifference of the county officials in concerning themselves so little about this and other mysterious tragedies in the lower end is causing much talk. District Attorney Fell has been asked, it is said, to give the matter some attention, but so far nothing has done. County Detective Eckert spent two days in Hazleton since the body was found, but he made no apparent effort to unravel the mystery.

Tonight's Lecture.

Rev. Father Zurcher, of Buffalo, N. Y., who is to lecture at the opera house this evening, will arrive this afternoon at 2.27 o'clock, and will be met at the Lehigh Valley station by a committee representing the Catholic temperance societies of town, under whose auspices the lecture will be delivered. Rev. Zurcher has a widespread reputation as a temperance orator, and as no admission is to be charged the audience will undoubtedly be a large one.

PLEASURE CALENDAR.

May 18.—Second annual picnic of the Hustlers base ball club, at Drifton park.
May 30.—Sixth annual picnic of the Tigers Athletic Club, at Freeland Public park.

THE DEATH ROLL.

People Who Have Recently Gone to Their Final Resting Places.

Patrick F. Lawlor, of Nesquehoning, died at his home on Thursday afternoon. He was a son-in-law of John Melly, of South Heberton, and enjoyed an extensive friendship among the people of Freeland. The Mauch Chunk Democrat says he was taken ill with erysipelas the week previous, and on Saturday was compelled to leave his office and proceed to his home. Dr. Kasten was summoned, and the two did all in their power to stay the hand of disease. On Thursday Mr. Lawlor rested well, but shortly after 4 o'clock a sinking spell overtook him and in a few minutes he breathed his last. The heart had refused to do its work. It was only a short time before every man, woman and child in the village knew of the death and universal gloom and sadness prevailed. There was no one in that town who was more highly respected and esteemed.

Mr. Lawlor was born in county Cavan, Ireland, in 1850. He arrived at Nesquehoning at the age of 2 years. His youth was spent about the mines and his school days were not overly plentiful, but being naturally bright and quick he easily acquired an education that was far above the ordinary. When 18 he entered a store as clerk, and five years later entered business for himself. He was in the mercantile life for fifteen years and did a tremendous trade, but the strike of 1887-88 gave him a blow from which he never could fully recover. In 1891 he was elected clerk of the board of commissioners of Carbon county, a position he filled ever since. Mr. Lawlor died possessed of considerable property and had a policy of $5,000 in the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Mrs. Lawlor's maiden name was Miss Sallie Brogan. She is a step-daughter of John Melly, of Freeland. They have one son, aged about 13 years, and an adopted son aged about 6. The deceased has two brothers, John, of California, and Thomas, of Philadelphia, and two sisters, Miss Rose and Mrs. John McCaffrey, of Nesquehoning, whose husband was buried a few weeks ago. The funeral took place in Nesquehoning on Saturday morning.

Popular Young Man Dead.

At St. Ann's cemetery this morning the remains of Thomas Tully were laid at rest. The death of this young man, who was one of Freeland's most popular citizens, occurred at his home on Adams street, below Luzerne, shortly after 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon. The sudden illness which overtook him on Saturday a week ago was noticed in Monday's TRIBUNE, and although he sank lower and failed gradually from then on, his friends and his physician did not think his life to be so near the end. Death was due to pneumonia, which fastened its grip upon him with a tenacity most remarkable. The end came peacefully and without a struggle.

Mr. Tully was born in Nesquehoning, Carbon county, on March 13, 1867, and was aged 28 years, 1 month and 12 days. When young his family removed to Lehigh county, then to old Buck Mountain, and later to Sandy valley, from which place he entered the service of the Jersey Central Railroad as brakeman on the Drifton branch. Later he secured a position on the D. S. & S., and when the passenger trains were placed on the road he was given the position of baggage-master, a duty that he performed with ability and credit, and his obliging disposition made him popular with the patrons of the company. The officials looked upon him as one of their most valuable men, and his unquestioned honesty and excellent character won him the esteem of all his acquaintances.

