REPUBLICAN RALLY.

First Meeting of the Campaign Held on Last Thursday Evening.

The Republicans of Freeland and the North Side held their first rally on Thursday evening. Previous to assembling at Yannes' opera house the Hazleton club and Sandy Run band paraded the town, and the nobby uniforms of the former organization attracted much attention. At the opera house the meeting was called to order by Attorney Chas. Orion Stroh, who announced the secretaries and vice presidents, and introduced George H. Troutman, Esq., of Hazleton. The latter's address was not lengthy, but was very pointed, and the speaker scolded the Bryanites severely for their criticisms of the federal government. He claimed that what they advocate contains the germs of secession.

Next came Rev. H. H. Harris, of Scranton, who likewise deplored the fact that so many citizens are arrayed on the Democratic side. He made brief comparisons of the national candidates and their platforms, and figured out McKinley as a statesman of world-wide reputation and his opponent as a man unknown before his nomination. The balance of the speech was taken up with pleas for the Republican tariff doctrine.

E. J. Lowrey, also of Scranton, was then introduced with a promise that he would speak on the currency question.

He started in with the statement that the money part of the campaign was something which should be left for the statesmen of the country to decide. The history of silver in some other countries was briefly reviewed, and the inability to maintain it on a parity with gold was shown to his own satisfaction.

The stock arguments of the "50-cent dollar" and the horrible examples furnished by silver countries like Mexico and China took up the balance of his time, except a few minutes which he devoted to praising Morgan B. Williams as a friend of the workingmen, in which he claimed credit for him in helping to pass the semi-monthly pay law.

H. S. Johnston, of Pittston, followed with a well-studied introductory burst of spread-eagleism. He amused the audience immensely with his by-plays and held the attention of the crowd fairly well. He also gave his views on money matters, and predicted that gold would fly from the country the day after Bryan's election. The remainder of the speech was for Morgan B. Williams.

None of the speakers had a word to say for any county candidate but Mr. Williams, and no opportunity to ask questions was offered to those who might desire further information on the currency problem.

Silverites Will Organize.
Every citizen of the North Side who is friendly to the cause of free silver is invited to attend a meeting to be held at the Grand opera house (third floor) on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, when a Bryan and Sewall Free Silver Club will be permanently organized. Every voter who desires further knowledge on the money question is also invited to attend, as the meeting will be addressed by prominent out-of-town speakers. Arrangements will also be completed at this meeting for a rally on Saturday evening at the Grand opera house (first floor), at which several men of national reputation will speak on the issues of the campaign.

The movement to organize a free silver club in Freeland came to a head last evening. A number of the followers of Bryan and Sewall happened to meet, and it was agreed that the time had come to organize the forces on the North Side. A meeting was held at Squire Buckley's office, and a temporary organization effected as follows: Chairman, T. A. Buckley; secretary, James G. Bohlin.

Thirty-three voters signed the call for Thursday evening's meeting, and four others have since added their names. Speakers will be engaged today for the meetings on Thursday and Saturday evenings. The list of members so far enrolled contains thirty-seven names. All persons desiring to become members may have their names added by calling at the Tribune office, or by attending the meeting on Thursday evening, when the permanent roll will be made.

Temporary committees on speakers, hall, music and organization are at work, and the prospects of Freeland having a club of 300 or 400 members are very bright.

Fire Company Officers.
The Citizens' Hose Company on Thursday evening elected the following officers:

President—John B. Hanlon.
Vice president—James J. Ward.
Secretary—Timothy J. Boyle.
Treasurer—John M. Powell.
Foreman of hose—James Brennan.
Assistant—William F. Ward.
Foreman of hook and ladder—Gil Dehman.

Directors—Patrick McLaughlin, E. P. Gallagher, P. M. Sweeney.
James P. McNelis and Patrick Welsh were recommended to council for the position of chief of the department.

John J. Welsh was elected to represent the company in the firemen's state convention, to be held in Johnstown October 6 to 9.

