

Anti-Rheumatic Potatoes.
Corporal Tanner, of the Algiers precinct, sat out in front of the station the other night in his shirt sleeves and took in the glorious breeze that came down Morgan street in all its glory. It has been a rare occurrence to see the Corporal in negligee attire. He has been suffering terribly from rheumatism, and throughout the summer has worn his heavy woollen coat, even when the humidity would woot it from him. When fate had him transferred to Algiers an Irish lady living over there told him of the virtues of the potato. She gave him two small "pratties" to carry in his trousers pockets, and she swears that he at once felt the rheumatism sneaking from his bones. In a few nights it was all gone. The potatoes have begun to get as hard as a rock, and Corporal "Bill" swears he will carry them through life.—Chicago News.

ITS WORST FORM

All Symptoms of Catarrh Have Disappeared Since Taking Hood's.
"My daughter has had catarrh in its worst form since she was four years old. She obtained only temporary relief from medicines until she began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Since using this medicine the disagreeable symptoms of the disease have entirely disappeared." M. W. Silsby, Hartland, N. Y.

What Children Fear.
President G. Stanley Hall of Clark University has been collecting facts concerning the fears of children. The fears of children, he says, are generally created by parents and servants. He found that 1,701 children had 6,456 fears, the leading ones being the fear of lightning and thunder, reptiles, strangers, the dark, death, domestic animals, disease, wild animals, water, ghosts, insects, rats and mice, robbers, high winds, etc.

A few of these fears are rational. In New Jersey no children were found to be afraid of high winds, but in the West that fear naturally leads all others. At Trenton, however, sixty-two children were found who dreaded the end of the world, a fear created entirely by adult teaching. His tabulation shows what education can do in this respect.

No child was found to be afraid of the devil. Two hundred years ago and less that fear would have led all the rest. Few were found who were afraid of ghosts, a fear that would have stood high on the list not long ago. The fear of robbers and of wild animals is a survival, though robbers have not disappeared as completely as the wild animals.

Forty-six New Jersey children were afraid of being burned alive, a monstrous thing to inculcate in the child mind. Fear will always be one of the strongest influences in human life, but at least it is possible by teaching what real danger consists of to eradicate groundless fears.—Chicago Tribune.

Klondike Trademarks.
The Klondike Office has had its effect on the Patent Office, as has been shown by the application for trademarks bearing the word "Two" or "three" patents have been applied for objects which might be better suited for the gold fields there than elsewhere, but the chief clerk refuses to tell of them.

When a girl does not look with favor upon a young man's suit he should transfer his patronage to another tailor.

A STITCH IN TIME SAVES NINE.
Heat, sense of tenderness and swelling of a part, are all indications that there is need of instant repair—the stitch in time. Where these symptoms exist on the left or the right side of the womb, disease of the ovary is setting in, and soon there will be, if they are not already established, a discharge, trifling at first, but later copious and irritating. Soon, also, there will be felt dull, dragging pains radiating from the ovary.

Do not, my sister, let your malady go so far, but those of you who are already suffering in this way should begin at once a course of treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will restore the organs to their normal condition.

In this connection Mrs. E. L. Myers, Quakertown, Pa., says: "My ovaries were badly diseased, and for almost a year I suffered with severe burning pains which were almost unendurable, and a dull, heavy pain in the lower portion of my back. If standing I was most relieved with my foot resting on a stool or chair. The doctor told me I would have to take my bed and keep quiet. I had not used half a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before it worked wonders with me. I now owe my health to the compound. To those who are suffering from diseases peculiar to women, I would say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just what they need."

Mrs. Pinkham wishes to befriend you, and if you will write her at Lynn, Mass., telling her just how you feel, she will give you the very best advice free of charge. Think what a privilege it is to be able to write to a woman who is learned in all these matters, and willing to advise you without charge.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CUNNINGHAM & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, etc.

