SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S SESSION WAS A VERY LIVELY ONE.

President McCarthy Resigned as a Member and Director Sweeney Quit as Secretary—Board Refused to Accept the New Building—The False Tablet, Etc.

What was probably the liveliest session ever held by Freeland school board took place Saturday evening. There was a full attendance of the members, and every question taken up for consideration during the evening was discussed before action was taken. More or less friction was noticeable from the start, and before the session was concluded President McCarthy's resignation as a member of the board and Director Sweeney's resignation as secretary were read. The motions to accept the same did not have a majority vote, nevertheless the president has declared that his connection with the board is ended.

The reading of the minutes of the special meeting on September 25 brought a protest from the president. He claimed that he withdrew his vote at that meeting for Myron Zimmerman as teacher and declared that ballot void. The secretary contended that the president did not withdraw his vote, that he simply stated that if he had seen the certificate before voting he would certainly not vote as he did. The minutes were then approved.

OVER THE PRESIDENT'S PROTEST.

The regular order of business was suspended to take up the question of settlement of the new building with the architect and contractor. A motion was made by Directors Ferry and Johnson to accept the building from Mr. Riebe, the architect having given him a certificate that all work was complete and satisfactory. After the president misconstrued the motion, and his attention being called to it by the maker, he refused to accept it unless put in writing. This Mr. Ferry refused to do. Two motions were then put and lost, one to pay Mr. Riebe $1,200 and the architects $200 on account, and another to lay the final settlement over until a future time. A bill for extra masonry done by the contractor and sanctioned by the architect, for $41, was also laid over. Ferry's motion as above was then presented in writing and accepted. It failed to carry, Ferry, Johnson and Schaub voting for it and McCarthy, Sweeney and Timony against.

TO ACCEPT THE BUILDING

These bills were ordered paid: Wm. Williamson, supplies, $2.35; Freeland Lumber Company, $1; M. Halpin, door latch, 30c; J. P. Gorman, pens, 90c; Plain Speaker, publishing notice, 90c; V. R. K. freight, $45.55; Wm. Williamson, lamp and oil, $2.49; American Book Company, books, $9.60; E. H. Butler, books, $53.28; Kress Stationery Company, supplies, $47.38; Leach, Shewell & Sanborn, books, $11.25; American Book Company, books, $9.15; E. H. Butler, books, $63.84; H. Riebe, laying pavement, $51; Henry Fisher, labor, $10.50; H. F. Doubt and C. F. Kocher, labor, $6; Daniel Miller, $7; Joseph Senenbach and James Bell, labor, $7.40; Wm. Birkbeck, 60c; Isaac Johnson, hauling, $3; Matthew Johnson, labor, $2.40; H. G. Deppe, labor, $3.04. A bill from Wm. Birkbeck for $15 was laid over.

A petition from the residents of old South Heberton,

A Complaint from Freeland.

From Saturday's Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Inquirer acknowledges the receipt of a communication from a correspondent at Freeland, Pa., in which the names of certain coal operators who violate both the semi-monthly pay law and the act prohibiting company stores are given, and in which it is alleged that "the men are compelled to deal in the company's store and that they have to sign a contract to enable them to draw the store account before they get their money." It is also alleged that the abolition of those stores would be a great benefit to legitimate storekeepers and to the towns in which they and the miners live. Unfortunately, the correspondent failed to attach his name to the communication, and hence it cannot be described, however, are those with which the Inquirer has made the state at large acquainted, even to the fact that men who do not deal with such stores are discharged for that cause or no cause at all.

It would seem as if the attorney general of Pennsylvania could not fail to make out a score of cases against the people who, in the soft and hard coal regions and even in the slate fields, thus deliberately violate the law.

Breaker Employees on Strike.

The Lehigh and Wilkesbarre employes on the South Side were given their checks on Friday, but when the breaker hands found that they had been granted less than what they claimed they were promised at the time of the settlement of the recent strike they refused to work. They say that if the officials offer no satisfactory explanation and give them no advance of the 2,500 men of this company who were out during the late difficulty will again be idle.

The Honey Brook breaker hands were the first to strike. As soon as they discovered that the expected advance had not been granted they left their places. Superintendent Gomer Jones prevailed upon them to go back, and after some persuasion they did so upon being assured that the superintendent would settle with the grievance committee.

The breaker employes at Audenried marched to Hooney Brook in the afternoon and were joined by the latter.

Failed to Fix the Guilt.

