

RETAINS HIS NERVE

Holmes Laughingly Hears His Death Warrant Read.

COOLEST MAN IN THE WHOLE PARTY

A Remarkable Exhibition of Sang-Froid. Joked with the Sheriff—Says He Is Willing To Die—Pretensions Taken Against Suicide.

Philadelphia, March 10.—That the remarkable nerve which has upheld the murderer, Holmes, ever since his arrest for the murder of Benjamin F. Pictel has not yet deserted him was well evidenced yesterday when the death warrant was read to him by Sheriff Clement. He was the coolest man in the party and gave a remarkable exhibition of sang-froid. He was as suave, cheerful and affable as usual. When the sheriff and his party reached the prison they were met by Deputy Anderson and the party was conducted to Holmes' cell. He had been reading and when he arose to greet his visitors he tossed the book upon his cot and smiled a welcome. Lawyer Roton introduced the sheriff and the others, and then, without further ado, Sheriff Clement drew the death warrant from his pocket and proceeded to read it. The spot in the cell where the sheriff stood was not adapted to reading owing to a lack of light. Holmes observed the sheriff's dilemma and remarked in a cheerful tone, "step over to the window, Mr. Sheriff, you will find more light there." Throughout the reading Holmes maintained an affable manner. At the conclusion, Sheriff Clement, who was visibly affected, turned to the condemned man and extending his hand offered his sympathy and implored him to make his peace with God. Holmes thanked the sheriff and expressed himself as willing to die. There was another round of handshaking and the deputy left the cell. As the sheriff was passing out he omitted to bow his head to clear the upper part of the low entrance to the cell. Holmes observed that the house official's hat was in danger of collision with the door and called out: "Be careful, sheriff, or you will bump your head." This caused a ripple of laughter. As the sheriff was moving down the corridor Holmes called after him: "You can, of course, find me here when you want me." Assistant Superintendent Richardson will probably not remove Holmes from his present cell for a week, but the prisoner will be more closely guarded. It is usual to set the regular death watch about a week previous to the day of execution. When that shall be done the condemned man will be taken to a better lighted cell after first being submitted to a change of clothing to prevent his having in his possession anything that would permit suicide. Lawyer Roton had a long conversation with Holmes after the warrant had been read, the subject of which Mr. Roton refused to make known.

Speaker Fish of the assembly said this morning that the bill will be made a party measure in the lower house and that a caucus of the republican assemblymen will be held as soon as the bill is received from the senate. The greater New York bill, it is expected, will pass the senate this afternoon.

IN THE EVENT OF WAR.

Collecting Information from the Various States for the Naval College.

Washington, March 6.—With a view of obtaining information for the use of the naval war college in working out its strategic problems, and, incidentally, for reference in case of war, Assistant Secretary McAdoo of the navy department has sent a circular letter to the adjutant-generals of those states having naval organizations requesting information as to the depth of water, location of rivers and creeks, railway and telegraph lines, fortifications, capability of locating batteries, location of good camping grounds and all other facts with regard to certain localities in which the naval militia will operate. A blank information form for signal and boat reconnaissance parties has been prepared and will be sent to the various naval militia organizations to be filled out. Copies of these will be kept by the adjutant-general of the state, the navy department and the war college, and much excellent practical benefit is expected to be derived.

A motion was made to send the crew to Henley and it passed by a vote of 463 to 16. No speeches were made and there was no reference to the method of meeting the expenses.

BISMARCK DISAPPOINTED.

His New Grandchild a Girl Instead of a Male Heir.

Berlin, March 6.—Countess Bismarck, wife of Count Herbert Bismarck, has given birth to a daughter, Prince Bismarck is keenly disappointed because the infant is not a boy. Countess Marguerite Bismarck was formerly Countess Hoyos. She was married to Count Herbert at Vienna in June, 1892, and in November, 1893, gave birth to a daughter who was named Jeanne. Count William Bismarck, the prince's second son, has three daughters. This accounts for the prince's disappointment, for as yet there is no male of the third generation to inherit the Bismarck name and properties.