There is a Class of People
Who are injured by the use of coffee. Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called Grain-O-made of pure grains, and the place of coffee. The most delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost over one-quarter as much. Children may drink it with great benefit. 15 cts. and 25 cts. per package. Try it. Ask for Grain-O.

It is permanently cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Send for bottle and treatise free. Dr. R. H. Kline, Ltd., 30 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Origin of "Blue Blood."
The origin of the term "blue blood" is most suggestive. After the black Moors were driven out of Spain the aristocracy of Spain was held to consist of those who traced their lineage back to the time before the Moorish conquest. These people were whiter than those who had been mixed with Moorish blood. The veins upon their white hands were blue, while the blood of the masses, contaminated by the Moorish infusion, showed black upon their hands and faces. So the white Spaniards of the old race came to declare that their blood was "blue," while that of the common people was black. The phrase passed to France, where it had no such significance, and was, in fact, quite arbitrary, and thence it came to England and America.

Caring for the Teeth.
Do not eat, or do not feed your children on, white bread, which is deficient in phosphates, and causes the teeth to crumble. A little hard food requiring thorough mastication should be taken at every meal. The teeth should be brushed both night and morning. Avoid sweets. Drink at least two quarts of water a day—a glass the first thing in the morning, another the last thing before going to bed, the remaining quantity between meals. Consult a good dentist about every six months.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Around the World on a Wheel.
Miss Annie Londonderry, the American woman who has made a tour of the world on her bicycle, is now writing an account of her experiences. She was unattended, and it required two years and two months for her to make the trip.

Protect Trees With Pine Tar.
To keep rabbits from injuring fruit trees mix pine tar and grease equal parts, warm and apply with a cheap paint brush to the lower two feet of the tree trunks.

Do Moles Eat Vegetables?
I have insisted that the mole is a vegetarian, eating seed corn, roots of plants, as of asparagus, sweet potatoes, common potatoes, carrots, turnips and other plants, but those chiefly. I have tested the contents of the stomachs of a great many moles caught in traps, and in every case found starch in them, and on some occasions have detected the actual starch grains by the use of the microscope. In no single case have I found any animal matter, as the remains of grubs or worms, but the vegetable matter has been found in all examined without exception. This is direct proof, while the French experimenters have only such weak evidence as that the moles refused to eat vegetable matter when in confinement.

Within a few days past I have made a test. A mole was caught by hand as he was pushing his way through a bed of sweet potatoes, which had been burrowed through and through by the pests. A barrel was sunk over two hills of the row which had not so far been eaten into. The mole was put inside the barrel and kept a prisoner for three days. When taken out he had eaten every potato in the hill except the shells of some of them, and in his stomach was found the undigested pulp of his last meal. In the attempt to escape he had burrowed completely around the barrel, but had not gone deep enough to succeed. Doubtless he might have done so had he been left longer in his prison. I have found the dead moles in their burrows on my lawn, where they had died after a meal of poisoned corn.

It is the safest way to handle the baits by means of a small-bladed knife or pinners which have been buried in the earth for a few hours, and not to touch the bait with the hands. This animal is sly and wary, and like the ground hog, another wretched beast, will hear a footstep a long distance and then lie quiet for a long time waiting for the noise of the returning steps before it will make a move.—H. S., in Country Gentleman.

Stacking Hay Properly.
The accompanying sketch shows the form of a stack that will best turn water. A pole extends up through the centre of the stack and a bit of canvas or duck over the apex will assist in turning rain, particularly until partial fondness for every part of the Union. Florida has not been too warm for it, and Massachusetts has pleased. New Jersey has not escaped, and the Pacific coast as far as British Columbia has appealed to it.

The scale, though appearing only recently, has evidently spread several oons in preparing to descend upon the world. It is a microscopic insect which pierces the green bark of the tree with its proboscis and sucks the sap. It has, doubtless with an eye to this age of germicide solutions, rendered spraying an infested tree useless, because it has a scaly covering which remains on the bark of the tree or the skin of the fruit, and which acts as an armor against such weapons as washes. Fruit infested by the scale is unmarketable.

