POLITICAL PICKUPS.

Morgan B. Williams was in town on Thursday and called upon several of the prominent politicians and business men. He considers his chances to become the Republican nominee for congress as good as the best.

Fourth district Democrats were never known to be so modest as they are this year. The idea that the lower end is not looking for anything seems incredible, but it's true.

Commissioner Dillard's friends in the lower end are showing some signs of life, and they expect to send up several delegates from this section in his interest.

PERSONALITIES.

William F. Gallagher returned home on Saturday evening from New Jersey, where he has worked for the past few months.

John M. Powell and wife, of Allentown, visited the latter's mother here last week.

Mrs. Robert Mulreany, of Plymouth, spent Friday and Saturday with friends in town.

Mrs. Joseph P. McDonald is on a business trip to New York city.

Roger McMonigle, of Texas, is visiting this region again.

John Ward, a "patcher" on a locie at Drifton, had two fingers crushed while coupling cars on Thursday. Amputation will not be necessary.

The Altar Society of St. Ann's parish has placed a beautiful altar in St. Ann's church. It adds greatly to the appearance of the interior of the building.

The foundry owned by Conrad Hoffman, at White Haven, was destroyed by fire on Friday. The building was a new one, and the loss is placed at $2,200.

Dr. Depue, a dentist who located in Hazleton about six months ago, died in that city early on Saturday morning from the effects of an overdose of morphine.

Horse racing will be a feature at the Hazleton Driving Park on July 3 and 4. Over $800 in prizes will be offered, and several speedy trotters are expected to be entered.

A little son of George Fisher, of Walnut street, fell into the water at the Honeyhole dam yesterday. The child was rescued, but its escape from drowning was a narrow one.

John Grula, who was superintendent of the grocery store of St. Mary's Co-operative Association until that establishment was closed by the court, has accepted a position with Gillespie & Curry.

The picnic held on Saturday evening by the Tigers Athletic Club was the first of the season. It was attended by several hundred people, and the open air amusements were enjoyed immensely until 11 p. m.

Work upon the sewer manholes, which will drain the surface water of the streets, has been commenced. Several people think the plan is unwise, claiming that the sewers will become choked in a few months.

The Mahanoy City school board has decided to publish the names of all persons who were exonerated from paying taxes. It is said that other towns have found this to be an effective remedy in reducing the list of exonerations.

The Audenried Coal Company, of Philadelphia, was granted a charter last week. The incorporators are William R. McTurk, William K. Tyler, William Ebert, Jr., Henry E. Strathmarr and J. C. Genthler. Capital stock, $50,000.

Owing to other attractions, the meeting of the bicyclists on Friday evening was not attended by all the wheelmen. Another meeting will be held tonight at the Central hotel, and the club will be successfully launched. All are invited.

The Sons of Temperance of Jeannette have reconsidered their action of refusing the use of their hall to the Catholic temperance societies for the district convention. The meeting will be held there. The objection raised was that the hall was wanted for a Sunday.

The Noss Jollity Company played to a fair audience at the Grand opera house on Friday evening. The musical specialties were first-class, also the comedy sketches introduced. The company contains several members of the Noss family, a troupe which played in Donop's hall some years ago.

The county treasurer will hold a public sale at Wilkesbarre on Tuesday, when the seated and unseated lands, upon which taxes have not been paid for two years, will be disposed of. Several of the properties and lots advertised have been taken off the list by the owners making settlement.

Fresh bread and cakes every morning at Geritz's bakery. Confectionery also.

SERIOUS RUNAWAY.

Mrs. J. B. Laubach Injured While Out Driving on Saturday.

While driving from town to Eckley on Saturday afternoon Mrs. J. B. Laubach was seriously injured by the running away of her horse. With two small lads of town she left here shortly before 4 o'clock to deliver an order of ice cream and confectionery at Eckley. All were seated on the buckboard, and when the railroad crossing above the Highland school building was reached the horse became partly detached from the vehicle in some manner.

Before the difficulty could be remedied the animal took fright and dashed along the road. The occupants did not have time to jump until the buckboard had capsized. The boys escaped with scarcely any injuries, but Mrs. Laubach became entangled in the wheels and was dragged several yards before she was released from the wreck.

The residents of Highland who witnessed the accident gave her all the assistance they could until J. P. McNelis, a butcher of town, came along with his team and brought her back to her home.

An examination of her injuries showed that her collar bone is broken, two ribs are fractured and she was otherwise injured internally. She is resting quite easily today, but has suffered considerable pain since the accident.

