AMERICAN MILLIONAIRES

BY GEORGE THOMAS DOWLING, D. D.

It might almost seem that the following sketch illustrating the singular experiences which sometimes occur to those traveling through a foreign country could scarcely be true. It is, however, an accurate statement of facts, and can be verified, if anyone should so desire, by communicating with any member of the party referred to.

"We learn that a company of American millionaires will leave Copenhagen on Tuesday next, in a private train, on their way to Stockholm. After visiting that city they intend to spend some time in Russia. It would be difficult to estimate what the aggregate wealth of these gentlemen would represent."

Why She Was Sorry. He had been worshipping her for months, but never told her, and she didn't want him to. He had come often and stayed late—very late—and she could only sigh and hope. He was going away the next day on vacation, and he thought the last night was the time to spring the momentous question. He kept it to himself, however, until the last thing. It was eleven-thirty by the clock, and it was not a very rapid clock.

THE WISE LITTLE SCHOLAR. The wisest of my scholars is a gentle little girl named— Who looks at life and learning with a pair of soft blue eyes; She has an answer ready, with a deal of logic laden. And solves all knotty questions and problems as they rise.

THE PECULIAR TURK. American boys and girls accustomed to the dash of fire horses through the streets, and the reaching of the burning house or shop in five or ten minutes, only a fair performance of our fire departments, will laugh to hear how the slow-going Turk manages the matter.

THE PLAN ALWAYS WORKS. Old Friend—I was surprised to hear that you had married Mr. Saphead. Mrs. Saphead—Well, he persisted in hanging around me wherever I went, and there wasn't a night that he didn't call and stay until I was "most tired to death. So I married him to get rid of him."

THE TURKISH FIRE TOWER. as it is called, one for each district, up to the one where the fire seems to be. The city was built on seven hills, and each hill is a district, so if the fire is in the third district three balls will hang on each side, that all may know where to run for the fire.

Accurate as to Time. "Why, I didn't know you were acquainted with old Moneywug?" "Oh, yes."

Value vs. Beauty. Husband—Why do you hang those lace curtains straight up and down? Wife—Why, my dear, if I should draw them back into graceful folds no one would know that they are real.

Nothing is Altogether Useless. "Do you think, professor," said the musically ambitious youth, "that I can ever do anything with my voice?" "Well," was the cautious reply, "it may come in handy to holler with in case of fire."
