BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

PARAGRAPHS GATHERED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE REGION.

Synopsis of Local and Miscellaneous Occurrences That Can Be Read Quickly.

What the Folks of This and Other Towns are Doing.

John Dusheck, Jr., has commenced the study of law in the office of Attorney Stroh.

The Good Will Association will hold a hop at Yannes' opera house on Saturday evening.

Ambrose Harkins, formerly of Jeddo, and well-known throughout the region, is dying at Buffalo from consumption.—Standard.

Deputy Factory Inspector Bishop visited the overall factory and silk mill on Tuesday and found both establishments in first-class condition.

M. H. Hunsicker has decided to place his sprinkler on the streets again. It is in the hands of the painters and will be ready for service in a short while.

"Kerry Gow" was played by J. S. Murphy and his company at the Grand on Monday evening. The audience was not large, but those present enjoyed the piece.

The labor meetings held this week at Highland and Upper Lehigh were well attended. Addresses were made by National Organizer Evans and District President Duffy.

St. Stanislaus Koska Society and the Polish residents in general will celebrate the 107th anniversary of the promulgation of the Polish constitution with a lecture and ball at Yannes' opera house on May 3.

William Sachs has accepted the position of North Side representative of the Hazleton Sentinel. He has had considerable experience in newspaper work and will make a valuable addition to that paper.

The commissioners of Carbon county have appointed W. B. Anthony, of Lehigh, and Bernard McGinley, of Mauch Chunk, as fire wardens. Brush fires are causing much damage throughout the county.

Hugh Malloy has opened the Star Shoe Store at his old stand, corner of Centre and Walnut streets. He has stocked the place with a fine line of footwear and invites his former patrons and all others to call.

Mrs. John Koons is dangerously ill, and her sons, John and S. C., of Clark Summit, Lackawanna county, and her daughters, Kate, Ella, Bessie and Blanche, of Philadelphia, were called to her bedside this week.

A. Oswald sells three bars of grand-ma's butter milk soap for the small sum of 5c.

Miss Kate O'Donnell, of Freeland, who took sick at the home of her sister in Beaver Meadow last week, is still in a serious condition. She was visited yesterday by Misses Ella O'Donnell and Marie McGarvey, of Freeland.

The fire in Alden mine, which broke out January 25, continues. The mine officials thought when the colliery was flooded that the flames had been extinguished, but yesterday smoke was seen coming from an air shaft. It may be necessary to flood the mine a second time.

The quarterly meeting of representatives of the Catholic temperance societies of the Fourth diocesan district, comprising all the societies in the Lehigh region, will be held on Sunday afternoon at the hall of the Young Men's Corps. Each society will have five representatives.

Charles McGeehan, of Drifton, will prove a tower of strength to any club desiring the services of a good infielder. Charley played with Hazleton State league team and with Drifton Fearnouts. His record for last year's work is away up. He is an all-around man and thoroughly capable.—Mauch Chunk Gazette.

The Calvary Club, an organization connected with Calvary Methodist church, Wilkes-Barre, has organized a company to go to the front. Among the volunteers is Charles K. Torberg, formerly of town. The Newdealer, in giving his military record, says he "was for six years a member of the Freeland Rifles, of Freeland, an organization allied to the National Guard."

PERSONALITIES.

Mrs. Mary McGinty, of Wilkes-Barre, is visiting Freeland friends, and with Miss Rose Gillespie, of town, made a business trip to Mauch Chunk yesterday.

Milton Hart left on Tuesday for Philadelphia, seriously considering the question of tendering his services to Uncle Sam.

Mr. and Mrs. George Christian spent a few days in New York city this week. Miss Ella Lynch, of Wilkes-Barre, is the guest of Miss Mame McDonald.

Miss Mary McNellis is visiting relatives in Beaver Meadow.

N. J. Owens has recovered from a seven weeks' illness.

John Oeschman Arrested.

John Oeschman had a warrant hanging over his head for nearly a week past, and up to last night succeeded in eluding the borough police. They have seen his coat-tails waving an adieu to them several times when they called at his residence, but that was as near as they could get to the South Heberton brave. Many attempts were made to capture John, but his pickets and outposts were so faithful that he escaped to the Upper Lehigh swamp every time the police approached.