A preliminary hearing as to the charges brought by Schuylkill county commissioners against Philip J. Connell, a former chief clerk, wherein they allege he is guilty of forgery and embezzlement of $5,000 which was missed from the office and cannot be accounted for, was heard on Friday evening before Alderman J. H. Fister. It is alleged that Connell falsified the minutes and took out a temporary loan on the Safe Deposit Bank for $3,000, whereas the commissioners only authorized a loan of $2,500. Connell, who mysteriously disappeared about four weeks ago, has not been located and was not present at the hearing. The result of the hearing fixed the guilt upon no one.

Terrible Death of Two Brothers.

Two brothers, Louis and Leone Cool, miners employed in the Evans colliery, Beaver Meadow, were found dead Thursday morning in the chamber in which they were engaged. The men were working night shift, and it seems they were overcome by bad air shortly after entering. One body lay face downward, while the other was in a kneeling posture at his side with hands clutching his clothing, as though he had been endeavoring to drag him to a place of safety when he, too, was overcome. The brothers were 33 and 28 years respectively and unmarried.

Ex-Congressman Ammerman Dead.

Ex-Congressman Lemuel Ammerman, who was elected from the Lackawanna district and served in the Fifty-second congress, and who was a resident of Scranton, where he was well known as financier, lawyer and politician, died suddenly of heart disease Thursday afternoon at Blossburg, Tioga county, where he was in company with his business partner of many years, ex-Lieutenant Governor L. A. Watres.

A Child Fatally Burned.

While Mrs. Michael Koche, of Hazleton, was out picking coal Friday morning, her three-year-old son was fatally burned. The mother before departing built a wood fire in an open grate and left a baby in charge of the boy. A half hour later the mother returned. Upon opening the door a horrible sight met her. There lay the boy writhing in agony, almost every stitch of clothing being burned from his body.

"Patent Applied For."

Lovers of good comedy, magnificent scenic effects and intricate stage mechanism are looking with eager anticipation for the appearance of Elmer E. Vance's latest and best work, "Patent Applied For," which Manager Boyle has secured for Saturday, October 16, and if, as it is said, the new play is more successful artistically and financially, than Manager Vance's first great winner, "The Limited Mail," reserved seats will be at a premium before the doors are thrown open. Beatrice, who was the soul of the latest production, has a congenial role in the "Patent" and is said to be making a phenomenal success in her new part of a young lady quite up-to-date. Elegant photos of this charming actress and dancer will be presented to every lady attending the performance.

PLEASURE CALENDAR.

November 24.—Seventh annual ball of Jeddo Progressive Club at Yannes' opera house. Admission, 50 cents.

Firemen's Monster Parade.

The parade of the state firemen was held on Thursday at Wilkesbarre. The weather was threatening all day and at 3:30 rain began to fall. The procession had gone over about two-thirds of the route by this time, however, and rain had no terrors for the marchers. They went over the entire route. There were over 8,000 men in line, fifty bands and twenty drum corps. Many of the companies brought their apparatus with them.

Thousands of strangers were in the city to witness the demonstration, and the business houses and residences along the line of march were handsomely decorated. C. Bow Dougherty, colonel of the Ninth regiment, was chief marshal.

The judges awarded prizes as follows: Largest company, prize $50, to the Columbia Engine Company, of Columbia.

Finest uniformed company, prize $60, to the Good Will Company, of Allentown.

Finest-looking hose wagon, prize $50, to the Elm Hill Company, of Plymouth.

Finest-looking hook and ladder truck, prize $80, to the Easton Hook and Ladder Company, of Easton.

Finest-looking hose carriage, prize $50, to the William Penn Company, of Philadelphia.

On Friday the annual tournament was held. The events resulted as follows: Competitive drill—first prize, $100, Eagle Company, Pittston; second prize, $50, Schuylkill Company, Reading.

Hook and ladder race—first prize, $75, Friendship Company, Boyertown; second prize, $35, Empire Company, Carlisle.

Hose race, distance of 200 yards run and attachment to a plug, with six entries—Hibernia Company, Allentown; West Pittston Company; First Ward Company, Butler; Houtzdale Company; Hope Company, Phillipsburg; Humane Company, Mahanoy City. West Pittston won first prize, $300; time, 36 1/2 seconds. Butler Company, second prize, $100; time, 37 seconds. Hibernia Company, third prize, $50; time, 37 1/2 seconds.

County Teachers' Institute.

The thirteenth annual session of the Luzerne County Teachers' Institute will be held in Wilkesbarre October 25 to 28, inclusive. County Superintendent Harrison is now busy arranging the details of the program. The general plan of the work shows that the teachers of the county are to be provided with a week of excellent instruction and fine entertainment. Among the names that appear on the program are: Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, superintendent of public instruction; Professor B. Bible, East Stroudsburg Normal School; Dr. J. P. Welsh, Bloomsburg Normal School; Dr. C. C. Rounds, of New York city, will give instruction during the entire week. He will speak in the main upon applied psychology. Dr. R. Heber Holbrook is professor of psychology and mathematics in Clarion Normal School. His work will be along the line of civics and history. Prof. Hamlin E. Cogswell, of Binghamton, will have charge of the music. Miss Mary Cronan, of New York city, will present the Pollard synthetic to the institute.

