The population of the city is equal to the combined population of thirteen new states and territories, whose area is three thousand times greater than that of the city and about two-fifths of the entire republic.

A child is born every six minutes in Greater New York, which means about 90,000 a year, and, although the death rate is comparatively low, 70,000 persons die annually, or one about every seven minutes, day and night.

New York is unique in the character of its population. It is the largest Irishcity in the world, its $50,000 Irish being twice as numerons as the population of Dublin.

Berlin, New York is the largest German-city in the world. The foreign born-population numbers 1,250,000 or about-one-third of the city's entire population. The least creditable record of Greater New York is that there are more than ten saloons to each church, but as each church will accomodate at least ten-times as many people as the saloon there-is probably church room enough for the worshipers.

Postal Banks in a Campaign.

In the Sixth Illinois district a campaign for congressman is in progress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Congressman Cooke. The sentiment for postal savings banks is so strong in Chicago that both party platforms pledge the candidates to work for them if elected. In a recent speech Henry S. Boutell, one of the candidates, said:

The people demand that congress at its next session shall provide for the establishment of postal savings banks under the control of the postoffice department, and å measure looking to this end would have my hearty support. Postal savings banks have given satisfaction to the people wherever they have been tried. Their existence in all parts of the country is a constant invitation to thrift and economy, and wherever thrift and economy prevail ignorance and crime disappear. The establishment of such a system of agencies for the reception of the smallest deposits would be in exact accordance with the principle which should characterize all our legislation—namely, the protection of the weakest. If we protect the weakest, we protect all.

Wedderburn on the Black List.
The postoffice department has officially decided that the interior department was right when it disbarred John Wedderburn and John Wedderburn & Co., from practice before the patent office, for gross frauds upon gullible clients, and has issued a fraud order against John Wedderburn, John Wedderburn & Co., and the National Recorder, a newspaper owned by them. This order shuts them out of the mails, and will cause all matter addressed to them to be returned to the writers, after being officially stamped "fraudulent." at a Georgia Revival.

An extraordinary series of meetings is being carried on at Ty Ty, Ga. by the Wesleyan Methodists, commonly known os the "Holiness people." Public confession of sins is a feature of the meetings. Respectable persons confess sins that would send them to the penitentiary should cases be made in court against them.

One young lady who has been considered a model, confessed that she taught school in a distant neighborhood un-der an assumed name and a license that was not granted to her. Not being able to pass the examination, she used her sister's license. Her father confessed to having stolen eggs from a neighbor's henhouse. A girl of 15 told how she stole a handkerchief from the desk of a schoolinate, and bought a fan or credit.

What the Beast Assayed on His Arrival at Dawson City.

Bears in White Pass are having a great time of it these days. For miles along the terrible defile are provisions and traps abandoned by prospectors who have either perished or flung up the sponge. Bears coming down the mountain side have lived sumptuously.

Last Thursday, says the Chicago Chronicle, a huge bear came rolling into Dawson with his shaggy sides heaving strangely and eyes as red as a hose cart. He wabbled up to the Pinch-Me-Back saloon, where Sol Samuels, an Idaho miner, was sleeping off the effects of needle-gun whisky and breathed in the man's face. Sol arose with a start, the breath of the bear evidently reminding him of the potations he had taken during the night. With a howl of fright Sol burst into the saloon and gave the alarm. When the loungers reached the street the bear was cavorting about, grunting from time to time, and finally rolling over on his back.

The point long mooted whether Gen.
Robert E. Lee did or did not resign after the battle of Gettysburg is now settled. In a volume of war records which the war department is about to publish, Gen. Lee's letter will appear. It is dated from Camp Orange. August 8, 1863, one month after Gettysburg. Jefferson Davis deelined to accept the resignation.—Military Gazette.

Animals in Paradise.
According to the Mohammedan creed, ten animals besides man are admitted into Paradise. These ten are: 1, the dog: 2, Balanm's ass; 3 Solomon's ant: 4, Jonab's whale; 5, the ram of Ishmael; 6, the queen of Shebris ass; 7, the camel of Salet; 8, the cuekoo of Baltis; 9, the ox of Moses; 10, the animal called Al Borak, which conveyed Mohammed to Heaven.—St. Nicholas.

BOOKS, MAGAZINES, AUTHORS.

BOOKS, MAGAZINES, AUTHORS.

Mrs. Burton Harrison has written a new novel of New York life, entitled "Good Americans," and it will appear in Century during the coming year.

George Moore's "Esther Waters" has recently won an enthusiastic patron in Tolstoi, who is presenting copies of the novel to his friends, and has written to the author congratulating him upon the work.

The German edition of Mr. Edward Bellamy's "Equality" is to be followed shortly by an Italian edition. Although the book was published only recently, it is now appearing in four countries and three languages.

The readers of Maxwell Grey's well-known novel, "The Silence of Dean Maitland," will be interested to hear that another work from the same author is now in the course of preparation and will be published in October.

Jules Verne is at work on a novel of which he says the scene is laid "through the whole United States," It will not be ready for two years to come. Verne has also written a continuation of Edgar Allen Poe's "Adventures of A. Gordon Pym."

Victorien Sardou, the French dramatist, was intended to be a physician. but he was so poor that he had to give Greek and Latin lessons at 20 cents apiece. He was also a bookseller's hack and made translations. It is stated that he was once paid less than $6.50 for a translation which took him three weeks to do.

IN THE WHIRL OF FASHION.

The things most noticeable in new millinery is the disappearance of ruchings and the presence of folded and swather bands.

A stunning picture hat is of gray silk rulle, the brim composed of row after row of tiny tucks which took three days to complete. Gray plumes and a white osprey feather complete this work of art.

osprey feather complete this work of art.

Fur coats will have jeweled buttons this season to add to their costliness. Heavy outdoor garments will be lined with glace silk rather than brocades. The smartest creations, however, are lined with white satin.

High collars must be very high with handkerchief points and frills at the back. Every spare bit of fur can be frilled with lace or chiffon and feather flowers added. These flowers are a novelty and are expensive.

The low-cut bodice this winter will be worn with very long sleeves made tight-fitting at the wrists by means of loops and jeweled buttons, the sleeves spreading out around the hand like the petals of a flower. Fullness at the top of the sleeves should be reduced to a minimum.

RECENT FOREIGN HAPPENINGS.

Lord Roseberry is said to have bought the late count of Aquilla's villa at Pos-ilipo, near Naples, and to intend to spend his winters there with his chil-dren.

spend his winters there with his children.

A British pauper, aged 70 years, came into a small inheritance lately and treated his friends to a champagne supper at a swell London hotel. It killed him within three days.

In repairing a cable off Cape Frio, a whale was found entangled in it by the cable ship Norseman, but it had not broken. The whale must have been there two or three weeks and had been bitten into by sharks.

Prince Victor Emmanuel of Naples is said to be an expert electrician. He experiments on all its applications to light, sound, motive power, and phetography, and was one of the first persens in italy to investigate the Roentgen rays.

Gen. Bourbaki's father, who was captain of a Greek felucea at the time of Napoleon Bonaparte's expedition to Europe, conveyed to him the message from his brother Joseph that took him back to Paris and brought about the coup d'etat of the eighteenth of Brumaire.