Farm and Garden Notes.
Don't let the beets and squashes stay out too long. Drainage will greatly increase the value of wet ground. The silo will enable the farmer to keep more cows profitably. Spare the harrow in the early stages of corn growth and spoil the crop.

The hired man should be a gentleman among the children in the house. The tomato trellises will last much longer if given shelter during the winter. In sections outside the corn belt corn can often be profitably grown for the silo. When the surface bakes after a rain, a light harrow should be used, whether the crop is up or not. Hay caps are a good investment. They will in a wet season pay for themselves very quickly. Hailstorms are likely anywhere, and insurance against them is as necessary as insurance against fire.

Divide up the farm among the grown boys, if it is large enough to make several reasonably sized farms, and encourage each to get a home of his own. Do you allow smoking in the barn? If you do, increase your insurance. That may not be exactly honest, but when a man tries to burn his barn the matter of honesty will not probably worry him.

Large pieces of old sod form the very best winter protective material when obtainable. These heaped about the roses will protect the most tender from severe freezing, and they come out in the spring in splendid order. It is just as good used about any other half hardy plant. In gathering fruits remember that all fruits are best when allowed to ripen on the tree or vine, excepting pears. Nearly all varieties of this fruit may be gathered while still green and put in a dry, cool place to mellow. All fruit should be examined often, as decay is rapidly communicated.

Scot from the kitchen chimney, especially from a wood fire, is invaluable in cultivation of flowers. Rich in ammonia it stimulates and deepens the color of flowers. Used as an insecticide it is equally effective in destroying and removing the pest on account of the creosote contained in it. Scot from hard coal exclusively is of less value, still it is worth saving.

Increasing the Census.
"Those St. Louis people are making a great fuss over that one-pound baby that was born there the other day."
"They have a right to. It counts just as much in the census as if it weighed a ton."—Chicago Tribune.

Mean Thing.
Miss Chatter—"I knew you would be here to-day to see sister."
Mr. Cuddler—"Intuition?"
Miss Chatter—"No; observation. You always appear on the same day that Ethel refuses onions at dinner."—Judge.

No Need.
Visitor—"I presume your daughter plays the piano?"
Mrs. Nervous (proudly)—"No, indeed. Dear Ethel doesn't have to. Her pa is rich enough to buy her one of those pianos which plays itself."—Harper's Bazar.

Adaptability.
"So you asked her if she could be happy without money?"
"I did."
"Was her answer encouraging?"
"Not exactly. She said she was sure she could; that she had always preferred buying things on credit."—Washington Star.

Not Painless.
Victim—"No charge, see."
Dentist—"Did it hurt?"
Victim—"You bet!"
Dentist—"Fifty cents, please."
Victim—"But your notice says no charge for extracting without pain."
Dentist—"Ah, but you admitted that it hurt!"—New York Journal.

Too Much Emotion.
"You didn't stay long out in the country."
"No; our dog enjoyed it so much that we had to come home."
"Your dog enjoyed it? What did he do?"
"Killed twenty-seven chickens the first day we were there."—Chicago Record.

More Like the Foot.

Canvasser—"Beg pardon, but I don't quite catch your drift?"
Dixmyth—"Well, I have to foot the bills, and as my wife says I'm always kicking you can draw your own conclusions."—Chicago News.

Sable Reasoning.
"Do you see the man and the woman?"
"Yes; I see the man and the woman."
"Do you think they are married?"
"No; they are not married."
"Why do you think they are not married?"
"Because he has asked her if she objects to smoking, and she has replied that she loves the smell of smoke."—Cleveland Leader.

Veterinary Surgery Not For Women.
Women may not be veterinary surgeons in London. The Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons has refused to admit a lady to examination, asserting that all its charters and its rules were drawn out on the assumption that men alone would seek qualification, and that, therefore, it would unduly straiten the statutes to admit women. It is said that the lady thus repulsed intends to appeal to the law courts.

