OUTLOOK IN LUZERNE.

Democrats Will Win According to the "Newdealer's" Canvass.

The Wilkesbarre Newdealer has just completed a systematic canvass of every election district in the county and is in a position to state that the outlook for Democratic success was never better. It says that "in some districts the surface indications for Bryan and the county ticket are very strong, while in others there is a swift undercurrent running the same way. There are any number of Republicans who will go quietly to the polls on election day and vote for Bryan and Sewall—not that they have any particular love for the Democratic party, but because they believe in its policy on the money question. It is in this class of Republicans that make up the undercurrent now running towards the Democratic goal."

"Then there is another class of Republicans who are drawn to the Democratic ticket by Garman's candidacy for congress. Our canvass shows that Mr. Garman will run away ahead of his ticket. His strength will help the other Democratic candidates considerably. It is safe to say that Mr. Garman's plurality will not be less than 2,000 and the balance of the ticket will win by not less than 1,000 plurality."

"From every part of the county we are assured that the full Democratic vote will be polled. There is harmony in the ranks and a determination upon the part of the district leaders to get out the vote."

"On the whole the outlook could not be better. Our only advice is that the army be kept intact until the blow is struck on the third of November."

A Sudden Death Yesterday.

William Wenner, a member of the firm of S. Wenner & Sons, died yesterday morning at his residence, corner of Centre and Luzerne streets. His death was a surprise to his friends, many of them not being aware of his illness. A few weeks ago the deceased contracted a slight cold, but nothing was thought of the matter until Saturday last, when it had grown so severe that Mr. Wenner had to take to his bed. Pneumonia developed rapidly, and despite all the medical skill which could be summoned the dread disease continued to increase until yesterday morning, when it claimed the young man as its victim.

Mr. Wenner has been associated here in business with his father and brother for some years, and has been looked upon as one of the most successful merchants in the town. He was an active member of the Presbyterian Church, and took a deep interest in its work. He was aged 36 years, and leaves a wife and one child. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon. Services will be held in the Presbyterian church by Rev. J. W. Bischoff, after which the remains will be interred in Freeland cemetery.

Lectures by Rev. Griffith.

Every evening during this and next week Rev. J. T. Griffith will preach in the basement of the English Baptist church, beginning at 7.30 o'clock. To these lectures all are extended a cordial invitation to attend. The subjects of the past evenings were: Monday, "The Showers of Blessings"; Tuesday, "God's Ownership of the Christian"; Wednesday, "The Sin which We Are Commanded Not to Pray For." The subject of this evening will be "The Word Rightly Received," and tomorrow evening "Obedience." The lectures will continue all of next week, except Saturday evening. As there is no admission charged, all who can do so should avail themselves of the privilege to hear these subjects thoroughly treated.

Will Be Tried at Williamsport.

Danny Gross and Adam Heyer, the young men of South Heberton who went into the business of manufacturing lead nickels and were arrested at Nanticoke, are on the way towards serving a term in the penitentiary. True bills have been found against them in the United States circuit court, and when their trial takes place at Williamsport the case will be pushed hard by the government. Uncle Sam generally makes it interesting for those who dabble in the money question in that style.

Birkbeck-Schoener Case.

The case of Charles Schoener vs. Thomas Birkbeck occupied the time in Judge Lynch's court on Tuesday and part of Wednesday. The plaintiff, who is suing for damages, alleges that the defendant entered a judgment note for $375 against him which had previously been paid and that his credit and business standing in the community has been injured thereby.

The case was not concluded yesterday, and the taking of testimony was resumed this morning.

DRIFTON ITEMS.

Facts and Rumors from the Big Town South of Freeland.

Rumor has it here that if Bryan is elected president the shops will shut down. Such was the report last year when the new county bill was up for passage. We were told that if it passed the place would not work any more, and if it did not pass the company would build the D. S. & S. round house at Drifton and work steady. The bill failed, but we fall to see any one of the bosses' promises fulfilled yet. Democrats will not be fooled this year by the bosses. They have played upon our fears pretty often, but this time they can't scare us.

