The gormandizer likes it because it is fine. The workman likes it because it quenches his thirst, enriches his blood, and strengthens his muscle. It is cheap. The mother likes it—it keeps her boys at home. The women of America like it, because it takes the place of intoxicants. This Hires Rootbeer, Campaign paraders will use it.

When baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had children, she gave them Castoria.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Three Italians Attempt to Shoot the Reese Brothers at Audenried.

From the Hazleton Standard. Great excitement prevailed at Audenried last evening when it became known that an attempt had been made by three Italians to murder the Reese brothers, who conduct a livery stable at that place. The three Italians in question appeared at the stable last evening and hired a horse, but refused to pay the amount asked for by the liveryman. They became very boisterous at once, and when Evan Reese demanded the money they left the stable wild with rage.

Mr. Reese closed the door immediately after they departed, but had hardly done so before a volley of stones was hurled against the door, followed a moment later by three shots. Fortunately the Italians were not very good marksmen, and the bullets went wide of their mark.

Descriptions of the men were sent along the trolley line, with instructions to place them under arrest.

Captain Simpson arrested four Italians at Hazleton Junction and took them before Squire Robinson, but they were not the men wanted and were immediately discharged. A warrant was afterwards sworn out before Squire Robinson, and the murderous villains will no doubt be apprehended today.

Selected a Manager.

The directors of the Grand opera house have filled the vacancy caused by the resignation of Manager George McLaughlin. John J. Welsh, ex-manager of Yannes' opera house, was chosen to the position, and the Young Men's Corps, which owns the building, yesterday approved of the choice. The selection is conceded by all who are interested in theatrical matters to be one of the best that could be made. Mr. Welsh is well qualified, having had over three years' experience in the business. He is energetic and enterprising, and fully understands how to make an opera house in Freeland pay. Although it is rather late in the season to take charge, the new manager expects to be able to bring some first-class attractions to the Grand this winter. He will assume control tomorrow.

Sudden Death of a Child.

Grace, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Timony, died at 10.30 o'clock yesterday morning at her parents' home at Centre and Carbon streets after a very short illness. On Saturday evening the child complained of feeling unwell but aros yesterday and appeared to be much better. About 10 o'clock she was overcome with a sinking spell and rapidly grew weaker. Half an hour later she died. The little one was a bright child, and her sudden death is deeply regretted by her young and old friends. She was aged 8 years, 8 months and 25 days. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment at St. Ann's cemetery.

Mission Closes on Tuesday.

The mission which began at St. Ann's church on the 13th inst. will close on Wednesday morning. The last but one of the evening sermons will be delivered tonight, and will be for the special benefit of the young men and young women of the parish. The mission has been very successful from the beginning, and the priests who conducted it, Revs. Louis Echholtz, Clement J. Alton and Henry Geron, of New York city, are confident that their labors in this vicinity will bear good fruit.

Hurdship of the Jury Law.

Wilson Gibbons, a juror sitting on the Annutz murder case, received a telegram that his wife, living in Huntingdon township, was dangerously ill and requested him to come home at once. Judge Lynch said he could not dismiss a juror in a murder case. Two hours later another telegram came stating that his wife was dying. When the case was concluded and the jury discharged, Mr. Gibbons hurried out of the court room and was met by a messenger with the sorrowful tidings that his wife was dead.

A Severe Hall Storm.

One of the severest hall storms, accompanied by a high wind, that ever visited this state raged between 3 and 4 o'clock on Thursday afternoon. Freeland felt the storm but very little, but it played havoc with almost every town in Columbia, Schuylkill, Lehigh and Montgomery counties. The hail stones were of the size of large plums on the average and one stone picked up measured six and three-quarter inches in circumference. No less than $1,000,000 damage was done.

Criminal Caught in Italy.

News has been received in Hazleton of the capture of Joseph Carmarona, a member of the famous Passarella gang which last year created such consternation in the lower end of Luzerne. The evidence was submitted by Rhona Tresscott. It is not known whether the criminal will be brought to this country for trial or whether the Italian authorities will themselves administer justice.

DRIFTON ITEMS.

Mrs. George S. Wentz, wife of the well-known physician of Drifton, died at her home on Thursday, after a week's illness. Deceased was the youngest sister of Judge John Lisenburg, and was born in Mauch Chunk 58 years ago. The direct cause of death was meningitis, resulting from apoplexy. Her husband and three sons survive her. The latter are: Dr. John L. Wentz, of Scranton; Dr. George L. Wentz and Perry Wentz, of Drifton.

At noon on Saturday a special train conveyed the remains to Mauch Chunk, where the internment was made. Mrs. Wentz was a popular lady, and during her residence in Eckley, Jeddo and this place made many fast friends. Sympathy was expressed on all sides when the sad news became known.

John J. McCarthy has resigned his position in the mines here, and will in the future devote his time to selling pianos. He has been local agent for a large firm for a year or more, and his trade has increased so much lately that the firm requests him to give the business his entire attention.

Eckley B. Cox, Jr., of town, has donated $1,500 to the Freeland Mining and Mechanical Institute.

