Live Questions.

Professor Crunden's contribution, entitled "Seek the Truth," to which we will give place in Monday's issue, is the initial number of an extended series of articles which will appear in the Truburn from time to time throughout the present year. The general character of the entire series is fairly indicated by the above heading—"Live Questions"—by which is meant questions that are neither defunct nor stale; questions each one of which is today a living issue, an issue which now divides and which in the near future may absolutely convulse the American people. Live questions are those which are now unsettled, but which demand settlement at an early day, and in the proper settlement of which all men, of whatever party or section are vitally concerned.

Both the pro and the con of such questions will be laid before our readers, each one of whom, it is confidently expected, will thereby become better prepared to judge for himself in the matter. These several publications will be carried forward in a spirit of absolute fairness and impartiality. No effort will be made to give undue prominence to any proposed reform. On the contrary, no reasonable effort will be spared to lay before our readers the very best that can be said in favor of any proposed reform. To that end arrangements have already can be said in favor of any proposed reform.

To that end arrangements have already been perfected with many of the ablest writers of the present day, both in Canada and in the United States, to contribute to this series. If it is true, as we are told, that every man can be eloquent about matters which he perfectly understands, it may be fairly assumed that the reform leaders of the country can write both entertainingly and instructively, each on his own chosen topic. In his special line of investigation each contributor to "Live Questions" is a power in the land; hence their joint efforts cannot fail to interest the general mass of our leaders.

efforts cannot fail to interest the general mass of our leaders.

One the very best things to be said of a live question is that it has at least two sides, and we cannot expect to arrive at the truth without giving a candid hearing to both. That is precisely what we believe in. Let us have a frank, open, candid discussion of every live question that is touched upon at all. To that end this journal shall be a veritable "tribune of the people—and the whole people."

TEN THOUSAND sheep in one herd were driven across the plains from Bismarck to Forest City, S. D., recently, and 8,000 head traveled on in a bunch from that place 100 miles or so further. The sheep were bought in Montana a few at a time, and 150 miles of territory were traversed in the course of making the big herd. The sheep were destined for ranches in South Dakota.

Here is a notice clipped from the obituary column of a leading morning newspaper of New York: "Sullivan—Bridget Sullivan, the faithful servant for 21 years of Mrs. John H. Screen, No. 40 West 39th street, entered into rest peacefully on the evening of December 31, aged 60 years."

Duning the month of November 28 vessels loaded with corn left New Orleans for foreign ports. The shipments amounts to 1,607,539 bushels, and were the largest ever made from that city in a single month.

A NUMBER of converts walked over the shore ice, crunched through the thin ice, and waded out into the icy sea at Orr's Island, Mc., to be baptized a few days ago. Even in the middle of summer the sea in that region is so cold that few people bathe in it.

A "society note" in a Spartansburg (Pa.) newspaper tells of a girl of that town who recently split a cord of wood in less than an hour. The information is added that she does not split wood for a living, either. There's the right kind of a girl for a poor man to tie to.

ILLINOIS makes the claim that in three years she will be the largest pple producing state on the continent. Orchards containing from 10,000 to 15,000 trees have been planted in the southern part of the state, and are said to be coming on in fine shape.

COAL of excellent quality, and of ap-parently enormous quantities, has just been discovered in Arizona, in the Dos Cobeas district, only six miles from the validation.

It is calculated that 1,504 political conventions will be held in Kansas next year to nominate all the candidates for various offices.

Illy Chosen, But Not of Sufficient Gravity To Call Forth Ac-tion by the House.

Gravity To Call Forth Action by the House.

