

FREELAND TRIBUNE.

VOL. VIII. NO. 12.

FREELAND, PA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 8, 1895.

$1.50 PER YEAR.

LOWER END NOT IN IT.

FOURTH DISTRICT IGNORED BY LUZERNE REPUBLICANS.

Troutman, the Candidate for Judge, Received a Very Small Vote—All the Nominees Chosen from Wilkesbarre and Vicinity—The Convention.

The Republican delegates of this county met at Wilkesbarre on Tuesday and nominated the following ticket:

Judge, Lyman H. Bennett, of Wilkesbarre.

Sheriff, James Martin, of Plains.

Recorder, Philip Richards, of Nanticoke.

Controller, Joseph D. Lloyd, of Wyoming.

Coroner, Dr. Frank L. McKee, of Plymouth.

County surveyor, Edward H. Post, of Wilkesbarre.

As will be noticed in the above the candidates all come from the county seat or nearby towns. The other portions of Luzerne were not considered in making up the ticket, and the result is that considerable dissatisfaction has already made its appearance. This, with the factional quarrel that has rent the party, gives the Democrats greater hope than ever to carry on to victory every nominee on their ticket.

The judicial convention met in the morning and after arranging the preliminary work for the day the candidate for judge was named. The aspirants and the vote received by each was as follows: L. H. Bennett, of Wilkesbarre, 147; George Ferris, of Pittston, 64; Geo. H. Troutman, of Hazleton, 38, and Gen. E. S. Osborne, of Wilkesbarre, 9. Mr. Bennett was declared the nominee.

The county convention was called to order at 2.30 o'clock. The reports of the various committees were received by Chairman L. P. Hand, of Wilkesbarre, who was elected to that position.

The resolutions adopted renew the loyalty of Luzerne Republicans to Governor Hastings, eulogize Judge Rice and promise to help him in receiving a nomination for superior court judge; they ask for a non-partisan judiciary, and conclude with the statement that Democratic ascendancy has proven a failure and its downfall is impatiently longed for.

The office of sheriff was the first to be filled. The candidates and the vote of each on the first ballot was as follows: D. W. Garrison, of Shickshinny, 78; James Martin, of Plains, 68; Stephen D. Yost, of Sugarloaf, 66; John S. Dietrick, of Nanticoke, 34; and Charles E. Jones, of Nanticoke, 9.

There was no choice until the fourth ballot was taken, when Martin received a majority of all votes cast, the vote being: Martin, 130; Garrison, 118; James Martin, of Plains, 130; Stephen D. Yost, of Sugarloaf, 66; John S. Dietrick, of Nanticoke, 34, and Charles E. Jones, of Nanticoke, 9.

For recorder the candidates on the first ballot were: Llewellyn Price, of Plains, 109; Samuel R. Morgans, of Wilkesbarre, 69; Philip J. Richards, of Nanticoke, 36, and James A. Patterson, of Wilkesbarre, 20.

There was no choice on the first and second ballots, but before the third was taken all the candidates withdrew in favor of Mr. Richards.

Joseph D. Lloyd, of Wyoming, won the nomination for controller on the first ballot, receiving 112½ votes to the following for the other candidates: Joseph Westover, of Fortyfort, 63; James Waddel, of Kingston, 19, and M. E. Walker, of Shickshinny, 12.

Dr. Frank L. McKee, of Plymouth, was nominated by acclamation for coroner.

For county surveyor the vote was: Edward H. Post, of Wilkesbarre, 126; E. B. Rood, of Pittston, 21, and Nat. Rutter, of Wilkesbarre, 18.

This ended the work of the delegates and they adjourned at 8.30 o'clock.

THE CANDIDATES.

Lyman H. Bennett, who was nominated for judge, is 50 years old, having been born in Delaware county, N. Y., in 1845. Until he reached his majority he was engaged in agricultural pursuits, his father being a farmer. He then went to Washington as a clerk in a government office remaining there six years. When 27 year of age he went to Wilkesbarre, studied law and was admitted to the bar. In 1891 he was the candidate of the Republican party for the office of additional law judge, but was defeated at the polls by Hon. John Lynch, the present incumbent of that office.

James Martin is of English extraction, and was born in Schuylkill county, near Pottsville, and is 44 years of age. While he was a child his parents moved to Tamqua, and then to Ashland, and later to Plains. He is now foreman in the Delaware colliery at Mill Creek, which position he has held for twelve years. He has taken considerable interest in Republican politics in his part of the county.