Those who saw the runaway state that she escaped from death of all who were on the vehicle was miraculous.

Her husband, J. B. Laubach, has just recovered from the effects of a broken leg received by a fall on the ice last winter.

Streets Are Now Sprinkled.

Freeland took another step upward and onward last Friday morning when the street sprinkler purchased by M. H. Hunsicker made its first trip down Centre street. The machine holds several hundred gallons of water, and has given general satisfaction along the route it traverses, which is from Walnut street to the Lehigh Valley tracks. The water used is procured from the trench leading from the old Woodside mine which empties into the large dam near St. Ann's church. The sprinkler was formerly the property of the Pioneer Fire Company of Hazleton.

Mr. Hunsicker has been assured by the business people of sufficient support to make the sprinkler pay, and it is hoped the subscriptions will be promptly paid so that its continuance will not be a matter of doubt.

Punished by Misfortunes.

Editor Deemer Bedleman, of the Shickelshiny Democrat, and Democratic candidate for county commissioner, is having no end of trouble. Not long ago he was injured in a railroad wreck, then a little later he fell down through a cellar door and was considerably bruised, then he had a several weeks' siege of the grip, and on Thursday while preparing a form for printing his left arm was caught in the press and it was badly lacerated and one of the small bones was fractured.

Mack's Hypnotic Tour.

Walter Mack, manager of a Wilkesbarre theatre, who is traveling the country as Prof. Sevengala, will amuse Hazleton audiences with his hypnotic powers this week. Since leaving Freeland he spent a week at Binghamton, N. Y., accompanied by Patrick McGuire, of Upper Lehigh, and John James, of Eckley. Mr. Mack's powers in the line of mesmerism created a sensation in the New York town.

A. O. H. State Convention.

The state convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians will be held at Williamsport on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. A special train will convey the Luzerne and Lackawanna delegates to that city. Division 19, of Freeland, will be represented in the convention by Patrick O'Donnell, of Drifton.

An Editor Sent to Jail.

James Allen, of Wilkesbarre, had Editor Schwab, of the Wilkesbarre Sun, arrested for libel Friday evening. The editor in his last issue stated that Allen was expecting the biggest part of a Mr. Myers' estate when Myers died. Schwab, after a lengthy hearing, was sent to the county jail in default of bail.

Fourth of July Parade.

The civic societies of Freeland and surrounding towns are receiving invitations from the Citizens' Hose Company to take part in the Fourth of July parade here. The firemen are trying to make the demonstration worthy of the day, and request the assistance of every organization and individual.

A bicycle track is being built at the Upper Lehigh ball park, and a driveway is in course of construction along the mountain ridge north of the town.

CORPORATION TYRANNY.

Silver Brook Company Orders Employees to Submit or Vacate.

From the Hazleton Standard.

There seems to be but a faint ray of hope for the employes of the Silver Brook Coal Company since it has been announced that four families have already been ordered to vacate their homes. Never on the South Side has corporate tyranny been so openly displayed. According to the information vouchsafed us, the notice to vacate was served by Coal and Iron Policeman William Raught, and is directly the result of the people's refusal to trade at the "pluck-me" store.

In their mad rush for wealth, the so-called "captains of industry" forget the enormous suffering they are inflicting upon the people by such a system of serfdom. It seems impossible for human nature to bear the indignities that are being piled upon it by the grasping corporations.

Not only do some coal companies make outrageous attacks on the liberty of their employes, but their lives as well. The deplorable feature of the whole affair is that even statesmen are doing their bidding.

A Jefferson or a Lincoln would be welcome in those times of idleness and slavery who in no uncertain manner would call a halt on the merciless and heartless attacks on human liberties.

The existing circumstances in the coal field and the inroads of corporate influence is sufficient to crush the working masses into hopeless poverty.

For many years past freedom has been unknown among the employes of some mining corporations, particularly those of the Silver Brook Coal Company.

Judge Dart Is Commander.

Judge Alfred Dart, of the orphans' court of this county, was elected state commander of G. A. R. at the Chambersburg encampment last week. Colonel Denworth, of Williamsport, was his unsuccessful competitor, the vote being Dart, 48; Denworth, 330.

The report of Assistant Adjutant General Morrison shows four posts had been mustered in and sixteen disbanded during the past year. The total loss of membership in the year was 351, and the total membership in good standing January 1 was 36,876.

The report of Assistant Quartermaster Levering shows that the receipts from May 30, 1895, to May 30, 1896, were $8,594.47, and the expenditures $8,210.15.

