

IT IS ANOTHER GIRL

Arrival of a Little Stranger at Gray Gables.

The Event Occurred Yesterday Afternoon at 4.30 O'clock—Mother and Baby Doing Well—The President Appeared Satisfied, But a Boy Would Have Been Welcome.

Buzzards Bay, Mass., July 8.—At Gray Gables, the quite and picturesque summer home of President Cleveland, at half past four yesterday afternoon, a little girl was born unto Mrs. Cleveland. Dr. Joseph D. Bryant, the attending physician, this morning informed a representative of the New England Associated Press that both mother and child were doing well.

This is the third child born into the president's family, and all of them are girls. Ruth is four years old and Esther two. Only a passing glance could be obtained of the president last evening, but that was sufficient to note an expression of satisfaction on the face of the chief executive, although it was an open secret that a boy would not have been unwelcome. Mrs. Cleveland's mother, Mrs. Perrine, is expected to arrive to-day from Buffalo.

NO TRIAL OF DEFENDER.

But She Sailed All Around the Colonia in a Short Run.

Providence, R. I., July 8.—It was supposed that it was the intention to speed the Defender with the Colonia as trial horse outside of Newport yesterday. Both yachts left Bristol about noon, and although the weather was almost ideal for a spin out beyond Beaver Tail, the yachts did not go further down the bay than Gould Island. It is thought by those who were watching the yachts that there was an accident of some nature on board the Defender. This, however, was denied at Bristol. It is generally believed, however, that she broke the jaws of her gaff or met with an accident of some such nature. The yacht was some time in coming about after the sailor descended from aloft, and she at one bore away for Bristol.

The Defender carried a working topsail in addition to the three lower sails which she spread. There was only a fair sailing breeze blowing yet in the Colonia, carrying the same sails, was not in it with the new boat. The Defender simply ran away from her consort.

SHOTGUN QUARANTINE.

Smallpox Tent on the Levee North of Memphis Guarded.

Memphis, Tenn., July 8.—About twelve miles south of this city is the levee camp of C. F. Degaris, though it now contains two tents. These are in a dense and muddy swamp. Its desolation is due to smallpox. A vigorous shotgun quarantine is maintained. While the camp is on Tennessee soil, a narrow strip of Mississippi land intervenes, and it is to prevent the crossing of this that the guard is kept.

Deserted His Family.

South Norwalk, Conn., July 8.—H. L. Spicer, a builder and contractor, who resided on Wilton avenue with his wife and two children, has been missing since Tuesday. He took considerable money with him. Friday Mrs. Spicer received a letter from him, dated at New York, stating that he would never return. Spicer leaves a number of creditors. Mrs. Spicer's parents are very rich.

Deserted His Wife.

Canton, O., July 8.—R. N. Taylor, a member of the law firm of Welby & Taylor, and son of ex-governor L. N. Taylor, has left his wife and is supposed to be on his way to South America. Mrs. Taylor was a former society belle. The couple were only married a few months. Taylor left a letter to his wife in which he said that he never cared for her and that he would never return.

Husband and Wife Burned to Death.

Chicago, July 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gunnwalk of south Chicago were burned to death yesterday. Mrs. Gunnwalk was getting ready to cook breakfast when the gasoline exploded and set fire to her dress. Her husband in attempting to save her had his clothing ignited. The building then caught and burned to the ground.

Marie Burroughs Denied a Divorce.

San Francisco, July 8.—Judge Trout has denied the application of Marie Burroughs, the actress, for a divorce from her husband, Louis Massen. Miss Burroughs alleged infidelity as the reason for her suit, but the judge decided that she had not produced sufficient evidence.

Bismarck's Health.

Berlin, July 8.—With reference to the health of Prince Bismarck, the Hamburgische Correspondent announces that he took a long walk alone yesterday, and on returning conversed with a number of visitors whom he found gathered outside the house.

Geo. E. Clymer Dies from Sunstroke.

Reading, Pa., July 8.—George E. Clymer, aged 65, brother of the late Congressman Hester Clymer, and at one time prominently identified with the iron business, died here yesterday from the effects of a sunstroke.

Mine Troubles in West Virginia.