This hide-and-seek game promised to continue indefinitely, and as a last resort it was decided to make a night attack upon Oeschman. Chief Doggett, with Officers Patrick Welsh and Peter Gallagher, perfected a plan last evening, and after John's retiring hour had passed they obtained admission to his house and caught their man in bed. He surrendered gracefully upon finding himself out-tricked, and was marched to the borough cooler for safe keeping until he is given a hearing by Burgess Gallagher.

Oeschman has made life unbearable for his family for weeks past, and has threatened Spanish vengeance upon any officer of the law who would interfere. His wife was compelled to take refuge with friends in Sandy Run, and his three daughters have been cared for by neighbors.

Eight Months for the Schools.

The borough school board met last evening with Messrs. McCarthy, Timony, Sweeney and Schaub present. Miss Bilger requested the board to certify to the time taught by her, so that she might procure her state normal diploma, having taught one year in the borough and one year at West Hazleton.

Tax Collector Bachman submitted his exoneration list, and after going over the same it was decided to hold it until the regular May meeting, when the final settlement will be made.

It was decided to close the schools at the end of the eighth month, which will be the 18th of May.

It was decided that the secretary, in conjunction with Principals Hanlon and McLaughlin, formulate a set of questions for the purpose of holding an examination. Pupils receiving 70 per cent or more are to be awarded certificates of graduation, signed by the president and secretary. This step was considered necessary inasmuch as the borough schools annually turn out pupils who successfully pass examinations before County Superintendent Harrison, while the borough gets no credit. The examination will take place in the Daniel Cox school at 9 a. m., Saturday, May 14.

The teachers will receive their seventh month's salary today.

New Uniforms for Firemen.

The members of the Citizens' Hose Company are preparing to equip themselves with a neat and tasteful uniform for parade purposes, and a committee is now at work securing samples and prices. At a meeting last night the matter was given considerable attention, but no orders for the uniforms were placed. The company decided to take part in the parade here on Memorial Day.

The fifteen members who were dropped from the roll at the last meeting for non-attendance at meetings were reinstated last night, as the method taken to drop them was found to be contrary to the rules of chartered organizations. The company, however, intends to follow its original intention.

Married at Eekley.

At Eekley Catholic church yesterday Edward Gallagher, of Pottsville, formerly of Sandy Valley, and Miss Bid O'Donnell, of Eekley, were united in marriage by Rev. Thomas Brehony. Miss Annie Gallagher, a sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and Nell O'Donnell was groomsman. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, and many congratulations were tendered the young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher will reside in Pottsville.

Candidate for Legislature.

The Prohibitionists of the Fourth legislative district met in convention at Hazleton Monday evening. Delegates from Upper Lehigh, Jeanesville, Freeland and Hazleton were in attendance. After prayer and a selection by the Jeanesville Male Choir the convention proceeded to business. Albert Buchanan, of Upper Lehigh, placed before the convention the name of ex-representative D. M. Evans for representative and he was nominated by acclamation.

Knights of Labor Reorganized.

A session of representatives of the Knights of Labor, which organization has been dead from the anthracite region since 1890, from ten anthracite counties of the state, was held at Pottsville on Monday. District Assembly No. 184, with Pottsville as its permanent headquarters, embracing the coal counties, was reorganized. A district board was formed and officers elected for the ensuing year.

BRYAN'S RECEPTIONS.

Luzerne County Honors the Next President of the United States.

William Jennings Bryan's reception in Wilkes-Barre on Monday was one of the eventful days in the city's history. He was met at the depot by an immense throng. The local Democrats had prepared a reception for him, and he was escorted to the armory by the Ninth Regiment band and a large gathering of people. Mr. Bryan occupied a carriage with State Chairman Garman, Judge Lynch and ex-Judge Rhone. When the armory was reached and Mr. Garman and Mr. Bryan appeared on the platform they were greeted with such a din and noise as was never before heard in a public hall in Wilkes-Barre.

