FREELEND, PA., APRIL 23, 1896.

The People and the Monroe Doctrine.

From the Philadelphia Record. We still have discussions of the Monroe doctrine. It is a waste of intellectual power.

"The judgment of the whole people," says the Westminster Review, "does not wait for reasoning, but acts naturally."

And the ideas and principles which have become a part of the American consciousness are that there shall be no European interference with American soil.

"It is a primary prejudice of individual citizens antecedent to all ambition as a nation." It is founded on moral interests, rather than on material interest.

Worse Than a Mother-in-Law. The Detroit Free Press prints an account of the singular acquisition of a stepmother by a young man.

The Eophone is the invention of Mr. Frank de la Torre, a scientist of Baltimore. He has spent a number of years in perfecting it.

A SAVINGS bank of New York keeps a record of its depositors. During the year 1894 there was only one actor, while there were 1,322 tailors.

Prescott, the capital of Arizona, boasts that it is the nearest approach to the New Jerusalem as described in the Bible.

SCIENCE AND INVENTION.

NAVIGATING IN FOG.

It is Made Possible by an Instrument Called the Eophone.

Possibly there is no greater terror among the many met with at sea than a fog. The helplessness of our harbor boats and the clamor of the bells and whistles during a heavy fog in New York harbor give one some idea of this nightmare of the ocean.

The simplest description of the instrument is that it consists of two bell-mouthed sound receivers, separated by a central diaphragm.

THE EOPHONE.

The tubes are brought within the chart house, and the instrument may be turned from below to point in any desired direction.

To illustrate the character of the trials which have been made with the eophone, one was placed on the light-house tender Lila, and in a dense fog a whistling buoy was picked up at a distance of a mile and its direction indicated correctly.

Another test, showing the merits of the eophone in a striking way, was made by blindfolding the observer and then chasing another vessel by sounds of its whistle.

A vessel running close to land would get the echo from her own whistle in case there were hills or tall houses. On dark nights the ripple of oars or the slight noise of a torpedo boat would be accurately located by the eophone.

The Speed of the Pigeon. Experiments made with carrier pigeons in connection with various European armies show that the speed of the carrier in calm weather and for a short distance is about 1,210 yards a minute.

Dr. Young records that at Gibraltar the human voice has been heard at a distance of ten miles, and it is true that over water, as well as a surface of ice, sound is propagated with extraordinary clearness and strength.

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

New York, April 17.—Genoatote Colitti, an Italian laborer, was overcome by the heat yesterday and taken to the hospital, where he died.

St. Louis, April 20.—A general strike for an eight-hour day by the union carpenters and horseshoers of the United States is expected by the labor organizations of St. Louis to occur May 1.

PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES.

CLAUDE MATTHEWS, A PROMINENT DEMOCRAT.

WHEN THE MONK DIED.

Rites Observed When Death Entered a Monastery and Claimed a Victim. In the "Durham Rites" we read how before the high altar were "three marvelous faire silver basons hung in chains of silver."

But, besides the perpetual prayers for others, a peculiar spiritual fellowship existed between the "religious" of the same order, and indeed was often extended to those of other orders.

When a monk died a messenger was dispatched to all the religious communities from which prayers were due, and indeed to many others, with the mortuary roll, having at the head an announcement of the death and a short account of the deceased.

Theology by the Pound. The wife of a minister down in Cincinnati traded a barrel of his old sermons not long ago for a new breadpan.

Why do you want sermons? "Because I did so well with those I got here a year ago. I got sick in the summer, and a preacher in the country boarded me and my horse three months for that barrel of sermons, and he has since got a great reputation as a preacher up there. I will give you five cents a pound for all you have got."

A Fore Epit. "Alkali Ike—He accused me of havin' been tarred-an'-feathered an' run out of town, in Texas, about four years ago."

Literally True. Mr. Dolley—What do you mean by saying that your father made light of my proposal?

Miss Giggles—Well, he did. He used it to ignite his cigar with.—Detroit Free Press.

The first exportation of American silk was in 1731, when eight pounds were sent from America to England.

James Martin, sheriff. Frank Needham, attorney. $1.50 a year is all the TRIBUNE costs.