Charleston, W. Va., July 8.—Gov. McCorkle is in receipt of several messages from the strike region, all of which state that everything is quiet, and that there is no probability of trouble at present.

Grasshoppers Invade Indiana.

Valparaiso, Ind., July 8.—The southern part of this county was visited by millions of grasshoppers yesterday and several thousand acres of corn and timothy hay were completely destroyed.

Differed with His Flock.

Middletown, Conn., July 8.—Rev. P. F. Jernegan, pastor of the First Baptist church, has resigned. The resignation is the result of differences between the pastor and his flock.

Two Cleveland Prisoners Escape.

Cleveland, O., July 8.—Two prisoners succeeded in breaking jail here yesterday. The prison officials however, prevented a general delivery which had been planned.

Happy by Comparison.

"Fello, McGinnis, you look blue. What's the matter?"
"Matter enough? Boil on the back of my neck."
"By George, old fellow, I sympathize with you!"
"But you are looking remarkably cheerful yourself, Whackster. Anything wrong with you?"
"My wife is cleaning house."
(Fervently) "Thank heaven for my boy!"—Tammany Times.

What He Wanted.

Tramp—Please, sir, will you give me enough ter help me git ter Idle City. There's a big strike there, and the manufacturers is advertisin' fer more men.

Big Manufacturer—Certainly. Here's a dollar. You can easily get the place of some union man.

Tramp—Thankes. But it isn't that I'm after. I'm goin' ter join th' strike.

—N. Y. Weekly.

He Apologized.

White Citizen—Well, Jackson, what are you doing for a living now?

Colored Citizen—Ain't doin' nothin'; de ole woman takes in washin'.

"Ain't you ashamed of yourself to allow your wife to support you by washin'?"

"Well, boss, my ole woman am mighty ignorant an' doan' know how to do nuffin' else."—Pittsburgh Bulletin.

A Small Favor.

Young Wife (time, midnight)—Quick! Quick! Wake up! I hear some one downstairs.

Husband (sleepily)—What do they seem to be doing?

Wife—Hark! Hear that? They're in the pantry. I hear my cake box rattle.

Husband (wearily)—Tell them to please not to die in the house.—N. Y. Weekly.

During the Transition Period.

She—Er—George?

He—W-well, Laura?

She—I—I think we understand each other, George, but—but is it my place or yours to put the question, and ought I to speak to your mamma about it or ought you to go and ask papa?—Chicago Tribune.

An Impatience.

"Yes," said the dealer, "domestic tobaccos are much cheaper now than they used to be."

"Well," said the customer, who had just bought a box of cigars, "it seems to me, then, that you ought to quote a much lower rate on these imported cigars."—Chicago Record.

Bad News.

Wife (screaming)—John! John! wake up! I just dreamed that you died and went to Heaven.

Husband (drowsily)—Well, what of it?

Wife—Wake up, John! Don't you know that dreams always go by contraries?—Judge.

Calamity Narrowly Averted.

Mr. McSwat (getting ready for church)—Lobelia, what's the matter with this necktie of mine? I can't find any way to fasten the blamed thing on.

Mrs. McSwat—O! O! Put that down, Billiger! That's my new hat!—Chicago Tribune.

The New Woman.

Uptodate—Let me get you a fresh cigar.

Uptodate—One your wife bought?

Uptodate—Yes; but they're getting better since she learned to smoke.—Town Topics.

The Hour Was Late.

"O, for a word," the young man said, and heaved a mournful sigh.

The tired maiden quick replied, "Why don't you say good-by?"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

AFTER THE HONEYMOON.

She—How could you manage to live if I were to die?

He—Cheaper.—Texas Sittings.

Terrible Revenge.

Gomez—I say, was it you who recommended that cook to my wife?

Perez—I believe so.

Gomez—Then I should like you to come and have supper with us to-night.

—La Gaceta de Malaga.

To Ponder Over.

She—I hope you will call again.

He—Thanks, very much; but I very seldom come to town, you know.

She—Then that's all the more reason why I should like to have you call.—N. Y. Herald.

The Worst of It.

Benedict—Are you a married man?

Oldbach (firmly)—No; and that isn't the worst of it.

Benedict—Ah?

Oldbach—I'm going to be next week.—Judge.

Looked Like It.

Jess—Did Gladys Rich marry Gold-berg for love?

