

FREELAND TRIBUNE.

VOL. VIII. NO. 40.

FREELAND, PA., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1895.

$1.50 PER YEAR.

BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

PARAGRAPHS GATHERED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE REGION.

Synopsis of Local and Miscellaneous Occurrences That Can Be Read Quickly. What the Folks of This and Other Towns are Doing.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Orion Stroh will spend today, Friday and Saturday in New York city.

Charles Dusbeck, A. A. Bachman and W. H. Hunsicker are hunting deer up in Bradford county.

A ball and banquet by the Old Men's Club will take place at the Cottage hotel on December 13.

The report that John McCarthy had resigned as editor of the Hazleton Sentinel is denied by him.

The best is the cheapest in the end. Go to the Wear Well Shoe House. Their shoes all wear well.

Candidates for offices to be filled at the spring election are preparing for the nominating conventions.

The town of McAdoo is having a semi-weekly newspaper. The projectors are Matthew Goodman and Edward Brennan.

Thomas Wright, Paul Dash and E. G. Butler have been appointed by court as viewers of a new road in Foster township.

Another game of foot ball will probably be played at the park on Sunday afternoon by the Hazleton and Freeland clubs.

Revs. J. H. Schmidt and J. J. Kuntz attended the meeting of the Lutheran Pastoral Association on Monday at White Haven.

The fire in the Sugarloaf mine tunnel at Hazleton has been subdued. Men are still engaged in clearing away the debris which the flames caused.

The very latest in New York and Philadelphia dress goods can be seen at A. Oswald's. Can and inspect them.

The population of Drifton, as indicated by the census taken recently by the company, is 2,153. This is a decrease of 139 since November 1, 1894.

Congressman Leisenring and family have taken up their residence in Washington, D. C. The next session of congress will open on December 2.

A new time table will go into effect on the D. S. & S. on Sunday. There are several important changes in the times of passenger trains along the line.

An extraordinary rush of job work this week and our inability to obtain more help prevented us from giving as much news as we should in this issue.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad proposes to provide living apartments for its station agents in their respective stations where they are isolated from the towns.

Judge Woodward has ordered that the names of 2,000 citizens be placed in the jury wheel, to be drawn as jurors in 1896. This is the same number as was placed in for this year.

The next ball at the opera house will be held by the Jeddo Progressive Club. The date is Thanksgiving Eve, and the club proposes to maintain the reputation it has made in these affairs.

All the cases of diphtheria in the borough have been cured. Precautions taken by the board of health and the attending physicians averted what might probably have been an epidemic.

Try the Wear Well Shoe House. Their goods cost no more and give better satisfaction than any other store in Freeland.

Mrs. A. M. Endy died at her home in Hazleton on Sunday, aged 55 years. She was the daughter of Lewis Danvenport, who built the Hazleton House, and was the second child born in Hazleton.

The funeral of the late Anthony Campbell, of Hazleton, who was buried on Tuesday from the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Campbell, was attended by large number of friends and acquaintances.

John Gillespie, of Hazleton, two young men well known here, will open a general grocery store in McMeniman's new building about December 1. Both have had considerable experience in the business.

Walter Gould, a pupil in the Washington street school, fell against a bookcase in the primary room on Tuesday and cut his forehead. The little fellow was taken to his home on Ridge street, and had three stitches placed in the wound.

An advertisement judiciously placed is now the proper thing to catch the holiday trade. The fact that the Tribune is constantly growing in popularity readily suggests it as the best advertising medium to which the local business men have access.

Pine Street Surveyed.
Borough Surveyor P. M. Boyle has completed the survey of Pine street, north to the borough line, and has placed grade stones at different points. While the street is now practically opened, council has not authorized any work to be done on it, nor has there been any yet, and until such time as the council decides it to public use the street commissioner is powerless to do anything.

Preparing for Work.

