VOL. IX. NO. 13.

FREELAND, PA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 13, 1896.

$1.50 PER YEAR.

BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

PARAGRAPHS GATHERED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE REGION.

Synopsis of Local and Miscellaneous Occurrences That Can Be Read Quickly. What the Folks of This and Other Towns are Doing.

West Hazleton school directors are deadlocked over the appointment of several teachers.

The date of opening Foster township schools has been changed from Monday next to the 31st inst.

The postoffice building, which is owned by A. Goepfert, will be enlarged by raising the roof three feet.

John Barna, of Lattimer, and Hona Lukac, of Upper Lehigh, will be married at Hazleton on Saturday.

Hunting's railroad circus will exhibit here on Friday of next week. Watch for the advertisement on Monday.

The Mayberry band serenaded Thomas Oberender and wife at their Ridge street residence on Tuesday evening.

The Tigers ball club play at Mauch Chunk on Saturday afternoon. The game ought to be an interesting one.

Adam Sachs' three-story building at Centre and Front streets has had its appearance improved by the painters.

Mrs. Lydia Shelhamer, aged 63 years, died at Eckley on Saturday, and was buried on Monday in Conyngham valley.

The Plymouth Board of Health reported thirty-four new cases of typhoid for July, but the epidemic is now decreasing.

James J. Sweeney, of Summit Hill, has presented Candidate Bryan with a handsome watch chain made of anthracite coal.

Old newspapers for sale. Tax collector Hugh Malloy is gathering in the taxes as rapidly as possible. On Monday he paid $100 to Treasurer Ferry, of the school board.

The members of the Loretta Camping Club were tendered a serenade last evening by the St. Patrick's cornet band. The music drew hundreds of people to the public park.

Street Commissioner Moore is pushing the work on the man-hole at Centre and Main streets, and expects to make much better time in completing it than was made at Centre and South streets.

Andrew Brennan and Thomas Gallagher, of Freeland, will play a game of alley ball on Saturday at Hazleton against John Welsh and Thomas Duffly, of the latter city, for a purse of $20.

M. C. Gallagher and J. T. Danaker, of White Haven, are preparing arrangements to run another bicycle race. Each has won one race, and the third will decide who is the better rider.

Thomas J. Murphy, postmaster of Ashley, died on Sunday of intermittent fever, at the age of 45 years. He leaves a wife and six children. The deceased was one of the leading Democrats in that part of the county.

The members of the Sunday school of the English Baptist church will hold their annual picnic at Birvanton on Saturday, August 29. This event is usually a very pleasant one, and the children look forward to it with pleasure.

Foster township school board is deadlocked on the question of purchasing eight turlurians at a cost of $47.50 each. The teachers recommend the purchase, but some of the directors desire to economize during this term.

The third annual state convention of the American Protective Association is in session at Williamsport this week. Between 300 and 400 delegates are there. Reading and Scranton are in the field for the state meeting of next year.

R. & G. corsets are sold at Oswald's.

The largest coal train that ever ran east over the Lehigh Valley Railroad passed through Bethlehem the other morning. The train was made of 240 loaded four-wheeled coal cars drawn by one of the big new Baldwin locomotives.

The postal department has made an explanation regarding its order against allowing railroad or trolley cars to carry letters. The order, as now construed, allows newspaper correspondence to be carried without being enclosed in stamped envelopes.

The Good Templars of Upper Lehigh will give an entertainment on Saturday evening at the English Baptist church, Freeland, entitled "A Temperance Drama," to be followed by an ice cream and cake social in the basement. Admission to entertainment, 10 cents.

A collection was taken up in town this week by Officer Mollick to procure funds to pay the funeral expenses of the Hungarian who was killed by lightning at Upper Lehigh last week. The deceased had no money at the time of his death, and was not a member of any of the societies.

At Drifton ball park on Saturday evening of next week a picnic will be held by the Progressive Club of that town. Picnics have not been quite so numerous this season as in previous years, and the young men in charge of the coming one propose to make it a notable affair.

BREAKER BOSS KILLED.

John Sultz, of Hazle Brook, Met With a Horrible Death Yesterday.

From the Hazleton Plain Speaker. John Sultz, a Poland, aged 21 years, employed as a boss in the Hazle Brook breaker operated by John S. Lantz & Co., met with instantaneous death yesterday afternoon shortly before 3 o'clock. The unfortunate young man who is single and without relatives in this country was attending to some matters about the grinders when the grime reaper made its harvest.

