A DEMOCRATIC NIGHT.

LARGE GATHERING OF VOTERS AT THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

An Enthusiastic Audience Greeted the County Candidates and Speakers Here on Saturday Evening—Addresses Delivered in Foreign Languages.

Saturday night's Democratic mass meeting at the Grand opera house came up fully to the expectations of the local committee. Their intention was to make it the largest political indoor meeting ever held in Freeland, and they succeeded. The spacious auditorium of the opera house barely accommodated the people who came from the towns of the North Side to hear the questions of the day discussed from the Democratic standpoint, and that the manner in which these questions were treated met their approval was attested by the applause which greeted speakers and candidates.

Chairman Frank McHugh, of Jeddo, made the opening address. It was not lengthy, but it contained much for voters to consider. He presented the reasons for the meeting in language well chosen for the purpose, and his remarks left a favorable impression.

The following list of vice presidents of the meeting was read:
Owen Fritzinger, John Toomey, Wilby Doudt, Peter Timony, Dr. E. W. Rutter, Patrick Burke, John Brennan, Patrick McLaughlin, Sr., John Schnee, Freeland.

Patrick O'Brien, Adam Lesser, Upper Lehigh.
David Handong, George Ripple, East Freeland.

Bernard J. Carr, David Kellar, Eckley.
William O'Donnell, John Craig, Hazle Brook.
William Sheeman, Pond Creek.

Frank Burke, Sandy Valley.
Neil Gallagher, Sandy Run.
Patrick O'Donnell, Theobald Wakley, Highland.

Peter Hoeckburg, John H. O'Donnell, Drifton.
Philip Breslin, Paul Dunleavy, Henry Coll, Jeddo.

John H. Biglow, of Hazleton, was introduced as the first speaker by Chairman McHugh. He at once dove into the subject he had chosen, and in a short while had the audience enthusiastically applauding. His talk was for the greater part on state matters, showing just as I thought he was about to propose, a garter snake suddenly appeared.

"How indicate!" returned the girl in pink.—Chicago Post.

Jinks—That young lady may be a fine pianist, as you say, but there is no warmth to her touch.
Blinks—I guess you didn't hear her play the Moonlight symphony.
Jinks—No; but I squeezed her hand.—N. Y. Weekly.

Restitution.
Miss Keedick—I read about a lady suing a man for $500 for a kiss he had stolen from her.
Miss Kittish—But I suppose she would have been willing to withdraw the suit if he would return the kiss.—Up-to-Date.

formed to look after these matters, and stated where subscriptions could be sent. He also addressed the Slavish and Hungarians in their languages.

Adolph Rakerey, of Freeland, followed with a Polish speech which caused intense enthusiasm among the people who understood him. He was repeatedly interrupted with cheers from his fellow-citizens and they pronounced it one of the best addresses that could be made.

Edward J. Lynch, candidate for clerk of the courts, was introduced next, and received good applause for his brief remarks. Paul Daseh, candidate for prothonotary, followed. He was given a welcome which might well be termed an ovation. Republicans and Democrats, independents and everybody else, assisted in the greeting.

The meeting was a complete success and its effect is bound to be felt here on election day. During the evening the St. Patrick's band rendered several selections.

"Well, it's all right," exclaimed young Mr. Louie Veel, triumphantly to his lady love, "I've seen your father, Nellie, dear, and now we are engaged."

"But how did you overcome papa's opposition?" asked the delighted girl.
"I let him beat me at poker."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