TIGERS TAKE THE FIRST.

Anthracite League Champions Defeated in the First Game of the Series.

The Hazleton Athletics came to town yesterday afternoon with the halo of the championship of the Anthracite league strongly in evidence on their brows, and visions of the still wider honor, the championship of the Lehigh region, looming up confidently before their eyes. However, their hopes in this direction remain yet to be fulfilled, as the Tigers do not propose to allow any club to take that honor—which has been theirs for some years past—away from them without a struggle. This struggle the Athletics were unable to put up and the result was a victory for the home team by a score of 7 to 4.

The Tigers strongest material was lined up against the visitors, and the exhibition they gave was superb. Their hitting was effective and the base running was speedy and careful, as it necessarily had to be to beat the wily Catcher Kimmel. In the field they played an excellent game, making only three errors, which were not dangerous. On two occasions they retired their opponents amidst intense excitement, while the latter had all the bases filled.

The Athletics played a stiff game up to the fourth inning when the Tigers pulled together and scored three runs. They could not duplicate it in the next, however, and the Athletics passed them by making two each in the fifth and sixth. The visitors could not score again, however, as they were unable to hit Burke safely, and the home team cut off everything that came in the field. A fair-sized crowd witnessed the game and all apparently enjoyed it.

Following is the score:

TIGERS.		ATHLETICS.
R.	H.	R.	H.
Broedrick	1	Winer	0
M'Fadden	1	Boner	0
J. Boner	2	Grisling	0
M'Garry	3	Kimmel	0
M'Gahan	0	Geating	1
Gillette	1	Brown	2
Gallagher	0	W'P'ch	1
Heron	1	Prom	1
Burke	0	Turbin	0
Total	7	Total	4

Runs earned, Tigers 4; Athletics 1. Two-base hits, J. Boner, Gillette, Wollenbach. Struck out, by Burke 1; by Prom 3. Stolen bases, McFadden, J. Boner 3, Gillette, McGarry, Geating. Double play, Wollenbach to Brown. Bases on balls, off Burke 4; off Prom 2. Umpire, J. M. Gallagher. Time, 1:50.

BASE BALL BRIEFS.

McFadden and Boner, of the Tigers, played with the Sugar Notch team against Moosic at Wilkesbarre on Friday. The game was for a purse of $100 and the gate receipts. Moosic won by a score of 12 to 2. Kelly, who pitched part of a game for the Tigers early in the season, was in the box for Moosic, and only four hits were made off him. McFadden and Boner each had one of these.

The National league season closed yesterday. Following is the order of the clubs and the percentage of each: Baltimore, .698; Cleveland, .625; Cincinnati, .606; Boston, .565; Chicago, .553; Pittsburg, .512; New York, .489; Philadelphia, .477; Washington, .443; St. Louis, .308; Louisville, .290.

Since the Fernouts and Travelers are tied for second place in the Anthracite league, the admirers of both clubs want to see them play a series to ascertain which is the better team.

Winfield and Stanley, the two bright young sons of Elliott A. Oberender, have entered the Mount Pleasant Military Academy, New York.

The second game of the Tigers-Athletic series will be played at Hazleton on Saturday and the last here the day following.

Restriction on the October Output.
The anthracite coal trade was never more completely under the control of the producing interests than it is now. The shipments have been limited so rightly to the requirements of the trade that buyers are anxious, and the companies have small stocks on hand. New England dealers have but moderate supplies, and the same is true of the West, while the dealers located on the railroad lines are running very short. As the retail trade is active everywhere there is a good deal of complaint as to delay in making deliveries.

The question of the October output is now under consideration. In October last year the production was 5,077,000 tons, but it is seriously proposed by some interests to mine but 4,000,000 tons next month. Such a policy would inevitably stiffen prices for the producers. The only question is whether the advance in prices would not cause the consumption to fall off and dealers to limit their purchases to absolute requirements, instead of stocking up for the winter season, as is now their custom.

The immediate course of the trade hangs upon the determination of this one point.

