

INCOME TAX HEARING

Re-Argument of the Case Before Supreme Court.

Full Bench Present--Large Gathering of Legal Talent Interested in the Arguments--Counsel Attack the Constitutionality of the Law. Say It Should Be Declared Void.

Washington, May 7.--The reargument of the income tax cases began in the supreme court of the United States yesterday in the presence of a large assemblage of law and lay. For the first time since last November there was a full complement of justices on the bench.

Justice Jackson took an active interest in the proceedings, and there was apparently nothing to warrant the expectation that he might not be able to undergo the fatigue of the hearing. It was well on toward 1 o'clock when W. D. Guthrie opened the argument for the petitioners, Messrs. Hyde and Pollock, who seek to enjoin the directors of the Farmers' Loan & Trust and Citizens Trust companies of New York, from paying the tax on the dividends declared on the stock of these corporations, and in so doing attack the constitutionality of the law.

Against Direct Taxation. In submitting the petition for a rehearing, Mr. Guthrie said there was a doubt, not so much as to whether congress had power to tax, but as to its method of taxation. The decision in this case should settle finally and forever the greatest constitutional question ever brought before the court. In the conventions called to ratify the constitution the matter of direct taxes was particularly referred to. Mr. Guthrie then called the attention of the court to the business where personal property was particularly referred to, in order to show the court that the people understood that taxes on personality were included in the term "direct taxes." Marshall, in the Virginia convention, explained the term direct taxes when he said: "The objects of direct taxes are well understood, but they are few. Lands, slaves, stock of all kinds, and a few other articles of domestic property."

Tax Laws of the Colonies.

Mr. Guthrie also quoted from debates in the conventions in North Carolina, New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, etc., to show that the people did not understand or consider the word "direct" in the constitution applied only to capitation taxes and taxes on real estate. Mr. Guthrie then examined the tax laws of the colonies and states in order to show the familiarity of the delegates with taxes not only upon land and income derived therefrom, but upon personal property or estate and the income and profits therefrom. This examination tended to prove that the delegates must have intended to include a tax on personal estate, for otherwise, it must be clear that if they contemplated merely a land tax, they would have used these words.

Land and Personal Property.

No difference in principle between the taxation of land and the taxation of personal property could be suggested which was recognized in jurisprudence. Land had some use, irrespective of its income, but the great body of personal property has no value whatever to its owner, except by reason of the income arising therefrom. Logically, if taxes on rents, issues and profit of real estate are equivalent to taxes on the land itself, and, therefore direct taxes, taxes on the income of personal property are such that they are equivalent to taxes on such property and therefore direct taxes.

Invalidates the Whole Act.

Mr. Guthrie then presented the views set forth at some length in the brief upon the contention that as it was clearly the intention of congress to have the law act as a whole upon all incomes, the provisions which are unquestionably void invalidates the whole act. In order to preserve the provisions now remaining the court must strike the words actually used, such as rents, income and product of land.

Court Must Interpret, Not Remodel.

Counsel took the ground that it was impossible for the court to remodel the act and say that congress would have passed the act without the provisions which it has in terms made an integral part. For the court to do this would be legislating and making a law, not declaring or interpreting it. This contention was enforced by many citations from decisions.

Lack of Uniformity.

The most glaring instance of the lack of uniformity and equality was the exception of selected corporations and institutions under which over $2,000,000,000 of accumulations were relieved from the duty and burden of federal taxation. The real question in the case was whether this act lacks uniformity and creates inequalities, and he said counsel would devote themselves to that question of fact and not to refuting what was so strenuously argued by the government--that the uniformity required by the constitution was merely a fiction. Therefore the act of 1894 failed wholly to comply with the constitutional requirement.

Mr. Whitney for the Government.

Mr. Guthrie was followed by assistant attorney general E. B. Whitney in support of the law. Mr. Whitney said the government would suggest nothing further on the subject of tax upon state and municipal bonds than had been set forth in the original argument. It was not necessary, he said, that a law should specify in its terms every exception to which it is subject in order to make it constitutional; otherwise, he submitted, there have been but few valid tax laws passed by the congress. The ruling of the court as to the subject of state and municipal bonds, Mr. Whitney said, did not, in the opinion of the government's counsel, affect the other points involved.

PETER TURNEY GOVERNOR.

Declared Elected by Thirteen Majority in the Tennessee Legislature.

Nashville, Tenn., May 4.--When the general assembly convened in joint convention last night to continue proceedings in the gubernatorial contest there was a crowd of spectators and excitement was intense. The impression had gained ground that Evans would be seated.

Mr. Jarvis, in behalf of Turney, resumed his argument. He was followed by Bates, dem., who was opposed to voting Turney into office. Representative King replied to him. The debate was closed by Senator Caldwell, chairman of the investigating committee, the vote recurred on motion to substitute the minority for the majority, resulting 57 ayes and 57 nays.

Motion to adopt the majority report recommending that Peter Turney be declared elected governor was put and carried, 70 ayes and 57 nays. The chair announced the vote for governor as follows: Turney, 94,794; Evans, 92,440; Mims, 23,088. A resolution declaring Peter Turney the governor was adopted and the joint convention adjourned. There was cheering.

Great sensation was caused yesterday afternoon. A card was published in an afternoon paper by a republican member, charging that he had been offered money to vote for Turney and offering to prove the charge. In the joint convention Representative Deakin, who had claimed to have been offered $1,000 for Turney, said it was all a joke.

POWDER MILLS BLOW UP.

Five Persons Killed at South Acton, Mass.--A Dangerous Blaze Started.

