

TALES OF SUFFERING

Fugitive Armenians De- tained at New York.

Liabile To Deportation, Which Might Mean Death to Them, and Cer- tainly Imprisonment—One of the Unfortunate Men's Family Slain Before His Eyes by Kurds.

New York, Jan. 27.—Two Armenians, whose families have been slaughtered in Turkey by the Kurds, are now pris- oners on Ellis island without the nec- essary amount of money to secure their admission to this country. They came on the Cunarder Servia, which arrived Jan. 20. Their tale of injustice and sufferings is piteous, and they plead for admission on the ground that they are not paupers and that deportation means to them, perhaps, the loss of life, and certainly imprisonment. The men are Peter Der Garabedian and D. N. Ghacherdorian. The first is un- married and 22 years old. The latter is now a widower and is 30 years old. Both were residents of Harpoot, near Alexandretta, Turkey, until four months ago, when they stole away at midnight and after many hardships reached Smyrna.

Children Slain; Wife Kidnapped.
Ghacherdorian was in bed with his family when he was aroused by the fierce yells of the Kurd soldiers and the sound of shots. Before his eyes his three little children were torn from their mother's arms and slain. Then the wife was seized by brutal hands and carried away the while crying to the helpless husband to rescue her from the fate that the Armenian woman fears more than death. She was never seen again by the husband. Daylight came, and Ghacherdorian remained in a cellar all day. At night he and Garabedian stole away. All night they walked and the next day they hid again. And so they travelled until they reached Smyrna, where they found friends whom they could trust. From Smyrna they went to Marseilles and from there they took the steamer to Liverpool. There they sailed on the Servia for America. But as they had no money Dr. Senger, the commis- sioner of immigration at this port, was compelled to detain them. The Armenian Relief association of this city has become interested in the case and every effort will be made to have the two fugitives liberated.

DEMAND HIS RESIGNATION. Dorchester Church Members Are Against Congressman Atwood.

Boston, Jan. 28.—At the service in the First Parish Unitarian church, Dor- chester, Sunday, Rev. E. R. Shippen, the pastor, informed his congregation of a petition requesting the resignation of Congressman Atwood, which such of the voters and taxpayers present as desired to do so could sign in the vestry after the services. The announcement created considerable suppressed excite- ment and at the conclusion of the services quite a number of the worship- ers passed into the vestry to sign the paper. The congressman's resignation is demanded because of certain facts connected with his administration of the office of city architect, which were brought out in the recent Atwood- Peabody libel suit.

KAISER'S 37TH BIRTHDAY. Celebrated in Germany with Great Ceremony.

Berlin, Jan. 28.—The emperor's 37th birthday was celebrated yesterday with great ceremony. Divine service was held in the morning in the castle chapel, and later a grand reception was held in the white hall of the Schloss, which was attended by a large number of guests, including the foreign diplo- mats, a number of the royal and reigning princes, the ministers of state and many others of the high government officials.

Quebec's Winter Carnival. Quebec, Jan. 28.—The official opening of the Quebec winter carnival took place yesterday afternoon in the pres- ence of an immense crowd of specta- tors. The city is full of visitors, most of whom are Americans, and incoming trains are crowded. The ice bridge over the St. Lawrence forms a great attraction and hundreds crossed on it to-day.

Against a Second Track. GARZA REPORTED KILLED. Fell in an Engagement with Span- ish Troops in Cienfuegos District.

Havana, Jan. 24.—An official report has been received from the commander of the Cienfuegos district saying that a detachment of Spanish troops en- countered a party of rebels on the Bravo Gresento estate. The insurgents numbered between 250 and 300 men and were commanded by Aulet and the famous Mexican bandit Catarino Garza. After a severe fight the troops cap- tured the rebel position and it was found that four of the insurgents had been killed. One of the bodies was identified by the superin- tendent of the estates that of Catarino Garza. Many of the rebels were wounded, but were carried off by their comrades. Ten of their horses were killed. Three revolvers and four machetes were found by the troops.
J. FRANK CLARK.

H. ALFRED ANDRE DEAD. Banker, Philanthropist and Leader of the French Protestant Church.

New York, Jan. 24.—A private cablegram from Paris states that H. Alfred Andre, banker, chevalier of the Legion of Honor, regent of the bank of France and one of the wealthiest and most influential gentlemen of that city, died very suddenly Wednesday, M. Andre was about 70 years of age and was actively engaged in business life. He was the leader in the French Protestant state church and in all the philanthropic and benevolent agencies in France. He was the president of the French national committee of the Young Men's Christian association.

THE DEAD AMBASSADOR

Funeral Services at the Runyon Residence.

Public Services To Be Conducted at the Episcopal Church in Berlin Thursday—Message of Condolence from Emperor and Empress—Mrs. Runyon Prostrated with Grief.