Woman Burned to Death.
Mrs. Martha Snyder, of Mountain Top, died on Tuesday from burns received the day before. While standing by a fire in the yard boiling apple butter her dress caught fire and soon her clothing was ablaze and when help came she was burned so that her flesh was quite brown in places. Her suffering was terrible. She is survived by her husband and six children. Interment was made at Butler on Friday.

LANGAN IS BLAMED.

Mine Commission Places Upon Him the Fault for Loss of Life.

Inspectors Brennan, Stein and Rodrick, together with Governor Hastings, have signed the report of the Twin shaft disaster at Pittston. The report says that the inspectors entered the mine and examined the workings as much as possible, after which miners, colliery owners and officials were examined. The report is a quite lengthy one, giving descriptions of the colliery, how it was worked and other detailed information. The most important paragraph is the one placing the blame, which reads as follows:

"Although a squeeze did occur, Mine Superintendent Langan, who had charge of the work, erred in judgment in going so far into the mine from the bottom of the shaft. Having gone so far from the means of escape to make an examination of the squeezing section of the colliery, he put his men to work to arrest the squeeze which he may have considered local, and he and his men worked for hours under the squeezing territory until the collapse came. So without questioning or doubt, his error of judgment was the cause of the loss of his own life, as well as of those subordinate to him. Mine Inspector McDonald cannot in any way be held responsible for the accident, not having been notified of the squeeze by the mine superintendent."

"The cause of the cave-in being so general and extensive," says the report, "was the hard sand stone rock over the fifth seam, which, when once it began to settle, came in a body and crushed to powder the supports which were left to resist it. A natural fracture in the face of the workings was spoken of in the evidence, which if extensive and running across the face of this territory would without doubt greatly weaken the strata, but as there was no way of ascertaining the extent of this break we will have nothing to say about it in this connection."

Governor Hastings discharged the commission with thanks. A bill will be offered in the next legislature to reimburse the inspectors for their work. Their recommendations will be embodied in a bill, which will also be introduced in the next legislature, amending the mining laws of the state so as to throw greater safeguards around the miners.

Confirmation Services Yesterday.

At St. Ann's Catholic church yesterday confirmation services began at 1:30 o'clock. Before administering the sacrament Bishop Hoban gave a brief explanation of the origin of confirmation, why it is carried out and its uses. The class was one of the largest ever confirmed in St. Ann's church. It contained 416 persons, as follows: Boys, 200; girls, 180; male adults, 21; female adults, 15. The bishop was assisted in the ceremonies by Rev. M. J. Fallhee and Rev. E. A. O'Reilly, of St. Ann's; Rev. John E. Stas, of St. John's, and Rev. J. V. Moylan, of Hazleton. The ceremonies were impressive and were conducted with all the solemnity with which the Catholic Church surrounds its services.

When all had been confirmed they were again addressed by the bishop, who gave them further instructions as to what the church expects of them in the future. The temperance pledge was then administered to the 300 boys, and they gave their promise to abstain from intoxicating liquors until they are twenty-one years of age.

Bishop Hoban was escorted by St. John's Slavonian Society to St. John's church, where a class of about forty-five was confirmed, the services there being the same as before.

"Old Dan Tucker."
The next attraction booked to appear at the Grand opera house will be "Old Dan Tucker," written for Dan Sherman, the well known comedian and acrobatic song and dance artist. It is in three acts and is decidedly burlesque. It opens on the farm of Dorothy Dimple, a widow, who is not averse to taking another husband. Old Dan Tucker is an honest, awkward old farmer, who is in love with the widow. He is entirely too bashful and slow to propose, and when he does muster up courage he finds that Deacon Ricketstraw has eloped with her. Old Dan follows the widow to her city home, where he uncovers a plot wherein the deacon and a Hebrew are going to swindle the widow out of her farm and money. He has the widow's eldest daughter, Mary, run away with a circus manager and become his wife. The widow banishes her from her home forever for marrying the circus man.