Reported That He Will Go to Cuba To Make an Investigation for the President.

Washington, March 7.—Major-General Wesley Merritt, commanding the military department of Missouri, is in Washington, and his presence here is the basis for gossip that he is to be sent to Cuba to investigate the condition of affairs there with a view to enabling the president to determine whether the insurgents are entitled to recognition as belligerents. BROCKVILLE MOURNS

Yesterday's Tragedy Causes a Suspension of Business.

THE INSANE MURDERER IN PRISON

One Man Dead, Two Mortally Wounded and Several Others Seriously Injured, the Maniac's Work. He Himself Is Dying.

Brockville, Ont., March 10.—Brockville is still in an intense state of excitement over the tragic events of yesterday. Never in its history has the town been so convulsed. The fearful crime of yesterday will be stamped upon the minds of all while life lasts. It was one of the most awful tragedies ever enacted in the Dominion of Canada. The total result of the tragic affair was one man shot dead on the spot, the chief of police mortally wounded, another member of the force seriously wounded, an Indian hurt and six others suffering more or less from wounds inflicted by a single man armed with a breech-loading shotgun. And the cause of all the terrible destruction and suffering is himself lying at the point of death from wounds inflicted by shots fired at him in order to put a stop to his awful work and effect his capture.

THE EXCITEMENT INTENSE.

The town clock had just struck the noon hour and the streets were thronged with people on their way to dinner. Suddenly the sharp crack of a gun was heard in the western end of the town, followed by other reports in quick succession. Soon the news spread that several persons had been shot and the excitement became intense. The cause of all the trouble was a man named Lapont, who resides about six miles north of the town on what is known as the Perth road. He has usually been looked upon as of not very sound mind, but generally inoffensive.

CHIEF OF POLICE ROSE SHOT.

Just about noon he made his appearance on the Perth road, walking in the direction of King street, the principal thoroughfare of the town. As he neared King street he suddenly threw his head back and gave vent to several loud yells such as fox-hunters often use in calling their dogs and at the same time fired a couple of shots in the air. When he had got within about twenty yards of the corner of King and Perth streets he took up his position alongside a high bill board on the west side of Perth street. Just at this time Chief of Police Rose happened to come up to the opposite corner, and Lapont, taking deliberate aim, fired, the charge of heavy buckshot lodging in the chief's chest, throat and head. In falling to the ground, Rose pushed an old man named Moore forward past the corner of the building. Lapont fired again and Moore fell dead. An old Indian named Dixon, who was close by, received a portion of the charge in his face and head.

THE MURDERER WOUNDED.

As soon as the crowd collected their senses plans were set on foot to capture the murderer. The latter still stood where he had first stationed himself, and at each discharge of his gun could be seen calmly taking loaded cartridges from his pocket and reloading. Constable Tinsley took up a position behind a weigh scale and began firing at Lapont with a revolver, but the range was too long and the shots proved ineffective. Lapont continued firing as fast as he could reload and several persons were more or less injured. Finally Tinsley secured possession of a shot gun and crossed to a grocery store, entering by a side door. In order to get at Lapont Tinsley stepped out to the sidewalk and just as he raised his gun, Lapont fired and the constable had to retreat covered with blood. In the meantime other persons armed with guns and revolvers had got to the upper windows of adjacent buildings and fired at Lapont. All at once Lapont was seen to drop his gun and fall to the ground. One of the shots had struck him in the abdomen and another in the leg. The angry mob made a rush for him the moment he fell, and seizing him, dragged him to the centre of the road, crying "shoot him!" "lynch him!" By the efforts of the more cool-headed, the mob was prevented from carrying the threat into execution. He was taken to the lock-up.

BUSINESS PRACTICALLY SUSPENDED.

