BITS OF HISTORY

A new attachment to bottles consists of a cork with a hollow glass vessel in the inside to measure a certain amount of the liquid.

Leonardo da Vinci, the painter, who painted the famous picture of the "Last Supper," is said to have invented the wheelbarrow.

The revolutionary war, from its first outbreak at Lexington, April 19, 1775, to the final disbanding of the army, April 19, 1783, lasted just eight years to a day.

The general court of Massachusetts voted in 1636 to give 4400 to found a college at Newtown, afterward called Cambridge, which was the founding of Harvard university. It is said that "this was the first legislative assembly in which the people, through their representatives, gave their own money to found a place of education."

Bacon street, in Boston, derives its name from a beacon which stood on the summit of the hill, so that, in case of an invasion, the country could be roused by setting fire to a barrel of tar kept there. The beacon was blown down by the violence of the wind in 1759. Bacon hill was the highest of the three hills which gave Boston its original name, Trimountain.

The famous Mazarin, or Gutenberg Bible, on vellum, sold in London recently for $20,000. It was sold in 1827 for $2,500 (£500). Its value consists in its being the earliest known printed copy of the Bible, and also the first printed book of any size. It is printed in large Gothic letters resembling manuscript, double column pages. There are but 20 copies in existence.

After the invention of the steam engine in England, attempts were made in France, Scotland and America to build boats that would go by steam. But Robert Fulton, an American, built the first really successful steamboat. She was launched in 1807, and ran between New York and Albany, to the great wonder of all who saw her. Steamboats soon after took the place of keel boats on the western rivers, and they greatly aided in the rapid development of the new country.

POLES TO BE TAXED.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO PREPARE AN ORDINANCE.

Councilmen Decide to Levy a Tax on Telephone, Telegraph, Electric Light and Electric Railway Poles—Lengthy Discussion on Improving the Park.

The members of council met on Monday evening with all members present. The following bills were ordered paid: Hontz Bros., repairs on tools, $3.20; R. C. Roth, repairs on tools, $6.26; Wm. Williams, supplies, $50.96; N. J. Owens, lumber, $10.86; TRIBUNE, printing, $1; J. A. Hutchins, pipes, $13.79; L. V. R. Co., freight, $25.95; Hugh Boyle, janitor, $17.25; John Molick, burying animals, $7.

Street Commissioner Boyle's report for July was read, showing expenditures as follows: On streets, $85.86; sewers, $145.05; total $230.91. The report was approved.

Burgess Gallagher reported as follows: Collected from all sources, $27; fees and commissions, $12.70; due treasurer, $14.30. The following amounts were returned for police service for July: Patrick McLaughlin, $9.65; James P. McNeil, $7; James Kennedy, $5; Patrick Welsh, $6.25; Daniel J. Boyle, $5.25; Stanley Novak, $3.40; total, $36.55. The report was approved.

Treasurer Shigo reported as follows: Balance, $3.99; received from burgess, $87; orders paid, $117.55; balance due treasurer, $26.56. The report was approved.

The resignation of R. P. Kealy as borough surveyor was read and accepted. The street committee was authorized to select a surveyor in Mr. Kealy's place and to complete the survey of the Public Park as soon as possible.

N. J. Owens, William Williamson and W. J. Butz, representing the Board of Trade, appeared for the purpose of urging council to take some steps to have the Public Park improved. A committee from the fire company also appeared and asked council to allow them the same privileges to the park as they had, stating they had expended a considerable sum of their own funds in improvements on it, and would continue to do so if the privileges were allowed to them. Some of the councilmen could not see it in that light and thought as the park belonged to the borough that it should be controlled by them. Quite a lengthy discussion took place as to the best way to have it improved. It was finally agreed that the council as a committee meet at the office of Solicitor Carr, Wednesday (yesterday), and consult with him as to the advisability of having the road through the park vacated, as a preliminary to the fencing and improvement that may be done at some future time.

The committee appointed to wait on the Electric Light Company had no report to make and was continued, as was also the committee to wait on the Water Company in reference to placing a fire plug at Alvinton.

Mr. Mulhearn, from the committee which met the Board of Health, stated they had agreed upon J. J. Ward to make the registry of houses connected with the sewer and those not connected.

The committee appointed to receive proposals for the printing of street commissioner's and burgess' reports reported as follows: Press, 500 of each, $8.25; Progress, 500 of each, $7; TRIBUNE, 500 of each, $5.50. The TRIBUNE, being the lowest bidder, was awarded the contract.

The president appointed Messrs. Miller, Mulhearn and Davis to draw up an ordinance taxing telephone, electric light, telegraph and electric railway poles, and to report at the next meeting.

PARK DISCUSSION LAST EVENING.

The members of council met last night at the office of Attorney John M. Carr, and after discussing the question of park improvement decided to hold a meeting next Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the council room, at which hearings will be given to the public for and against the closing of East Main street.

They have made arrangements with a competent surveyor and the resurvey of the park will be begun in a few days. Boundary stones will be placed in position. Estimates are being prepared for the fencing of it and will be submitted by the committee in a short time.

Saba Is After His Wife.