Philip Richards was born in Wales, and is 39 years of age. He came to America when quite young, taking up his residence in Nanticoke, where he began working in the mines. He was prominently identified with the Knights of Labor. He has been honored with the offices of president and treasurer of the school board of Nanticoke, and has always been a hard worker in the Republican party.

Joseph D. Lloyd is a son of the well known mine superintendent and rock contractor, John Lloyd, and is a native of Stockton and is 29 years of age. He was educated in the common schools of Hazle township and in the Bloomsburg normal school. The family removed from this region to the Wyoming valley about eight years ago. Mr. Lloyd is engaged in business as salesman and manager for the Atlantic Dynamite Company. For four years he was a clerk in the general office at Drifton for Cox, Bros. & Co. He was elected Burgess of Wyoming in 1894.

Dr. Frank L. McKee was born in Warren, Bradford county, and is 33 years of age. He was educated in Wyoming seminary and graduated at Bellevue Medical college in New York in 1882, and has been practicing at Plymouth since. Dr. McKee has been a lieutenant of Company I, Ninth regiment, since its organization, and last spring was elected captain.

Edward H. Post is a young man who took a course in civil engineering at Yale college, graduating last year. In April he was elected borough surveyor of Ashley and Plymouth.

District Conventions.

The Luzerne Republican district conventions were held on Monday, and eight delegates were elected to the state convention who favor Governor Hastings, while one delegate favorable to Senator Quay was successful. The feature of the day was the election of a Quay delegate in the fifth district, where the friends of the governor thought they were sure to win, while in this district a Hastings man was successful by a majority of one in the convention.

The contest in this district could not be more exciting. The Hastings delegates were taken by Daniel Cox in a special D. S. & S. train to Hazleton, where headquarters were opened in coal and iron police rooms until the convention was held.

The first test of strength was between J. B. Laubach, of Freeland, and William F. Adams, of Beaver Brook, for chairman. Adams won by a vote of 22 to 19. This gave the Quayites control of the convention. H. P. Kuntz, of Hazleton, and J. C. Stroh, of Drifton, were chosen as secretaries. A secret ballot was decided upon in voting for state delegate.

The first vote resulted: Powell, 20; Lloyd, 20; Chairman Adams, 1. The second gave Lloyd 21 and Powell 20. The disorder at times was so great that the police had to be called upon to quell the noise, and as soon as the vote was announced the convention broke up in confusion.

Charges and counter-charges of boodles were made by the interested parties, and there seems to be no question but that money was lavished freely.

The first district convention was held at Wilkesbarre. The delegates are W. M. Weaver and A. L. Williams. They are for Hastings.

The second district elected its delegates at West Pittston. Alexander McDougall and John D. Woodworth, the Hastings men, defeating the Quay men, Dr. M. B. Hughes and Lewis Jones, by one vote out of a total of 59.

The third district convention met at Kingston. Chris. Wren and Jones Edwards were Hastings delegates, and Howard Armstrong and William Oldfield stood for Quay. After considerable wrangling a vote was called for, and it resulted as follows: Wren, 23½; Edwards, 24½; Armstrong, 23; Oldfield, 19.

The fifth district convention was held at East Pittston. The Hastings men made a poor showing. Their candidate, Charles B. Smith, received only 12½ votes. John M. Jones, the Quay candidate, received 29½.

The sixth district delegates met at Ashley and elected Arthur E. Detoro, the Hastings candidate, over John B. Graham, by a vote of 39 to 24.

Mr. McGarvey is familiar with all the details of base ball, and he will endeavor to arrange several good games before the season closes.

The Tigers went to Sunbury on Tuesday, but just as the game was to start a heavy shower came down and prevented what promised to be a fine exhibition. The club was in charge of "Doc" Housh, who arranged the game, and the boys vote him a first-class manager.

Protect the Game and Fish.

Sport or fish only in the proper season and escape the game warden by observing the laws. Many states have new game and fish laws this year, and if you don't know them, send five 2c stamps for a copy of the Game Law issue of the American Field, 215 State st., Chicago.

Receiver for a Colliery.

