Ice Cream in Oklahoma. When the recent storm was over in Tina, Okla, the late householders, ylewing the remains, were greatly sur-prised at finding upon the supposed site of the grocery a large and solid mass of excellent ice cream in bulk, melting rapidly away under the sun, but still good at heart. The explana-tion, after all, was simple. The Hight-ning stroke which destroyed the root of the building, and shattered every barrel and bottle in the piace, fused and melt ed a dozen milk cans, releasing their precious contents. Directly over the cans, on the shelves, were a number of paper bags of sugar, a sack of flour and seven bottles of vanilla extract, whose released contents fell into the mass Before the milk had time to flow away it was buried up in such hallstones as even Oklahoma never saw before, a fall of two feet occurring in almost au instant. The lee balls mingled with the contents of a dozen barrels of salt, which had been standing about the milk cans, produced such an intenss cold that the mingled milk, vanilla, su gar and flour were instantly solidified on the surface, and in half an hour be came a solid mass to the core of excel-lent ice cream.—New York Recorder. Fathers Must Be Careful There. Among the Indians of British Guiana usage bids the father go to bed when a child is born and allows the mother to return at once to her household duties. James Rodway's recently published book on that country explains the cus-tom by a supersition which attaches the spirit of the child to the body of the father. The author says:

tion by a supersition when articles the spirit of the child to the body of the father. The author says: "The father must not hunt, shoot or fell trees for some time, because there is an invisible connection between him-self and the babe, whose spirit accom-panies him in all his wanderings, and might be shot, chopped or otherwise infured unwittingly. He therefore re-tires to his hammock, sometimes hold-ing the little one, and receives the con-gratulations of his friends, as well as the advice of the elder members of the community. If he has occasion to travel, he must not go very far, as the child and spirit might get tired, and, in passing a creek, must first lay across it a little bridge or bond a leaf into the passing a creek, must first my across it a little bridge or bend a leaf into the shape of a cance for his companion."