The Northeastern Sabbath Observance Association, which, under the leadership of Rev. F. A. Dony, of Scranton, created some sensations in Lackawanna county, has decided to try its hand in this county, and will wage a vigorous campaign for a proper observance of Sunday. Headquarters have been established at the county seat, from which point operations against the breakers of blue laws will be directed. A number of ministers and others have been interested in the movement, and H. A. Fuller, Esq., the attorney of the association, says that among the important matters which will first receive attention is the closing of saloons, and that when liquor dealers realize that the association is in earnest he thinks they will not hesitate to obey the law.

The association territory extends over eastern Pennsylvania. Every town or district has its general and sub-committees and in this way the entire territory is to be covered. The general object of the association is to abolish all unnecessary work on Sunday. Their efforts, to start with, will be directed toward the closing of saloons, cigar and candy stores, ice cream parlors, soda fountains, etc.

Board of Trade Falls to Meet.

The board of trade was scheduled to hold a meeting last night, but only five members responded to the call. As this number constituted only one-third of a quorum there was no session held, making the second time within two weeks that the board has failed to meet. President Berner was on hand promptly at the time appointed for the meeting to begin, as were also Vice President Malloy and Secretary Butz. The president came, evidently prepared for business, and was surprised to find himself in a position unable to do any work. Mr. Berner is an enthusiastic worker on behalf of the board, and he keenly feels the lack of appreciation which the members are showing for his services by their failure to attend the meetings.

President Berner declared his intention of resigning and requested Vice President Malloy to call a special meeting of the board to accept his resignation.

Rockafellow's Bondsman Settle.

The city council of Wilkesbarre has settled the Rockafellow case in accordance with the recent decision of the supreme court. When F. V. Rockafellow, who is now in the penitentiary, closed the doors of his bank he had on deposit about $52,000 of the city's money. The city commenced suit against his bondsmen, John W. Hollenback, Isaac Livingstone and Robert Mitchell, for the amount. The case was tried and decided in favor of the city. The bondsmen then took it to the supreme court and the court decided they were responsible for the debt, less the amount of the sinking fund, which had been deposited without any provision for the payment of interest. The council decided therefore to settle the case upon the payment of $38,659.65, the full amount, less the sinking fund account and interest.

A Blaze at Highland.

The continued blowing of the breaker whistle at No. 2 Highland at 11 p. m. on Tuesday caused many people of town to investigate the trouble. It was learned that the frame shed built over the steam shovel at No. 3 stripping was burning. How the fire originated is not known, but it is supposed to have caught in some manner from the boiler which was attached to the machine. The shed was burned to the ground, and the shovel, which was owned by Contractor King, was badly damaged.

Appointed Referee.

Attorney G. L. Halsey, of White Haven, has been appointed by the court to hear the appeals of the supervisors, tax collectors and treasurers of Foster township, covering a period of four years past, and will take testimony at his office in Wilkesbarre on Monday, November 25, at 10 a. m. These appeals are mostly from the statements of the auditors who surcharged the township officials with certain monies. They will be finally disposed of this time.

Band Fair Opened.

The Mayberry band fair opened at the opera house on Monday evening. The members have succeeded in making this year's display a grand one. The many articles on exhibition, including a parlor suite, dining room suite, etc., give the hall a tasty appearance, and the band invites all its friends to call and see them. Prizes are awarded every evening, and a musical entertainment is also given.

Three Fingers Smashed.

Andrew O'Donnell, of Drifton, met with a serious accident in the shops at that place yesterday morning. He was employed in the blacksmith department and three fingers on his right hand were caught under a heavy sledge. The fingers were severely crushed and may have to be amputated.

For Sale.

A grocery and liquor store, city of Hazleton; doing a good business; fine location. For further information apply at this office.

WINDISH ON TRIAL.

Pittston's Wife Murderer Before a Jury in Wilkesbarre This Week.