On August 24, 1893, he was married to Miss Sallie Campbell, of Eckley, who, besides his parents and five brothers, survives him. Less than a year ago he had the residence in which he died built for himself. He was a member of the Young Men's T. A. B. Society and Division 19, A. O. H., and both organizations and hundreds of friends attended the funeral at 9 o'clock this morning. A delegation of the D. S. & S. employees also attended and presented a beautiful tribute in the shape of a "Broken Axle," consisting of car wheels, journals, etc., with the axle broken in the center. A requiem mass was read over the remains by Rev. E. A. O'Rielly at St. Ann's Catholic church.

Suicide at Eckley.

Christian Monk was found dead in his home at Eckley yesterday. His wife made the discovery about 5 o'clock in the morning. He had been dead for several hours. The body was hanging by the straps of a drilling overalls, which were tied to the top of the bedstead, less than five feet from the floor. It was a deliberate suicide, as the man had tied the straps about his neck, attached the other ends to the bedstead, and threw himself face forward. He pushed his feet under the bed as far as he could, until his knees almost touched the floor. In that position he slowly strangled himself to death.

When the family retired the night previous, about 11 o'clock, they left him sitting by the fire. He had drank nearly a pint of whiskey during the evening, but nothing was thought of that, as he drank heavily for the past few years. He was heard coming upstairs shortly after. He slept alone, consequently his deed was not known until his wife entered the room in the morning.

Justice of the Peace B. J. Carr was notified, and after viewing the position of the body and the room, took him down. He was about 56 years of age and leaves a wife and nine children.

The deceased was born in Germany, but has been a resident of these parts nearly thirty years. He settled at Highland in 1869 and lived there until about 1880, when he went to Eckley. Mr. Monk was noted for his strength in his younger days. He will be buried at Freeland cemetery at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Condition of the Coal Trade.

The sales agents of the anthracite coal carrying and producing companies held their monthly conference at New York on Thursday. It was supposed that most of them went to the meeting instructed by their companies as to the course they should pursue in the matters of continued restrictions and the general conduct of the business in the future. However, the agents spent several hours in conference and then adjourned without action, except an agreement to meet again tomorrow.

Immediately after the meeting the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Company ordered all its collieries to work full time until further notice. Unless the company has special orders to fill the order must mean that there is another war brewing. While not much attention has been paid to restriction of late, still actual hostilities have been in a state of suspended animation. No doubt the position of the Reading is bringing on a crisis.

Young Hill's Body Found.

The body of Joseph Hill, son of Constable Hill, of Wilkes-Barre, was found in the Susquehanna river opposite Plymouth on Thursday. The finding of the body clears up the mystery surrounding his disappearance. On January 7 last, in company with a girl named Adeline Pettibone, he went skating on the river. Later in the evening Hill and the girl left their companions and started on a race down the river. They were never seen alive after that. Not returning in due time a search was made for them, but they could not be found. A rumor was then set afloat that they had eloped. The finding of Hill's body now sets all rumors at rest. The body was badly decomposed, but the skates were still on the feet. It is thought the girl's body will soon be found. Hill was 15 years of age and Miss Pettibone was 13.

One Killed and One Injured.

The monotonous story of the cost of mining coal still goes on. Another life went out at Cranberry on Friday and another man was incapacitated from work for several weeks. William Dugan and William Weaver prepared a blast and sought safety in a heading of their breast. The concussion loosened the roof of the heading and it came down upon both men. Weaver was severely injured, but will recover. Dugan's body was found after ten hours' work. He was dead.

May Have a Hearing Today.

John Oschman, who was sent to jail last Tuesday on the charge of setting fire to the barn of M. Schwabe, made application through his attorney, C. F. McHugh, on Saturday, to Judge Rice for a habeas corpus hearing and the same was granted. The hearing is set for 10 o'clock, but as some of the most important witnesses are out of town, it is not likely to be held. Attorney Stroth, for Mr. Schwabe, left this morning to ask for a postponement.

Baptists in the United States.

