FREELAND, PA., AUGUST 19, 1897.

Spain and the Death of Canovas.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer. While the policy which actuated the late Senor Canovas was a reactionary one and opposed to all modern ideas of political liberty, yet his assassination is widely regretted, and his untimely taking off has probably bestowed upon him a prestige which might not have been his had he been permitted to carry out his work.

For there must assuredly come a change. Each day the conditions that exist in Spain are becoming more serious. She is without allies, without resources. There is the fear of a revolution at home, and in Cuba the insurgents are striking terror to the heart of the capital.

Censured by an Ally.

From the Philadelphia Record. The party of protection has had an almost uninterrupted control of the disbursements of the treasury for the last thirty years, and they have made a riot of wasteful and unnecessary expenditure; but in the meantime the international carrying trade of the country has fallen into alien hands.

The battleship Indiana is now lying in the dock at Halifax for necessary overhauling because there is no safe and sufficiently capacious dry dock on our Atlantic coast where the required work could be done.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, August 17, 1897. Boss Hanna's man, Dick, may be relieved of the management of the Hanna campaign in Ohio. He has got himself the ill will of the Republican magnates for having bungled his work in bribing certain Ohio Populists.

It is a fact of more than passing importance that the bitterest public attack ever made on the present civil service system is contained in a fifty-column speech in one of the belated numbers of the Congressional Record, which was occasionally published up to last week for the purpose of giving members of congress a chance to talk to their constituents through the medium of "leave-to-print" speeches which purport to have been spoken on the floor.

Teddy Roosevelt has shown that the limit of his versatility has not yet been reached by assuming the role of official whitewasher.

His letter exonerating Constructor Bowles, who has charge of the Brooklyn navy yard and who was charged with political and other favoritism in running that yard, gives Mr. Bowles an unusually thick coat of whitewash. But there is one black streak that "Teddy" may have put in as a sort of tip to Mr. Bowles.

Ex-Secretary Carlisle and Ex-Assistant Secretary Hamlin made arguments before the attorney general against the application of the 10 per cent discriminating duty imposed by the Dingley tariff upon importations from Canada.

Mr. Carlisle still has an idea that the Gold Democrats should keep away from the regular Democrats and he has advised the putting up of a Gold Democratic ticket in every state in which an election is to be held this year.