Washington, Feb. 4.—A mong Ambassador Bayard's friends in this city the report from London that the ambassador had intimated his intention of resigning should the resolutions of censure be adopted by the house is ridiculed. Said one prominent democrat and aman in close touch with the administration, "the story is simply absurd. Mr. Bayard knows full well that the whole matter is a party attack." While many democrats believe that Mr. Bayard's utterances were illy chosen, and, in fact, it is understood that the president is of the same opinion, yet the whole matter is considered too trivial for any action on the part of the house. There are a few democrats, however, who, knowing Mr. Bayard's extreme sensitiveness to criticism, believe that it would be just like him to resign. Although the report of the committee will not be taken up till next week, its nature has been accurately foreshadowed in these dispatches. The resolutions call Mr. Bayard by name and assert that his course has been censurable. They, moreover, lay down some general propositions on the duty of ambassadors concerning their relation to the domestic and political affairs of the country they represent. It is asserted that the resolutions, despite the rumored resignation, will pass by nearly a full party vote, and had they is asserted that the resolutions, despite the rumored resignation, will pass by nearly a full party vote, and had they been drawn a little more mildly would have received some democratic sup-

Sympathy for Bayard Abroad.

London, Feb. 4.—In its comments on the subject, the Morning Postto-day displays sympathy with Mr. Bayard. It contends that according to the view of the republican majority the business of an ambassador in Europe is to declare that the American people are the highest product of civilization, and to dare anybody else to dispute this opinion at that the American people are the highest product of civilization, and to dare anybody else to dispute this opinion at their peril. It adds that the affair is apparently another illustration of the humors of a presidential election. The Standard says that there is a painful want of dignity in the manner in which Mr. Bayard's official critics display their resentment. The resolution, the dispatches to the embassy and the ourtness with which Mr. Bayard is taken to task, exhibit the harsher side of public life in America in an unpleasing light.
The paper expresses aympathy with the ambassador and says it hopes that if he retires America will share the regret that this country will feel.

The Boating Managers Criticized for Not Consulting the Students.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 4.—An undergraduate in a letter to the Yale News protests against the action of a few boating managers in assuming to send a crew to Henley without the consent of the university, criticizes their secret deliberations and declares that the proposed 'crew will not be a Yale crew, for Yale as a whole does not send it." The News, referring to this letter, says that the boating managers have not definitely decided the matter and have merely written to England for information. It suggests that when the information is received the matter of sending a crew be left to a university meeting.

New York, Feb. 4.—The liabilities of the Weber Piano company, which was the first of the piano trade which failed yesterday, are almost $275,000, with nominal assets. The Stuyvesant Piano company owes about $40,000 and has assets of about $25,000. No statement is made as to the money affairs of the piano manufacturing firm of William E. Wheelock & Co., which went down in the crash with the others, with whom it had close business relations. Large losses during the past year by the first named firm is given as the reason for the failures.

more normal. Most geniuses are of the male sex. Woman is naturally conservative, while man explores new fields.

In perception woman is decidedly quicker than man. She grasps a written paragraph in much less time than does he. Her perception of details however, is less accurate than is man's. Among all civilized races woman is both shorter and lighter than man. Her form is more rounded and graceful, less bony and angular, having relatively less fat and more muscle.

Woman's head is carried less upright than man's. The greater length of the first finger as compared to the third is a feminine peculiarity. The vocal cords in woman are shorter and the voice higher and shriller.

In respect to memory woman are superior. In slow, logical reasoning they are deficient. The arts, science and philosophy owe their advancement more to men than to women. What woman loses in profundity she gains in quickness. In languages she is more apt than man.

Differences in habits of thought be tween the two sexes is shown by the fact that if 50 men and 50 women were required to write 100 words as rapidly as possible without time for thought, in the woman's list will be found more words relating to the concrete than the abstract, the whole rather than the general.

Has Been Recalled.

London, Feb. 4.—A dispatch to the Central News from Lisbon says that R. de Andrade, governor-general of Goa, the Portuguese colony in India, has been recalled by the government. Goa has been the seene of a revolt against the Portuguese authorities and a number of the troops there joined the rebels. It has been discovered that the telegrams sent to Lisbon by de Andrade telling of bloody combats with, and victories over, the rebels were apocryphal. In his dispatch he mentioned officers who were worthy of distinction for the valor displayed by them in face of the enemy. These officers, it transpires, are personal riends of the governor-general, and it has been further proved that neither they nor the troops have ever met the rebels. De Andrade increased his own salary from six to ten contos of reis, and permitted his adherents to plunder and murder people in the colony. It is likely that he will be severely punished.

Prominent New Yorkers Join in the Protest Against Ballington Booth's Recall.

