STRIKE FEVER ABATING.

MANY NORTH SIDE MEN OPPOSED TO IT AT THIS TIME.

Drifton Employes' Demands Are Still Under Consideration by Superintendent Smith—Men Will Not Strike If Their Important Grievances Are Remedied.

The demands of the Drifton employes, presented to Superintendent Smith last week, are still held under consideration, a few more days having been asked by the officials to examine the new scale. The men are quite anxious that some of the requests be granted, especially the parts which relate to the reduction in the price of powder and coal and the abolishing of the policy of paying men a lower rate of wages when they are taken from their regular work. The men are not in favor of striking, but if the company refuses to grant anything asked the general discontent may bring it on. At Jeddo and Upper Lehigh a better feeling prevails, and the danger of a shut-down has been removed for the present by the operators showing a desire to treat with their employes.

A large meeting at Hazleton Saturday evening was addressed by P. J. McGuire, of Philadelphia, vice president of the American Federation of Labor; George Chance, of Philadelphia, and Organizer John Fahy.

ON THE SOUTH SIDE.

There is no change on the South Side. Feeble attempts have been made here and there to start, but the operators show no particular desire to try to start their works. Some of the washeries in the vicinity of Yorktown began work on Thursday, and this aroused the women of the neighborhood. They swept down on the plants in force and persuaded the workmen to cease. Parts of the Eighth regiment were hurried to the scene to protect the workmen, but there was none to protect, all having decided to do no work until a general resumption is agreed upon.

INQUEST TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

Deputy Coroner Bowman will begin the inquest over the bodies of the dead miners at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Hazle Hall. These attorneys will be present: Robert D. Cox, of Philadelphia, for the Austrian consulate of that city; John T. Lenahan, of Wilkesbarre, and George S. Ferris, of Pittston, for Sheriff Martin, and John McGahren, of Wilkesbarre, for the prosecution. It is said that ex-District Attorney John M. Garman will also represent the prosecution. Over 100 witnesses will be examined. The public does not place much faith in some of the jury.

WITH THE MILITIA.

Friday afternoon a battalion of the Fourth regiment, consisting of three companies, was sent out for a seven-mile march through Jeddo, Eckley, Highland, Drifton and Freeland. Little or no attention is now paid to the troops, and their presence does not affect the situation one way or the other. During some of the jaunts on the South Side last week the aristocratic cavalrymen of the Philadelphia troop were roundly berated by groups of women, but nothing more serious has occurred since the brigade arrived.

The different commands are located as follows: Fourth regiment, Drifton; Eighth, Audenried; Ninth, Hazle Park; Twelfth, Donegal Hill, Hazleton; Thirteenth, Lattimer; Battery C, divided among South Side towns; City Troop and Governor's Troop, Hazleton stock yards.

DISGRACED AN HONORED NAME.

The Wilkesbarre Newsdealer makes the following comments on the statements of one of the Lattimer deputies: "No one is surprised that Ed. Turnbach was one of the deputies who took part in the shooting. Such a place about fits him, selling supplies as he does to the companies, and he would be at home. But it was unwise in him to rush into print with an explanation of the shooting. And it is an explanation at variance with all other witnesses so far heard.

"Those who know Turnbach will excuse him, however. He is not wholly responsible. He says the deputies were afraid the strikers would steal their guns, and if that had been done, they would all have been killed.

"Steal their guns, mark you. Just as though a sane lot of men protecting property would permit their guns to be taken away without resistance. This proves he is not all there. Then again, he says the strikers bared their breasts and dared the deputies to shoot. That's as much of a cock and bull story as stealing their fire arms.

"Turnbach must have slept and dreamed all this. Certainly it is a different story from any heretofore told by eye-witnesses, if Turnbach was not dreaming he was regretted, about the same thing. We feel a wrong for his condition. He ought to take a rest, long rest, and recuperate. From his own wild statements, statements incredible and unwarranted, he needs a vacation, and a long one.

"Poor fellow, those who know him will have more of a contempt for him, now that he has unbecomingly himself and disgraced a one-time honored name. With the blood of honest men on his hands, his future will not be an enviable one."

In Luzerne County Courts.

Wm. Birkbeck last week entered a suit in equity against Joseph Birkbeck to retain the latter from selling hardware in the borough of Freeland. The plaintiff in his declaration states he bought the defendant's interest in a hardware business for the sum of $2,000, on which the latter agreed to quit the business. This he has failed to do, hence the suit. Attorney C. O. Stroh represented the plaintiff and J. M. Carr the defendant at the hearing in court on Saturday. Judge Bennett reserved his decision.