Berlin, Jan. 28.—The emperor and empress have sent their condolence to Mrs. Runyon. The room in which the body of the ambassador lies contains a large number of wreaths sent by friends. All receptions in the American colony have been postponed. The Rev. Mr. Dickie will officiate at the ser- vices that will be held at the Runyon residence this afternoon at which only members of the family will be present. At the services which will be held at the Episcopal church on Thursday the Rev. Mr. Dickie and the Rev. Mr. Fry will officiate. Mrs. Runyon is prostra- ted with grief and declines to see any one except the members of her family. Mr. Runyon seemed to have a present-iment that he would die suddenly. On Saturday he had a somewhat lengthy conversation with J. B. Jackson, the first secretary at the embassy, and told him that his private affairs had been arranged against his death. Last sum- mer Mr. Runyon had planned an ex- tended trip through Norway, but on the advice of his physician he aban- doned it, and instead, went to Carlsbad, where he took the cure. He subse- quently went to Axenstein, in Switzer- land, for the purpose of taking an after cure. Since that time he has main- tained great activity in the discharge of the duties of his office, which have been more than usually onerous on account of the complications in Euro- pean affairs which have more or less demanded the attention and care of the diplomatic representatives of all na- tions.

No Request for a War Vessel. Washington, Jan. 28.—It is said at the state department that no request has been made by Mrs. Runyon for a war vessel to convey the remains of her deceased husband to America. Should such a request be made and granted considerable time must elapse before it can be carried out. The three United States vessels attached to the European station are all in Turkish waters, and it would be several weeks before they could reach a German port for the purpose of receiving the ambassador's re- mains. One of the vessels of Admiral Bruce's squadron, now at Fort Monroe, Va., might be assigned to the duty, but this would cause great delay.

Action of New Jersey Legislature. Trenton, Jan. 28.—The senate last night adopted the following resolutions on the death of Ambassador Runyon: Whereas, Announcement has this day been made of the sudden demise of Gen. Theodore Runyon, United States ambassador to the court of Berlin, and whereas, Gen. Runyon, throughout the whole of his notable career has been identified with the best interests of his state and nation, therefore, Resolved, That in his death the state of New Jersey and the nation at large lose an upright citizen, a distinguished representative, a patriotic soldier, and, above and beyond all, an honorable, Christian gentleman. Resolved, That his careful regard to subserve the rights of the lowly as well as those of high estate have made his memory blessed to the hearts of all the people. Resolved, That this senate affirm its high esteem of the character of our departed friend and hereby or- ders that these resolutions be spread upon the record and that a copy be sent to the stricken family. The as- sembly also adopted suitable resolutions.

New York, Jan. 27.—Phillip Ripley, at one time possibly one of the most widely known newspaper men in this country, died shortly before midnight Saturday night at Bellevue hospital of Bright's disease. He was 69 years old, and was born in Hartford, Conn.

Lancaster, Pa., Jan. 27.—Another in- cendiary fire broke out last evening in the cellar of the furniture store of Kei- per & Ritzler, on North Queen street. The stock was badly damaged. The loss will reach $10,000; insured. The art store of Zeholtz & Bowman, adjoining, was also damaged.

Berlin, Jan. 27.—The Hon. Theodore Runyon, the American ambassador here, died of heart failure at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. While he had been complaining for some time as not feeling in the best of health, nothing was thought of the matter by either his family or himself.

New York, Jan. 27.—At a meeting of the municipal council of the Irish na- tional alliance held at Cody's hall last night resolutions were adopted pledg- ing the support of the alliance, both moral and material, to the movement in favor of the Irish prisoners, and promising assistance to their suffering families.

Washington, Jan. 24.—Daniel Wat- kins, a Cherokee Indian who was sent to the Kings county (Brooklyn, N. Y.) penitentiary in April, 1894, as a United States prisoner, to serve a four years' sentence for larceny at Fort Smith, Ark., has just been pardoned by the president. The pardon is an uncondi- tional one.

Erie, Pa., Jan. 27.—A sensation oc- curred yesterday afternoon at Girard, this county, when Mary H. Nellis was arrested for poisoning with intent to kill her husband, Peter H. Nellis, prop-rietor of the Nellis house, and Ed- ward Gardner was arrested as an ac- complice. The prisoners were brought here last night and lodged in jail.

London, Jan. 27.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent telegraphs con- firming the report that the German minister at Caracas has delivered to the Venezuelan government a note de- manding on behalf of German capital- ists and shareholders in the Venezue- lan Railway company payment for the construction of the railway.

New York, Jan. 25.—The suit brought by David Gideon, the racing man, against Philip J. Dwyer, president of the Brooklyn Jockey club, for $50,000 for slander, was concluded last night before a sheriff's jury. The jury were out ten minutes and returned with a verdict for the plaintiff, Mr. Gideon, for $15,000. An appeal will now be taken to the court of appeals.