Notice was posted at Beaver Meadow collieries of the Evans Mining Company on Tuesday that the plant would suspend operations for an indefinite period. The announcement created a great deal of surprise because the colliery was regarded as one of the best in the region as far as the workmen were concerned. Another announcement was made shortly after to the effect that a receiver had been appointed to take charge of the plant. The receiver is Frederick S. Duncan, of New York. Arrangements are now being made for a siege of idleness. The workmen were notified that there would be no work there for them there for some time. But three men were retained to look after the plant.

An official of the company explained that the action taken was due to the unsettled condition of the coal market and the low price now paid to individual operators. The men are assured of their pay. The day set for paying of the men is August 17, the regular payday.

The Successful Applicants.

Following is a list of the successful applicants for certificates of qualification as mine foremen and assistant mine foremen in the late examinations in the fifth anthracite district:

Death of a Young Man.

At Highland late Monday evening Patrick Carr died suddenly at the residence of Mrs. Brown, where he boarded. He was apparently in the best of health up to two hours before his death. Heart failure is said to have been the cause. The young man was employed as a pump-runner under Markle & Co., and was quite popular with his acquaintances. He came to this from Ireland eight years ago. Two sisters, who reside in Philadelphia, survive him. The funeral took place this morning. Interment was made in St. Ann's cemetery after a requiem mass was read over the remains. The funeral was attended by many friends, also by the members of Division 19, A. O. H., and the Young Men's Temperance Corps.

Celebrated the Victory.

On Monday evening a large amount of fireworks were set off by the friends of Governor Hastings and Daniel Cox, in honor of the victory won by them that day at Hazleton. The elected state delegate, Keose Lloyd, of Walnut street, was serenaded at his residence by the Jr. O. U. A. M. drum corps and St. Patrick's cornet band, and acknowledged the compliment in a brief but appropriate address. Rev. J. W. Bischoff and D. J. McCarthy also spoke. Later in the evening the musicians went to Drifton, where they played at the residence of Daniel Cox. It was intended that a parade should be held in town, but the crowd on the streets did not take kindly to the suggestion.

Coal Land Transferred.

Alexander Cox and Henry B. Cox, executors of Eckley B. Cox, deceased, on Tuesday transferred a six-seventh piece of land in Hazle township to Alexander B. Cox, Henry B. Cox, Eckley B. Cox, Jr., Rebecca Cox, Brinton Cox and Anna B. Cox. The deed is for the northern half of the Robert Clark tract in Hazle, as surveyed September 12, 1893, and comprises a fraction over 300 acres of valuable coal land. The tract was purchased for the parties named above and Eckley B. Cox, each owning a seventh, and was held in trust by Eckley B. Cox.

Tenting at Mountain Grove.

Mountain Grove is alive with people who are attending the camping of the Danville district, of the Eastern Pennsylvania Methodist conference. Never in its history has the association had the same assurances for a successful season as they have at present. The camp presented a lively appearance yesterday and the woods reverberated with the voices of the enthusiastic worshippers. Services held in the tabernacle are largely attended. There is a deep religious fervor shown.

B. F. Rute, representing the school board, and J. F. Sweeney, of the Young Men's Society, requested that the sewer be extended west on Luzerne to Ridge street. The matter was laid over to be taken up later.

A petition from residents of Ridge and Centre streets, north from Chestnut, was read, asking that sewers be laid in that portion of the borough. It was finally decided that sewers be laid in the northern portion of the borough at once, according to the plans presented by the surveyor.

A motion was also passed that Washington street north to South street, and Luzerne and Carbon streets from Centre to the alley, be sewerd. The street committee is to meet the borough solicitor and with him have bonds issued to the amount of 2 per cent of the assessed valuation. This committee was also authorized to have posters printed asking for proposals for doing the work.

A bill of $20 for extra work on Centre street sewer by H. R. King & Co. was ordered paid.

The street committee was ordered to examine the sewer work done by King & Co., and if it is satisfactory, to instruct the secretary to draw an order for the amount. They are to examine Luzerne street also, and if any of the surplus earth can be used on that street to have it placed there.

The street commissioner's report for July, amounting to $173.78 for work on streets and part of Carbon street sewer, was approved.

The treasurer reported having expended last month $2,182.52, leaving a balance on hand of $1,404.95.

The burgess was notified to inform the officials of the Lehigh Traction Company that the cars are being run too fast through the borough, and that unless the speed is reduced the motor-men will be arrested.

The lockup committee was ordered to see Mr. Cowan and ascertain his price for the old Donop hall building.

John Mollick was appointed high constable, and will enter upon his duties after his bond is filed and approved.
