Tommy Shearer's Weekly Spasm.

The Tommy Shearer Company concluded its week's engagement here on Saturday evening. The audiences were not quite so large the latter part of the week as on the first three nights. The performances and specialties were good, considering the admission, but the ridiculous capers and nonsensical sayings of Mr. Shearer disgusted all who appreciate natural comedy and detest strained efforts to amuse.

By orders of the star all persons known to be connected with the TRIBUTE were denied admission to the opera house since our last issue, and from the stage on Thursday evening Shearer took exceptions to our criticism of his acting. In a set speech, which he finds necessary to repeat in every town where there exists a paper that cannot be bribed with his passes, he said the author of the paragraph was "neither intelligent or educated and not in my class nor is he my equal." This language requires no reply.

A member of Mr. Shearer's company has informed the TRIBUNE that his outbreak was one of his regular weekly spasms. On December 22 the Shamokin Dispatch incurred his enmity by praising others of the company and failing to flatter his vanity; on January 1 the Ashland Record gave him a plain talk on recording his comedy work, and his petulant spirit manifested itself on the stage that evening; on January 8 the Mahanoy City Black Diamond stroked Tommy's fur in a manner not agreeable to the thin-skinned star, but Shearer reserved his opinion of that notice until he reached Freeland, showing very plainly his cowardice by making a personal attack on Editor Joyce while here. The TRIBUNE takes pleasure in being classed with that portion of the press whose columns are not set swayed by the power of a pass.

A strike took place at the Green Mountain colliery, of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company, on Friday, about 150 miners complaining of too much dockage. Superintendent Jones met the men and agreed to remedy their grievances, and they all returned to work.

A meeting of the directors of the Wilkesbarre base ball club was held on Friday and a committee was appointed to report tonight on the advisability of giving up or retaining the franchise. They will make a careful report on the outlook for the year and on the amount of money which can be raised by subscriptions.

The dwelling house recently erected by Peter Timony on South street was thought to be on fire Thursday evening. The alarm was rung and the firemen reached Main street before learning that there was no fire. The reflection upon the walls from a stove inside made them appear ablaze, and without stopping to investigate some one raised the cry.

Lecture by a Converted Drunkard.

On Saturday evening a lecture will be delivered at St. Paul's Primitive Methodist church by Captain Branton, whose success in arousing considerable religious enthusiasm in the community has been noted in these columns. His subject will be "From the Cider-Barrel to the Drunkard's Grave," and with the aid of a large chart he will illustrate the steps of the boy, the young man and the old man, showing the last resting place of the drunkard, with wife and family weeping over his sad fate.

The captain's thirty years' experience in the West, leading the life of a drunkard and gambler, will enable him to give his hearers a more vivid picture of these unfortunates than a hundred books could do. All who are interested in the uplifting of humanity should attend.

The lecture is recommended by the leading men of all denominations in the large cities. While in Allentown recently he was called upon five times to deliver it. Tickets can be obtained from Rev. S. Cooper or any member of the congregation. The proceeds are for the benefit of St. Paul's church.

Funeral of W. D. Cowan.

The remains of the late William D. Cowan arrived here on Saturday afternoon from Wildwood, N. J., accompanied by J. M. Powell and A. Rudewick, of town, who left here on Friday to take charge of the corpse. They were taken to the residence of his brother-in-law, A. Donop, from which place the funeral was held yesterday afternoon. At St. James' P. E. church, Rev. C. A. Howells preached a fitting sermon, after which the interment was made in Freeland cemetery. The following were the pallbearers: J. M. Powell, A. Rudewick, Thomas Birkbeck, John Burton, Timothy Boyle and A. Goepfert.

Mr. Cowan's death resulted from an attack of pneumonia. He was ill only five days. He is survived by a wife and one son.

The Prison Wardenship.

Though the term of Prison Warden Boland will not expire for a month or two yet, interest in the office is increasing daily. According to the new law the judges will appoint one Republican and one Democrat to succeed Messrs. Coniff and Burgunder, both Democrats. This will make the prison board Republican and the warden will also be a Republican. The candidates so far heard from are: Peter Schmidt, of Wilkesbarre, who several years ago was a candidate for register of wills; ex-Prothonotary George Llewellyn, of West Pittston, and Mr. Lindsay, of Plymouth. Others may loom up later.

Coal Prices Marked Up.

Announcement was made in New York on Friday that the anthracite coal producing and carrying companies have advanced prices 10 and 20 cents per ton, to the basis of $3.95 free on board for stove at tidewater, other prices in proportion. The advance, it was explained, is due to the lightness of stock resulting from the continued restriction of the output, and to large orders from the West. In trade circles the belief is expressed that continued mild weather will prevent realization of the new prices.

Dejected Lover in Jail.

Gilbert Hatfield, the young Wilkesbarre man who swallowed poison because Mary McAdams, whom he loves, refused to see him, was sent to jail on Friday in default of $1,000 bail, for threats. Hatfield took the poison on December 9, since when he has been in the City hospital from its effects. The young lady said she was afraid of her life, so when Hatfield left the hospital he was arrested.

J. P. McDonald has decided to dispose of his entire stock of dry goods and notions and will handle nothing but furniture and carpets hereafter.

Prices have been marked down to actual cost in order to get stock sold without delay.

Oswald's stock of plain and fancy dress goods cannot be surpassed, either in quality or price.

Meeting of Fire Directors.

The Board of Directors of the fire department met at the council room on Thursday evening. Those present were: Councilmen Meehan, Davis, Miller and Mulhearn and W. J. Timney and J. P. McNeil.

