Well Watered.

Artesian wells, instead of being expensive luxuries, are cheaper than pumps in the Great American desertan siliptical oasis, of which one focus is at Wilburn, Kan, and another at Meade, the long with being found by Coade. its long axis being formed by Crooked creek, a winding stream. This little loxereek, a winding stream. This little loz-enge-shaped district is probably the best-watered portion of the earth's land surface. So easily is water attainable that a farmer may have artesian wells all over his property and at any spot on his premises he pleases—none needing to be more than 15 or 20 feet deep, and none costing more than $50. Of such wells there are over 250 in the district. yet so unintelligently is the water supyet so unintelligently is the water sup-ply managed that in nearly every case the greater part of the flow simply runs away into Crooked creek. A few of them yield 45 gallons a minute; others from 12 to 20; the majority grad-ing down to eight or ten gallons. The total amount yielded would submerg 12,000 acres a foot deep every year.

Mrs. Backus, of Osage county, Kan. who is seeking to drive the corset out of that state, is moving upon the legislature in furtherance of her plan to deprive the female form of its chief support. Apart from the physiological evils of wearing a corset Mrs. Backus advantage has proposed for the physiological evils of wearing a corset Mrs. Backus advocates her measure from the stand-point of art, and it is said she has writ-ten letters to the members of the legis-lature in which she declares that no generously endowed woman should op generously endowed woman should op-pose the reform, as it offers especial ad-vantages in the matter of self-pride. There is much opposition to the pro-posed measure, however, and if it ever becomes a law it will be by a tight squeeze. If a bill passes prohibiting the wearing of corsets in Kansus it is said that a number of the most regulisaid that a number of the most pr ent women in the state will apply for stay at once.

The editor of the Otwaka (Idaho) Beacon makes the following plaint to his readers: "We are out of wood, out of meat, out of flour, out of money, and almost out of patience. We have a number of subscribers on our books who have promised to pay up their subscriptions with food or fuel, but we have waited these three, five, nay, seven years, almost, and there is no relief in hight. Our family is suffering and the editor's hand has almost lost its cunning for the want of a good, square meal. If something is not done, and that quickly, the Beacon will go out in everlasting night and we will have to go to work. Pay up in 'any old thing.'" The editor of the Otwaka (Idaho)

The western section of the American In western section of the American Laryngological, Ribinological, and Otological society has just closed an interesting secsion at Kansas City. The etiology of nasni polypi, chronic otitis media, and palatopharingeolaryngeal subjects generally were discussed. The experience of one doctor that a nickel's worth of methylbenzomethox, wethyltarlaydgowyidingenthous is a toyethyltetralydropyridinecarbox y late bors were probably fearful of the consequences of using such a remedy.

An obituary of a little child in a Missouri newspaper recently was couched in very tender and pathetic tones, and had much to say about the lamb of the flock and the Good Shepherd. Incor-porated in the article was the beautiful and familiar poem by Mrs. Browning. but the intelligent compositor and the proof reader spoiled everything by giv-ing the poem the caption: "He Giveth His Beloved Sheep."

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, March 29, 1897 Washington, March 29, 1897.
Although all the Republicans in the house promptly lined up to vote down Representative Dockery's very fair anti-trust amendment to the McKinley tariff bill No. 2 that is being railroaded through the house, providing that whenever it should be shown to the satisfaction of the president that there existed a trust or combination to control the price of any article on the dutiable list, the duty on such article should be suspended, only one of them has had the nerve ed, only one of them has had the nerve to stand up and openly defend the trusts. Representative Walker, of Mastrusts. Representative Walker, of Massachusetts, is the man who was not only willing to vote for the trusts but to talk for them. He told the house that the great trusts reduced the cost of production, which was true, but when he added that they also reduced the prices to the consumer he entered the realm of fiction. He said that trusts were the natural outcome of higher civilization, and predicted that all the railroads would eventually be control. I do yone. An attempt ficted that all the railroads would even-tually be control. d by one. An attempt is being made by the Democrats to get the time for debate on the tariff bill ex-tended, but it is hopeless. The edlet has gone forth that it shall be passed by the house on Wednesday and as the cotes are controlled by Czar Reed, it will

Every member of the new executive Every member of the new executive committee of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, appointed by Presi-dent C. F. Black and directed to meet in Washington April 12, for organization and a discussion of the programme to be carried out by the clubs, was a supporter of the Chicago platform and of Bryan and Sewell. They were chosen for that reason and those members of the old reason and those members of the old executive committee who refused to support the party ticket and platform last year were dropped for the same reason. The association is a strict party organization and will not recognize bolters in any way. The following is the entire executive committee: Benton McMillin, Tennessee; G. H. Lambert, New Jersey; D. C. In no business conducted by private ndividuals is the government of the United States so directly concerned as in the soliciting of patents. When an gnorant client gets the worst of his lealing with an unscrupulous and tricky lealing with an unscrupulous and tricky patent solicitor he is apt to regard the United States patent office as having had a share in the business. Knowing this, intelligent men in congress are always on the alert to head off when possible the tricky schemes resorted to by some men who call themselves solicitors of patents. One of those schemes is struck at by the bill introduced by Senator Hansborough, making it unlawis struck at by the bill introduced by Senator Hansborough, making it unlaw-ful for any solicitor of patents to offer an inventor a premium or prize as an inducement to him to pay his fee to enter his invention in a so-called com-

Representative "Champ" Clark, of Representative "Champ" Clark, of Missouri, brought down the house by his retort to the assertion of Representative Bremwell that Jøfferson stopped the coinage of silver and supported protection. Mr. Clark said: "That is an historie lie. It is on a par with the statement that Madison was a Federalist. The trouble is the histories are written by New England people. There will never be any truth-in history until the Yankees quite writing history and the Yankees quite writing history and the Southern people begin.

Representative Dolliver trod on sor sore toes when he said in reply to a Re-publican charge that the Democrats were trying to delay the tariff bill: "On the trying to delay the tariff bill: "On the contrary, we are very anxions to reach some of the schedules of this bill before the final vote is taken. We understand that there is an incipient revolt over there among some of the Republican members from the prairie states who want lumber left on the free list."

It is stated that at the request of ex-Secretary Carlisle, Claud M. Johnson is to keep his place as chief of the bureau of engraving and printing, for a time, as a reward for the work he did among the Gold Democrats in helping to carry Kentucky for McKinley.