Hitty, the youngest daughter, is a bright happy child, who disguises herself in male attire as a swell young man, and secures a job with the circus. She sees her sister, and with old Dan's assistance a reconciliation takes place between the widow and her eldest daughter. Old Dan then marries the widow and all ends well.

The play is interspersed with songs, dances, and funny saying by the town constable, a most important factor, a typical tramp and other characters.

TWO COUNCIL MEETINGS.

MANHOLE TO BE PLACED AT CENTRE AND FRONT STREETS.

The Traction Company Settled Up an Account of Long Standing—Crossings to Be Laid on Luzerne Street—Annexation Opposition Voted Down.

The borough council met on Thursday afternoon. The reading of bills for material, supplies and labor was taken up, and were referred to the street committee for examination and approval. A letter was read from the Climax Road Machine Company in reference to the oil and grease sent to the street commissioner, showing that it was ordered by the latter. The street commissioner denied having written such a letter. He was instructed to write to the company and have the matter straightened out.

A motion was made that Roger McNelis be paid for his work on the stone crusher previous to the time it became the property of the borough, and that the secretary request the company to pay the same to the council.

A communication was read from John Burton, calling attention to the fact that water overflows from Centre street on to his property and damages the same. The street commissioner was authorized to attend to it.

Street Commissioner Moore stated that he had commenced to lay a crossing on the east side of Centre and Luzerne streets, but was stopped by a member of council. It was decided that the street committee and Councilman Brislin investigate the matter, and if they find a crossing necessary to have it laid.

The street commissioner was ordered to have crossings laid on Washington street, as well as on all alleys. Council adjourned to meet the next evening.

On Friday evening the members met again. The following bills were read and approved: M. Halpin, repairs on tools, $12.18; R. C. Roth, repairs on tools, $7.01; Hugh Boyle, burying dog, 50c; Hugh Boyle, janitor and feeding prisoners, $15.75; McMonigle & Boyle, sand, $10.50; William Johnson, hauling stones, $18.50; Dr. J. H. Cloud, secretary Board of Health, $11; J. A. Ward, health officer, $31.50; Dr. F. Schlicher, disinfectants, $18.40; Upper Lehigh Coal Company, powder, etc., $5.02; Electric Light Company, street light, $241.60; Hazleton Iron Works, iron plates, $11.70; Freeland Lumber Company, lumber, $22.12; Climax Road Machine Company, grease and oil, $30.78; R. P. Kealy, surveying, $60.75.

A bill for $7.20 from the Progress was read and ordered returned, as no orders were given to publish the ordinance.

Attorney Carr presented a check received from the Lehigh Traction Company, for publishing ordinance in 1893 giving the company the right of way through the borough. A motion that it be accepted in full for all claims the borough had against the company was passed.

The special committee appointed by council to view the proposed street crossing on the east side of Centre street, across Luzerne, reported that they had decided to lay the crossing and fill in the gutter, which would turn the water east on Luzerne from Centre street. The report was accepted and the work ordered done.

Mr. Neubarger introduced a motion to have another manhole made at the northwest corner of Centre and Front streets, and the same was agreed to.

Mr. Meehan made a motion that any work to be performed hereafter by the borough surveyor, for which the borough will have to pay, shall be done under the supervision of the street committee of council.

The surveyor called the attention of council to the grade on the south side of South street, from Centre to Washington, and stated that two of the property owners desired him to lower the grade so as to not interfere with the entrances to their places of business. The members of the street committee were instructed to view the place and to report at the next regular meeting.

The annexation question was taken up and discussed, and on motion of Mr. Brislin, seconded by Mr. Meehan, that the borough solicitor be authorized to file exceptions to the annexation of South Hoberton. A ballot being taken the motion was lost by a vote of four to two. Messrs. Ritter, Neubarger, Shigo, and Zemanay voted no, and Messrs. Brislin and Meehan yes.

Patrick J. Welsh was elected chief of the fire department, J. P. McNelis having resigned as a candidate.