Cheer upon cheer shook the building, while hats, caps and handkerchiefs waved in the air. Mr. Bryan's face was covered with perspiration, showing the trouble he had experienced in getting through the crowd. As he took off his overcoat he bowed right and left, and cries of "Bryan, Bryan; Bryan's all right," came from every side.

After order had been restored County Chairman Rush Treseott introduced D. L. Rhone as chairman of the meeting. The ex-judge made a brief speech, and then introduced Mr. Bryan as the "next president of the United States."

After quiet had again been restored Mr. Bryan delivered an address on political and financial matters, during which he was frequently interrupted by cheers.

The audience was made up of miners and business men, and when he referred to the hard times prevailing, and offered a remedy, his words were greeted with tremendous cheering. Freeland was well represented in the large audience.

While at Wilkes-Barre arrangements were made with Mr. Bryan to spend a short time at Hazleton, on Wednesday, while on his way from Allentown to Pottsville. He arrived there yesterday at 1.48 p. m., and left at 2.58 o'clock. Notwithstanding the short time allowed for preparations for a reception, he was met at the station by the Liberty band and a thousand or more enthusiastic men. He was taken for dinner to the residence of George B. Marple, president of the Pennsylvania Bimetallist League, and in the meantime 1,500 people struggled for admission to the Grand opera house.

When Mr. Bryan arrived at the opera house every foot of available space in the big building was occupied, and his appearance on the stage, which was crowded with prominent Democrats of the region, was the signal for an outburst of applause which did the audience credit. With a few words District Chairman John H. Bigelow introduced the distinguished statesman, and for forty minutes thereafter the idol of Democracy held the attention of the great gathering, interrupted only by the cheers and applause which greeted his many keen thrusts and sallies.

Mr. Bryan made no attempt to delve deep into any of the subjects touched upon by him. He briefly explained the money plank of the Chicago platform and gave some humorous illustrations of the wrong impressions which some people hold of it. He urged the people to investigate and examine the platform of Democracy and to think and decide for themselves as to which remedy, the Democratic or Republican, is the better for the general welfare. His remarks made a good impression upon his hearers, irrespective of party.

Freeland Democrats and several Republicans of town turned out largely to pay their respects and appease their curiosity by hearing the Democratic leader speak.

UPPER LEHIGH NOTES.

John Korwatz was injured on Tuesday in No. 7 mines. He was caught under a fall of coal and it is a mystery how he escaped death. He was completely covered by the fall, and it took four hours' work to dig him out. He is a single man, boarding with Hungarian friends, and was taken to his residence. He will recover.

The meeting held here on Tuesday evening under the auspices of the United Mine Workers was a big success, and the addresses made by Messrs. Evans, of Ohio, and Duffy and Coorbaugh, of McAdoo, were listened to with rapt attention. Local 314 will increase its membership as a result of this meeting.

Diphtheria is said to have been the cause of a death here this week. Ralph, the bright little son of David J. and Kate Davis, died on Monday at the age of 1 year and 6 months. The funeral, which was private, took place on Tuesday, interment being made in the cemetery here.

Our fishermen are very jealous of the war scare. The people are so taken up with planning how to wipe Spain off the earth that the yarns of the Honey Hole brigade are passed unheeded. Fish tales are tabooed for the present.

Calvin Boyer is lying very ill at his home with a severe attack of rheumatism.

G. S. Hoover, of Mt. Carmel, is here on a brief visit to his parents.

Walter's Management Commended.

The New York Commercial gives space to what purports to be an interview with a director of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, in which it is stated that President Walter's policy of retrenchment is to be given a fair and full trial. The director adds: "The Lehigh Valley is virtually interested in the prosperity of every town and every person along its lines. It cannot be expected to do business at a loss or to keep employees who have outgrown their usefulness or who are unable to meet the changed business conditions. The railroad of today is no more like the railroad of twenty years ago than the newspaper of today is like that of the days of long ago. The faith of investors in Lehigh Valley is strong. There are 8,000 stockholders now, about the same as in the days of Asa Packer. The widows and the estates that held Lehigh Valley stock hold it now, and all the sales in the stock exchange simply represent the floating stock of ten years ago. We do not expect to pay a dividend this year nor next year. We have the fullest confidence in Mr. Walter's management. He has acted wisely in every case. He has a reason for every move and a reason that appeals to the good sense of the stockholders."

