Isolation of Great Britain in Her Foreign Policy-The Venezuelan Controversy Complicated with the Threatening Eastern War Cloud.

Recent Diplomatic Events.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Complications of the eastern and western hemispheres seem to be strangely intermixed just now, so far as can be judged from the general trend of diplomatic gossip and other confirmatory sources of information. A partioularly strong undercurrent of secret diplomatic information generally gives some surface indications discernable by experienced observers. Suggestive manifestations of this kind have been yety noticeable within the second control of the second c

Grave Complications Probable.
It is also regarded as certain that this movement on the part of Russia will bring about grave complications with Great Britain as threatening the security of the British eastern empire. The general tone of diplomatic discussion also recognizes the fact that Great Britain stands alone among European powers, without one ally upon whom she sould rely.

Secretary of the Navy Herbert Says
They Are Not Important.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Secretary Herbert has made the following official statement about the defects in the Maine:
"The Maine was designed to be on an even keel at her normal draught of 21 feet 6 inches with 400 tons of coal on board. She has now been fully loaded with over 800 tons of coal and her draught forward is two feet five inches greater than aft. This is not uncommon. Many other ships when fully loaded are down by the head more or less. When the ship has been at sea for a few days this will be corrected in great part at least by using the coal which is generally taken from the forward part of the vessel. As to the listing of the Maine to the starboard, this is not a matter of importance. It can be easily corrected by adjustment of weights in loading."

NEWFOUNDLAND SMUGGLING.

St. Johns for a Year.

St. Johns, N. F., Oct. 29.—Inspector O'Rellly, commanding the cruiser Fiona, has returned here with the information respecting the whole series of snuggling cases at Burin and its neighborhood. Ho has arrested a dozen of the leading traders thereabouts and seized large quantities of smuggled liquor, tobacco, tea and sugar. The board of revenue met to receive his report. It is expected that the prosecution of the whole lot will be undertaken before a local magistrate. From the details of these cases it is known that practically no revenue has been collected outside of St. Johns for the past year, so prevalent have been the snuggling practices.

Short and Bloody Encounter on the Bayamo River - Battle of Chivo Mountain - Insurgents Whip the Enemy at Mount Capiro-Spanish Gunboat Captured.

Santiago de Cuba, Oct. 17, via Key West, Oct. 29.—On the banks of the Bayamo river, between Corojo and Santa Barbara, a short distance from the city of Bayamo, there was a short but bloody encounter on September 24 between part of the forces of the rebel leader Habi, under his command, and a strong Spanish column, 800 in number, under Colonel Tovar.

Colonel Tovar.

Rebels in Ambush.

The rebels were lying in ambush on the right and left of the road along which the Spaniards were advancing. They allewed the vanguard, 200 in number, to pass unmolested, as well as a section of guerrillas, but when the main body of the column arrived, 300 of Rabi's men, armed with rifles, opened fire from their positions and aimost destroyed the main column. After the fire had lasted an hour Colonel Tovar, seeing that he was losing many men, ordered his vanguard to be reinforced and ordered the use of the bayonet.

The Span commander could not resist the atta and ordered a hasty retreat, leaving the field forty killed and wounded whis men were unable to carry with the The rebels had five killed and wounded, and captured a quantity arms and ammunition abandoned by Spanish.

Battle of Chivo Mountain.

On September 25 the Spanish Gener Echague with 3,500 solders met with the vanguard of Antonio Maceo on the Guyabal river, district of Holgain. To vanguard had been sent to draw Echague and his men to the top Chivo mountain, where Antonio Mac was awaiting them with 2,000 infant and 700 cavalry. During the march the rebels were constantly firing on the troops, and after three hours' fight the troops retired without daring to a vance to the top of the mountain. The spaniards had more than eighty kill and wounded and five soldiers were tak prisoners. The rebels had three kill and nine wounded.

Attacked by the Rebels.

Col. Zamora with 700 regulars of a body called the Guerrillas of Commore left Baraca on the 6th inst. for Mata Bay, where his forces encountered a body of rebels. The latter made a brave defense in spite of the help the Spanish troops had from a gunboat which constantly fred on the insurgents. After leaving Mata Bay, on the return to Baracaos, the Spaniards passed Mount Capiro, where the rebel leader Gil had 500 infantry, very well distributed, who opened fire on the Spaniards.

Both sides fought bravely for nearly five hours, but the insurgents had a better position than the Spaniards, and got the better of it. The Spaniards proceeded to Baracca, as they saw it was impossible to reach the summit of the mountain where the rebels were. Thay carried with them eighty wounded, among them the guerrilla captain characteristic and the rebels in the ten years' war, but who is now on the Spaniah side, and five other officers—this after burying nineteen solidiers. The insurgents had only four killed and fitteen wounded.
