Report promptly to this office whenever paper is not received. Arrearages must be paid when subscription is discontinued.

FREELAND, PA., JULY 27, 1896.

Correct View of the Question.

It is encouraging to note that the Hazleton Sentinel, the first advocate of free silver in this part of the state, has not forgotten the principles which it espoused for two years past. The Sentinel still maintains that the only remedy for the settlement of the money question is the establishment of bimetallicism, which the Democrats are working for heart and soul, and it is a pity that the Sentinel feels compelled to support its party rather than its principles.

Below we republish an editorial which appeared in our contemporary on Thursday evening. It contains no small amount of sound logic, and in pointing out the danger to the country of trying to maintain credit upon a gold standard basis the Sentinel is more honest than some other newspapers which want McKinley elected:

"The probabilities of another and early bond issue may be considered in the light of the facts respecting the condition of the gold reserve in the treasury. It now stands in round numbers at ninety-eight million dollars. The last bond sale produced in gold one hundred and eleven million dollars. The treasury at that time held sixty-one millions.

"There has, therefore, been a loss since January of seventy-three millions, so that, of the gold bought so dearly by imposing no debt upon the nation, all but thirty-eight millions have disappeared.

"If seventy-three millions have vanished in six months, how many months will elapse before the treasury will lose the remaining thirty-eight millions?"

"It is, of course, useless to expect that any gold will come to the treasury except by the process of borrowing. Nobody looks for such a thing. The ordinary movement is usually outward, rarely inward, and it is therefore almost certain that the government will again buy gold with bonds within a few months.

"No matter what are the differences of opinion as to the safe method of preventing the drainage of gold from the treasury, everybody, we imagine, is agreed that a system which produces these results is thoroughly vicious and not unlikely to bring the nation into contempt.

"That it is exasperating the people, and strengthening the hands of the men who propose violent remedies, is plainly manifest. That it is avoidable by the employment of easy and lawful means is probable.

"But the final remedy is the establishment of bimetallicism with the consequence that the strain of the demand will be taken from scarce gold, and placed upon the two precious metals."

It is doubtful if there was ever a political campaign in which misrepresentation, lying and deceitful arguments were used so early as in the present one. Writers and other men who have stood high in the estimation of the common people have allowed their passions and personal interests to carry them so far away from all that is good and noble that the ordinary citizen who is really seeking information knows not who to trust. There are statements made without apology in the daily papers of today in which the average school boy can detect and point out as willful pervasions, and unworthy of notice if it were not for the fact that they lead honest inquirers astray. The power of money has always been acknowledged great, but never before was it known to silence the consciousness of so large a body of men and compel them to do and say things which they will regret while a spark of life remains within them.

There has been a sudden change in the tone of the gold men's paper lately. The word "anarchists," as applied to the framers of the Democratic platform, does not appear quite so often since that notorious anarchist, Herr Moss, has declared himself in favor of McKinley. Most and his associates could not consistently be anything else but followers of a party which is pledged to continue a policy that has almost bankrupted the country. Anarchists want to destroy all forms of government, and common sense teaches them that to accomplish their aims peacefully they should vote with the party whose policy will bankrupt the nation. Anarchy would certainly follow.

The resolution adopted by the Democratic county committee on Friday gave the proper ring. There is no room on the state or county ticket for men who will not stand upon the Chicago platform.

DUELS AND DUELISTS.

Fighting Fitzgerald was successful in 18 duels before it was discovered that he always wore a coat of mail. For years his fame in society had rested on his invariable success as a duelist, and this discovery was his undoing.

The most tragic duel in England was between Lord Byron, grand-uncle of the poet, and a kinsman. It was fought in a tavern room by the light of one tallow candle. Lord Byron was tried for murder, but got off on manslaughter, from the penalties of which he escaped because he was a peer of the realm.

No duelist could ever be made smile over the famous story of the Englishman and Frenchman who were to fight a duel in a pitch-dark room. Not wishing to kill his man, the Englishman fired up the chimney when the word was given, and, to his surprise, brought down the Frenchman, who had hidden there. When this story is told in France it is always the Englishman who is up the chimney.

