MISCELLANEOUS ADVERTISEMENTS.

AN ORDINANCE to authorize the Anthracite Telephone Company to erect and maintain poles for telephone lines in the borough of Freeland, Luzerne county, Pennsylvania.

Whereas, the Anthracite Telephone Company has applied to the Board of Freeholders of the borough of Freeland for permission to erect poles and run wires on the same or under the streets, lanes and alleys of the borough of Freeland, Luzerne county, Pennsylvania, as provided by the fourth section of an act entitled "an act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations," as amended by an act approved June 25, 1885.

Therefore, be it ordained and enacted by the Board of Freeholders of the borough of Freeland, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same:

Section 1. That the Anthracite Telephone Company, its successors or assigns, its or their agents, servants and employes are permitted to erect and maintain in the streets, lanes and alleys of the borough of Freeland, Pennsylvania, poles and wires, with all such necessary and usual fixtures therefor as may be necessary for the successful prosecution of its telephone or signal business by means of electricity.

Section 2. That the poles shall be reasonably straight and with the fixtures so to be erected, shall be put up in a safe and substantial manner, and shall be located by the street committee, or street commissioner under their direction, in all matters relating to the location of poles and wires, and shall be erected, maintained and cared for at the cost and charge of said company.

Section 3. That the borough of Freeland shall at all times have the right to use said poles, under reasonable regulations, for the support of its wires used for fire-alarm purposes, and further, that the Anthracite Telephone Company shall pay all expenses incurred by reason of the passage of this ordinance.

Ordained and enacted into an ordinance this fourteenth day of September, 1897.

Approved this twenty-fourth day of September, 1897.

James M. Gallagher, Burgess.

STRIKERS SENT TO JAIL.

TROUBLE BREAKS OUT SUDDENLY AT A PITTSBURG MINE.

Men Are Battling for an Increase of Wages and Want Every Employee to Stop Work Until the Advance Is Conceded by the Company.

An attempt to resume work at the Heidelberg colliery, near Pittsburg, on Friday morning, provoked an attack upon the returning miners by the strikers, and a big riot ensued. Superintendent Owens, Henry Wilson, Frank Howard, Thomas McGowan and John Jones were badly hurt, and a number of others were more or less injured. The colliery, which is operated by the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, has been idle for nearly two weeks, the men having gone on strike for higher wages. The company refused to grant the increase a few days ago, and made an unsuccessful attempt to resume work. Several miners were ready to go back, but they were afraid. The foreigners persisted on remaining on strike.

Superintendent Owens set about making another attempt to resume and got about sixty of the English-speaking men to promise they would go back to work when he wanted them. Friday was set for the resumption, and word was quietly sent around the night previous for the men to assemble at 6 o'clock next morning at Owens' house. It was thought that meeting at this early hour would avoid any possible interference, but the strikers had heard of the plan, and they were out in force, over a hundred, and

MOST OF THEM WERE ARMED with pickhandles and stones.

As Owens and his men approached the colliery these strikers intercepted them. Superintendent Owens warned them that if they interfered they would all be arrested and punished, but the threat did not effect them.

As those who intended returning to work at the old wages attempted to advance they were met by the strikers. In a short while blows were exchanged by members of the two gangs, and these were followed by volleys of stones. For a couple of minutes there was a general fusillade. Finding themselves assaulted in this manner, the strikers charged at the bosses and scabs and by vigorously using their pickhandles on the legs of their assailants they quickly dispersed the crowd and drove all thoughts of work out of their heads.

Superintendent Owens was struck on the head by a stone and is suffering from a scalp wound, besides bearing a number of bruises on his shoulders and body, the marks left by pickhandles. Henry Wilson, Frank Howard, Thomas McGowan and John Jones were reported as being badly and clubs, and hardly one in the body of sixty men escaped unscathed.

Fearing a further outbreak, Superintendent Owens resolved to make no further attempt to resume, but today he expects to start the colliery if he has to have all the strikers arrested to do so.

During the riot Superintendent Owens recognized several of the strikers, and as soon as his wounds were dressed he went before Justice of the Peace Ehret and swore out warrants for their arrest, and they were at once taken into custody.

Ignatz Polan, Anthony Gedwich, Anthony Shinko, Simon Bennis and John Rose, five of the rioters, were given a hearing before Squire Ehret. Attorney Frank Wheaton represented the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, and several witnesses testified to the trouble.

Shinko, who, it is alleged, was one of the leaders, was held in $1,500 bail and the others in $1,000 bail each for their appearance at court. The men were sent to jail in default of bail.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable.

For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. ## Troops Will Cost About $125,000.

An apparently fair estimate places the expenditures of the state in sending troops to this region at $125,000. Adjutant General Stewart was asked whether the cost would reach $100,000, and he answered in the affirmative without going into details. Governor Hastings last week drew his warrant on the state treasurer for $75,000 to pay the several organizations in service in Luzerne county. Before that there had been drawn from the treasury $10,000 on account of the cost of the military called out by the governor. Transportation, subsistence and quartermaster stores remain to be paid. They will probably involve the disbursement of at least $40,000 additional. None of the standing appropriation of $350,000 is applicable to the liquidation of debts contracted during active military services, and this unnecessary plunge into the treasury must be borne by the taxpayers.