New York, Feb. 4.—The meeting last night to protest against the removal of Commander and Mrs. Ballington Booth from the leadership of the Salvation Army in this country filled the main floor of Carnegie music hall comfortably full of the friends of the deposed leaders. Chauncey M. Depeny presided and ministers of almost every denomination were present. Mayor Strong sat by the right of the chairman and made an address, as did also Bishop Andrews, Rev. Dr. Strong, William E. Dodge and Rev. Dr. Bradford. Mr. Depew began his address by reading a telegram from Bramwell Booth, "chief of staft," to the effect that General Booth was now in India, but that the recalling of his son was intended as no discourtesy. With this little preluide the speaker went on to say that that was all very well, but New Yorkers had a way of doing things and saying things without much regard to what London thought about it. This was not done, he said, in any bragging spirit, but in the interest of letting the kindred across the sea know that the infant hero had many views of its own. Resolutions were then introduced and adopted urging, if consistent with the best intorests of the whole world. "That Commander and Mrs. Booth be sallowed to remain in the positions in which they have been so abundantly blessed by God, in which they have won the honor, gratitude and love of the American people, and have led on with inspiring zeal all the members of the American people, and have led on the American people and there are well as the provent of the Strellers of the whole world.

About 100 girls were carried away, but all but ten or fifteen were allowed to return. The loss by the looting of the shops is estimated at $550,000."

He Feared Poverty

New York, Feb. 4.—Although he had succeeded in dispelling from the minds of his family the idea that he had had business reverses recently, there is now no doubt that the act of ex-Police Commissioner Stephen B. French in committing suicide yesterday was caused by his knowledge of the fact that he was practically ruined financially and by his fear of passing his remaining days in poverty and dependent upon his relatives and friends. He was very well known as a politician in this city and state.

SWEETHEARTS ALWAYS

If sweethearts were sweethearts always, Whether as maid or wife, No drop would be half as pleasant In the mingled draught of life.

But the sweetheart has smiles and blus When the wife has frowns and sighs, And the wife's have a wrathful glitter For the glow of the sweetheart's eyes.

If lovers were lovers always,
The same to sweetheart and wife,
Who would change for a future of Ede
The joys of this checkered life? But husbands grow grave and silent, And care on the anxious brow Oft replaces the sunshine that perished With the words of the marriage vow.

Who has plucked the rose to find ever Its beauty and fragrance increase, As flush of passion is mellowed In love's unmeasured peace.

Who sees in the step a lightness; Who finds in the form a grace; Who reads an unaltered brightness In the witchery of the face, Undimmed and unchanged. Ah, happy Is he crowned with such a life! Who drinks the wife pledging the sweetheart, And toasts in the sweetheart the wife!

DE ANDRADE A FRAUD The Governor General Deceived His Government. PERMITTED PLUNDED AND MUDDED Friends.

FREELAND TRIBUNE.

Commencing with Monday, February 10, 1896, and continuing through the year, the TRIBUNE proposes to publish a series of able articles upon subjects of vital and general interest to our readers. Eminent thinkers and writers of national reputation on Social, subjects of vital and general interest to our readers. Eminent thinkers and writers of national reputation on Social, Economic and Industrial Problems have promised contributions upon topics of universal interest. The list of authors, and the comprehensive group of "Live Questions" that will be treated by them, can be seen on this page, and will, we confidently believe, merit the hearty interest of readers who are already interested in these themes, and are anxious to receive the most rational opinions obtainable.

All articles will be prepared in an inquiring and scientific spirit, and will be non-sectional and non-partisan. Vigor and simplicity of statement will be aimed at, and all phases of reform thought will be fairly and impartially presented. Upon subjects about which there is a variety of candid opinions, all sides will receive an equal opportunity to be heard, that the truth may, if possible, be arrived at.

This is the first co-operative attempt upon the part of able writers to thoroughly discuss all the interesting phases of social and industrial life for the masses who would be the beneficiaries of substantial reforms, and the arrangements made by the Tribune give us the sole privilege of publishing the articles in this town. They can be read in no other Freeland paper, and those of our readers who are not subscribers should have their names placed on the list without delay.