During the occupation of Paris by the allies there were duels every day, the Frenchmen usually being the challengers and the victors, as they were very skillful with the small sword. Sometimes, however, they made a mistake, as when they jeered at an English officer over losing his leg at Waterloo. The jeerer discovered that the loss of his leg did not interfere in the least with the Englishman's aim.

TITLED WOMEN OF EUROPE.

The princess of Wales has lately had her picture painted. It is remarkable in that it is the first time she has consented to be represented wearing the large sleeves of fashion. The portrait is said to be wonderfully pretty.

The queen's daily drives while she is staying at Cimiez are taken in an open victoria preceded by an outrider on a gray horse and followed at a distance by a member of the French detective force, also on horseback.

It is probable that the widowed Empress Frederick of Germany may spend the next two years in England near her mother, the queen. If so she will live at Ditton Park, the beautiful place near Windsor of the late duke of Buccleuch.

Lady Sophie Cadogan, the daughter of the Irish viceroy, is the constant companion of her brilliant mother, who dispenses the hospitality of the Dublin castle so well. Lady Sophie is not a blond like her mother. Her type of beauty combines an exquisitely fair complexion and clear-cut features with dark hair and eyes. She is noted for her gracefulness.

Trouble With a Crazy Cow.

From the Wilkesbarre Newsdealer. A valuable cow owned by Mr. Judge, near Parsons, was found on Thursday suffering in the worst stages of hydrophobia. The animal became so fierce and savage that it rushed about the enclosure where it was confined and made desperate attempts to kill any person who approached it. In her blind rage she broke through fences and several who were attracted to the enclosure by her strange actions narrowly escaped being gored.

Mr. Judge, who did not understand the nature of the cow's malady, sent for a veterinarian, who at once said the animal was suffering from acute hydrophobia and ordered her to be shot, which was immediately done. It is not known how the animal contracted the disease, as there were no mad dogs discovered in the borough this season.

Peter Reinmiller Buried. Peter Reinmiller, who was shot here early Monday morning and died Wednesday night at Hazelton hospital, was buried yesterday afternoon at Weatherly, from the residence of his father. A special train was run over the Valley road to accommodate his Drifton friends who wished to attend.

No trace of the murderer has yet been found, and the case has received no attention yet from the county authorities. Deputy Coroner McCoombs will begin his investigation at Hazelton this evening.

The Presidential Contest. The Populists, in convention at St. Louis last week, nominated W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, the Democratic candidate, as their candidate for president. The vote was: Bryan, 1,042; S. F. Norton, Illinois, 321; Ignatius Donnelly, Minnesota, 1. Thomas Watson, of Georgia, was nominated for vice president.

In the same city last week the Silver party unanimously endorsed the Democratic nominees, W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, and Arthur Sewall of Maine.

Not Building New Houses. The report that a large number of new houses will be built on the old Buck Mountain is without foundation. All the old houses which cannot be repaired will be torn down and the lumber which is of any use will be taken in the mines for cribbing and bratticing. The worthless lumber will be burned. No new houses will be built. Several of the old ones need repairing and that is what is going on now. The old store building will be divided up into dwellings.

New Officers Elected. The Tigers Athletic Club elected the following officers for the ensuing six months on Thursday evening: President—James B. Ferry. Vice president—James Reed. Recording secretary—John Brennan. Financial secretary—James Welsh. Treasurer—C. J. Boyle. Sergeant-at-arms—John McGroarty. Guard—Patrick Dever.

Trustees—J. J. McMenamin, Daniel J. McTighe, M. J. McGill, D. S. Buckley. There is nothing cheap about the Wear Well footwear except the price. It can't be lower. Try their shoes.

PURELY PERSONAL.

The royal family will put off their mourning for Prince Henry of Battenberg on the day of Princess Maud's wedding.

John A. Marshall, of Delhi, N. Y., has worked continuously at the case as a compositor on the Delaware Gazette for over 45 years.

Col. Lake, of Canada, will visit England in May to supervise the gathering supplies of arms and batteries recently voted by the dominion parliament.

The late Prof. Benseley's rare and splendid collection of oriental manuscripts has been presented by his widow to the university library at Cambridge, England.