His clothing was caught in a revolving shaft and the helpless form was dashed to eternity before the machinery could be stopped. Nearly every bone in the trunk and appendages were broken, while the accident was made far more dreadful by the fact that both feet were torn off, striking against a beam while in rotary motion.

Deceased has resided in that little mining village since he was a small boy and having won the confidence and good will of the colliery officials as well as his associate employees he was promoted to the rank of boss in the breaker. He was known to every person in the town and had the good wishes of all. His remains were a ghastly sight to look upon. A large number of the little fellows employed in the breaker rushed excitedly from the sight of the mangled remains and wept as only children can weep.

A Scheme to Dispose of Culin.

Messrs. VanHorn and Wagner, practical miners, of Wilkesbarre, have commenced work to drive a ten-inch hole into the abandoned workings of the York Farm colliery, near Minersville. The hole will be sunk nearly 400 feet. The object of the hole is to wash culm into the interior of the disused portion of the colliery. There is so much culm constantly on hand that it could not be disposed of on the dirt bank, so this scheme has been devised by the colliery officials to get rid of a big portion of it. The culm will be run into the abandoned workings in a wet condition and will harden there, making the surface above safe from all cave-ins which might be likely to occur.

Getting Schools in Shape.

The borough school term will begin on Monday morning, and the teachers and pupils are getting ready to resume their books. During the week the school buildings and grounds have been undergoing a general cleaning and will be in good condition before the opening day. The Cox Memorial school is being cleaned by Mrs. Frank Sweeney, of the Washington street building by Mrs. Donlin, of Ridge and Main streets, and the Birvanton school by Mrs. Marshman.

Lockjaw Caused Death.

Albert Boston, of Plymouth, who has been working as a fitter, jumped from a scaffolding and thrust his foot into a rusty nail. The accident occurred on Monday of last week and no serious effects were anticipated, but last Friday evening the young man was taken with symptoms of lockjaw. Doctors rendered all the assistance possible, but in spite of their efforts he succumbed to the disease.

Excursion Abandoned.

The Board of Trade at its meeting last evening passed a resolution directing the subscribers to silk mill bonds to pay the second installment of 10 per cent to the Citizens' bank by August 20. The excursion which was to be held on September 5 to Rittersville park was abandoned, and a picnic will be held here instead on the 19th of that month.

Married Yesterday.

Hugh Connor and Miss Eliza McCann, of Sandy Run, were married yesterday afternoon at Eckley by Rev. Thos. Brehony, Miss Lizzie Gallagher, of Freeland, and Joseph Gallagher, of Sandy Run, were bridesmaid and groomsmen. The wedding festivities took place last evening at the residence of the bride, where the couple will remain for awhile.

Affected by the Sun.

Michael Sweeney, an aged resident of Drifton, was prostrated by the heat while walking down Centre street Monday afternoon. When opposite the store of H. P. Malloy the old man fell to the ground unconscious. Physicians were summoned and he was kindly cared for by Mrs. Malloy, and was removed to his home in the evening.

A Farewell Party.

A farewell party was tendered Miss Hannah Wilson on Monday evening by a score of her lady friends of town. The Cottage hall was engaged for the occasion, and all enjoyed themselves merrily until a late hour. In departing for their homes they wished Miss Wilson much happiness at her future home in Sugar Notch.

PERSONALITIES.

Freeland sent a good representation to the seashore yesterday morning. To Sea Isle City went Chas. Orion Stroh, Esq., N. J. Owens and H. W. Fackler, each accompanied by his wife, and B. F. Davis and A. A. Bachman and their wives went to Angelsea.

William Wilson, who was driver boss for several years at No. 2 colliery, Drifton, removed his family from Freeland on Monday to Sugar Notch, where he has accepted a position under Superintendent P. M. Boyle.

Miss Mollie Haggerty, of Ashley, is visiting the family of Hugh Malloy, Centre and Walnut streets.

James McGettrick has accepted a position as bartender for Condy O. Boyle.

Rev. John Stas attended to business at Wilkesbarre yesterday.

There is more catarrh in this section of the county than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, etc.

What He Needed. "You need a change of scene and air," said the physician, with the air of a man who knows what he is talking about.

"Thank you," returned the patient. "Would a trip to Winnipeg do me any good?"

"Certainly. A trip almost anywhere would do you good, and the sooner you start the better. Can you go at once?"

"Why, yes," replied the patient. "You see I just stopped over in Chicago for a day or two on my way to Winnipeg from New Orleans. I live in Winnipeg, you know."

Then the doctor smiled in a sickly sort of way and said there would be no charge.—Chicago Post.