John Saba, the Arabian who eloped with sixteen-year-old Mary Kearney last week, was on Monday granted a writ of habeas corpus by Judge Woodward to bring his wife into court. He alleged that her parents had detained her by force and would not let her come to him. Sheriff Martin went to Kearney's home to serve the capias, but found Mrs. Saba was in her room and suffering from nervousness. Mr. Kearney was present at the interview and said to his daughter: "You can go with the sheriff if you desire." Mrs. Saba did not care to go just then, and the sheriff did not insist. The Arabians exhibit much bitter feeling, suspecting apparently that the officers are in league with the child's parents against their countryman.

School Board Meeting.

The borough school board met last evening in the E. B. Cox Memorial School with Messrs. Sweeney, Timony, Schaub and Ferry present. Mr. Ferry was elected president pro tem. The following bills were ordered paid: TRIBUNE, publishing audit $8.50; P. Rudrauff & Ben Davey, architects, $200; Herman Riebe, part payment on building, $3,000. The Washington street school building was sold to Peter Timony for $173.50. J. M. Carr and Patrick Meehan also bid on the building.

Five minutes were then allowed to each of the seven agents of school furniture firms present. After listening to the merits of each firm's furniture the following bids were read:

Hudson Co., Athens, Ohio; J. W. Crook, agent. Sizes 1 and 2, $2.10; 3 and 4, $1.90; 5 and 6, $1.70; delivered at Freeland. Sizes 1 and 2, $2.45; 3 and 4, $2.35; 5 and 6, $2.25; set up in school.

A committee of the board will meet Mr. Crook at 6 o'clock this evening to give the number of seats required.

Anthracite Coal Trade.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The outlook in the anthracite coal trade is decidedly clearer than it has been at any time this year. Seven months of rigid restriction has reduced stocks in producers' hands very low and has convinced large buyers who have been skeptical that the trade arrangements are sure to hold this year. Some of the producing companies are short of coal and as the season for an active retail movement is at hand, it is difficult to imagine any contingency that will unsettle the trade this year.

The supplies laid in prior to the July advance have been pretty well exhausted, and with any quickening of the retail demand the market will become firm. No understanding has been reached relative to the August output, but it is rumored that hints have been conveyed to some of the companies not to produce too much, and as a result the production may not exceed 3,500,000 tons, which from the present outlook will barely supply actual requirements.

John Shigo for Prothonotary.

From the Wilkesbarre Newsdealer.

John Shigo, a very popular and well-known citizen of Freeland, has been suggested in some quarters as a candidate for prothonotary. He is at present a member of the county committee, and wields a large influence among his countrymen, not only in the lower end, but throughout the entire county. Mr. Shigo is a thorough, ardent Democrat, a man of much character and ability, and we think his nomination would largely influence the greater portion of his nationality to support the Democratic ticket. Sooner or later the nationality represented by Mr. Shigo must obtain recognition for public office, and the Democracy ought to make the first advances in that line. And they could not ask for a more favorable time for a move of that sort or a more worthy man to nominate than Mr. John Shigo.

Cost Increased, Value the Same.

The advance in prices due to the inauguration of the Dingley tariff bill is severely felt in these times of general depression. The business men of town are losing considerable time explaining the cause of the advance to their customers, and dealers trading with the foreign people are at their wits' end to account with their clients for the increase in the price of clothes and musical instruments. The Hun does not take at all kindly to a law which advances his ninety-cent pants and his accordion forty-five per cent without increasing their value.

The Dingley bill, the three-cent alien tax law and the several other monstrous inflictions upon Pennsylvanians by a Republican congress and Boss Quay's legislature are making Democratic votes by the thousands.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Sandy Run Man Struck Dead by a Bolt During Last Night's Storm.

About 10 o'clock last night the North Side was visited by a severe storm. One man, Stanislaus Torbach, a Sandy Run Hungarian, was instantly killed by the lightning.

Torbach was 52 years of age and boarded at the house of Frank Baruski. Shortly before the storm began he went to his room upstairs, where he was sitting when the rain commenced falling. The lightning flashes were darting through the room in a menacing manner and he drew the curtain and closed the window. Then he knelt and said his evening prayers. When he concluded he thought he heard the breaker whistle blowing. He listened intently for a few moments, but the storm raging outside prevented him from satisfying himself on that point.

To learn if he was mistaken he raised the curtain and threw up the window. As he leaned out his head a terrific crash broke forth from the heavens and he fell back into the room—struck dead by the bolt.

The other inmates of the house rushed to his room when they heard the heavy fall. They could render him no help. Life was extinct. A large black spot across his breast told how death had visited him.

None of the members of the Barnski family nor any of the other boarders felt the shock. Nor was the building damaged in any manner. The bolt left no trace of its work but the one mark on the unfortunate Torbach.

Arrangements were made this morning for the funeral. He was a member of the Greek Catholic congregation and will be buried in the cemetery near St. Mary's church, Freeland, tomorrow.

