SINCERE AND FINAL EXPRESSION

ppen Letter to Hon. John K. G Given Out by the ex-President at Indianapolis Late E. Last Night.

Given Out by the ex-President at Indianapolis, Feb. 4.—Capt. John K. Gowdy, chairman of the republican state central committee, called last night by invitation at the residence of Gen. Harrison, when the ex-president handed him the following letter ad-dressed to the Hon. John K. Gowdy: "In view of the resolutions passed by the state general committee at its recent meeting and of the fact that delegates to the Hon. John K. Gowdy: "In view of the resolutions passed by the state general committee at its recent meeting and of the fact that delegates to the national republican convention are soon to be chosen in this state, I have concluded that some statement from me as to my wishes and purposes should now be made to my Indiana friends. Hitherto. I have declined to speak to the public upon this matter, but scores of friends to whom I have talked and many scores more to whom I have written will recog-nize in this expression the substance of what I have said to them. To every nomination I have said 'No; there never has been an hour since I left the White House that I have felt a wish to return to it.' My Indiana friends have been most devoted and faithful, and I am their grateful debt-or. The republican party has twice in national convention given me endorse-ment, and that is enough. I think the have been shown me in many ways, I am profoundly appreciative. I cannot consent that my name be presented or owned in the St. Louis convention, and my thidly ask my friends to accept this as aincere and final expression upon the subject. "BENAMIN HARRISON." SHOULD WORK IN HARMONY. Balfour says England and the United States Could Accomplish Great Things. London, Feb, 4.—The Rt. Hon. Ar-thur J. Balfour, first lord of the treas-ury, delivered a speech at Bristol last night. He announced that the gov-ernment would introduce a bill in the house of commons to increase the aid given to sectarian schools. He made an incidental allusion to Great Britain's foreign relations and said he feit that England and the United States should work together, each In its own sphere, to promote and extend the Anglo-Saxon ideas of liberty. If, he declared, Great Britain was in alliance with the United States she could fulfil the duties Provi-dence had entrusted to her and need not fear a foreign fee or internal divis-ions.

It adds that Mr. Bayard is ex-ceedingly popular hers, yet he is a per-nistent defender of American in acrests. The paper admits that his speeches contained unusual attacks upon the commercial system of his own govern-ment, but says that it hopes he will not censure was adopted by a purely party vote. that position. What the verdict will be in 1896 remains to be learned. In the South ward the result of the election is already a foregone conclusion. James F. Sweeney, the candidate for school director, is so well known to the voters that no active campaign is neces-sary. The value of such a progressive young man on the board cannot be esti-mated. He is possessed of a keen fore-sight, believes in advancing education to its utmost limits and can be depended upon to take an active interest in school matters. With Mr. Sweeney on the board there will be no intimations of jobbery or crookedness in proposed con-tracts. His colleagues on the ticket, the candidates for conneilmen, Patrick Meehan and John Shigo, are also known so well and have already won the respect of their acquaintances that little need be said of them. Both are large owners of property, not the kind who get into their shells and never appear unless it to to fit own upon contemplated improve-ments, but men who take pride in the town they helped to make and who are desirous to see it go higher. It is such men who are needed on the Freeland council for the next few years, and the voters of the South ward will show that they know their business by electing them with majorities such as the party is capable of giving there.