No Better Evidence Needed.

Customer—I don't know about buying any sausage this morning. I've got tired of always seeing a great, big, worthless dog hanging about here. It doesn't look just right for a meat market.

Butcher—You needn't be suspicious about my sausages, ma'am, unless you come in here some morning and find that dog missing.—Chicago Tribune.

A Great Head.

"Jones—That was a good scheme I worked on my neighbor Dugly last evening.

"Jones—What was that?"

"Jones—I got him into an argument about lawn mowing, and insisted he knew nothing about it; he got so excited that in order to prove his point he hit in and mowed my whole yard.—Town Topics.

Perils of Wealth.

Jinks—Every day I read in the papers about some great man being injured by smoking. The last one is the prince of Wales. The doctors have stopped him. Now I must say, as I am a smoker myself, such things trouble me.

Winks—Oh, don't worry. All those men are rich, and can afford to smoke real tobacco.—N. Y. Weekly.

Baldness Accounted For.

"What makes your whiskers thicker on the right side of your face?" asked Glibbly of Hostetter McGinnis.

"Oh, that comes from always sleeping on the left side of the face; that rubs away the hair."

"If that's the rule, I suppose these bald-headed men must sleep while standing on their heads."—Texas Sifter.

Strictly Truthful.

Marie—Jack, you told mamma a fib. You said that while you were in Monte Carlo you spent all your time bicycling, when I know positively that you were gambling at the Casino.

Jack—Bicycling? Who said anything about bicycling? I told her that I spent the most of my time on the wheel.—Town Topics.

Favorable Progress.

"Have you heard from your daughter since she started on her wedding tour? Is she happy?"

"Very much so. Only think, in Venice she commenced to have her own way in everything, and ever since they left Rome she has carried the purse!"—Tit-Bits.

The Mind Cured.

"Yes, Dr. Dobbs saved my husband's life when he had typhoid fever."

"How did he do it?"

"I ran a lawn mower up and down outside the window and threw him into a profuse perspiration."—Chicago Record.

Opposed to it on Principle.

Miss Inogene—Do you think it is unlucky to get married on Friday? Miss Fortitude (caldly)—I think it is unlucky to get married on any day.—Somerville Journal.

WEATHER CAUSED TROUBLE.

Philadelphians Fought for Possession of a Shaded Alley.

From Yesterday's Philadelphia Times. It is safe to say that there were many persons, usually regarded as law-abiding, who yesterday wished that they could use a weapon of some sort upon acquaintances assailing them with, "Is it hot enough for you?" and the like.

There was one who went further than merely to look daggers. He is Peter Markowsky, of 125 Church street, whose ire was aroused by Edward Thomas, his next-door neighbor. There has long been a dispute between them as to who has the more right to an alleyway between their houses, and when Thomas came home early yesterday morning, and found that Markowsky had turned the disputed territory into a sleeping place he decided to enter a formal remonstrance.

This took the shape of two kicks, and the question, "Ain't it cool enough for you in the house?" Peter sprang upon his assailant, who pulled out a knife, and tried to plunge it into him. Managing to get away for an instant Peter got a big fork from the edge of a table close to one of the front windows of his house. Then a duel began that ended in the defeat of Markowsky, who fell upon the pavement with a wound in his right side. Thomas, whose scalp had been torn up by Peter's fork, ran down the street into the arms of Policeman Kennedy.

The inhabitants of the thickly-populated street had been aroused, and it required a good deal of very vehement diplomacy by the blue-coat to keep the adherents of the house of Markowsky from attacking those of the house of Thomas. The rudely awakened man was taken to the Pennsylvania hospital, where he remains in a serious condition. Thomas was held in $800 bail for his hearing.

Fatal Powder Explosion.

A serious accident occurred at the Washington colliery of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company, at Plymouth, on Tuesday, in which two persons were seriously burned. The injured ones are John Gerski, a laborer, and William Bamrick, 15 years old, Joseph Bevan, a miner, had just taken the powder out of the keg, made a cartridge and walked up to the heading to fire it off, when young Bamrick came in asking Gerski for some oil. The two went to the tool chest to get it. Gerski was leaning over and a spark from his lamp dropped into the open keg, causing a terrific explosion, which hurled the two back and burned them in a frightful manner. Bamrick was removed to the home of his parents and Gerski was taken to Wilkesbarre hospital. Neither will recover.

Knights of Pythias State Officers.

