CENTRE STREET, FREELAND.

DRIFTON ITEMS.

Three suspicious looking men were noticed hanging around town on Saturday night.

Some of the residents are making themselves busy by taking the boards away from the ball park fence.

The executors of the E. B. Cox estate will offer at public sale, on Wednesday, the scientific library of the late Eckley B. Cox.

The Fearnots Athletic Association has remembered those who assisted the ball team last season by presenting a beautiful gold ring to each of the following players:

Mr. and Mrs. Edmunds, who have had charge of the hotel here for some years past, will remove their household goods to Wilkesbarre this week and make that city their future residence.

Great preparations are being made for the annual Christmas Tree festival, which is given every year by the Cox ladies to the children of the Drifton companies' employes.

The employes of the shops and collieries will receive their wages today and the D. S. & S. men will be paid on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cox, of Philadelphia, are visiting friends here for a few weeks.

Bonner Beats "Scaldy Bill."

Jack Bonner, the Summit Hill middleweight, and "Scaldy Bill" Quinn were the stars of Saturday night at the Art Athletic Club, Philadelphia.

PLEASURE CALENDAR.

December 14 to 24.—Fair at English Baptist church basement.

December 16 to 26.—Annual fair of Mayberry band at Yannes' opera house.

December 31.—Eighteenth annual ball of Tigers Athletic Club at Yannes' opera house.

December 31.—Fourth annual ball of St. Vigilio's Throsle Society at Yannes' hall.

BERLIN'S MONUMENTS.

Some of Them at Least Are Real Works of Art.

One Hundred and Twenty-Four Millions of Marks Have Been Spent in the Erection of 235 Imposing Sculptural Works.

[Special Berlin Letter.] The modernizing of Berlin dates, practically, from 1871, at which time the city became, in lieu of being the residence of the Prussian kings for a part of the year only, the capital of reunited Germany and of a powerful empire.

Among the many things which the Berlin of former days was deficient in, monuments and public fountains may be mentioned.

WRANGLER FOUNTAIN NEAR THE THIERGARTEN.

WRANGLER FOUNTAIN NEAR THE THIERGARTEN.

The Berlin people felt this after the war with France, and they have gone about to remedy the defect in their own city.

As to the means needed these have been furnished in all sorts of ways.

It is likewise the present emperor who is now, out of his own pocket, carrying out the vastest sculptural programme probably ever undertaken by a single ruler.

WATERFALL IN VICTORIA PARK.

Cases coming from the whole nation have accomplished the largest part. It has been figured up that by such subscriptions during the past 25 years the pretty sum of 124,000,000 marks has been raised.

Altogether there are now standing in Berlin streets, squares, public places and in front of buildings some 235 monuments, busts or other sculptural works of the larger kind.

WOLF VON SCHIERBRAND.

BATTLE WITH A SHARK.

JOHN SEROOKY, able seaman, was having rather a tough time of it.

He was the only colored man amongst the crew and would not have been on board the Star of Freedom at all had it not been that one of the men engaged had not turned up.

But this was out of the question, so the darky was bundled aboard.

He was only half black, after all. His father had been a Scotch sugar planter.

The men made no objection to him, but Mr. Andrews, the mate, was the sort of man who must have some one to knock about, and John Serooky, or "Cuba," as the crew called him, came in handy.

They had run into the Doldrums before the final climax came.

The washermen saw, and yelled in sudden fright. The cry brought men running out of the house.

A flying black form flew past the others and John Serooky leaped over the taffrail into the sea astern.

Between his grinning teeth he held his sheath knife. With a grand, sweeping stroke he clove his way toward Tom.

"Hol' up! Tom? Hol' up! I see comin'!" yelled John Serooky, as he swam toward his man.

"All right, sonny. I see here, boy!" And, treading water, he supported Tom by clutching the back of his arm.

"What's up, Cuba?" "Hol' up! I see comin'!" yelled John Serooky, as he swam toward his man.

"What's up, Cuba?" "Hol' up! I see comin'!" yelled John Serooky, as he swam toward his man.
