FREELAND, PA., MARCH 20, 1896.

A LEWISTON (Me.) man was clearing out a closet in his house the other day and found several old books which he thought no good and put into the ash barrel. One of them was "The Remarks of a Young Man from Oxford," by "Anon." and printed in London in 1745. Later in the day he picked up a paper in a barber shop and read the account of an old book sale in New York. One of the rare books was "The Remarks of a Young Man from Oxford, 1745." The man rushed home, pulled the book out of the barrel and sent it to New York. A few days later he received a check, for $30.

FOREST fires cost Pennsylvania last year $1,000,000. But this is a small item compared with the $1,200,000,000 which the state forestry commission says has been lost in 40 years by the burning of young saplings in Pennsylvania. There are other losses connected with the wasteful destruction of forests, but these are enough to point the moral.

AN enthusiastic horticulturist, when he heard of the massacre of English missionaries in China, wrote in his farm journal: "While we deplore bloodshed, it must be confessed that the English and American missionaries are a selfish lot, lacking in patriotism. They never have sent a seed of the famous melons of Asia back to their own country."

SIXTY-TWO years ago a young German couple became engaged. The girl emigrated to America shortly after. The man lost sight of his old flame until recently, when he, too, crossed the ocean, found her and married her. He is 82 and she is 80. It is a case of Phileas and Baucis without the guardian angel.

LEAP YEAR clubs are forming in many parts of the country. The general idea of the clubs is to give private social parties at which the girls take the part usually taken by men. They invite the young men, call for them and escort them to and from the place where the function is held, and, it is alleged, foot the bills.

The ray is now the thing. Prof. Roentgen has jumped into the forefront of conspicuity at a bound. His cathode system has already astounded the scientific world and is the marvel of reading and thinking people of every land. Great developments in the new system of photography are looked for.

It is said that one sure way to attain long life in Massachusetts is to join the Historic-Genological society of Boston. The society itself is 103 years old, and every member of it who has achieved any distinction in life has likewise been noted for the green old age to which he lived.

TO BLOOMER not to bloom? is the all-absorbing question which with the approaching spring keeps the wheels in the feminine bicycle crank's eranium merrily buzzing. It is quite safe to predict, however, that the bifurcated bags will be very largely in evidence the coming season.

AN Atlanta judge sent a man to jail, under a heavy fine for beating his wife. The wife proceeded at once to pawn her jewels to get her husband out of jail, and began abusing the judge. Another exemplification of the predominance of woman's heart over her brain.

TOBoggAN FOR HORSES.

They Get a Free Ride Down Hill Every Day and Like the Fun.
Here is a street car for the accommodation of horses which is the very latest thing in the west. Such a car is now in operation in Denver, and it is pronounced a great success by all able to give an opinion on the subject. The horses themselves are dumb, but if their judgment could be had it would no doubt be favorable.

By the introduction of cable and electric motive power, the bicycle and the automatic carriage, man has done much of late to relieve the afflictions of the equine race. But this latest move, that of taking the horse up off the ground and placing him on board a car so that he may have a ride just like the other passengers is a radical departure indeed.

It must be confessed, however, that these free rides are given in a spirit of thrift. The managers of the road find that by this means they save wear and tear on the horses' hoofs, and that they are thus able to remain in the service longer. The plan is a very simple one, and like all other simple things that are new it makes you want to know why it was never thought of before.

The riding car for the horses consists of a platform mounted on small wheels protected at the sides by a sufficiently high railing, while the front and rear are provided with gates. These permit the horse to get on and off the car without backing.

When the regular passenger car has been drawn to the top of the long ascent, the "horse car" is hooked to the forward end, the horses are driven aboard, and by a few deft turns of the brake, the descent is made safely.

At first the horses showed some hesitation about embarking on what appeared to be a perilous adventure. But they soon became accustomed to it, and are said to even enjoy the experience, expressing their pleasure by broad smiles and prolonged whinnies.

There is no reason why this plan should not be adopted with profit elsewhere. There are many car lines which run for almost their entire length on more or less steep inclines. The additional force required to be exerted in drawing a car up hill is turned into a propelling force when the car begins the descent. This force might well be employed in giving the horses a ride, and thus saving wear and tear on their feet.

It might be supposed that the additional pull imparted to this human passenger car, when on the down grade, might cause the brake to slip, but this is not the case. It is only necessary to make the brake a little more powerful than that on the ordinary street car.