PERSONALITIES.

Mrs. Jane DeFoy, who conducted the Washington cottage at Atlantic City during the summer months, has returned to town. The latter part of the season at the summer resorts was very successful.

Mrs. George Wilmot and Mrs. Thomas Kromas and daughter Gertrude, of Upper Lehigh, are the guests of Mrs. Hiram F. Helman.—Catsaqua Record.

Libor Winter entertained several of his old comrades of the Eighty-first regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, at his home on Thursday evening.

Domie Timony, of Jeddo, the popular Traction conductor, left this morning to spend two weeks at Philadelphia, New York and Allentown.

Harry McClellan attended the state convention of the J. O. U. A. M. at Gettysburg last week.

W. H. Butz and family will spend this week with relatives at Allentown.

POLITICAL PICKUPS.

Several persons went to Wilkesbarre this morning to apply for naturalization papers. They were principally men who intend to be Democrats. On Monday next the Republican leaders will take up their unnaturalized friends on a special train and bring them home full-fledged citizens. The fare from Freeland on the special will be $1 for the round trip.

A Republican rally will be held at Yannes' opera house on Thursday evening. The local club is endeavoring to secure some prominent speakers for the occasion.

Several of the free silver men of town have suggested that a meeting be held next Saturday evening for the purpose of organizing a club. Further particulars will be given in Thursday's Tribune.

BASE BALL BRIEFS.

McGarvey, Broderick and Gillespie, three Freeland players, assisted the Berwick club on Saturday in defeating Danville. The score was 11 to 2.

The Wilkesbarre Eastern league club, scheduled to play here next Sunday, will not appear, as Manager Hanlon has cancelled the game.

Fearnorts were at Leighton on Saturday, but were unable to finish the game on account of rain.

Yesterday's scores in the Anthracite league were: Travelers, 1; Lattimer, 8; Athletics, 21; Fearnorts, 17.

The clubs stand as follows:
W. L. P. C. W. L. P. C.
Athletics.....15 4 789 Lattimer.....9 9 300
Travelers.....11 7 611 McAdoo.....5 4 294
Fearnorts.....11 7 611 Milesville.....3 15 167

Junior Mechanics' Officers.
The Junior Order United American Mechanics have elected state officers as follows: Councilor, Rev. H. D. Lichtenberger, Sharpburg; senior vice councilor, Dr. H. P. Dickson, Glen Riddle; junior past councilor, C. B. Johnson, Wilkesbarre; treasurer, John Calver, Philadelphia; secretary, Ed. G. Dunn, Philadelphia; national representatives, John Martin, Walter Beck, W. C. Miltenberger and G. W. Cooper.

Altoona was chosen as the next meeting place. The per capita tax was raised from 22 to 28 cents, and a special tax of 5 cents was placed on each member.

Policeman and His Assistant Wounded.
Policeman George Jones and Michael Kelly, of Edwardsville, were shot on Friday night by Charles Jones and John Sulliger, two desperate characters. The men were creating a disturbance and Officer Jones attempted to arrest them, but they beat him off. The police then called upon Michael Kelly to assist him, but as they advanced, the desperadoes drew pistols and began firing. A lively exchange of shots took place in which Kelly and Policeman Jones were both wounded, Jones being shot through the leg and Kelly in the body. The desperadoes escaped.

DISCHARGED BY THE COURT.

Catharine Annutz and Her Husband Not Guilty of the Lattimer Murder.

The remarkable self-sacrifice of Catharine Annutz, of Lattimer, who, by temporarily taking responsibility for a brother's deed, enabled him to escape trial for murder, was fully disclosed upon her trial for the crime. It was clearly shown that she herself was innocent of violence, and, by the decree of Judge Lynch, she was discharged by proclamation.

The story of the crime, as originally told by the woman, Mrs. Annutz, is that Gellell, the murdered man, who was married and had a family, came to her house on the night before the murder. On being discovered by herself and husband Gellell escaped, but left his hat, by which he was identified.

Early next morning, before going to work, Gellell came to the Annutz home, the woman said, and got down on his knees to apologize to Mrs. Annutz for the insult, when she grabbed a revolver that lay on the table and fired five shots at him, killing him almost instantly.

The woman at the habeas corpus hearing admitted the shooting, and took the whole responsibility, saying that she alone was to blame for the homicide.

When the prisoner took the stand on Thursday in her own behalf she denied that she did the shooting. She said her brother and Gellell got into a quarrel at her house, and the former pulled a revolver and killed the intruder. She claimed that she was excited when she saw the man was dead, and told the story of herself shooting him in order to save her brother, who has since made his escape and left the country.

Other evidence was produced which proved that the defendant was wholly innocent of the shooting, and so the court ordered her release.

Veterans Met at Hazleton.

The Eighty-first regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, held its reunion in Hazleton on Thursday. There were exercises during the day and a banquet in the evening. The regiment was recruited in August, 1861, in obedience to an order of the war department. Six companies were formed in Philadelphia, three in Carbon and one in Luzerne. The only company raised in this county was Company K, which left Eckley with 100 men. Among those of this vicinity who attended the reunion were: Libor Winter and James Edgar, Freeland; Albert Shive, Drifton, and William Aubrey, Eckley.