A request to the legislature asking that the sale of intoxicants be prohibited on Memorial Day was endorsed.

Johnston was chosen as the next meeting place of the veterans.

To Oust a Chief Burgess.

District Attorney Bechtel, of Schuylkill county, has petitioned court to grant a writ of quo warranto on Charles S. Shindel, of Tamaqua, to show by what authority he claims to exercise the office of chief Burgess of that town. The petition sets forth that Mr. Shindel was elected Justice of the peace of the borough of Tamaqua in the spring of 1893; that in 1894 he was elected chief Burgess, and in 1895 was appointed a notary public by the governor, and that he duly qualified for all three of the positions by taking the oaths of office and by filing the required bonds. This the petition claims is a violation of the act of assembly of 1893, which provides that a man cannot hold two borough offices at one and the same time.

Took a Certificate as Security.

From the Wilkesbarre Record.

C. S. Fargo, a well known resident of Nanticoke, was arrested on information of Daniel Craig, of the same place, for keeping his pension certificate. Mr. Fargo, it is said, loaned Craig $200 or $300 and the latter gave the pension certificate as security. It is contrary to the act of congress to take as security of debt a pension certificate and under these circumstances C. S. Fargo was held by United States Commissioner Hahn in the sum of $300 for appearance at the United States court in Scranton in March.

A Girl's Essay on Boys.

"Boys are men that have not got as big as their papas, and girls are women that will be young ladies by-and-by. Man was made before woman. When God looked at Adam, He said to Himself: 'Well, I think I can do better if I try again,' and then He made Eve. God liked Eve so much better than Adam, that there have been more women than men. Boys are a trouble. They wear out everything, but soap. If I had my way, half the boys in the world would be girls, and the rest would be dolls. My papa is so nice that I think he must have been a little girl when he was a little boy."—St. Andrew's Church Record.

A SAD HOME COMING.

SORROWFUL NEWS GREETED REV. J. P. BUXTON LAST WEEK.

Upon His Return from Abroad He Learned of the Murderous Assault Committed at the Home of His Father in Maryland.

Rev. J. P. Buxton, pastor of St. James' P. E. church at Drifton, arrived at New York last week from his extended tour through Europe and the Holy Land. Immediately upon his arrival a message was received calling him to the home of his parents at Gaithersburg, a small village in Montgomery county, Maryland, about twenty miles from Washington.

Arriving at Gaithersburg he learned of a terrible crime that had been committed at his father's home. Both his parents and his two sisters, Maud, aged 16 years, and Sadie, aged 6 years, had been murderously assaulted by negroes.

The details of the affair, as far as can be learned, go to show that the crime was instigated by a desire for revenge. Early on Monday morning, May 25, the home of Richard L. Buxton, a miller, was entered by two negroes. They were armed with axes, and fell upon the four sleeping inmates like demons.

When they thought they had completed their work they fled. All the members of the family were suffering severely from the blows dealt them, but they were placed under medical treatment and showed signs of recovery.

Detectives were immediately placed on the track of two negroes who were suspected of the horrible deed, with the result that both men were captured the following day.

George Neal, one of the supposed assailants placed under arrest, had been released from prison a month previous. He had served a nine years' sentence for assaulting a young girl. At the time of his trial on the latter charge Mr. Buxton was the chief witness. It is said that when the judge sentenced Neal he openly vowed in court that when he was released from prison he would be revenged on Buxton.

When arrested he was in a field near his log cabin home. He wore no shirt, and two little colored boys who lived in the house stated that he had not been at home all night, but that he had arrived shortly before he was arrested, and had taken off his shirt and burned it. There were stains on it, they said, and he had warned all in the house to say nothing of what he had done.

Neal denied the statement, but a detective found smouldering ashes of rags in the grate, as well as bone and metal buttons, such as are used on shirts. Neal could not explain how they came to be in the stove.

Neal's shoes fitted the smaller tracks which Rev. L. L. Lloyd, the Methodist minister detective, had followed so closely from the house of the victims to the negro's hut.

Sidney Randolph, the other negro arrested, is as brutal looking as Neal, and both appear to be desperate characters.

For the past two weeks the Buxton family hovered between life and death, and on Friday night last the little girl, Sadie, succumbed to the wounds she received on the fatal morning. The others will probably recover.

Rev. Buxton will certainly have the sympathy of the entire community when the above account of the misfortune of his relatives is read. He is one of the most respected ministers in our midst, and the troubles he was greeted with upon his home coming are regretted by every one of his acquaintances.
