RHEUMATISM

Cured, says Mrs. M. Hill, of GALETON, PENNA.

Probably there is no disease that inflicts so much continuous pain as rheumatism. When it becomes chronic there are few so hard to cure. This disease is caused by an impure state of blood. The impurity consists of an excess of lactic acid, and to drive this acid from the blood is the object of all rational treatment.

The medical faculty have found in Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, a certain and positive cure for this terrible complaint. Mrs. M. Hill, of Galeton, Pa., says: "One year ago I was taken with muscular rheumatism. My limbs were so painful I could scarcely walk. I determined to try Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and before I had used the third bottle the pain was all gone."

Favorite Remedy cures chronic, acute or inflammatory rheumatism; and in diseases brought about by impure blood, or an excess of acid in the blood such as urinary troubles, dyspepsia, constipation, kidney or liver complaints. It is a well known specific.

TIE VOTE ON SECRETARY.

NEW COUNCIL FAILED TO ORGANIZE LAST MONDAY EVENING.

Councilman Meehan Was Elected President, But All Further Business Was Blocked by a Deadlock—Squires Buckley and Shovlin the Contestants.

Freeland borough council has a deadlock on its hands. At present there are two candidates for secretary, T. A. Buckley and H. A. Shovlin, and each has so far received three votes. Fifty-three ballots were taken on Monday with no change, after which council adjourned to meet again this evening, when another attempt will be made to organize.

After the new councilmen, Messrs. Davis, Mulhearn and Miller, presented their certificates of election and took their oath of office, the first business transacted was the unanimous election of Patrick Meehan as president of council. A vote of thanks to Messrs. Neuberger and Shigo, the retiring members, was then adopted.

When the balloting for secretary began the vote was as follows:

For Buckley—Messrs. Davis, Rutter and Zemaney.

For Shovlin—Messrs. Miller, Mulhearn and Meehan.

Forty-four times the roll was called, with the same result on each ballot. A recess of fifteen minutes was then taken, but it had no apparent effect upon the contest, as the vote remained the same on the next three ballots.

On motion of Messrs. Mulhearn and Miller it was agreed to try secret voting, and six ballots were taken by that method without changing the result any. An adjournment was then agreed to.

Burgess Gallagher announced his policy for the council as follows: Patrick McLaughlin, chief; Patrick Welsh, James P. McNelis, M. E. Fritzing, Bernard McFadden, John Murrin, Daniel J. Boyle, Daniel Jones, James J. Kennedy, Stanley Novak, James Dickson, Charles Poloneczky, Tony Haas.

Action on the above officers was withheld until this evening, when it is expected the council will be able to select a secretary, also a treasurer, street commissioner, solicitor and surveyor.

Previous to the above business the members of the former council met. There were present Messrs. Rutter, Meehan, Zemaney, Neuberger and Shigo. The following bills were read and ordered paid: Jas. J. Ward, health officer, $30; Dr. J. H. Cloud, secretary Board of Health, $10; John Danaker, crossing stones, $81.95; John Danaker, building stones, $19.25; Hugh Boyle, janitor and feeding prisoners, $18.50; Citizens' Hose Company, drying hose, $16; Dominick O'Donnell, coal, $4; M. Halpin, repairs on hose cart, $3; T. A. Buckley, salary as secretary and postage, $101; John M. Carr, salary as solicitor and extra expense in widening Centre street, $120; viewers' fees and expenses on Centre street, by order of court, $18; Electric Light Company, street lights, $241.66.

A communication was read from the Water Company relative to two fire hydrants located on Birkbeck street, in the recently annexed portion, and asked if they should be placed on the regular borough bill. The secretary was instructed to notify the company that the same should be charged to the borough, beginning February 1, 1897.

Treasurer McLaughlin reported having received from Hugh Malloy, collector, $135.33; from Burgess McLaughlin, $23.65; from county commissioners, rent of council room on election day, $5; total, $163.98; orders paid, $130; commission, $2.60; balance due treasurer from last meeting, $24.69. Balance March 1, $6.69. The report was approved.

Street Commissioner Moore reported having spent $69.38 on the streets for month of February. The report was approved and ordered paid.

Burgess McLaughlin presented his report for February as follows: Receipts, $12.50; fees and commission, $15; balance due burgess, $2.50. The following amounts were returned for police expenses: Daniel J. Boyle, special officer for Board of Health, $7; on streets, $12; Patrick Welsh, $1.25; J. J. Kennedy, $2; J. M. Gallagher, $3; total, $24.25. The report was approved.