Bess—I don't know; there is a taint of insanity in her family.—N. Y. World.

The Annual Problem.

Mrs. Nuwed—Which do you find is the easiest way to clean house?

Mrs. Oldhand—Move.—Judge.

At the Eaches Table.

He—Let me take your hand, Miss—

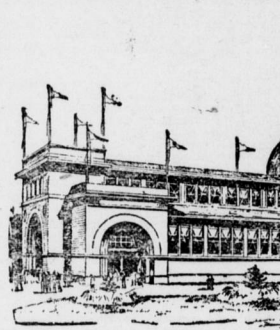

She—Oh, this is so sudden.—Detroit Free Press.

ATLANTA'S EXPOSITION.

by a licensed Indian trader, who enjoys the confidence of the government, and who has had exceptional advantages for becoming acquainted with the Indian tribes and a thorough knowledge of their character and habits. A very rare exhibit of their embroidered work and bead work of Indian handicraft will be exhibited.

The German village will be typical of that country. A German military band will be constantly on hand, playing classic and popular music, interspersed with the national airs of their country. It will be a characteristic reproduction of the German gardens and music halls of the fatherland, and once inside the visitor will imagine himself in some quaint old gabled town along the Rhine.

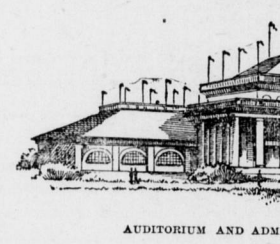

ELECTRICAL BUILDING.

In addition to all these attractions, which are assured, negotiations are in progress looking to concessions for many other picturesque and novel features, which will further heighten the interest and enhance the charm of the amusement department of the exposition.

THE MEN AT THE HEAD.

Qualified by Experience to Manage the Great Enterprise.

The promoters of the exposition are the leading men of finance in the south. President C. A. Collier, so well known as the head office of the Capital City bank, of Atlanta, has entered into the work of guiding the affairs of the exposition with great spirit and enthusiasm, and to his excellent management and direction is due in a large measure the success already assured. He is ably assisted by Edmund A. Felder, who was prominently connected with the world's fair and the midwinter exposition at San Francisco; J. R. Lewis, secretary; A. L. Kontz, treasurer; Alexander W. Smith, auditor; Grant Wilkins, chief engineer; S. M. Imman, chairman of the finance committee; J. W. English, chairman of the executive committee, and W. G. Cooper, commissioner of the department of publicity and promotion.

WOMAN'S BUILDING.

The financial resources of the exposition are thus stated:
Local subscriptions..... $25,000
City appropriation..... 75,000
Space (estimated)..... 100,000
Bonds..... 300,000
Gate receipts over bonds (estimated)..... 1,000,000
Light, power, etc..... 25,000
Concessionaires..... 200,000

Grounds and improvements..... $1,945,000

"SHERMAN'S BUMMERS."

Many of Them Were Camped in Piedmont Park.

A lot of "Sherman's bummers" were camped in Piedmont park, where the exposition will be held, for several months, and from the bluffs that surround it the city of Atlanta was shelled. There are a lot of trenches still remaining within the exposition grounds which the Yanks threw up for their protection. I do not know of anything, says William E. Curtis that would appeal more strongly to the old soldiers that are going to Atlanta from the north than the sandy beds they slept in while they were marching through Georgia. And there will be a great deal of that sort of patronage, it is safe to say.

The Chattanooga and Chickamauga battlefield parks are going to be dedicated September 19.

The president and his cabinet are to open the exposition September 13.

ADRIPT ON THE OCEAN

The Little Rosie Was Helpless for Several Days.

A Fisherman, with His Wife and Two Young Children Supplied with Food and Water by the Steamship Bellarden—A Short Voyage Nearly Ended Disastrously.

New York, July 8.—The steamer Bellarden from Rio Janeiro reports that on Friday last, July 5, at 6:30 in the morning the lookout reported a small sailing craft dead ahead. On approaching the little vessel it was seen that she was unmanageable and had four occupants, a man, a woman, a boy of seven years and an infant.

All were in a very weak condition. Joe Dallas, a native of Bermuda, embarked on board of his vessel, the Rosie, a small fishing boat about twenty feet long, not exceeding four tons burden, to change his residence from one part of the island of Bermuda to another. He took on board all his household effects, his wife and boy and nursing infant.