When quiet had been somewhat restored, the scene that was presented was agonizing in the extreme. The body of old man Moore lay on the sidewalk cold in death. In a store adjoining Chief of Police Rose lay suffering terribly from his wounds. The old Indian lay on the sidewalk covered with blood. Constable Tinsley and several others were also badly wounded and covered with blood. To-day the town is in mourning, and business is practically suspended.

FELL HEADLONG DOWN A SHAFT.

New York, March 10.—Last night Ira Kane, the elevator conductor in the envelope factory of Berlia & Jones, fell down the elevator shaft from the fourth floor to the basement, and was so badly injured that he died within an hour. It is thought that he left the elevator for a moment and when he returned, not noticing the car had ascended, fell headlong down the shaft.

CHARGED WITH MURDEROUS ASSAULT.

Pembroke, Mass., March 10.—Joseph Trow, who says he belongs in Fall River, was arrested here by request of the chief of police of Oswego, N. Y., for a murderous assault committed in that city last October. He started for Oswego last evening.

H. W. PEABODY'S PLAN.

His Ideas of Money Presented to the Committee on Banking and Currency.

Washington, March 10.—H. W. Peabody of Boston yesterday addressed the house committee on banking and currency regarding existing conditions of the currency. First he would propose the redemption fund by a complete separation from the general treasury cash and provide that the re-issue of notes redeemed with gold should be only in exchange for gold. He would have gold certificates discontinued when there were any notes in the redemption fund. He would retire the treasury notes by a low rate bond to be sold for legal tender money for the purpose of enabling banks to replace the retired notes, by issue of national bank notes according to the needs of business. National banks should be relieved of tax on circulation and allowed to issue notes up to the par value of government bonds. These reforms, he thought, would render the present system safe and sound and the retirement of part or all of the greenbacks could be undertaken at a future time.

VALENCIA QUIET TO-DAY.

Demonstrations Against the United States Resumed at Bilbao.

Madrid, March 10.—Quiet prevails in the city of Valencia to-day. More arrests were made of persons who took part in Sunday's riotous demonstrations against the United States were resumed. A large crowd of rioters proceeded to the American consulate and stoned the gendarmes who were guarding the building. Nine of the guards were quite severely injured. Reinforcements were hurriedly dispatched to the consulate and upon their arrival a charge was made upon the mob, which was quickly dispersed. A score of the rioters were wounded by the gendarmes and six were arrested. The Herald says that the Hon. Hannis Taylor, the American minister, is about to send his family away from Madrid.

Slater owner, arrived in this harbor last evening from a trip around the world, having been absent since Oct. 27, 1894, in which time she traversed 42,406 nautical miles, and did it almost without mishap, only trifling delays having been experienced during the entire voyage. During the trip the yacht visited Fayal, the Azores, Marseilles, Cannes, Leghorn, Naples, Messina, Port Said, Ismailia, Suez, Parem, Aden, Bombay, Colombo, Trinkemaile, Penang, Singapore, Borneo, Manila, Hong Kong, Amoy, Nagasaki, Yokohama, Honolulu, San Francisco and California ports and British Columbia.

Schoren was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment at hard labor, Pfeiffer was sentenced to two years' and Ringbauer to one year's imprisonment.

THE ABYSSINIAN CAMPAIGN.

Italy's New Cabinet Will Probably Prosecute the War.

Rome, March 10.—It now seems probable that the new Italian cabinet will prosecute the war in Abyssinia, Premier di Rudini having, it is said, renounced his own views, favoring the withdrawal of the Italian troops, upon accepting his portfolio. It is said that the Abyssinian losses at the battle of Adowa were enormous, but it is possible that this report has been spread to appease the populace.

FOUR FORTS TAKEN

Cuban Insurgents Victorious in Several Engagements.

FOREIGN SUGAR PLANTERS PROTEST

The Order Compelling Them To Abandon Their Estates Received with Dissatisfaction—Patriots Obtain Supplies of Ammunition and Arms.