The special committee to which was referred the gas company ordinance reported progress.

Albert DePierro and A. W. Worley were exonerated from the payment of dog taxes, having taken oath that they did not own dogs.

There being no further business council adjourned. The members who held over met immediately and organized temporarily by electing E. W. Rutter chairman. The newly elected burgess, James M. Gallagher, was then sworn in and the new council assembled.

A Pleasing Entertainment.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather a large and attentive audience assembled at Cross Creek hall, Drifton, on Tuesday evening, to witness the Kellogg Bird Concert Company, which was given to the Drifton children. The hall was filled with little folks and many of their parents. It is needless to add that they were delighted with the beautiful stereoscopic pictures of about 100 different birds, and as each picture was thrown upon the canvas, Mr. Kellogg described the habits of each, where it lives, and, with the aid of his natural gift, represented its song and call. These representations were as real as if the birds were themselves chirping among the trees. The pictures themselves were excellent and the songs added greatly to the pleasure of the evening.

Mrs. Kellogg added very much to the entertainment in rendering several beautiful solos and with Mr. Kellogg duets, the favorite being "The Mocking Bird."

The evening was a rare treat to the children, and to all their parents. There is no more attractive study than ornithology—the department of zoology which treats of the structure, habits and classification of birds. The graceful forms, movements and habits of the feathered tribes have been celebrated in all ages by poets and artists, and have furnished the instructors of mankind with lessons of wisdom. This admiration is not confined to the poet, the artist or the sage. It is universal. Wherever human beings are found the forms, the plumage, the songs, the migrations, the loves and the contests of birds awaken curiosity and wonder.

The children showed their admiration by repeated outbursts of praise, and all left the hall rewarded and instructed with the evenings entertainment. Thanks, to the generous friends who contributed towards this pleasure in their behalf.

Excessive Tolls Is the Trouble.

The monthly letter of the Anthracite Coal Operators' Association for March gives the following information as to anthracite coal prices:

"The average price of all sizes in December was about $3.31 at tidewater. Of this the operator received $1.89, with which to pay the cost of mining, royalties, insurance, the interest on his investment in breakers, machinery and other appliances, and the railroad took $1.41 to transport the coal 150 miles, giving it an average of 9.4-10 miles or almost 1 cent per ton per mile on all sizes. Prepared sizes sold for an average of $3.71 and the freight charge was $1.48. Pea coal sold for $2.61 and the freight was $1.10. Buckwheat sold for only $1.80 and was charged $1.22 for freight. The freight on the latter size was only 25 cents less than on a coal that sold for $3.71, or $1.91 more at tidewater than was received for the buckwheat."

The association considers that the carrying charges are too heavy, and that the railroads get too large a share of the amount received for the coal at tide. It is pointed out that bituminous coal is carried to market for from 2.19 to 4.50 mills per ton per mile. The latter goes on to say:

"If the anthracite carrying railroads would give this fuel the average rate per ton per mile given for bituminous coals, say three mills, anthracite could be delivered at tidewater for $2.35, or nearly $1 less than at present. The high rate now charged contrasts the market, and as a result the collieries can work only 150 to 175 days this year, whereas with a lower freight the market would be greatly broadened and could readily absorb the output of 250 days' work, beside furnishing this fuel to the consumer at a much lower cost than at present."

Large Reductions of Wages.

A cut in wages, to go into immediate effect, has been announced on the South Side by the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company. The bosses here the heaviest reduction. Those receiving $100 a month are reduced to $75, and all other employees down to laborers are cut in proportion, the latter from 90 to 80 cents a day. It is announced that the Lehigh Valley Coal Company will make a similar reduction.

The reduction was so severe on the company men, patchers and drivers that they unanimously agreed to discontinue work rather than toil for the beggarly wages offered. The strike began yesterday and is still on. Superintendent Lawall is at Washington and until he returns no change is expected. Several men who refused to take strikers' places have been discharged. It is possible that the strike may extend to the miners employed by that company on the South Side.

Contest Over a Commission.