In town the storm did no damage, though many people felt certain that the lightning had struck near them several times. The heavy rain fell swept obstructions of all kinds into the gutters, carrying them to the sewer inlets, where they blocked and caused the water to overflow. At Centre and Front the street was a sheet of water, while at Centre and Main the water backed up on Hirkbeck's sidewalk and made passage impossible for some time.

PERSONALITIES.

Miss Maggie O'Donnell, of Philadelphia, is visiting her mother on South street.

Patrick Burke and daughter, Miss Rose Burke, are at Atlantic City.

DRIFTON ITEMS.

The scenes around the pay office here last Thursday were amusing. It was the first time the alien tax had been deducted from the pay of the naturalized and notwithstanding the fact that the law had been freely discussed among the foreigners, they stormed and fumed every day which they had worked. Everybody in public life, from "the McKin" to the paymaster, was roundly abused by the taxed workmen.

Miss Annie O'Donnell, a popular young lady of town, will be married at St. Ann's church on August 26 to James M. Gallagher, burgess of Freeland. Miss O'Donnell is a daughter of Patrick O'Donnell, and her large circle of acquaintances will wish her much joy in becoming the wife of Freeland's chief official.

Another wedding which will take place this month is that of William Stranis and Miss Maggie Welsh. They will be married at St. James P. E. church on the 25th inst.

Robert P. Williams' Body Found.

The body of Robert P. Williams, of Washington street, who with William Roberts was drowned at Laury's on Saturday, was found at 5 a. m. yesterday near Hokendauqua, about five miles below the dam where the accident occurred. The clothes of the young man were caught by some obstruction in the river and the body was in a hanging position when found. The remains were brought here on the Lehigh Valley 10.51 a. m. train and were immediately taken to the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rice Williams.

Owing to the body having been in the fast-flowing waters for nearly ninety hours, it is somewhat decomposed and is disfigured so badly that no one will be permitted to view the remains. It was found at a time when the search was about to be abandoned, the railroad officials, who undertook the work of recovery, having about given up all hope of finding it.

The body shows that after going over the dam it was caught by the swift current and tossed about considerable under the surface of the water. The clothes were torn, and a valuable watch which Mr. Williams had in his pocket at the time is missing. All of Mr. Roberts' effects were safe in his pockets when the body was found.

The funeral will take place from the parents' residence on Washington street at 2 o'clock. Services will be conducted at the residence by Rev. J. T. Griffith, after which the remains will be conveyed to Freeland cemetery, where they will be interred.

Little Child Strays from Home.

A little six-year-old Hungarian girl was found at daybreak yesterday wandering about in the woods near No. 5 colliery, Jeddo. The child was taken in charge by M. D. McLaughlin, of town, engineer at that colliery, who, being unable to learn anything from her regarding her home, took her to the Hungarian firemen. All she would say was that she lived at No. 4. She was taken to the general office at Jeddo, but no name to correspond with her own could be found on the company's books. It was thought the No. 4 she claimed as her residence was No. 4 Oakdale, but a search there failed to discover her folks.

The fireman then took the child to his boarding house in Drifton, where another boarder thought a man of the name given by the child lived at No. 4 Upper Lehigh. The little one was taken there and the surmise was found to be correct. She was returned to her parents, who were considerably exercised over her absence and had spent the greater part of Tuesday night seeking her. The child left her home at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning and had traveled eighteen hours through the woods.

Sugar Notch Homes Wrecked.

Early Monday morning an extensive cave-in occurred about 300 yards east of the Moffitt breaker, in Sugar Notch. The people living near the place where the cave occurred were aroused from their slumbers by the rumbling noise, which was not unlike heavy thunder. The occupants of three houses, which are affected by the cave-in, were jarred considerably and thoroughly frightened. The houses affected are those of John Stark and Anthony Savage, Poles, and John Ernest. The stone wall which supported Ernest's house is totally destroyed, and the major portion of it crumbled. The house is badly wrecked. Stark's house is sunken eighteen inches on one side, and Savage's house is so jarred that the doors cannot be closed. The occupants were compelled to move their household effects to places of safety until the damage can be repaired and the places again made habitable. Ernest had just purchased his home.

Verdict on the Drowning Accident.

After William Roberts' body was found on Sunday Coroner Yost immediately empaneled a jury. Frank Heppner, the locktender, Edgar, Anthony and B. C. Snyder all saw the accident from the canal side. Heppner saw the boat coming down and getting too near the dam. He called to the men and a moment later they got into the current and went over the dam. The boat passed over sideways. One of the men took an oar from the lock and tried to stop the boat, but failed. Mr. Kolb, who rented the boat, said it was in good condition. Messrs. Rutman, Heppner and Roth testified to the finding of the body, after which the jury rendered a verdict of accidental drowning and exonerated the Lehigh Valley Railroad and its employees from all blame, as sufficient warning had been given the men before leaving the island.

Must Not Engage in Trade.

The employees of the Delaware and Hudson Coal Company who conduct places of business or are interested in such places have been notified that they must cease to conduct such business or the company will dispense with their services. The order affects a large number of men in the Wyoming region, including superintendents and inside foremen. It is claimed some of the men have grown rich within a comparatively short time by owning stores, small shops and saloons.