Judge Albion W. Tourge, author of "A Fool's Errand," which created such a sensation a score of years ago, has just argued his first case before the United States supreme court.

Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson announces that there is no truth in the statement that he and Mrs. Stevenson will visit Europe the coming summer.

Russell Sage is very fond of driving and has scarcely missed a daily ride in Central park in 30 years, except when he is absent from the city. He generally drives two horses, but is trying a team of four which will trot evenly together.

Hubert Vos, the Washington painter, has just finished a portrait of Secretary Olney which will be hung in the office of the attorney-general, and is now painting Senator Bruce. The portrait of Mr. Olney is considered a masterpiece.

Dr. Talfourd, a younger brother of the author of "Ion," has given $250 to the London Temperance hospital, "as a thank offering for having completed 50 years of abstinence from intoxicating liquors." Dr. Talfourd is in his 80th year.

Sir Francis Evans, who has been elected a member of parliament for Southampton, was once before elected while absent in America. His success was then due to his American wife. Lady Evans is a daughter of Samuel Stevens, once attorney-general of the state of New York.

MUCH IN LITTLE.

Honest men are the gentlemen of nature.—Bulwer. The present moment is a powerful deity.—Goethe. No peace was ever won from fate by subtlety.—Ruskin.

There is no malice like the malice of the renegade.—Macaulay. To be proud and inaccessible is to be timid and weak.—Massillon. Youth fades; love droops; the leaves of friendship fall; a mother's secret hope outlives them all.—Holmes.

Never think that God's delays are God's denials. Hold on; hold fast; hold out. Patience is genius.—Buffon. Do what good thou canst unknown; and be not vain of what ought rather to be felt than seen.—William Penn.

We want fewer things to live in poverty with satisfaction than to live magnificently with riches.—St. Evremont. Not because I raise myself above something, but because I raise myself to something, do I approve myself.—Jacobi.

Great memories, which retain all indifferently, are the mistresses of an inn, and not the mistresses of a house.—Mme. Necker. Ask the heart to give a reason for any of its beautiful and divine motions, and it can only look upwards and be dumb.—Lowell.

FACTS FOR FARMERS.

A strict account kept by a dairyman who grew upon his farm all the food consumed by cows showed that a pound of butter costs 13 cents. This is varied, however, according to the breed used. Farmers cannot afford to experiment, except incidentally, on a small scale. The experiment stations were instituted to make a business of experimenting, and they are doing a good work.

The Ohio station has made several attempts to get a setting of crimson clover, but all have failed. It seems not able to germinate in the hot, dry August of Ohio, nor to stand the severe winters there. Manure lasts longer than fertilizers, but it is because the plants derive the use of but a portion of the manure annually, as it dissolves slowly and only as it decomposes. For immediate results fertilizers are much better than manure.

Some dairymen declare that "sunshine has a great deal to do with the fullest flow of milk; also, with its quality." One man gives each cow of his herd an extra quart of meal night and morning in cloudy weather in order to satisfy his customers. This experience is a significant one, and ought to be effective against dark stables.

LITTLE ODDS AND ENDS.

Under the new constitution of the state of New York the limit of $5,000 recoverable by heirs for loss of life is removed, and in a recent case where a woman sued for damages at her husband's death a jury awarded her $21,000. The champion football game between England and Scotland was played a short time ago at Glasgow, Scotland. Sixty thousand persons attended and paid an admission fee of a shilling each. The previous largest attendance was 45,000.

A growsome tale is told of two small children drifting around in the open Atlantic in a small boat. Their father had set out with them in the boat from Newfoundland for Lisbon, but he had died eight days after setting sail. The boat was brought to Cadiz. In 1891 this country imported 84,000 gallons of vermouth, and it is estimated this year the amount will be 225,000 gallons. As vermouth is used in the manufacture of a certain kind of cocktail it would seem that the cocktail habit is growing.

IN THE REALM OF NATURE.

The joints endure much use because they are constantly lubricated by an oil secreted by glands especially adapted to that purpose.

In tropical forests so large a proportion of the plants are of the sensitive variety that sometimes the path of a traveler may be traced by the wilted foliage.