In the criminal court on Tuesday Lawyer John T. Lenahan created a sensation by making a motion to squash the indictment against George Windish, of Pittston, charged with the murder of his wife. The points raised by Lenahan were that the clerk of the courts had issued a venire for the drawing of a grand jury for September sessions, 1895, without an order from the judges, which was necessary. Further, that the venire is drawn under name of Charles E. Rice, as president judge of the court of Luzerne county, and dated July 18, 1895, while as a matter of fact, Judge Rice resigned as a member of the court before that time to accept a place on the superior court bench.

Judge Woodward denied the motion on the ground that the absence of a special precept or order for the drawing of a grand jury is not of material importance, and the motion to quash the indictment was not promptly made, one term having elapsed since the finding of the true bill by the grand jury. Windish pleaded not guilty and the case was then proceeded with. The jury contains the following from the lower end: Michael Carr, Foster, and G. G. Pritchard, W. J. Smauch and John F. James, Hazleton.

Proof of the Love.

"Are you sure you love him?"
"Am I sure? Do you see this dress?"
"Of course I do. What of it?"
"Will you kindly tell me if it bears the slightest resemblance to the present fashion?"
"Well, really, it—er—it—"
"It doesn't?"
"No."
"Well, I'm wearing it because he likes it."
—N. Y. Recorder.

Sympathetic.

She sang a moving little song,
This girl of voice so sweet;
In fact, it was so moving that
The audience all left.
—N. Y. Recorder.

IN THE WOOLLY WEST.

The Great Magician—Gentlemen: One of the feats I advertised to perform this evening in your city was to hold this small apple in my mouth while my assistant shot it to pieces, I facing the shooter. But, as my assistant has, unfortunately, been taken sick, we—

Alcoholic Ike (president of Dead-Man's Gulch Target club)—That's all right, pard! The show kin go right on! That's no one 'round these parts kin tie me with a shootin' iron, an' I'll bet if yer crack shooter kin do what ye say that I kin!—Chicago News.

Nothing Gained.

I worked for fourteen hours a day in hopes that they would raise my pay. It came, and now I feel quite small. To think my doctor gets it all.
—Tom Masson, in Brooklyn Life.

Disliked Both Kinds.

Mr. Swelton—Yes, and none of Lenox is that you never meet any of the nouveau riche there.

How Mr. Pullman Can Save Money.

Mrs. Cawker—It is said that Mr. Pullman pays his daughter ten thousand dollars a year for naming the company's cars.

He Dates on Strikes.

Van Waffles—There goes a man who has caused more strikes than any man in the country.

McGilder—Some grasping capitalist, isn't he?

Van Waffles—No, he is a champion bowler.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Wilkesbarre's "Dead Line."

There is any amount of trouble brewing over Mayor Nichols' "dead line" in Wilkesbarre, and the courts will be kept busy for some time to come to decide whether his honor or the property owners are right. The "dead line," as it is called, is a line marked with white paint, two inches wide, extending around the sidewalks on the Public Square. It was drawn by the mayor's orders and is supposed to mark the sidewalk boundary of private and public property. The line in a great many places passes through steps into stores, cellar doors, permanent stands erected by merchants and in one place through the corner of a building.

The mayor says that all space outside the line must be left clear for public use, while the merchants whose property protrudes beyond the line claim it has a right to do so. Several have refused to move stands, steps, or cellar doors, and were arrested in consequence. They appealed the cases and are now organizing to take the matter to court. They are determined not to give in until they have to, and the mayor says he is in the right and, having the power, is going to force the transgressors to respect the ordinance against blockading sidewalks.

Sunday Fracas at Pittston.

A family fracas on Sunday night between Martin Surma, a Pittston Polelander, and Mrs. Yeager has placed the former in jail, and the latter beyond hope of recovery. Surma, it appears, was intoxicated, and began to abuse his step-daughter. The argument finally resulted in Surma striking the woman. Powerful as was the blow Mrs. Yeager retaliated by hitting her assailant with stove lifters, flat irons and everything within easy reach until he ran out from the house.