The committee of grand lodge officers of the Knights of Pythias has finished its count of the votes cast for grand lodge officers, and they have declared the following men elected: Chancellor, H. N. Dunnell. Secretary, vice chancellor, Charles F. Linds, Philadelphia; prelate, John S. Graham, Lancaster; keeper of records and seal, George Hawkes, Philadelphia; master of exchequer, Julius Mounthey, Philadelphia; master at arms, Scott Dibert, Pittsburg; outer guard, C. M. Deen, Reading; trustee, William B. Hunt, Philadelphia.

There was no election of inner guard, as no one of the candidates received a majority of all the votes cast. This contest will, therefore, have to be determined by the grand lodge, when it convenes in Gettysburg next week.

New Series of Stock.

The Locest Mountain Saving and Loan Association of Ashland, Pa., will issue the eighteenth series of stock on August 19, when the first installment of $1.50 per share will be received, said installment being $1.00 for dues and 50 cents for initiation fee.

This association is in existence since August, 1879, and has matured seven series of stock and offers special inducements to parties desiring to build or pay off old mortgages.

For further information call on or address Chas. Orion Stroh, Esq., who is fully authorized to receive subscriptions. By order of the board of directors, Attest: Frank Rantz, secretary.

A Pointer on Neckwear.

The assortment of neckwear carried by L. Olsho at his store, 57 Centre street, is as large, as neat and as pretty as you can find within a radius of twenty miles, and the important feature of this great assortment is the low price at which it is sold. Our readers should know by this time that Mr. Olsho does just as he advertises to do, and when he says in his ad that his neckwear is fine you can depend that it is so. All the latest fashionable styles and designs in complete lines.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

There is nothing cheap about the Wear Well footwear except the price. It can't be lower. Try their shoes.

THE WORLD OF POLITICS.

NOTES AND COMMENTS ON MATTERS WHICH INTEREST VOTERS.

Silver Sentiment Continues to Gain Receipts All Along the Line—Bryan's Triumphant March Into the Home of the Gold Men—Some Local Politics.

Schuykill Democrats nominated their ticket on Monday. The platform heartily endorses free silver and the national ticket, and calls for the resignation of Democratic presidential electors who are against Bryan. The nominees are: Congressman, Watson F. Shepherd, Pottsville; treasurer, George Fulmer, Shenandoah; prothonotary, Harry Braggan, Shenandoah; clerk of courts, Phil J. Connel, Girardville; recorder, Fred Portz, Pottsville; commissioners, John P. Martin, Pine Grove, and P. J. Ferguson, Shenandoah; register, J. J. Myers, Mahanoy City. The party is united in every respect, and the ticket is expected to sweep the county by several thousand majority.

Bryan's trip to the East, from Friday last, when he left his home at Lincoln, Nebraska, until he reached New York city last night, was the greatest tour ever made by a public official or private citizen in this country. Thousands greeted him at every station, night and day, and the ovations tendered him at the various stopping places were never equalled in these towns. The demonstration in New York city last evening, when he was officially notified of his nomination, surpassed anything of the kind ever attempted in the metropolis. On the second and third pages of this issue will be found his complete speech.

Before this campaign is over the Republicans will find themselves pushed pretty hard in the fourth district. They will be invited to participate in joint debates on the silver question and to come out into the open and defend their support of the gold standard. The Democrats cannot assure the voters that the invitation will be accepted, but nothing on their part will be lacking to make this an educational campaign.

In Foster township the silver sentiment has caught the Republicans, and a break of large proportions seems imminent. At the last election Highland polled twenty-four Republican votes, and seven of these men are now radical silver advocates. Even Sandy Run, one of the stiffest Republican towns in the state, reports four converts to the cause of bimetallicism.

Since retiring from business Hugh Malloy has made a special study of the money question, and the results are gratifying. He has vanquished the gold standard men of the North ward and has ridged every one of their arguments, and is now looking for new fields to conquer. The yellow metal people, however, are fighting shy of him.

Thomas McGraw, accompanied by his son, Chris H. McGraw, of Beach Haven, visited friends in town this week. The latter is a candidate for the commission-ership nomination, and is being piloted through the county by his father, who was on the ticket three years ago.

At a meeting of enthusiastic Democrats on Monday evening at Hazleton a Bryan and Sewall Silver Club was organized with over 100 members. James P. Gorman was elected president and Daniel Brifhoff secretary.

John M. Garman has consented to allow his friends to present his name to the Democratic convention as a candidate for congress.

The contest for the nomination of commissioners has narrowed down to Duillard, Koons, Beldeiman, McGraw and Guinley.