In May last, in Pittston township, Thomas Sweeney, aged thirteen, was shot dead by Lewis Troop, aged sixteen. The latter was arrested, charged with murder, and his case was called in court last week. It having been established to the satisfaction of the court that the shooting was not intentional, Judge Lynch instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, which they did without leaving the jury box.

Anthony Bendritt, the Plymouth Lithuanian banker who disappeared last June, was arrested in Philadelphia and brought to Wilkesbarre. He was given a hearing and entered bail for his appearance at court. It is said that there are 150 depositors who will appear against Bendritt. They allege they lost over $80,000 in his wrecked bank.

John Kenoth and George Yeager were charged with refilling registered bottles. P. M. Sweeney was prosecutor. Judge Lynch interrupted the proceedings by saying there was no question in the matter except as to the disposition of costs. As there was no evidence that the bottles had been refilled the jury acquitted the defendants, but asked them to pay the costs.

The case of the commonwealth against Dr. John Fruit, of Hazleton, for shooting Clark, was closed Thursday evening. The defendant said his pistol had got tangled up with his pocket handkerchief. When he attempted to pull the latter from his pocket the gun came with it and falling to the floor it exploded. The jury was inclined to believe Fruit and accordingly returned a verdict of not guilty, but placed the costs on him.

Rush Trescott Elected Chairman.

The Democratic candidates for the county offices met in the office of Colonel T. R. Martin Thursday. There were also present Chairman Freas and W. R. Gibbons, who was chairman of the convention. Rush Trescott was elected chairman of the county committee for the ensuing year; Stanley Davenport, vice chairman; R. Van Horn, secretary, and P. A. O'Neill, assistant secretary.

The following committeemen were selected: First district, J. J. McGinty, Jacob Rinehart, Wilkesbarre; Second, Dr. J. A. Singer, Forty Fort; F. A. B. Koons, Huntington Mills; Third, J. C. Hitcher, Nanticoke; Richard Walsh, Edwardsville; Fourth, L. G. Lubrecht, Hazleton; Condy O. Boyle, Freeland; Fifth, Joseph Loftus, T. C. Mullally; Sixth, John Schwab, A. L. Tressler. In addition to the above the chairmen of the six legislative districts are ex-officio members.

Colonel Martin was seen by a reporter and he expressed himself as being more than pleased over the election of Mr. Trescott for chairman. He says he is a man of energy, and is well-known and popular throughout the county.

The Anthracite Coal Trade.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.
The anthracite coal trade remains in a state of dullness that is extraordinary for this season of the year. There are practically no new sales at tidewater, the shipments made being on account of orders accepted before the last price circular was issued. The disturbances in the Lehigh region and the possibility that other regions may become involved ought to be a powerful stimulus to the trade, but it is not. It is almost entirely disregarded. The trade is drifting and until the retail demand springs up there will be no great improvement.

Some vague talk is heard of an increase in prices on October 1, but as almost no sales are being made at the July advance and as the labor conditions are very unsettled, it is extremely doubtful if any change is made.

Republican Committee Organized.

At a meeting of the Republican candidates last week the county organization was perfected by the election of the following officers: Chairman, P. Holcomb; secretary, Byron G. Hahn; treasurer, Fred Thies; assistant chairmen, C. E. Keck, Ashley; John Maxwell, Plymouth; Resse Lloyd, Freeland.

The advisory committee this year contains the following from the lower end: Hon. John Leisenring, Upper Lehigh; Charles L. Wide, William M. Powell, Hazleton; G. L. Halsey, White Haven, and William A. Straw, Conyngham.

Notice to Delinquent Taxpayers.

Delinquent taxpayers will please remember the fact that the time is near at hand when the 5 per cent additional will be added to all taxes, according to law. It is to the interest of all delinquents in Freeland borough to pay their taxes before October 4 next. The additional 5 per cent must be added in a short while, so do not make any further delay. A. O. Bachmah, Tax Collector.

POSTMASTER APPOINTED.