Chief Patrick Welsh reported the twenty-four fire plugs to be in good order, also the fire apparatus, with the exception of a reducer on one of the nozzles. He reported that the hose house was not kept in proper condition. The directors then viewed the apparatus and hose house, and on their return it was decided that the chief employ some person to assist the janitor in placing the building in proper condition.

The directors also authorized the secretary of the fire company to procure the necessary supplies, spoken of by the chief.

The question of purchasing an engine for use on the Hill was discussed. It was decided to recommend to council the advisability of purchasing a steamer. A letter was read from a party who has one for sale. This matter was left with the council to decide upon sending a mechanic or two to examine the machine.

Two Weeks of Murder Cases.

District Attorney Martin and his assistants have arranged the trial lists for the criminal code cases to be tried this and next week. The first case on the list is that of James R. Griner, who will be tried today for the murder of his stepdaughter, Mrs. Shafer.

John Yusevitch, the murderer, who shot and killed John Moskwa and wounded Mrs. Soloman, is down for trial on Tuesday.

John Hudok and two other Hungarians from Hazleton will be placed on trial on Thursday charged with the murder of a countryman whom they beat over the head with a club near Hazleton several weeks ago.

The most important cases of the session will be those of Sheriff James Martin and his eighty deputies, who are down for trial on Tuesday, January 25. This case will be of national interest and the best legal talent in this portion of the state has been engaged on both sides. The sheriff and deputies are under indictment for murder and felonious wounding.

Warden Boland Won His Suit.

Referee F. W. Wheaton rendered an important decision on Thursday afternoon. Jail Warden Boland had a contract with the county commissioners by the terms of which he was to receive 30 cents a day for feeding the prisoners in the county jail. County Controller Lloyd had not been in the office long until he objected to the payment of so large an amount.

He finally refused to countersign the warden's bills, claiming that Schuykill county paid only 8 cents a day for feeding its prisoners and that Luzerne county should pay no more. It was finally agreed to submit the matter to arbitration. Mr. Wheaton was selected as the referee.

The arbitrator says the contract between the warden and the commissioners is a fair one, and therefore binding or in other words the warden is entitled to 30 cents a day for feeding all prisoners. It is understood that Controller Lloyd will appeal from the decision.

Martini Acquitted at Mauch Chunk.

Late on Friday night the jury in the trial of Gregoria Martini for the murder of Andrew Albertini, at Beaver Meadow, returned a verdict of not guilty. The court room was crowded, the assemblage being gathered by the tolling of the bell in the court house tower. The announcement of the verdict brought forth loud cheers.

The crime was committed on the night of July 28, 1897. Albertini and Martini had quarreled at a drinking place. Martini went home and armed himself with a gun expecting to go to Cox's, a few miles distant. Albertini saw him and attacked him on the street. There were no caps on the gun. Martini not being able to shoot brained his assailant, breaking the stock from the gun in so doing. Self-defense was the plea.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

From the Baltimore American.

Stetson's Big Uncle Tom's Cabin Company is at Kelley's Theatre this week. They have all the accessories for producing the play in the most approved style, and were highly successful in pleasing the audience. It is singular how this piece draws and how the audiences laugh over it. There is no necessity for speaking at length over the presentation last night. It was a good entertainment, and the audience, which had come to laugh, laughed heartily and were satisfied. The company had a double band-orchestra, composed of white and colored musicians, two Topseys, two Marks, two Orphidias, Eva and her pony, the Lone Star Quartette and African mandolin players.

WITH THE POLITICIANS.

The Republicans of Foster held the most exciting primaries in their history on Saturday. It is claimed that ten of the eighteen delegates chosen are in favor of Fred Lesser and Jerry Wooding for school directors and that eight favor Richards and Boyle. Friends of the latter men dispute this count and say that the vote at the convention tonight will be favorable to their candidates. Whichever side wins will have a hard road to travel if the Democrats stand together and mind their own business.

The Democratic committee of the borough has selected next Saturday evening as the date for holding the delegate elections. The borough convention to nominate a candidate for auditor will be held at Yannes hall on Monday evening of next week, and the ward and district conventions on the following evening. According to the party rules each voting district will elect three delegates, each ward one delegate and the borough at large will elect one delegate.

J. S. Sanders, the Democratic candidate for mayor of Wilkesbarre, has published during his life such staunch organs of Republicanism as the Hazleton Sentinel and Wilkesbarre Telephone, but he cast his first vote for James Buchanan for president in 1856 and for every Democratic presidential nominee since, including W. J. Bryan in 1896.

Foster Democrats elected their delegates on Saturday evening. At a number of the polls the contests were bitterly fought. The convention will be held at Woodside on Wednesday evening.

Delegates to represent the legislative districts of Luzerne in the Republican state convention will be chosen today. All will be favorable to Leisenring for governor.

Hazle Democrats will hold their delegate elections on Saturday and their convention at Hazleton on Tuesday of next week.

The Democratic poor district convention will be held at Weatherly on Thursday afternoon.

Friday will be the last day to file nominations for poor director and poor auditor.

H. G. Depepe announces himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination of school director in the Second ward.

There is a strong sentiment in Foster township in favor of nominating John E. O'Donnell, of Eckley, as one of the Democratic candidates for school director. By giving him a good running mate on the ticket the party can win easily at the coming election. Mr. O'Donnell comes from a family of Democrats who for over a score of years have voted and worked for the party nominees, and his name will add strength to the ticket and help to carry every other candidate to victory. If good judgment is used on Wednesday night the convention will nominate this man, and thereby insure success for the party at the polls.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