Air Photography.

The experiments to be made by the United States Weather Bureau in air photography are expected to throw light on many phenomena but little understood at present. Little is now known about the way in which the atmospheric currents run. The nature of a hurricane, such as sometimes runs up the Atlantic coast from the West Indies at this season, is comprehended in a general way, but mystery envelops the working mechanism of the storm. No one can say how a whirling tornado plucks a chicken clean, drives a piece of timber through a man and carries a baby a mile unhurt. In order to ascertain how the air flows over houses, mountains and through bridges, a little model of each will be placed before a camera and an imitation breeze directed against it, and its movements photographed. The manner of photographing air currents has recently been worked out by Professor E. Mack, of Vienna. The discoverer is, however, due to Fizeau and Foucault, two Frenchmen.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Biggest Policeman on Earth.
The biggest policeman in the United States is on the St. Louis force of peace-preservers. He is new to the business, and his name is John Gibson. He towers above the average man like Chiang, the Chinese giant, and if he so chooses he can carry ten ordinary men to the station. Gibson is six feet six inches in height and weighs 255 pounds. His arm outstretched measures two feet 7 1/2 inches; the biceps 15 1/2 inches. His hand is 8 1/2 inches in length from the wrist, and his wrist measures ten inches. He is twenty-six years old. He wears a 7 1/2 hat, and in lifting on a scale several years ago raised the point to 1500 pounds.

Gibson says that he has never practiced much in athletics since he was a boy, but when a lad he could outrun any of the boys on the surrounding farms, and he says that even to-day he can make a good record for a large man.

Perfume From Living Plants.
Captain Smee has discovered a method of gathering the scent of flowers as the plant is growing. He takes a glass funnel and heats the thin end over a spirit lamp. He then draws out the stem to a fine point. This accomplished, the funnel is filled with ice and placed on a retort stand, the pointed end being placed in a small glass bottle, without touching it. After this the stand and the funnel are placed in a greenhouse among the flowers whose odors it is desired to collect. Gradually the vapor rises from the flowers, and in meeting the colder surface of the funnel, condenses into drops on the outside of the glass. From the point of condensation it trickles down until it drops into the bottle. In a surprisingly short time a large amount of perfume is collected, and it is claimed that ninety per cent. of the contents of the bottle is perfume; the rest is water. Strange to say, this essence of the flower needs to be adulterated with spirits of wine. Otherwise it would become sour and useless.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Odd Pretext for Duels.
It's easy to find an excuse for a duel if one is looking for trouble. One hundred and twenty years ago, says a writer in the Pittsburg Dispatch, two British officers serving in the army in America found cause for a fight in a discussion as to the proper method of eating corn. One contended that it should be eaten from the cob; the other that it should be eaten off the plate. One of the contestants lost his right arm as the result, and it is probable that the manner of eating corn did not concern him much thereafter. There have been many other duels, founded on equally foolish pretexts. One man lost his life in a dispute as to what was trumps in a card game; another because he was refused admission to a club of pigeon shooters. General Barry was challenged because he declined some wine on account of illness, and another British officer was called out because he asked his opponent to pass him a goblet at the dining table.

If some women were to cast their bread upon the water it would be pretty severe on the fish that gobbled it up.

Please mention this paper.

A novel proposition was made not long ago to the Directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The B. & O. has a branch running from what is known as Alexandria Junction, near Washington, to Shepherd's on the Potomac River, where a creek, for the purpose of educating young men in practical railroad work. In his letter he explained that he thought there was a wide field for bright and energetic boys who could be thoroughly well grounded in the practical side of railroading provided they could be educated on a regular line of road. He believed that by the employment of veteran railroad men as teachers that the boys could profitably spend 2 or 3 years working as trainmen, firemen, engineers, switchmen, station agents, and in other capacities required in the railroad service. As this branch of the B. & O. is of considerable value the Receivers were compelled to decline the offer.