Having arrived at the foot of the incline, the gate of the horse passenger car is unfastened, and the animals once more take their places in the traces, drawing both cars behind them up the hill. The entire load is not much heavier than a single car on a level street, as the car in which the horses ride is very light.—N. Y. World.

DRAWING THE LINE.

How Aunt Jane Did Not Meddle with Other Folks' Affairs.

The most inquisitive persons often affect indifference regarding the affairs of others, and flatter themselves that they are keeping their curiosity well in hand at the very time that they are giving full rein to it. Aunt Jane wasper belonged to this class. It was her boast that she had "all she could do" to tend to her own business, without meddling with the affairs of other folks, and that she "never bothered her head about things that did not concern her."

She was one day telling about a conversation she had "struck up" with a woman sitting beside her on a street car.

"She was a real nice-looking woman," said Aunt Jane, "and I thought we might as well be talkin' together as settin' there mum and gium; so I spoke to her, and she answered back real pleasant, and we talked for three miles."

"I asked her name and where she lived, and if she was married and what her husband did, and how many children she had; and I found out about a family trouble that was worrying her a good deal."

"She was trying to break her mother's will, and she wasn't on speaking terms with her own brothers and sisters, and her husband and her didn't get along very well together."

"She had on a beautiful diamond ring that she told me cost $200, and she'd an elegant black silk that cost three dollars a yard, for I asked her the price of it."

"Did you ask her where she had it made?" asked Aunt Jane's listener, whereupon the old lady bridled visibly, and said, sharply:

"Why, of course I didn't! Did you s'pose I'd be that inquisitive?"—Youth's Companion.

WRITE JUVENILE STORIES.

J. T. Towbridge has 30 or 40 books to his credit. He writes for grown-ups, too, and is also a poet. He writes only when he is in the mood, not believing in forcing himself. He is nearly 70 years old.

Nora Perry does most of her writing in the morning. She rises early and works till noon, when she goes out. If she feels like it she will work an hour or two more in the afternoon, but never in the evening unless she is especially hurried.

Susan Coolidge has written very little, comparatively speaking, but is well known among juvenile readers. Her real name is Sarah Chauncey Woolsey. She is about 50 years old and has a sweet face. She lives in Newport and writes only in the morning.

Oliver Optic, whose name is William T. Adams, is past 73, but he still goes on writing. He has written more than 100 books and more than 1,000 stories for various papers. He took his queer name from the name of a character in a play which was running at the time his first poem was printed.

Edward S. Ellis began life as a teacher and used to tell his scholars stories Friday afternoons. The popularity of these tales caused him to write them out and so he started on his career of author for the young. He does all his work on a typewriter which is placed on an elevation, as he stands to do his writing. He makes brief memoranda of the characters and incidents of his stories and then clicks off the story itself in two or three weeks.

DREAM LORE.

To dream of a hen and chickens means that your sweetheart will desert you and marry another.

Walking in the street in a dream signifies that some one is waiting a chance to do you injury.

To dream of a ditch indicates that you will soon be placed in imminent dangers either of life or limb.

To dream of eating soup means that you will readily recover from any illness which may befall you.

A dream of being clothed in silk denotes ultimate wealth for yourself and happiness for your family.

To dream that you are flea-bitten indicates that your enemies will cause you great annoyance.

For a married man to dream of wearing old clothes means that his wife will soon have a new dress.

To dream that you are attending church means that you will have a lawsuit ending to your advantage.

A dream about the devil means that you will have many dangers, but that you will overcome them all.

ALL SORTS.

A grocer in Chaplin, Ky., recently found a diamond worth $70 in a barrel of sugar.

The oldest school-teacher in Connecticut is said to be Horace Sturges of Westport, who celebrated his 94th birthday recently.

In Murray, Ky., a farmer arranged with an auctioneer to sell a mule at auction. The mule brought one dollar, and the farmer paid 50 cents auctioneer's fees.

Vermont has made a new move in the attempt to enforce prohibition. Persons who rent places where liquor is sold are to be fined as well as those who actually sell the contraband.

The largest dog in Connecticut is said to be St. Bernard, owned in Mystic. It is 22 months old, and stands 35 inches high, is 6 feet 10 inches long, and weighs 170 pounds.

PEOPLE OVER THE SEAS.

Queen Victoria owns $2,000,000 worth of china. A Sevres set is estimated at $500,000.

Dean Hole says that the only case of discourtesy toward him by reporters with whom he came in contact while he was in this country occurred in Boston.

