BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

PARAGRAPHS GATHERED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE REGION.

Synopsis of Local and Miscellaneous Occurrences That Can Be Read Quickly. What the Folks of This and Other Towns are Doing.

The United Mine Workers will hold a public meeting at Eckley tomorrow evening.

Patrick Friel, who was a resident of Ebervale for several years, died in Chicago on Friday.

Fire is raging in the Hoyt mine shaft, at Pittston, having spread from gas ignited by a laborer.

Daniel Snyder, who has been working at Silver Brook for some time, removed his family to that place on Friday.

The annual commencement exercises of the Mining and Mechanical Institute will be held at the Grand opera house on June 3.

Thomas Dunn, Jr., has been appointed postmaster at Weatherly. The contest for the office was bitterly waged by the applicants.

Stephen Page will represent Garfield Commandery, No. 6, at the annual state convention of the Knights of Malta at York this week.

H. G. Depple left this morning for Midway, where he has secured employment under Contractor Daniel Levan, who is erecting a large breaker at that place.

Arrangements are being perfected by the committee for the seventh annual picnic of the Luzerne county grangers to be held at Harvey's Lake on Saturday, June 18.

The Wilkes-Barre and Northern Railroad, between Wilkes-Barre and Harvey's Lake, will be hereafter operated by electricity. It is claimed that electricity is cheaper than steam.

The Lehigh Valley train due here at 7:25 p. m. collided with an empty engine at Newport, near Wilkes-Barre, Saturday evening. Two engines were wrecked and the passengers were severely shaken up.

The latest in the hot judicial fight now on in the Montour-Columbia district is that James Scarlett, the well-known criminal attorney, of Danville, has announced his name as a candidate for the judgeship.

Patrick O'Donnell and James Quinn, of Highland, and Chief of Police William Doggett, of town, have completed arrangements to go to Anaconda, Montana, where they expect to secure work. They leave today.

Maj. C. B. Cox, Post, G. A. R., is pushing ahead his arrangements for a monster celebration of Memorial Day. The old veterans should have the support of every society and citizen in making the day a memorable one.

Ladies, don't fail to see those fancy 25 skirts at A. Oswald's. He sells lots of them and they are dandies.

If the cinematograph exhibition to be given tonight at the opera house is all that is claimed for it and the moving pictures have their war paint on, Freeland patriots who attend the show will give the scenes a rousing reception.

Warden Boland, of the county jail, at Wilkes-Barre, with the aid of City Superintendent of Schools Coughlin, has opened a school within the prison walls for the inmates. They are being taught reading, writing and spelling. The educated prisoners act as teachers.

Schuykill county grand jury has ignored the charge against Joseph Weir, of Audenried, who was arrested by Peter Bruno, who accused him of receiving money for jobs from Italians. Weir is one of the foremen in the employ of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Company.

The case of F. B. Fogle, a salesman for J. K. Heimerleich & Co., of Allentown, against Daniel Kline, of Freeland, charging the latter with embezzlement, was tried in court on Thursday and a verdict of not guilty was rendered. The case grew out of the sale of a carload of hay.

The second production of "The Noble Outcast" was greeted by another large audience at the Grand opera house on Friday evening. The company repeated its success of April 16. The only change in the cast was the substitution of John Smith for J. J. Johnson, who has left town. The specialties were again very good.

The public meeting held at Yannes' opera house on Friday evening under the auspices of the United Mine Workers was not attended as well as it might have been if no other attractions were in town that night. Messrs. Evans and Duffy delivered ringing addresses, however, and were well received by the workers who attended the meeting.

PLEASURE CALENDAR.

Flag Raising at Jeddo.

On Saturday evening the old town of Jeddo was the scene of a patriotic gathering, and nowhere were the stars and stripes ever given a more enthusiastic greeting than when a handsome American flag was thrown to the breeze from the top of the fifty-foot pole which had been erected for the purpose. The flag-raising exercises were conducted under the auspices of Jeddo Progressive Club, and right well did the young men in charge carry out the work of elevating old glory and paying homage to the national colors.

Over a thousand people had assembled when the St. Patrick's band and large delegations from Freeland and Drifton arrived at Jeddo. After several patriotic selections by the band, Frank McHugh, representing the Progressive Club, opened the exercises with an appropriate address, at the conclusion of which he introduced Rev. T. A. Snyder, pastor of Jeddo M. E. church. The address of the divine was one of the best heard on the North Side in many a day, and the audience responded to the sentiments which he voiced with repeated cheers and applause.

