Hood's Sarsaparilla

Deplorable Ignorance.

Gen. John McNeil, who was a brother-in-law of President Pierce, and major-general of the New Hampshire militia at one time, is said to have been considerably incensed when he met any one who appeared to be ignorant of the wounds and honors he had won on the field of battle.

During the war with Great Britain he was shot while mounted on his faithful horse, receiving a severe wound in the knee, which caused him to walk stiffly for the rest of his life.

"How did you hurt your knee, general?" asked a young man whom the old officer characterized as a "whipper-snapper" one day, from a certain lack of respectfulness in his air and manner. "Did you have a fail?"

"Yes, sir," snorted the general, indigantly. "I fell off a horse! You never read the history of your country, did

I was suffering greatly from an attack of female weakness, and nothing I had tried could give me relief; when by the advice of a friend I began the Compound. After using it two months I was a different girl, and now at the end of six I am entirely curred."—Mis.Annie Kirkland, Patchogue, L. I.

factory girls of London bless the day when cycling became a fashionable craze. In her opinion cycling would be for the hard-working young female toilers of the east end not only an amisement, but an invaluable means of obtaining the fresh air and exercise of which they are continually in such need. The girls would like to cycle, but machines are expensive and beyond their means. Therefore Mrs. Fawcett, at a Mausion House meeting, urged that ladies, when they purchased new "mounts," should bestow their old one upon girls' clubs or agencies which exist for the benefit of factory girls.—London Queen.

Dr. Williams.—Dear Sir.—My wito has been a sufferer from rheumatism for more than three years, suffering at times with terrible prins in her links, and other times with a severe "crick" in her back which causes great agony. She spent much for physicians and medicine, but secured only temporary relief; finally she concluded to try Pink Pills. She has taken eight boxes and I cau say from the first one she has improved until now she is almost entirely free from pain, and has grown much stronger and feels confident that, by the blessing of God, they will effect a permanent cure. We take great pleasure in recommending them to our friends.