At the last election two justices of the peace were elected in McAdoo. Squire Dailey was elected when the town was included in Kline township and has one more year to serve, which will probably deprive one of the two men recently chosen of a commission. Attorney General McCormick has been consulted, but his opinion that Mr. Dailey is entitled to serve another year has not settled matters. The contest will be carried to court.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

EDITOR TRIBUNE.—If you will again allow me. In its last issue, the Press, in a labored article of a full column, again writes about "the same person to whom we had to refer in our last issue." It does not seem to be such a compulsory task, judging by the space taken, which without doubt could have been devoted to matter more remunerative to its writer, and would have reflected to his credit. At this rate I may expect at least two columns in his next.

It refutes nothing (simply, very simply, indulges in the usual personalities, with which I have nothing to do—leaving them for the party for whom intended, and he evidently would not stoop to reply) but contents itself by denying the reference to the saloon, which I presume he evades by drawing the line at the back entrance to the institution.

"The half has not been told." If the other half were told it would not redound with credit to the Press.

But the worst feature evidently, and one that hurts the most, is that those Democrats (Mr. Bachman and Mr. Buckley) whose election my article urged, were elected by Republican votes by the largest majorities of any, proving that the majority of voters were with the writer in selecting the best men for the taxpayers' interests.

I thank the TRIBUNE for its courtesy and will close for this issue, as there is nothing in the Press which is worthy of a reply, and remain.

A Life-long but Progressive Republican.

Destructive Cave-In at Wyoming.

One of the most disastrous cave-ins which has ever occurred in the Wyoming valley took place on Monday night at Wyoming, this county. The buildings destroyed are the postoffice, residence of Daniel Ellsworth, the Stark residence and the house of John Daryshire. The houses of David Totten, Charles Towns and Mrs. Spierling were badly damaged. The post office, the first building affected, is twenty-five feet below the surface. It is a two-story frame building and is nearly a wreck. The people employed in it got out at the first indication of the disaster. Then with great care they removed the letters, stamps and money. The furniture, however, could not be taken out.

The mine that is causing all the trouble in the Mount Lookout colliery of Simpson & Watkins, one of the largest collieries in the valley. At the point where the cave-in is the first working is 600 feet beneath the surface, while other veins are being operated at 800 feet and 1,000 feet. Between this 600 foot vein and the surface is the quicksand, 100 feet in depth, which occasioned great trouble at the time the Mount Lookout shaft was being sunk.

School Board's Short Session.

The regular meeting of the school board was held last evening with Messrs. Rute, Sweeney, Johnson and Ferry present. The following bills were ordered paid: A. H. Freas, hauling coal, $7.50; Geo. Filby, cleaning snow, $6.73; H. P. Malloy, supplies, $2.20; Mrs. Donlin, cleaning outhouses, $5. Bills of Freeland Water Co. for $54 and L. H. Lentz for $3.03 were laid over, the former until the board can get a reduction on water rent if possible.

A communication from Prof. McBerly, requesting books of geometry and beginners' course in Latin, were laid over until Wednesday evening. The secretary was ordered to draw orders for teachers' salary. The board will meet again next Wednesday evening.

Death of Dr. Joseph F. Gallagher.

Dr. Joseph F. Gallagher, whose illness has been noted several times during the past year, died at the home of his mother, Centre and Main streets, at an early hour yesterday morning. Death did not come as a surprise to his friends and relatives, as the young physician has been seriously ill for over a year and within the past month the end was momentarily expected. Mr. Gallagher was in his twenty-fifth year and had before him a future much brighter than that with which the average man is blessed at this age. He was devoted to his chosen profession and his rapid rise in the medical ranks was proof that before many years he would have earned an enviable reputation for himself.

Dr. Gallagher was born at Yorktown, Carbon county, in 1872. With his parents he came here at the age of four years. His education was received in the public schools of town, which was supplemented with a preparatory course at Bloomsburg normal school. Some time was then spent as assistant in Grover's drug store, after which he entered Jefferson college, Philadelphia, where he graduated with honors at the age of 22 years. Nearly a year was spent here as assistant to Dr. H. M. Neale, which position he relinquished to accept a similar one at the Ashland miners' hospital. He entered upon his new duties full of vigor and ambition, and was rapidly advancing in skill and experience when blood poisoning of the stomach was contracted in some manner a year ago and he found it necessary to return home for treatment.

As his condition did not improve he was advised to spend a few months in North Carolina, among the pines of that state, which was done. The change apparently did him some good, but a permanent cure was not effected, and last summer he visited the Adirondacks, but received no lasting benefit from his visit to the New York mountains. Since his return home he has received the best of medical attention, but the disease which was sapping the young life away could not be overcome.