The residents of Shanty Hill were very much excited one evening last week when it was reported that the town was visited by some of the dead. An investigation disclosed the fact that the spooks were two of our young ladies dressed in their big brothers' clothes with a white sheet around them.

The Fearnots were unable to win at Leighton on Tuesday. The game was well-played by both clubs, but the Leighton men carried off the honors by a score of 6 to 0. The boys say they were severely roasted by the umpire.

James Ferry, of Freeland, who was employed as a locomotive engineer, has been promoted to running the stationary engine which was formerly handled by Joseph Kennedy.

Oliver Rinker, of Hazleton, has accepted the management of Cox Bros. & Co.'s meat market here, made vacant by the resignation of Thomas Oberender.

Patrick X. O'Donnell is making a hustling canvass for the office of tax collector of Hazle township on the Democratic ticket.

Mrs. Michael Kelley, of Priceburg, Lackawanna county, is visiting friends here for a few weeks.

Maggie, the fourteen-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Brennan, is dangerously ill.

To Operate the Twin Shaft Again.

After a month's preparation, another attempt has been made to operate the Twin shaft at Pittston. Great progress has been made during the past month in clearing away the gas and opening roads through the caved portion of the mine. About one-half the mine area has now been regained from the grasp of the cave-in, roads have been laid and the roof well propped and collared. The utmost precautions known to mine experts will be taken to insure the safety of the miners.

Superintendent Thomas said that the edge of the cave in the neighborhood of the treacherous No. 3 collar has not rightly settled as yet; a collapse will break away now and then, a signal that the broken portion of the cave has not found its center and may totter over at any moment.

Light on the Monetary Issue.

The Lattimer correspondent of the Plain Speaker says in today's issue: "Many residents of Lattimer and vicinity turned out to hear James F. Sweeney, of Freeland, who spoke on the monetary issue on Tuesday evening, and all who had the pleasure of being present were very much delighted as well as made better acquainted with both sides of the question. The audience was composed of gold and silver politicians. There were also a few prohibitionists present. Mr. Sweeney did not dwell in particular on the silver question, but showed some very good points on both sides. His lecture was very instructive. He may again be engaged to speak here."

Opening of the Ball Season.

The ball season in Freeland is opened every year by the Young Men's C. T. A. B. Corps on October 10. As the date falls on a Saturday this time, the corps will hold its annual ball the night before, which will be tomorrow evening. This organization is probably the strongest, numerically, of the North Side societies, and it has a creditable record in the line of amusements. All the members are working energetically to make the ninth annual ball equal to anything the corps has yet held, and it is almost an assured fact that their efforts will be successful. The ball will be held at the Grand opera house.

Died at Summit Hill.

Patrick McNelis, of Summit Hill, died on Tuesday from general debility and old age. He was a brother of the late Neil McNelis, of Freeland. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning and will be attended by Mrs. Neil McNelis, James P. and Roger McNelis, of Freeland, and James McNelis, of Highland. The deceased was the father of John McNelis, who was employed by the Tribune some years ago.

Special Services at St. Paul's.

At St. Paul's P. M. church, on Fern street, special services will be held daily next week. On Sunday morning at 10.30 the subject will be "The Undying Words of a Dying Father," and on Sunday at 7 o'clock "Obstructive Providences." The week-day evening meetings will begin at 7.30 o'clock. Rev. S. Cooper, the pastor, will be assisted in these special services by Rev. Lees, of Hazleton.

R. & G. corsets are sold at Oswald's.

It has been decided by the anthracite coal trust that the market will take from 3,750,000 to 4,000,000 tons of coal during the current month, and production is to be limited to the latter quantity.

There is to be no change in price at tidewater. G. B. Markle & Co. have advanced the price per wagon load to Freeland consumers from $3.75 to $4.

"The White Crook" Company played to a small audience here on Tuesday evening. The troupe consists of three males and eleven females. The crowd is traveling upon the reputation made by another company of the same name. Some of the females have excellent voices, and they should try and find more elevating occupations for them. The show, as a whole, was rank.