There is no doubt that the hair of the scalp protects the head against external cold, and also prevents the loss of heat through the very low thermal conductivity of the hair cylinders and of the cushion of air mingled with them.

Some of the medical journals report a new affection of the eyes, caused, it is said, by the prevailing method of seating in street cars. The effort to fix the gaze upon passing objects causes an annoying strain and twitching in the external muscles of the globes.

A cure for rinderpest is said to have been discovered at Salisbury, in Rhodesia. It consists in keeping the animals from drinking water and dosing them with linseed oil. Cattle in the first stages can be cured by purging them, washing the mouth with paraffin and salt, and applying Stockholm tar to the nostrils.

Prof. King asserts that insects freeze solid during the winter and thaw out when warm weather comes. Others claim this has never been demonstrated. If once the power of evolving heat is lost, life goes with it. At least this is a great principle in biology. There are liquids which do not freeze under a low temperature, and these may possibly enter into the insect organism.

ODD AND INTERESTING.

Each salmon produces about 20,000,000 eggs. It is said that the Greenland whale sometimes attains the age of 400 years. A frigate bird can remain an entire week on the wing, without stopping to rest.

The czar of Russia has two hobbies—the collection of postage stamps and birds' eggs. In France, when a railroad train is more than ten minutes late, the company is fined.

In Wyoming the women have the right to vote for all offices, even for presidential electors. The most effective Krupp gun has a range of 17 miles, and can fire two shots a minute.

One hundred persons have been fatally shot during the past 12 years on the main street of Jackson, Ky. An ordinary tortoise lives from 100 to 150 years. Instances are on record of some of them attaining the age of 250 years.

In its course of 120 miles the Jordan plunges over 27 rapids, and from its source to its mouth has a descent of 3,000 feet. Peruvian cotton is in 12 different hues, from white to a deep red. The seed from each shade produces cotton of the same color.

A strange coincidence is noted in the statistics of Steuben, Me. In the past year there were 16 deaths, 10 births and 10 marriages.

SENTIMENT OF WORDS.

Abstinence—Theological benzine for taking out moral spots and stains. Amiability—The powdered sugar of politeness, very apt to be adulterated. Ancestors—The only luxury denied to the nouveaux riches and the one most desired by them.

Abridgment—A collection of the bad points of a good book and the foolish points of a poor book. Aristocrat—One who washes his hands oftener than others. Hence the others are the great unwashed.

Austerity—The gold foil and iron wire of the champagne of life. Beware of the cork when the seal breaks. Age—We have three ages. The real boom time one; that which others think we have and that which we say we have.

Abstention—The sour-grape virtue of the fox who couldn't get what he wanted and didn't want what he couldn't get. Ballroom—A place where society goes to be in the swim, especially the summer bathing contingency. Look out that you don't get beyond your depth and beware of sharks.—Good House-keeping.

BITS OF MERRIMENT.

Blootiness—"I see that the election did not result as you predicted." "Jazz!" "Yes, it did. You're not the only one I predicted to."—Roxbury Gazette.

A Difference in Terms—"She plays the piano a great deal, doesn't she?" "It may be play for her, but for us it is far more serious."—Detroit Free Press.

A Bad Time of Year—"Hain't Mr. Simpkins proposed yet, daughter?" "No, mamma; I can't get him to talk about anything but baseball."—Chicago Record.

That Dreadful Boy.—Her Admirer—"Well, Reggie! How's your sister's cold, ch?" Her Little Brother—"Oh, that's all right. But she's got a jolly big corn."—Moonshine.

Impatient Traveler—"Er—how long will the next train be, portah?" Porter—"Heav'low! Weel, sir, ah dunno how ah can say to hauf an inch. Hain't there'll be fover or five coaches ah'n aappen er son."—Punch.

THE MINING WORLD.

More than 4,000 stamps are at present in operation in California. The aggregate capital of the 525 Australian mining companies floated in London in 1895 was $53,796,294.

A shipment of 150 tons of copper from the Ducktown (Tenn.) mines has been made to Swansea, Wales. An American exploring syndicate is developing some newly-acquired mining properties in Ecuador, South America.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons? Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed? Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel P. Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless? Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Dr. H. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.