The National Guard law of 1887 fixes the pay of first sergeants at $3 a day, sergeants, $2; corporals, $1.75; musicians and privates, $1.50, "and each enlisted man after having served a full term of enlistment shall be entitled to an additional pay of 25 cents per day for service during his second term and for a further addition of 25 cents per day for service during each subsequent term of enlistment." Commissioned officers are paid at the same rate per day as the United States army officers, ranging from $5 to $15, according to rank.

State Firemen's Parade.

The Pennsylvania State Firemen's convention will be held in Wilkesbarre this week, beginning on Monday.

The convention is expected to be the largest ever held in the history of the organization. The big day is on Thursday, parade day, when it is expected that 20,000 visitors will be drawn to Wilkesbarre. It is assured that 125 companies will participate in the parade and this means at least seventy bands of music. The interest of this day will be the parade itself. The winners of the prizes will be announced from the judge's stand.

The prizes are as follows: Largest uniformed company in line, $75; finest uniformed company in line, $60; finest looking steamer in line, $50; finest looking hose carriage in line, $50; finest looking hose wagon in line, $50; finest looking hook and ladder truck in line, $50.

The Darktown Brigade, of Williamsport, has been secured as an amusing feature of the parade.

The tournament will take place on Friday and this will attract the crack companies of the state, as $800 are to be given away in prizes. The day includes a hose race, free for all, first prize, $300; second prize, $100; third prize, $50. Prize drill, first prize, $100; second prize, $50. Hook and ladder race, first prize, $75; second prize, $35.

Candidates Names on Both Ballots.

The decision of Judge McPherson, of the Dauphin county court, last week, regarding the manner of procedure in cases where a candidate for political office is nominated by more than one party, was received with much satisfaction in Schuylkill county, as, according to this ruling, the name of Judge O. P. Bechtel must be printed in both the Republican and Democratic columns of the official ballot.

Judge McPherson's decision was upon the application for a writ of mandamus, commanding him to certify the nominations of the Democratic judicial candidates of Philadelphia who had been previously nominated by the Republicans, and was, in effect, that the amendment to the ninth section of the ballot law by the last legislature, "that the name of any candidate shall not appear more than once by certificate of nomination, or more than once by nomination papers," was contrary to the spirit of the constitution and that there was no doubt of the invalidity of the amendment. He directed the mandamus to issue, and the names of all candidates nominated by both parties will appear under both headings on official ballots.

SCHOOL BOARD TROUBLES.

Directors Wax Wrathful Over the Names on the Marble Tablet.

The borough school board met Saturday evening for the purpose of electing a teacher for the South Heberton school. Director Schaub was chosen president pro tem, in the absence of President McCarthy. Secretary Sweeney stated that he fulfilled the wish of the board in regard to seeing County Superintendent Harrison in reference to the certificate of Mr. Zimmerman. Mr. Harrison was of the opinion that if he examined the teacher again he would be inclined to give him a professional certificate, as the mere technical knowledge is not all the qualification necessary in order to be a successful teacher.

He also sent a telegram and a letter to the president of the board, but that official being absent the contents were not given. By motion the action of the board a week previous, when Mr. Zimmerman received a majority of the votes cast, was ratified, and he took charge this morning.

A bill of $21.50, from Mrs. Jacobs and others for cleaning, was ordered paid.

A letter from Principal Hanson, telling of the crowded condition of the schools, was read. He was given power to combine the sixth and seventh grades, thereby relieving the primary schools.

The number of pupils attending the different schools in the borough at the present time are as follows: Daniel Cox Memorial School, 411; E. B. Cox School, 187; Bivanton, 69; South Heberton, 99; a total of 748 pupils enrolled.

The principal also had a list of supplies needed and the secretary was instructed to see that they are furnished.

Director Ferry, at this point, opened a question which the public has been discussing for some time by inquiring who furnished the architect with the inscription placed on the marble slab which adorns the wall of the passage way on the first floor of the Daniel Cox School. Mr. Sweeney answered by saying that he furnished it, but was ordered to do so by the board.

Mr. Ferry then asked were the officers named on the tablet the officers of the board when Mr. Rute was a member? Mr. Sweeney replied by stating that the slab was intended to convey the impression that the officers of the present year were the officers of the board when the building was erected, and that the name of ex-Director Rute was placed thereon by the consent of Director Schaub. The latter stated that he thought the members of the previous board deserve whatever honor the erection of the new building would give them. He expected the names of the old board, as it was then composed, would appear on the tablet. Director Johnson also had no recollection of the board ordering any change in favor of the present officers and refused to agree to the secretary's version.

As this added new mystery to the affair, a heated discussion between the secretary and the inquiring director followed, continuing until adjournment.