Odd Fellows at Wilkes-Barre.

A civic demonstration expected to equal if not surpass any previous one ever held in the city of Wilkes-Barre, is that of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of the state, which will be held there on Tuesday, May 17. During the week commencing May 16 the grand lodge of the state will hold its session in the Nesbitt theatre, ending on Friday, Tuesday, 17th, will be the seventy-fifth anniversary of the grand lodge, and in honor of the event a grand parade will be given with from 12,000 to 15,000 handsomely uniformed men in line.

The program of the week so far as arranged is as follows: Monday, May 16, grand encampment in Memorial hall. In the evening at 7.30 degrees will be conferred in full paraphernalia. Tuesday, May 17, grand parade. Wednesday evening, public decoration of chivalry and grand decoration of chivalry in the armory. Thursday evening, public demonstration in Nesbitt theatre. Speakers of national prominence.

Boss Lloyd Again Defeated.

Judge Woodward handed down an important opinion on Tuesday in the case of Coroner F. L. McKee against Controller Joseph D. Lloyd to compel Lloyd to pay him \$2.74 for viewing each of the eighteen men killed in the Lattimer shooting, \$1.38 $\frac{1}{2}$  for the inquest in each case, and \$8 for out-of-pocket of the thirty-two witnesses in each case. The coroner won on each of his claims except the last, and in that particular he was only allowed \$8 where he claimed \$14.

In one case an additional charge of $36 was made for six sessions, $10 to Dr. Keller for post-mortem examination, and Dr. J. W. Bowman, deputy coroner, $218.52, for services. All were allowed to stand except the matter of charging for the swearing of witnesses in each of the eighteen cases.

SAGASTA'S BIG DEFL.

HE SAYS THAT ACTS, NOT WORDS, ARE NOW REQUIRED.

"The insult offered us to-day is the most infamous that has ever been offered," says Spain's Premier—would prefer to ruin themselves rather than to yield an inch of Spanish soil.

Madrid, April 20.—The supporters of the Government in both Houses of Parliament met in the Senate Chamber yesterday. Senor Sagasta, the Premier, addressed them as follows:

"The times are so grave and the circumstances so exceptional that acts and not words are necessary to face the present difficulty. Attempts are being made to avert the war to which we are being provoked.

"We have now reached the limits of concession compatible with honor and territorial integrity. We consented to the last concession at the instance of the Pope and the powers. We yielded, in fact; but new attempts are made upon our honor and menaces directed against our territory. (Applause.)

"This is not the moment to trace a parliamentary programme, but the moment to unite ourselves, as our fathers have done, in the face of an odious attempt against the integrity of our territory. The insult offered us to-day is the most infamous that has ever been offered." (Prolonged Applause.)

Continuing, Senor Sagasta counseled the rapid constitution of the Chambers in order to accord to the Government the means to defend the country's interests. "Spain," he added, "will not allow a parcel of her territory to be taken from her with impunity; nor will she be a party to any trafficking for her possessions. We admit no negotiations in questions of honor. We do not make a traffic of shame. We prefer to ruin ourselves and be abandoned by all rather than to do that."

He concluded thus: "I will finish my speech here, because it seems to me as if I were robbing myself of time we require for other resolutions of greater importance."

Great emotion was produced by Sagasta's words and tears were seen in the eyes of many old Senators. The Marquis Vega d'Armijo also spoke briefly, saying: "The Spanish Parliament does not indulge in insults, but if it is insulted it will retaliate with all energy such insults as are launched against it."

The meeting ended with long and enthusiastic cheers for the Queen Regent, the little King and the army and navy.

Madrid Desperate and Loses Hope.

Madrid.—The sentiment here is one of resigned desperation, and this is so strongly pronounced in the Cabinet that if America only leaves a loophole for a dignified retreat there is no doubt that an agreement would be come to in the briefest possible time.