Santiago de Cuba, Feb. 29, via Tampa, Fla., March 10.—On the 25th inst. the rebel forces under command of Gen. Matias attacked the town of Sagua de Tanamo, seizing, after a three hours' fight, one of the forts which defended the place. The rebels entered the fort and seized the arms, ammunition and provisions, afterward burning the fort and several houses. The rebels had two killed and nine wounded. A rebel force of 100 men under Capt. Dominguez, appeared yesterday in Moron. They burned the two forts of the place and took with them all the arms, ammunition and provisions they found there. There was no Spanish garrison in Moron, as the Spanish troops had left the day before in compliance with the general order of the military governor of the province of Santiago to abandon all the small villages. This order has been harmful to the government, as all the men of those small places have joined the insurgents. The foreign planters have presented a joint protest to their consuls against the order compelling them to abandon their plantations. On the 23rd inst. the rebel forces of Brig.-Gen. Periquito Lorez had an engagement in Ramon de las Saguas with the Spanish column under Col. Recas. The Spaniards retreated, losing eight soldiers killed and twenty wounded. Two mules laden with ammunition were captured by the rebels. The rebels had one killed and seven wounded, among the latter Capt. Vega, who fell into the hands of the troops, and subsequently died from the effects of his wounds.

FORT BLOWN UP WITH DYNAMITE.

Insurgent leaders Salvador Rios and Puyals, with their party, had an encounter with the Spanish column of Lieutenant-Colonel Escudero, 700 strong, on the 24th, in Monte Oscure, Bayamo. The Spanish column retired to Bayamo after half an hour's firing, leaving three soldiers prisoners with the rebels, three killed and eighteen wounded. The insurgents had nine wounded. Day before yesterday a party of rebels compelled the garrison of Fort Escondido, near Caimanera, Guantanamo, to surrender. The insurgents blew up the fort with dynamite bombs. The garrison was composed of one officer and forty soldiers. On the 24th inst. the Spanish Gen. Gonzalez Munoz, with 1,200 men, infantry, cavalry and artillery, had an encounter in La Herradura and Sal, near Manzanillo, with the rebel forces of Mendigita, Vera and Estrada, 2,000 in number. After very hard fighting the Spaniards retreated, leaving in the field twenty-five killed and eighty wounded. Among the former was Lieut.-Col. Lolo Benitez, of the Spanish guerrillas, whose body was taken to Vequita and buried there. Among the latter was Lieut.-Col. Tejarizo, who was very seriously wounded. The sugar estates San Luis and Santa Anna have stopped grinding, all the employes having joined the rebels.

WEYER MODIFIES HIS PROCLAMATION.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

Havana, March 7, via Tampa, Fla., March 10.—Arrests of civilians under the sweeping provisions of Gen. Weyer's proclamation of February 16, have been made at such a rate and in many cases with so little evidence of guilt that Gen. Weyer was compelled a week ago to issue instructions to his officers to be more careful, as he required more proof than verbal denunciation. Yesterday he issued a circular in which he stated that absolute proof must be furnished by other than interested parties before accused persons will be deported and warning commanders that they will be held responsible for false answers. Without doubt Gen. Weyer has in view the effect of this order abroad, as well as here, for the manner in which Cubans, who have never borne arms against Spain, have been dragged from their homes, from their families, their stores or their farms and thrown into prisons with felons, and after a few days of delay, placed on board ship for what is probably the vilest penal colony on the face of the earth, has become a shame that cries aloud for redress. Gen. Weyer, upon his arrival, set at liberty a number of these civilian prisoners, whom Gen. Pando had taken from their daily occupation in the eastern end of the island, but hundreds have been sent to Ceuta, Africa, and to the Isle of Pines, and the arrests are increasing in number.

A PITIFUL PICTURE.

The wreck and ruin which is being visited upon this fair island is pitiful to contemplate. But for the warmth of the climate and the ease with which life is sustained in the tropics, thousands would have perished ere this and the island would be a charnel house before the end is reached. People have lived by sucking sugar cane and eating plantains. Families have camped for days upon the ruins of their homes in burned districts, sleeping upon the ground nights and crawling under a thatch during the heat of the sun.