The end of this question, it is said, has not yet been heard. For those who are not conversant with the matter the following facts may help them to understand the trouble: When orders were given to erect the building the board was composed of D. J. McCarthy, president; Jas. F. Sweeney, secretary; James B. Ferry, treasurer; B. F. Rute, Peter Timony and William Johnson. The marble tablet contains all the above names, with the alteration that Director Timony is credited with being treasurer, a position he did not hold until after Mr. Rute's term had expired and Mr. Schaub became a member. The slab contains this year's officers and last year's members, an incongruous combination to say the least, and one which has caused much comment.

Various reasons are ascribed for the action, but apart from these, the trend of public opinion seems to be that the error should be rectified by placing on the slab either last year's board and its officers or this year's board and officers, not so much on account of the director who was slighted by his fellow-members, but in order to have the tablet correct.

An Attempt to Rob.

Owen J. Boyle was attacked on South Ridge street on Saturday evening by three umbrella-minders who struck town that day. The vagabonds saw Mr. Boyle receiving $30 from William Gallagher, for painting, and laid in wait until he reached the opera house building. There they endeavored to rob him of the money, but he succeeded in foiling them and reached D. J. Boner's hotel by the rear entrance. He was severely cut and bruised by his assailants, who are still at large.

Rev. Dembinski Convicted.

The jury in the case of Rev. B. Dembinski, of Hazleton, against Rev. Stephen Kaminski, formerly pastor of the Independent Polish church of Freeland, now residing at Buffalo, returned a verdict of guilty on Saturday on the charge of libel, and recommended him to the mercy of the court. Attorney Lenahan asked for a suspension of sentence until he could ask for a new trial. The jury had been out since Thursday morning. It was alleged that Rev. Kaminski had printed and published a pamphlet on which was a picture and some printed matter that was very damaging to Rev. Dembinski's reputation.

Aged Man Recovers His Sight.

John Dullard, 85 years of age, the father of ex-County Commissioner Dullard, about ten years ago lost his eyesight. On Thursday last on rising from bed his eyes felt a little odd and rubbing them he found that he could again see. Mr. Dullard was born in Kilkenny county, Ireland, and worked in the mines there in his early days and later in England. He came to this country about twenty years ago with his family and worked as a miner in the upper end of the county until stricken with blindness. He lives with a widowed daughter in Luzerne borough, named Mrs. Mary Ann Thomas.

Heavy Taxes for Foster People.

The taxpayers of Foster township will shortly be called upon to pay the special tax of 15 1/2 mills to pay the marshalled debt of the township. The court on September 23, having confirmed the report of Commissioner Halsey, who was appointed to marshal the debt, issued a decree that the supervisors of the township shall within ten days prepare a duplicate for a tax levy of 15 1/2 mills upon the assessed valuation of the township, with a proper warrant to the collector of taxes of said township to collect the same within thirty days. The collector and treasurer of the township are each to furnish a bond to be approved by the court in the sum of $10,634.32. The amount of the debt is $5,017.16.

In addition to the foregoing tax, an extra tax will be ordered collected from the taxpayers of that portion of Foster township (South Heberton and Alivinton) lately annexed to Freeland borough. The report of Auditor McHugh, appointed by the court last spring to audit the accounts, has not yet been made to the court, but sufficient data has been obtained to know that the tax rate to be paid by the residents of that portion of the township will be not less than 4 per cent of the valuation of their property.

Stegmairers Are in the Trust.

The Stegmairers, of Wilkesbarre, have joined the big brewery trust, which has been buying up all the breweries in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties during the past two or three months. The Stegmairers are about the last to give in; they have held out all along, and said they would conduct their concern as they have always done, but the power of the trust and the price offered was at last sufficient to induce them to sell out. It is understood that $600,000, is the price paid by the trust for the brewery, and that in addition to this the Stegmairers get a goodly slice of the corporation's stock.

Since the above announcement was made the Stegmairers have authoritatively stated that the deal is off again and that their brewery will remain independent. As the trust owns every other prominent plant in Luzerne and Lackawanna counties, a beer war is due at any time.

Instructor Douglas Has Retired.

Richard P. Kealy on Friday evening became an instructor in the Mining and Mechanical Institute, succeeding W. J. Douglas, of Hazleton. The latter did not find life in the school quite as pleasant since the Lattimer murder, in which he figured as a deputy and is said to have boasted of his work there, and his resignation is considered about the best step he could have taken in the interest of the institute. Douglas was conceded to have been the most able instructor the school had ever employed, but his days of usefulness here were over when he showed his true character on September 10 last.

Mr. Kealy is employed by Markle & Co., and in the surveying and civil engineering line has no superior in the locality. Under his guidance the class should thrive as well as before.

Council Meeting Tonight.

The regular monthly meeting of the borough council will be held this evening. Several important matters, it is said, will be brought up for settlement. The poll tax ordinance will probably be introduced tonight, and the question of removing the arc light from East Main street, near the Public Park, will come forward again. A motion was passed at a recent meeting ordering the Electric Light Company to remove the lamp from this point to the Grand opera house corner. This action is not satisfactory to many residents, and a delegation is expected to appear tonight to protest against taking away the Main street light.