Smarting under the punishment he received, Surma picked up an ax that he found lying outside and re-entered the house. Mrs. Yeager, seeing him approach, attempted to escape, but before she could do so he dealt her a blow on the neck that knocked her down. Surma fled, but was later captured and confined in the county jail to await the result of her injuries.

Luck May Still Be With Him.

From the Wilkesbarre Newsleader.
Wouldn't it be rare good fortune if Judge Smith's good luck should follow him, and he should draw the fortunate number that will make him president judge of the superior court. The act provides, that the judges, when elected, shall meet and by lot decide who is to be the president judge. If Judge Smith, as the only Democratic member of the court, would be the fortunate man on whom the choice fell, it would be an additional satisfaction both to himself and his friends. It is, of course, a little improbable that so rare a bit of good fortune should follow his election, but the French say the unexpected always happens, and it may in this case.

Want the Law Enforced.

A meeting of the miners from the mining territory of Pottsville, St. Clair and Port Carbon was held at Pottsville on Tuesday. Various measures for benefiting the miners in the region were considered. The principal subject under discussion was the enforcement of the semi-monthly pay law. A petition embodying this matter was signed by a large number of miners and a committee was appointed to present the petition to the officials of Chamberlain colliery, at St. Clair, and request an answer by November 20. A branch of the United Mine Workers of America is to be organized among the employers of that colliery.

Tried to Kill Her Son.

Mrs. W. Ellis, a prominent resident of Georgetown, near Wilkesbarre, became suddenly insane on Monday morning while at breakfast and seizing a knife attempted to stab her oldest son, but fortunately was restrained by her husband. For several months the woman's actions have been so strange as to attract the attention of neighbors. After her attempt on the life of her son, it required the efforts of several men to keep her down. Her paroxysm of frenzy continuing, a rope was secured and the woman's hands and feet were bound. She was sent to jail to await the action of a committee on lunacy.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

AFTER EATING HASHEESH.

The Peculiar Mental Condition Which Comes to One and All.

During quite a good half hour I felt nothing in any way abnormal, but when the meal was drawing to its close a subtle warmth, which came, as it were, in gusts to my head and chest, seemed to permeate my body with a singular emotion, says Cornhill Magazine. Later on the conversation around me reached my understanding, charged with droll significance. The noise of a fork tapped against a glass struck my ear as a most harmonious vibration. The faces of my companions were transformed. The particular animal type, which, according to Lavater, is the basis of every human countenance, appeared to me strikingly clear. My right-hand neighbor became an eagle, he on my left grew into an owl, with full projecting eyes; immediately in front of me the man was a lion, while the doctor himself was metamorphosed into a fox.

But the most extraordinary circumstance was that I read, or seemed to read, their thoughts and penetrate the depth of their intelligence as easily as one decipher a page printed in large type. Like an experienced phrenologist I could indicate accurately the force and quality of their endowments and the nature of their sentiments; in this analysis I discovered affinities and contrasts which would have escaped one in a normal state.

Objects around me seemed little by little to clothe themselves in fantastic garb, the arabesques on the walls revealed themselves to me in rich rhymes of attractive poetry, sometimes melancholy, but more generally rising to an exaggerated lyricism or to transcendental buffoonery. The porcelain vases, the bottles, the glasses sparkling on the table—all took the most ludicrous forms. At the same time I felt creeping all around the region of my heart a tickling pressure, to squeeze out, as it were, with gentle force, a laugh which burst forth with noisy violence.

My neighbors, too, seemed subjected to an identical influence, for I saw their faces unfold like peonies—victims of boisterous hilarity, holding their sides and rolling about from right to left, their countenances swollen like Titans. My voice seemed to have gained considerable strength, for when I spoke it was as if it were a discharge of cannon, and long after I had uttered a sentence I heard in my brain the reverberation, as it were, of distant thunder.