Washington, Jan. 24.—The receipts from internal revenue for the past six months of the current fiscal year aggregate $76,897,522, a decrease as com- pared with the corresponding period of 1894-95 of $5,040,198. The principal decrease is in spirits of $6,667,709, owing to the increase of tax. Receipts from fermented liquors increased $1,190,533, and those from tobacco $768,364.

Oxford, Pa., Jan. 27.—Mrs. Mattie Porter, aged 80 years, was found dead with three bullets in her head late yesterday afternoon. The body was lying on a bed. The neck of her dress in which she hid money was cut off. Mrs. Porter had lived alone for years on a farm about five miles from Oxford. She had no faith in banks and carried large sums of money on her person.

London, Jan. 27.—The Times to-day publishes a dispatch from Pretoria, capital of the south African republic, saying that a meeting of Americans was held Saturday at which it was de- cided to cable to Secretary of State Olney requesting, in view of the arrest of American citizens and the fact that their property is in danger, that a diplomatic agent be sent to the Transvaal to protect their interests. The Americans are friendly towards the Transvaal government, but they desire that their grievance be re- dressed.

QUINN WON THE BOUT.

blows as best he could.

9. Johnson attempted to push the fight, but was met by Quinn, who com- pelled him to return to defensive tactics; blows on both sides very light.

10 to 13. Four rounds of clinching and cautious fighting; both fought close and thirteenth ended with another knock- down for Quinn.

14. More infighting, Johnson keeping close to the ropes; knocked through them as round closed.

15. Johnson became aggressive at the opening and fought his man hard; tried to play on the negro's neck, but hit too high.

16. Johnson continued same as in fif- teenth, and caught Quinn with an up- per cut that told; pretty sparring, fol- lowed by hard blows.

17. More clean fighting, with both men appearing in good condition; Johnson fought hard, but failed to follow his openings; Quinn played cautiously.

18. Somewhat in Quinn's favor; both fought close to ropes; Johnson went down as time was up.

19. Johnson opened by striking hard, followed by wrestling and clinching; Johnson fell back to the defense to avoid punishment.

20. The negro rushed savagely, and hurrican fighting was the order on both sides; heavy blows were given and returned; round ended in Quinn's favor.

21. Not quite so fierce as previous round; more science displayed, with both men watching for a chance to send in a knock-out.

22. Johnson rushed, trying several upper cuts, all fell short, and the re- turns made him wince. A half-minute of clean hitting ended the round.

23. Quinn looked desperate, followed Johnson to the ropes, smashing down the latter's guard, and hit harder than at the start; Johnson took the blows without a tremor.

24. Quinn tried hard to get in some hard ones, but Johnson kept up his guard well; he could not hold out against the repeated assaults and went down.

25. After the men shook hands Quinn stepped aside and led like a flash; this roused Johnson and he tried to return; lots of infighting and a break; both men ready to rush as time was called.

TIPS ABOUT PEOPLE.

A monument to the late Bishop Way- man (colored) will be erected in Bal- timore.

It is not generally known that the wife of Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador in Constantinople, is the lady known to the world as Violet Fane.

Capt. Thomas Morley, a survivor of the charge of the Light brigade, Libby prison and Ford's theater disaster, is living in Washington and is in good health.

Mrs. Mary Rochester (colored) died in Newcaste, Del., county almshouse a few days ago at the reputed age of 104 years. She had lived in that vicinity during most of her life.

Mrs. Samuel Craft, living near Me- gee's, Simson county, Miss., is just 47 years old, and has had 20 children, 14 of whom are living. This is considered something of a record in that section.

Sandow, the strong man, has a big brain as well as a big body. He is quite an ingenious fellow, and among his in- ventions are an improvement on the bicycle and a combination trunk and bathtub for travelers.

Dr. Thalburg, the physical director, and Miss Balentine, the gymnasium director, at Vassar college, have for- bidden the students there from engag- ing in long distance running matches. They say such contests are more likely to be hurtful than helpful.

Baring Gould, the novelist, lecturer and historian, is a keen antiquary. One who knows him writes that "he wal- lows in it. You should see him on Dart- moor with his shovels and wheelbar- rows, unearthing some forgotten domi- cle, and then you would see the real man. Give him an old church register, and he'll spin you yarns about it by the hour."

RINGS AND RING LORE.

Cromwell's signet ring bore his crest, a lion rampant. The finger ring was the earliest orna- ment adopted by man.

Every Roman freeman was entitled to wear an iron ring. Wedding rings were used in Egypt 3,000 years before Christ.

Augustus wore a ring charm to pro- tect him from thunderstorms. Betrothal rings came into use in Eu- rope as early as the ninth century. The ring of Childeric is still preserved in the Imperial museum in Paris.

After Hugh Capet every French king wore a ring as part of the royal regalia. Rings with bangles attached have been worn in India from the earliest times.