B. F. Davis Named by the President to Succeed William F. Boyle.

The formal announcement of the appointment of Benjamin F. Davis as postmaster of Freeland was made on Thursday. It occasioned no surprise, as all opposition to Mr. Davis had vanished some months ago, and his selection to handle Freeland mail was known to be only a question of time. Mr. Davis has not yet received official notice of his nomination, but this is expected to come along in a short while, and the change in the office will be made on or about October 1. The new postmaster has not decided yet who he will appoint as deputy. The present deputy, Con J. Boyle, will be retained until Mr. Davis becomes accustomed to the routine business. There are several applicants for the deputyship, but before a choice is made the merits of each candidate will be carefully considered, with a view of keeping the service at the high standard maintained by the present force.

Upon his retirement Postmaster William F. Boyle will devote his entire attention to his grocery business. He will go out of service with the respect of every patron of the office. His strict attention to business, his promptness in investigating complaints and his thorough knowledge of the postal laws were long ago recognized by the people of town as something more than is ordinarily found in government officials, and the best wishes of all who had dealings with the office go with him in his future career.

B. F. Davis, the appointee, was born in Old Buck Mountain, Carbon county, March 4, 1859. He is of Welsh descent, both parents having been born in Merthyr Tydfil, South Wales. When quite young the family moved to Lansford, where Ben began picking slate at the age of nine. He worked about the mines three years, then entered Neumiller's store. Two years later he returned to the mines, where he remained a year and a half; then, in 1875, he came to Freeland. For two years he was a clerk in H. C. Koons' store, spent the next year at Kutztown Normal School, after which he returned to Mr. Koons' employ, where he remained until January, 1887, when he became a clerk for J. C. Berner. Three months later he purchased a flour and feed business here and has since built up a large trade. He was married in 1882 to Miss Lizzie Monroe, of Hazleton. He was elected burgess of Freeland in 1889, has been chief of the fire department for two terms and chief of police one term. He is a staunch Republican and his application for the appointment was endorsed by Congressman Williams, Senator Quay and other prominent men. That he will prove as successful in his new position as he has in other walks of life is confidently predicted by his friends.

The Temperance Parade.

Preparations for the C. T. A. U. parade at Hazleton, October 11, are well under way and a monster celebration of Father Mathew's birthday is assured. The societies at Hazleton have secured Hazle Park for the picnic. Rev. M. F. O'Rourke, grand marshal, has arranged a line of parade. It will be short, covering only the principal streets.

UPPER LEHIGH NOTES.

There is a rumor here that the trolley road will come to town before the next snow flies. It sounds almost too good to be true, but there seems to be something in the report. A high official of Freeland, a councilman it is said, was heard kicking about the cost of solving shoes every month, due to frequent trips in this direction, and he is expected to hasten the day when Upper Lehigh will be connected with the electric line.

The first Saturday in many months for the breaker to work a full day was accomplished last week. The collieries are booked for six full days this week, the first full week in over a year.

Miss Bridget Malloy, of Philadelphia, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. John Hurley.

Giants Defeated the Tigers.

An audience of over 1,000 people saw the Cuban Giants defeat the Tigers here yesterday afternoon by a score of 7 to 4. The local club was outplayed at the bat and in the field and at no time did they lead the colored professionals.

The Tigers were handicapped by Culver, who was to catch, disappointing them. McFadden went behind the bat and did good work there, but Gillespie on first was not able to cover that position as well as the regular player, and his absence in the field was quite noticeable. The club otherwise was composed as previously published, Griesing playing centre.

The Giants had Nelson and "Fatty" Williams for their battery. Terrill, Wilson, White and A. Jackson did the diamond work, while O. Jackson, Selden and Barton covered the outfield.

Both clubs played a snappy game at the start. In the third inning the Giants scored twice, in the fifth once and in the sixth four times. The Tigers made two runs in the seventh and two in the ninth.

Pfrom had eleven hits marked against him, but had been given proper support at critical points less runs would have been scored. He was very effective when men were on bases. The Tigers got seven hits off Nelson. The Cubans had but one error, while the Tigers had four of the costliest kind they could make.

Echo of the Pond Creek Wreck.

From the Wilkesbarre Leader.
Joseph M. Fahy has begun an action in trespass against the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, damages not to exceed $25,000. The statement is that in July, 1896, a Lehigh Valley train was derailed on the Upper Lehigh branch of the Central Railroad of New Jersey. The plaintiff, who was en route to Hazleton, was thrown through the car window and down the mountain side. Severe and permanent injuries to the spine and locomotive powers were sustained, accompanied by a highly nervous condition.