Miss Jennie Young, of Scotland, has been in Mexico for some time arranging for the purchase of land for a large Scotch colony which she intends to bring over soon.

Rossini was born on February 29 (or "leap-day"), 1792, and whimsically refused to keep any other birthday, reckoning himself toward the end of his life as entering upon his 20th year. His birthday at his native Pesaro is also kept only once every four years.

Dr. Horace Porter's latest mot is that the first half of a man's life is spent in getting his name into the papers, and the last half in a struggle to keep it out.

FIRESIDE FRAGMENTS.

—A dish of water placed in a hot oven where pies, cakes or puddings are being baked will prevent them from scorching.

—An excellent and simple remedy for a sprain is made by mixing the well-beaten whites of six eggs and a half cupful of table salt together. Apply between thin muslin cloths.

—Rice Pudding.—To be eaten cold. One large spoonful of rice, one quart of milk, a pinch of salt, four tablespoonfuls of sugar. Bake very slowly four hours, and flavor with vanilla.—Home and Farm.

—A French method of cleaning kid gloves is to put on the gloves and wash them well in spirits of turpentine, exactly as if washing the hands. The fingers and soiled parts must be well rubbed, and when the gloves are taken off they must be stretched and allowed to dry hanging in a strong current of air.

—Beaten Biscuit.—Sift a quart of flour, add a teaspoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of lard; mix well, and add sweet milk to make a stiff dough. Knead well, and beat for half an hour until light and elastic. Roll thin, cut out with a biscuit-cutter, put in a pan, and set in a moderate oven to bake until brown.—Ladies' Companion.

—Croquettes.—Two cupfuls of warm mashed potatoes, one-quarter cupful of hot milk, beaten together until light. Add one tablespoonful of melted butter, one-half teaspoonful of salt, a pinch of mace or nutmeg, and enough beaten egg to handle easily. Shape, dip into beaten egg and roll in sifted cracker crumbs. Fry in hot lard until nicely browned. Garnish with parsley.—Good Housekeeping.

—Sunshine Cake.—Whites of ten eggs and the yolks of seven, 1 1/2 cups of granulated sugar, measured after sifting, one cupful of flour, after sifting four times, one teaspoonful of cream of tartar and one of orange extract. Beat the whites to a froth and add the sugar. Beat the yolks thoroughly, and add to them the whites, the sugar and the flavoring. Last of all, stir in the flour. Mix quickly and well. Bake in a slow oven.—N. Y. Ledger.

THE SPORTSMAN.

A sturgeon weighing more than 600 pounds was caught near The Dalles, Oregon, recently. Its head weighed 125 pounds.

England has to import her pheasants now; an order for 50,000 old English, dark-necked live pheasants has been sent to Hungary.

Sir Augustus Hemming, the new governor of British Guiana, though 54 years old, is an active cricketer, playing with the Inceoght club on its annual tours. When younger he used to play in the "Gentlemen versus Players" matches.

Five fat 'pusses were caught by a farmer in Auburn, Ga., in an odd way recently. He cut down a tree, which fell across a hollow log. The log broke open and five fat 'pusses were evicted. The farmer and his dog succeeded in 'tagging them all.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Among the directors of the First national bank of Huntington, Ind., are two women, and one of them, Mrs. Sarah F. Dick, is the bank's cashier.

Harrison's favorite flower is the orange blossom, McKinley's the forget-me-not, Allison's the snowball, Reed's the tiger-lily, and Morton's the evergreen blossom.

Empire State Republicans Will Endorse Gov. Morton.

IN CONVENTION AT NEW YORK TO-DAY

Major McKinley's Boom Also Launched in the Metropolis Last Night at a Big Meeting of Anti-Platt Republicans.

New York, March 24.—The preparations for the formal launching of the Morton boom are completed and there is every indication that the sentiment of the Empire State republicans will be voiced by this afternoon's convention in a striking manner. Hundreds of men who have for many years participated in the councils of the party and thousands of the younger men who compose its active working force in their several localities are gathered here to testify to their admiration for Gov. Morton. New York entertains many visiting statesmen and politicians every day, but a political convention is something of a novelty and the holding of a convention in New York is as much of a novelty to the delegates as to the city.