The young man was held in high esteem by all his acquaintances, and his death is generally regretted. Besides his mother, he leaves one sister, Mrs. John B. Keenan, of Eckley; a half-brother, B. J. Mooney, Esq., of Wilkesbarre, and a half-sister, Mrs. John P. McDonald, of town. His father, Hugh Gallagher, was killed by a mine locomotive at Highland on September 30, 1896. The funeral announcement appears in another column.

Decisions of the License Court.

The judges on Monday handed down the license list with their decision in each case. The number of applicants this year is 1,342. Last year the number of licenses granted, and lifted by the applicants, was 1,067, showing an increase of applicants this year of 275. Of these 130 were refused, making a net increase this year of 108. Fifteen were withdrawn and two withheld. All the papers bear date of March 1, and as by the court rules all licenses must be lifted in fifteen days, the last day for paying for and taking out licenses is Monday, March 15.

Of the ninety-six Freeland applications published in the TRIBUNE a few weeks ago, all were granted except fifteen. Twelve of these were refused and three were withdrawn, as follows:

Refused—Lewis H. Lentz, 165 Centre street; Anthony Capace, 178 Ridge street; Fred Horlacher, 85 Centre street; Mary Shigo, Ridge street; John Mollick, Ridge street; Peter Jasmisky, Ridge and North streets; George Bednar, Ridge street; George Kurquak, Luzerne and Washington streets; G. R. Bonomo, Washington street; George Wassil, 53 Fern street; William J. Morgans, Ridge street; George Molinkey, Fern street.

Withdrawn—Michael Klitz, 19 Main street; Michael Potochney, Ridge street; Frank Eberert, Main and Washington streets; also George Molinkey, Foster.

New licenses were granted as follows: Patrick Meehan, Ridge street; William Gilgot, Chestnut street; Peter Timony, Foster.

Charged With Killing Patient McCue.

Walter J. Clinch was arraigned before Judge Weand, of Montgomery county, yesterday afternoon on two bills of indictment charging murder and involuntary manslaughter for causing the death of William McCue, of Pitston, a patient at the hospital for the insane, where Clinch was a night watchman, early in January. District Attorney Strassburger, in his arraignment, said he would expect at the jury's hands a verdict of murder in the second degree. It is expected the taking of testimony will be concluded this afternoon.

The demands for out-door relief on Poor Director Schwartz are increasing at an alarming rate. The people of the Lehigh region, taken as a whole, never had such poverty to contend with as exists here today.

The Wear Well's celebrated One-Piece Shoe is a great seller. Nothing is sold in this town like it for $2. For railroad work and shop wear it is unequalled.

Editor James W. Maloy, of Lansford, was on Tuesday confirmed by the senate as postmaster of Lansford. The new P. M. was a staunch Bryan man in the late campaign, and his appointment by President Cleveland was quite a surprise. He is a fighter, however, and fully deserves the honor.

Appropriate costumes and special scenery will be used in presenting "The Rag-Pickers' Child" at the Grand opera house on the evening of the 17th. The St. Patrick's cornet band, under whose auspices the play will be produced, intends to make this one of the best amateur performances seen here.

There will be an all-day meeting on Sunday next in the Holiness Christian church on North Centre street. Services at 10 a. m., 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. The new pastor, Rev. William P. Austin, of Reading, will have charge, assisted by Bro. Mackintosh and Sister Behymer, of the West. Everybody is invited.

Judge Bennet on Monday handed down an opinion in the appeal of the ex-county commissioners, P. T. Norton, Thomas Smith and T. M. Dillard, from the report of the late board of county auditors, surcharging the ex-commissioners with the $10,000 paid Architect Meyers, of Detroit. The opinion is against the ex-commissioners.

The report that John Malchitsky, Democratic candidate for township clerk in Foster, was defeated, is not correct. The vote was: Malchitsky, 307; Fairchilds, 342; Balliet, 18. The only Republicans who were successful were Archie Keers for auditor and John Evans for school director, the latter having been endorsed by the Democrats.

A Groceryman Disappears.

James H. Allen, a former West Hazleton groceryman, left his home last Friday night and has not been heard from since. On the day prior to his sudden departure he wrote a note to his wife saying that he would not return that evening, but when Mrs. Allen retired she found that he had taken with him all his clothing. A note was found later, reading: "This is to inform you that I have gone for good. Mourn me as one who is no more. I am sick and have gone to hunt a place to die."