The evening lectures and entertainments are unusually fine. On Monday evening Dr. Thomas Dinsmore will give his lecture, "A Wonderful Structure." This is a popular scientific lecture, illustrated with brilliant chemical experiments. On Tuesday evening the Lyric Ladies, of Chicago, will give a concert. Sam. P. Jones will lecture on Wednesday evening. His subject is "Get There and Stay There."

Departed With Good Wishes.

L. Olsho and family, after a residence in Freeland of five years, removed on Friday to Pottsville, where the business has been reopened in a large store-room on the principal thoroughfare of the town. This change in location was made necessary by the inability of Mr. Olsho to secure quarters here large enough to satisfy his increasing trade. If this could have been done he would have remained in Freeland, but after failing to find a location which would meet all requirements he sought elsewhere. In Pottsville he is well located, and it is safe to predict that in a few years the fame of his hat store will be as favorably known in Schuylkill county as it is now in Luzerne.

By his removal Freeland has lost one of its honest, upright business men, and many expressions of regret have been heard from the numerous friends he made during his stay in this town. With the aid of his son, Sidney, assisted by judicious advertising, he built up a trade which was not surpassed by any Freeland dealer in the same line, and by his thorough business qualities and honest dealings he commanded the respect of all who became his patrons. He carried with him the wishes of the town for success in his Schuylkill field.

A SALTED COAL MINE.

EXPERT FAKIRS LOADED A DRILL WITH COAL BORINGS.

Tract of Land in Lackawanna County Was Made to Show a Vein of Ten Feet of Anthracite Under Its Surface—The Trick Explained in Court.

The "salting" of a mine has always been considered an industry peculiar to the enterprising West, says the Scranton Truth. That the West does not monopolize all such works of genius seems to be the inference from a declaration filed in a suit brought in Lackawanna county by Charles L. Hawley, Esq., attorney for William W. Watkins, assigned to Edward J. Williams, and Edward Williams in his own right, against the estate of William Moore, deceased, late of Providence. The plaintiff claims $25,000 with interest from January 18, 1895.

The declaration filed in the case sets forth that about the first of April, 1889, William Moore, who owned 130 acres of the Sandy McLean tract in Blakely, which he desired to sell, agreed to sell to Watkins & Williams the tract, provided they should test the coal under the land. They claim to have spent $6,000 in boring for coal. They claim that Moore agreed to pay them $3,000 to reimburse them for their losses in boring.

After the expiration of the above mentioned agreement of opinion, Moore made a deed of the lands to John H. Fellows, Edward J. Watkins, William W. Watkins and H. J. Brennan. The consideration named in the deed was $25,000. The purchasers gave a mortgage of $20,000 restricted in its collection to this tract of land.

The declaration sets forth that prior to the making of the deed William Moore, with the connivance of an employe of said Watkins & Williams but without the knowledge, at that time, of said Watkins and Williams, had caused to be put into the case barrel of the drilling machine, with which such boring and testing was being done, about ten feet of coal core taken from another tract of land, remote from the land herein described, thus creating the belief on the part of Clarence R. Simpson, Thomas H. Watkins and William C. Park, who had intended to purchase it if the land proved to contain coal, "that the land here described was underlain with about ten feet of coal."

It is said that at the time the test hole was put down the intending purchasers had a man watch the drillers, but while the attention of the unscrupulous coal expert was drawn aside, with the slightest of hand dexterity of the drillers, the coal core was slid into the boring machine. Then operations were resumed and the vigilant inspector resumed his position watching the drill work. The drillers suspected the machine was going through coal. Water was put down and pumped up and it came up as black as the subterranean night from whence it came. The heart of the inspectors bounded, for surely here was coal. He had them examine the borings, and to the surprise of all there came out borings of ten feet of coal.

The declaration sets forth that Watkins and Williams, in payment of the moneys expended for borings, "agreed to accept the sum of $3,000 as soon as Moore should get his money on the $20,000 mortgage above referred to, the collection of such being dependent upon the failure of the parties who were to pay to come to discover, previous to the payment thereof, the substitution of said ten feet of coal core."

January 18, 1895, Moore was paid in full amount of said mortgage. William W. Watkins assigned his share to Edward J. Williams. Williams has not yet received his cash. Hence the suit. Messrs. Simpson Watkins and Parke now own the land.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J.