Work of the Convention.
The convention will assemble at noon and after the address of senator Cornelius R. Parsons, as temporary chairman, and the appointment of committees, a recess will be taken, probably until 8 p. m. At the evening session, after the report of the committee on contested seats, the permanent organization will be effected, with congressman George R. Southwick as chairman. His address will be followed by the report of the committee on resolutions, after which the delegates-at-large to the national convention and their alternates will be chosen and the presidential electors will be nominated. The business of the convention will occupy but a small part of the evening, but after it is concluded the convention will be resolved into a ratification meeting, and the enthusiasm for Morton will be given full vent.

M'KINLEY'S BOOM.
It Makes Its Appearance at a Large Meeting in New York City.

New York, March 24.—The McKinley boom in New York city was launched last night at Cooper union, and, although the weather was inclement and a miniature blizzard was raging outside, the big hall was packed with people. In the center of the platform was a crayon picture of the Ohio man. The picture had tin plates for a frame, to remind the audience of what the champion of protection had done for the tin industry in the United States. At the bottom of the picture was a banner on which was inscribed the following: "The Anti-Machine Republican Organization of the City and County of New York." On the right of the platform was a banner on which was inscribed the words: "The Republican Party Stands for an Honest Dollar and the Way to Earn It," and on the left was another banner bearing the words: "William McKinley, the Advance Agent of Prosperity." The anti-Platt element was present at the meeting in considerable force. Among the speakers were Maj. Lovell H. Jerome, Gen. Swayne and Frank D. Pavey. Resolutions were passed organizing a political body to be known as "The McKinley League of the State of New York," the object of which shall be to secure the nomination of the Ohio man at St. Louis and his election at the polls in November. The league was then organized and officers chosen.

Minnesota Republicans.
St. Paul, Minn., March 24.—The republicans of the Second, Third, Fourth, Sixth and Seventh congressional districts yesterday selected ten delegates to the St. Louis convention. Six of these delegates are instructed for McKinley, two for Davis, and two others for Davis with a queer proviso. In the Fourth district, of which St. Paul, Davis' home is the greater part, a resolution was adopted that two delegates should vote for Davis, unless their votes should jeopardize the chances of McKinley, in which event they should be cast directly for the Ohio man. The resolutions in all the districts declared strongly for protection and sound money.

Instructed for Reed.
Boston, March 24.—The republican convention in the Tenth congressional district elected delegates and alternates last night to the St. Louis convention, and instructed them for Thomas B. Reed.

Wallace Ross Defeated.
London, March 24.—The match between the scullers Wallace Ross of New Brunswick and W. A. Barry of London was rowed yesterday on the Tyne from Scotswood suspension bridge to the west side of Redhough bridge. Barry won by a length. Ross was given five seconds' start. The race was for $250 a side.

To Go to Egypt.
London, March 24.—The dispatch of the Sudan expedition has caused a number of members of the house of commons to decide to spend the Easter parliamentary recess in Egypt, where they will study the situation thoroughly.

Mrs. Charles F. Mayer Dead.
Baltimore, March 24.—Mrs. Charles F. Mayer, wife of ex-President Mayer of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, died last evening at the hotel Richmond at Washington, from an attack of paralysis. She had been ill four days.

Pope Leo III.
London, March 24.—The Standard's Rome correspondent telegraphs that the pope is suffering from insomnia.

Must Use The Knife

Said the Surgeon, but Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was taken and the Knife Avoided.

The Union and Advertiser of Rochester, N. Y., recently published the following interesting account of how William W. Adams, of 127 South avenue, that city, was saved from a painful operation by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Mr. Adams said: "Three years ago I was taken with kidney disease very badly; at times I was completely prostrated; in fact, was so bad that the day was set for the doctors to perform an operation upon me. But I decided I would not submit. I had been put in hot water baths, and, in fact, nearly every means was tried to help me. Upon the day set for the operation I commenced the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and from that moment began to gain, and it was not long before I was entirely cured, and have had no return of the trouble since. My weight has increased and I never was so well as I am now. I have recommended to many people, for it saved my life."

In speaking to Mrs. Adams, she said: "About a year ago I was in a very feeble state of health, being completely run down. I had doctor and consulted, but without permanent relief. One day one of my neighbors advised me to take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which I did. My trouble was dyspepsia, and for a long while I was unable to be about at all; but after taking a few doses I was completely cured, and now enjoy good health."
Hundreds of men and women with that "run-down" condition, unable to work, have recovered health and strength through this remarkable remedy. It purifies the blood, stirs the liver and kidneys to a healthy action. In cases of rheumatism, kidney, liver and urinary troubles, it is a well known specific.
