

GRAPE CROP RUINED

Chautauqua Belt Vineyards a Blackened Waste.

Loss Estimated at Between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000—The Crop Would Have Been Bigger This Year Than Last—Some Growers Returning to Old Style Farming.

Dunkirk, N. Y., May 14.—Frost has ruined the entire grape crop of the Chautauqua belt extending through Erie county, westward to Erie. It occupies a strip from five to eight miles in width along the southern shores of Lake Erie. 35,000 Acres of Blackened Ruins. The number of acres bearing grapes last year was 26,000. This year 35,000 acres would have been bearing. The vines were loaded down with blossom buds Sunday and to-day from one end of the belt to the other the vineyards are nothing but blackened ruins and have the appearance of having been visited by fire. Three thousand six hundred freight cars were loaded from the belt last season. The total number of baskets reached 10,800,000. To this number 3,000,000 might safely be added for increased acreage this year.

Everything Destroyed. Here at Dunkirk the thermometer fell to 25 degrees. Every vine is destroyed. Silver Creek last year shipped 2,200 cars. This place is remarkably well sheltered. Everything is destroyed. At Forestville every farmer has planted every available acre to grapes, and the frost last night ruined every vine. Other fruit suffered nearly as much. There will be no cherries. At Ripley last year they shipped 400 cars. This year it will not have one basket of grapes. The grape growers are demoralized and do not know what they will do. The thermometer fell to 4 degrees below freezing.

Will Return to Old Style Farming. At Westfield the vines are entirely cut down. Some growers will plow up their vineyards and return to the old style of general farming. Brockton, generally known as the center of the Chautauqua grape belt, is in mourning to-day. Nothing is raised there but grapes, and the frost last night cut them all down. Gerry Rickman, the millionaire grape grower and wine manufacturer, says the loss in the belt by reason of the destruction done to the grape will be at least $2,000,000. His own loss he estimates at $250,000. At Fredonia nothing of the grape crop can be saved. Had fire gone through the vineyards it could not have been more thorough in its effects.

Peace in the Orient.

Admiral Ito Appointed Chief of the Navy—He Will Go to Formosa and Formally Annex the Island.

London, May 14.—A dispatch to the Central News from Tokio says that an imperial decree has been issued, setting forth that the envoys of Japan and China have completed the task entrusted to them of negotiating a treaty of peace between the two countries. The decree, after stating the conditions of peace agreed upon, says that Russia, Germany and France advised Japan that the peninsula would not continue to last peace in the Orient, and urged the retrocession of that territory to China. The decree then continues:

Concessions for Peace. "We have always been anxious to establish and maintain peace. Our object in the recent war was to found an enduring peace. We believe that Russia, France and Germany are imbued with the same feeling. Therefore, we will insist upon the retention of the Liaotung peninsula.

Will Arrange Terms Themselves. "We do not desire to raise fresh trouble, increasing the calamities of our people, or to obstruct the expansion of our country by deterring a restoration of the blessings of peace. China has shown regret for her breach of friendship, thus justifying before the world Japan's action. Japan will comply with the desires of Russia, France and Germany. The manner in which the Liaotung peninsula will be restored to China will be arranged by China and Japan.

Friendship with China Restored. "Now that the treaty of peace has been duly ratified and the ratifications exchanged, our former friendship with China is restored, and the ties attaching us to neutral countries are made closer. Let our officials and people keep this steadily in view."

Viceroy of Formosa. The dispatch adds that Admiral Ito has been appointed chief of the navy department in room of Admiral Viscount Kabayama Sukenori, who has been selected to go to Formosa to formally annex the island, of which he will be the viceroy. Admiral Kabayama will be accompanied by Mizuno Jun, chief secretary of the lower house of the Japanese diet, who has been appointed head of civil administration of Formosa.

ECKLEY B. COXE'S DEATH.

Amboy. Mr. Cox, though always interested in politics, first came into prominence during the sessions of the legislature of 1881. He had been elected as a senator on the Democratic ticket from this district, but when the legislature met in January, 1881, he declined from conscientious motives to take the oath of office, alleging as a reason that he was not sure that all the money furnished by him for expenses in the campaign was not in strict accordance with the constitution's requirements. He declared, however, that his expenses were perfectly honorable in every way. Mr. Cox at once resigned and was promptly renominated by his party. On February 15, following, he was re-elected at a special election, receiving a majority of 3,874 without having expended a dollar. He took an active part in legislative affairs at that session, and to him is due much of the credit of having the night school bill passed. He also took a prominent part in investigating the abuses connected with the soldiers' orphan schools of the state.

A Matter of Experience. Teacher—I hope that none of my dear pupils will ever be guilty of trying to kill a sparrow, for you must remember, my children, that although the sparrows are sometimes rather troublesome they do a great deal of good for this country by destroying the worms, and if we did not have these little birds, the naughty worms would eat up our vegetables and our trees and we would have no way of getting rid of them. Now tell me, Johnny, don't you think it is better to have the sparrows than the worms?

Johnny (who did not hear what was being said until his name was suddenly called)—Please, ma'am, I don't know, because—

Teacher (reassuringly)—Because why, Johnny? Johnny—Because, ma'am, I've never had the sparrow.—Truth.

TIED ON THE TRACKS

A Blindfolded Man Rescued Just in Time.

Says He Was Sandbagged and Drugged and Held a Captive Since April 23—Tortured, Scantly Fed and Blindfolded All That Time—Accuses His Wife's Lover.

Chicago, May 13.—What appears to be a dastardly crime was discovered last evening. Shortly after 6 o'clock William Henry Musch, a mechanic, 40 years old, was discovered lying across the tracks of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad at North Leavitt street with his hands and feet securely tied and a sack drawn over his head.

Musch was rescued just in time to prevent being killed by an outgoing train. He was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital, where he went into convulsions. As soon as he was able to account for his condition he told a very strange story. He claims that since April 23 he has been held a captive.

On that date, he says, he was going home when he was sandbagged and dragged into a cellar at some place unknown to him. Since that time he has been tortured and scantily fed. Musch says that all the time he was blindfolded. He saw light for the first time when he was rescued from the track last evening.

The police were at first disinclined to credit this story, but the statements of Musch are so connected and well defined that they are now convinced that he is telling the truth, and have arrested a man by the name of J. Von Rhombow, whom they believe is at the bottom of the conspiracy to murder Musch.

Musch claims to be able to identify Rhombow by his voice. He says that Rhombow has given him trouble for several years, that the man is in love with his wife, and that he has threatened more than once to remove him. Rhombow, the arrested man, is very reticent and has nothing to say.

JULIUS H. SEELYE DEAD. He Was President of Amherst College Until June, 1891.

Amherst, Mass., May 18.—Ex-President Julius H. Seelye of Amherst college is dead. In the winter of 1885 President Seelye suffered from a severe attack of erysipelas and from that time until his death his health was by no means good. A disease of the nervous system, due in a measure to overwork, gradually fixed itself upon him, and despite the best medical care that could be provided, forced him to resign the presidency of Amherst in June, 1891. The sad death of his oldest daughter, Mrs. J. W. Bixler of New London, Conn., in April, 1894, was a severe blow to him and probably hastened his own death.