Appropriate resolutions on the death of Mrs. George S. Wentz were adopted by the survivors. She was one of the Eckley ladies who presented Company K with a handsome flag before it went to the front.

The following officers were elected: President, Charles D. Foster, East Mauch Chunk; first vice president, Captain H. Wilson, Philadelphia; second vice president, Captain T. C. Williams, Lansford; secretary, Jacob Heintz, Sr., Philadelphia; treasurer, John Campton, Philadelphia.

The Hazleton Sentinel says: The Philadelphia delegation arrived about noon and were escorted to the hall. Among the latter was Captain McKinnon, who formerly lived in Eckley. The only man of the company organized in Eckley now living in Eckley is William Aubrey.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

MR. BERRY'S OBJECTIONS.

MINORITY REPORT OF THE MINE INSPECTOR'S BOARD.

Irreconcilable Proof Offered That the Candidate Who Was Recommended Did Not Attain the Standard Required by Law—High-Handed Proceedings.

John W. Berry, of Pittston, a few days ago submitted his minority report to Governor Hastings, objecting to the appointment of William H. Davies, of Nesquehoning, as mine inspector to succeed Mr. Roderick, of this district, who has resigned. Governor Hastings has, however, made the appointment. There has been great interest manifested in Mr. Berry's minority report and thousands of miners and others who are interested in the inspectorship have been anxious to know just what Mr. Berry's reasons for objecting are. In the Wilkesbarre Record of a recent date is published the following, taken from Mr. Berry's report:

As one of the engineer members of the board of examiners for the office of inspector of mines for the counties of Luzerne, Carbon and Schuylkill, appointed in accordance with Article II, Section 3, of the act of 1891, I beg leave to submit this minority report on the recent examination of candidates for inspector of the fifth district, vice James E. Roderick resigned.

First. The board of examiners, contrary to law, have fixed an arbitrary grading for each question; to illustrate, questions No. 4, 5 and 6 relate to experience and are as follows:

"Question 4. What occupation have you held in the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania? Give the name and location of the collieries, and the time employed in each situation.

"Question 5. With what methods of mining have you had experience? Give the names of mines, with a brief description of the system adopted in each. Explain also the best methods of mining for the fifth anthracite district.

"Question 6. Give the length of time and nature of your experience with noxious and explosive gases, naming the collieries in which the said gases were found."

In all thirty-seven questions were asked. To the first three questions no points were allotted.

To the remaining thirty-four questions including Nos. 4, 5 and 6, 425 points were allotted. An applicant receiving 425 points would have passed a perfect examination, and an applicant losing over 42 1/2 points would in accordance with this arbitrary method have failed to reach the 90 per centum required in Article II, Section 5 of the act.

The first paragraph of Section 5, Article II, of the act of 1891, is as follows: "The person so appointed must be a citizen of Pennsylvania and shall have attained the age of thirty years. He must have a knowledge of the different systems of working coal mines and he must produce satisfactory evidence to the board of examiners of having had at least five (5) years practical experience in anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania. He must have had experience in coal mines where noxious and explosive gases are evolved."

As I understand this section of the act, a candidate is either eligible or ineligible in the matter of experience. The language of the act is "He must," and the word "must" is used in every sentence. "Must be a citizen of Pennsylvania. Must have a knowledge of the different systems of working coal mines. Must produce satisfactory evidence of having had at least five years practical experience in anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania. Must have had experience in coal mines where noxious and explosive gases are evolved."

An experience less than five years will not do. A partial knowledge of the different systems of mining will not do. He must have the experience—and having it—he is eligible for examination on other matters. Hence there can be no rating of the questions 4, 5 and 6 even assuming that the method of rating the other questions was in accordance with the law.

The second clause of Section 5, Article II, of the act of 1891, provides as follows: "The said examiners shall be sworn to a faithful discharge of their duty, and four of them shall agree in their recommendation of all candidates to the governor who have answered ninety per centum of the questions."

Can this be construed in any way to mean 90 per centum of the sum of an arbitrary number of points fixed to the questions by a board of examiners? The language of the act is "90 per centum of the questions," not "90 per centum of an arbitrary number of points.

Suppose for illustration that the majority of the board had a favorite candidate; further, that he had had some of the questions previous to the examination or that such questions as he had answered were known to said majority of the board. Then a higher value could be set on those questions and the favorite candidate would probably pass.

Again, each member of the board has equal powers and equal rights (as stated in an opinion given me by Deputy Attorney General Eekin under date of March 14, 1895) and the questions given by each member of the board should have equal values.

If it be allowed otherwise then one of the safeguards against favoritism, provided by the law, is inoperative. The board is composed of two engineers and three miners, and it is rare, indeed, when all members of the board are educated sufficiently to judge of the relative values of all the questions and answers.

In this examination the number of points allotted to each member's questions were as follows:
To Mr. Kelly's questions 95 points.
To Mr. Lattimer's questions 85 points.
To Mr. Jones' questions 85 points.