The following facts respecting the present condition of the Baptists in the United States, as taken from the Baptist year book of 1895, will be read with interest by many. The total number of regular Baptists in the United States is put down at 3,637,421. Of these 295,857 were baptized last year, an average of 562 a day. Forty-four ministers came to the Baptists from other denominations.

Her Money and Her Man Gone.

Mrs. Gabol Stokash, of Highland, is bewailing the loss of her husband and $400. On Saturday afternoon, while she was at the spring for water, her husband hunted up the nest where she kept the money, found it and left on the midnight train for Ithaca, N. Y. Such was the information she received yesterday at Freeland from some of Gabol's friends.

Action in Divorce.

From the Wilkes-Barre Record.
Mrs. Agnes Brady, of Freeland, by her next friend, John Hughes, on Friday filed an application for divorce from her husband, James Brady. The petitioner states that she was married at Freeland, August 20, 1893, and lived with him until March 19, 1895, when he subjected her to such indignities as to make her life burdensome.

MET THEIR WATERLOO.

STATE LEAGUERS RUBBED IT INTO THE TIGERS YESTERDAY.

Freeland's Club Made a Very Weak Showing Against Shavog's Nine—The Score Was 22 to 1 in Favor of Hazleton—Errors Prevented a Shut-out.

The base ball season in Freeland was auspiciously opened yesterday afternoon by a game between Hazleton State league team and the Tigers. One of the largest audiences ever gathered in the park assembled to see the game, and while the admirers of the home club had few opportunities to root the Hazleton enthusiasts had many, and did not fail to take advantage of them all.

The Tigers were outplayed, from the start to the finish of the game. Their fielding was ragged, while their batting was far below expectations. The professionals fielded well and batted the ball terrifically to all parts of the ground. The Tigers were first at bat and were blanked in one, two three order. Hazleton came in confidently, and by making two two-base hits and one three-bagger sent two men across the plate. They continued their run-getting throughout the game, making one in the second, four in the fourth, four in the fifth, three in the seventh and eight in the eighth. In the latter inning their batting was tremendous. The first man up made a two-base hit and each of the four succeeding batters did the same. The effect of their batting in this inning alone netted them twelve bases.

The Tigers made one run in the fourth on an error of a hard-hit grounder.

The correct score follows:

TIGERS.	HAZLETON.
H. B. O. A. E.	H. B. O. A. E.
Herron, 1	Moran, 1
McGhan, 2	Rob'tson, 2
Gillette, 1	McVey, 3
Boner, 1	Donovan, 1
McCreedy, 3	Motz, 1
Ward, 1	Cartney, 1
Fairhurst, 0	Westlake, 3
McCreedy, 0	Keener, 1
Totals... 1 2 24 17 11	Totals... 22 23 20 14 4

Runs earned, Hazleton, 7. Two-base hits, Hazleton, 9. Three-base hits, Hazleton, 2. Stolen bases, Tigers, 2; Hazleton, 2. Bases on balls, off McCreedy, 2; off Keener, 1. Struck out, by McCreedy, 3; by Keener, 4. Hit by pitched ball, Moran, 2. Passed ball, Westlake. Umpire, Gallagher. Time of game, 2 hours.

ON THE DIAMOND.

Warner, of last year's Wilkes-Barre team, caught his first championship game for Boston on Tuesday, against Washington, and participated in the first triple play of the season, putting two of the men out.

So far few of the professional clubs have played errorless games. The scores show great piles of errors, which means that most of the men have commenced the season out of condition. The Drifton Fernouts are getting ready for the season. They intend to play none but the strongest amateur clubs of the region.

The Stars, of town, won from the Drifton Hustlers in an interesting game at the park yesterday. The score was 11 to 10.

The Cuban Giants are at present playing through the state. They will appear in Freeland in the near future.

The State league season begins on Wednesday. Hazleton will open on its own grounds with Carbondale.

Freeland is establishing a name this year for new uniforms. The Hungarian club is the latest to get an outfit, which they received last week.

The Hustlers, of Drifton, will play ball in earnest this season. They will play on May 18 with the Pioneers, of Hazleton, on which date they will also hold a picnic.