South Acton, Mass., May 4.--One of the powder mills of the American powder company here blew up yesterday. A few minutes later a second mill situated a hundred yards away exploded. Fire caused by the explosion spread to the third mill, and in a few minutes it blew up and was also destroyed. Five persons are known to have been killed. The woods close by the mills were set on fire and burned fiercely, threatening the big greenhouse of the company containing 30,000 pounds of powder and preventing the saving of property. Fifty men were employed in the mills, and when the noise of the first explosion was heard those in the coming mill, about forty in number, rushed from the building and escaped before the flames spread to the mill.

Lectures to the Students and Denounces Their Comedy.

New Haven, Conn., May 3.--Joseph Jefferson, the actor, lectured at Yale yesterday on "Dramatic Art." He was introduced by President Dwight and a crowded and fashionable audience was present. Mr. Jefferson created something of a sensation by denouncing in unmeasured terms the practice at Yale and many colleges of giving no attention to pure dramatic art, but giving farce comedies such as "Mr. Napoleon," the play in preparation by the Yale secret societies. Mr. Jefferson looked on the practice as a sign of degeneracy.

CORINTO EVACUATED

No Scenes of Turbulence in the Central American Capital--The Indemnity To Be Paid Within Two Weeks in London--Zelaya a Wise and Just Ruler.

Washington, May 6.--According to advices received here the evacuation of Corinto by the British fleet was quietly accomplished and the port was restored to Nicaraguan authority. Early yesterday morning Minister Guzman received a cable message stating that all the preliminaries had been satisfactorily arranged with the British admiral, through the intermediation of Senor Fiallos of Honduras.

All Friction Avoided.

In this manner Nicaragua was spared any appearance of humiliation and friction was avoided. Nicaragua will pay the indemnity in London within the two weeks stipulated and the remaining terms of the ultimatum will be satisfactorily arranged. The Nicaraguan people appear to thoroughly understand President Zelaya, who is a man of great pluck and determination and they have approved his course in the matter.

Zelaya a Just Ruler.

Published statements that "howling mobs" were parading the streets of Managua, the capital, shouting "Death to Zelaya" appear to have no foundation in fact. Zelaya is not the man to tolerate demonstrations of that kind. He himself headed a revolution two years ago, which overthrew an obnoxious government in fifteen days. Within that time he fought three battles and captured the capital. He was chosen president by the constitutional convention which was immediately organized and has proved himself to be a wise and just ruler.

Last Monday a child of 8 years was buried, a physician's certificate ascribing heart disease having been issued. Yesterday Laura, a girl of 15, died, and the coroner was notified. Both children were insured in the Hancock company for small amounts. The deaths excited the suspicion of the officials, and after a search of the house a pound and a half of Paris green was discovered. The husband, who had applied for the insurance, is being looked for while the police are searching for the missing baby.

JAPAN AND THE POWERS

Stated That She Will Concede Russia's Demands.

An Amicable Agreement Promised--Russia Will Be Satisfied with a Large Slice of Manchuria, While Japan Will Be Contented with a Larger Indemnity.

Paris, May 6.--The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Temps says that Japan, in her reply to the joint protest, consented to abandon Liao Tong, excepting Port Arthur. The protesting powers have not reached an agreement regarding the reply, the correspondent asserts, and the exchanges of opinion continues. The European edition of the Herald learns from its Berlin correspondent that Russia has informed Germany she will declare war in case Japan insists upon the Shimonski treaty.

Situation in Formosa.

London, May 6.--Dispatches from Hong Kong say that the situation in Formosa is most serious. British and German marines have been landed at Anping to protect the foreigners, and British sailors and armed launches are patrolling Takau harbor. The black flags are most anxiety. They seldom have been more threatening in recent years. Considerable apprehension is felt in Hong Kong as regards the differences between Russia and Japan.

Amicable Agreement Promised.

The Standard's Berlin correspondent says: "Although Japan's first reply to the joint protest was unsatisfactory, the present state of the negotiations promises an amicable agreement. The details are secret, but it seems that Russia will be satisfied she gets a large slice of south-east Manchuria, containing one or more ice-free harbors, while Japan will be content if she gets an island or more besides an increased indemnity. Should the Japanese war party persist in not altering the treaty, Premier Count Itô probably will be sacrificed. The powers certainly will insure China's giving Japan an ample guarantee for the indemnity granted in lieu of territory."

No Edict Issued.

The Times correspondent in Peking says: "The fact that the emperor has ratified the treaty is known only to a few persons. No edict has been issued. Prince Kung urged the ratification. Many Chinese would have preferred that the Japanese reach Peking, as the government then would have been compelled to initiate reforms. Now there is small chance of any change for the better."

Lost Control of Soldiers.

The Times correspondent in Hong Kong confirms the reports of disturbance in Formosa. The governor says the cessation of the island to the Japanese would produce rebellion. He has lost control of the soldiers, and the foreigners must take measures to insure their own safety. H. M. S. Spartan is preparing to land a force of bluejackets at Jamsui.

Under Sealed Instructions.

The Times correspondent in Berlin speaks of the report that the Russian ships formerly stationed at Yokohama were ordered to sea with sealed instructions, adding that the squadrons of the three protesting powers have been commanded to assemble at Chifu.

SOLE LEATHER GOING UP.

If the Trust Wins, Shoes Will Cost Us Forty Per Cent. More. New York, May 6.--An advance in sole leather to thirty-three cents a pound has been made by the United States Leather company. The price has been raised within a fortnight from twenty cents. The company claims that the scarcity of hides has caused the advance, though there does not appear to have been any corresponding rise in the market price of hides. Dealers and manufacturers are protesting against the advance, which is believed to be an attempt at cornering the market, and it is predicted that the present price cannot long be maintained. The advances already made, if held, would make $3.00 shoes sell at $4.25, $4 shoes would cost $5.75 and the more expensive grades in proportion.