After embarking, the little vessel was blown off her course, and after twenty-one days of hardship and privation the Bellarden appeared.

Dallas said that his provisions had been exhausted for many days, but they had only been out of water for forty-eight hours. Capt. Davidson urged Dallas to come on board the Bellarden with his family, offering to tow the Rosie to New York, but Dallas refused, saying that the Rosie contained all he had in the world and that he thought he would get along all right. They were supplied with provisions and water from the stores of the Bellarden and given the coxswain for the Bermuda.

The Bellarden proceeded on her voyage, leaving the plucky Bermudian to again face the perils of the ocean. When the Bellarden parted from the Rosie she was about 100 miles southeast of Delaware capes.

NO MORE RACES.

Valkyrie III Will Now Prepare for Her Voyage to America.

Hunters Quay, July 8.—The representative of the United Press learns that Valkyrie III will take part in no more races on this side of the Atlantic. She will go to Henderson's yard this afternoon to prepare for her voyage to New York. Lord Dunraven left here Saturday night. Before taking his departure he expressed himself as thoroughly satisfied that the Valkyrie is better than any boat before built in Great Britain.

On the other hand, a Clyde yachtman, who has followed the yacht closely ever since she was launched, and who has seen all the races in which she has taken part, says that, in his opinion, the boat is pulling out of shape in the sheer. She looks to be distinctly hogged in the wake of the main chain-plates.

Howard Gould, the owner of the twenty-rater Niagara, is much disgusted with racing against the eleven-rater Dakotah of the Yacht Racing association's time allowance. He threatens to race his boat as a twenty-one-rater, and claim admission to the forty-rater class if the Dakotah continues winning in the south.

CATHOLIC SUMMER SCHOOL.

The Season Opened at Plattsburgh with a Great Demonstration.

Plattsburgh, N. Y., July 8.—The formal opening of the Catholic summer school of America took place in St. John's church here yesterday. The vast edifice was crowded, two thousand or more people being present, and thousands were unable to gain admittance. It was the greatest church demonstration ever witnessed in this part of the country. Special trains brought a large number from the Adirondacks, and nearly the whole state of Vermont came by boat. Pontifical high mass was celebrated by Archbishop Satolli.

Guilty of Accepting Bribes.

Topeka, Kan., July 8.—The State insane asylum investigating committee submitted a report to the governor in which it finds the entire populist board of charities was incompetent, and that the members were guilty of accepting coffee and other groceries and merchandise from state contractors in the nature of bribes.

New Telephone Service in the South.

Raleigh, N. C., July 8.—The North Carolina State Telephone company has been organized. Three thousand miles of wire have been ordered. It is intended eventually to include all the principal towns in North Carolina in this long distance system.

Ex-Gov. Stevenson Commits Suicide.

San Luis Chispo, Cal., July 8.—Ex-Gov. Stevenson, of Idaho, committed suicide Saturday by taking laudanum. He arrived at Paraiso Springs, June 3, accompanied by a servant. He was afflicted with sciatica and was in a helpless condition.

Drowned at City Island.

City Island, N. Y., July 8.—Arthur Korff, architect of Morrisania, was drowned here yesterday by the capsizing of a small boat. Miss Julia Andrea, who accompanied him, was taken from the water unconscious but was resuscitated.

Came in Leaking.

Delaware Breakwater, Del., July 8.—The ship R. D. Rice, Capt. Bearse, which has arrived from Hullo, lost sails on the passage. She is also leaking slightly and ten extra men besides the crew are pumping on her.

Union Dock Warehouse Burned.

Duluth, Minn., July 8.—The warehouse of the Union Dock company on Lake avenue was destroyed by fire early yesterday, causing a loss of over $100,000; the insurance is much less.

Another Victory for Walker.

Paris, July 8.—At the Velodrome de la Seine yesterday Walker, the American bicyclist, beat Prein and Both. The conditions were two kilometre heats, best three in five.

Pullman Wages Go Up.

Chicago, July 8.—The Pullman Palace Car company has advanced the wages of its employes at its shops 10 per cent, the advance affecting about 4,000 people.