The news of Commodore Dewey's great victory in the Philippines made the occasion still more joyful, and enthusiasm reigned supreme when the big stary banner was gracefully unfurled above the heads of the assemblage. Every heart beat in unison with the stirring strains of the national airs played by the band, and after cheers for the colors, for the hero of Manila and for the Progressive Club the audience dispersed, well satisfied that Jeddo's patriotism is of the genuine kind.

School Board Meeting.

The May meeting of the borough school board was held Saturday evening with Messrs. McCarthy, Sweeney, Ferry and Timony present. Bills as follows were ordered paid: A. H. Frease, coal hauling, $6; Cross Creek Coal Company, coal, $25.50; J. F. Sweeney, salary and postage, $106.22.

The proper officers were instructed to fill out Mr. Schmidt's blank form for a permanent state certificate, he having taught the required three terms.

A resolution of condolence on the death of Morris Ferry, father of Director J. B. Ferry, was passed and ordered placed on the minutes.

Tax Collector Bachman was present and the board went over his accounts. Mr. Bachman was requested to meet the board again on Saturday evening, when the final clearing of accounts will take place.

In order that the board can obtain a fair idea of the work accomplished by the teachers, it was decided that Prof. McErierty, in conjunction with the teacher of each room, start this morning to examine the pupils of the several schools.

The board decided to invite County Superintendent Harrison and the members-elect of the school board to be present at the graduation exercises of the high school on Saturday next.

It is likely that before the present board dissolves that the members will arrange to have their photographs taken, with the Daniel Cox Memorial school in the background.

Three Men Killed at Duryea.

The Halstead mine of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Company, at Duryea, was the scene of another accident Thursday evening by which three men lost their lives. Last week the surface over the mine caved in and two men were entombed. Their bodies are still in the mine. The cave-in affected the main shaft of the mine, and last week men were put to work to repair it. The workmen were engaged in rolling the shaft when the accident occurred. Some heavy timbers were being lowered into the shaft, when the chain holding them broke. The timbers struck the temporary platform upon which the men were standing, demolishing it. All three men were precipitated to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of 300 feet.

It was some time before their bodies could be taken out. The names of the victims are John Titus, Stephen Jenkins and John Monahan. All are married and leave families.

Fire Sweeps a Little Town.

The little town of Nuremburg, below Deringer, was visited by fire at an early hour yesterday morning, and several of the principal buildings of the village were in ashes before the flames were subdued. It was shortly after midnight when a kerosene lamp exploded in Doner's hotel, and the fire spread so rapidly that the three-story structure was doomed in a short while. Having no protection against fire, the town was at the mercy of the flames. Yannes' bottling house soon caught and was consumed. Dwellings owned by Sylvester Kline and Mrs. John Nicholas were the next victims, followed by the warehouse of Joseph Marchetti and the store of Joseph Bros. Hazleton and Mahanoy City were asked for assistance, but none was given the little town. The damage amounts to about $15,000, partially covered by insurance.

NO BRET HARTE HEROES.

The Gold Regions Are Comparatively Free from Lawlessness.

There is little disorder in the Alaska and the Klondike regions. The wild life pictured in Bret Harte's books is not in evidence, and that author would vote the place dead were he to visit it. Especially in Canada, where the mounted police, the best organized force of its kind in the world, patrols the mining regions at regular intervals, there is little disturbance.

Rosland, just over the border north of Spokane, is a good illustration of this. Last year there were 7,000 miners in Rosland and only one policeman. Yet the town had no serious trouble. The worst fuss that occurred was when a drunken negro got into a fight with a colored woman and struck her several times with his fist. On this side of the line he might have received two months. The Canadian court promptly sent him up for six years.

Pulls do not go with the Canadian police nor with any of the departments of justice. The miners understand this thoroughly and have a wholesome respect for law and order. There are no barrooms pure and simple. Drinks cannot be served except in a bona fide hotel where guests lodge for the night and there is a restaurant serving regular meals. Indians are not allowed to have liquor under any circumstances. Few offences will get a man into the penitentiary quicker than selling spirits to the aborigines. There is no mercy shown whatever.

A Woman as Saw Mill Hand.

"A brawny woman clad in blue cottonade waist and skirt, who is able to run a saw mill engine as well as any man in the business, is rather an unusual sight," said Walter Wade, of Louisville, Ky., "but that is just what I saw in a Tennessee woods a few weeks ago. The female engineer's name is Annie Fables, and she told me she had been doing a 'full hand's' work at the mill for six years. Five years ago she decided she could run the engine, and the mill boss told me she had been one of the most careful, as well as one of the most competent he had ever seen.

"Mrs. Fables lost her husband six years and a half ago, and a few months afterward she asked for a place in the mill where her leg lodge had been employed. She began working as an off-bearer, and in a year and a half was put in charge of the monster piece of machinery which furnished motive power for the large circular and straight saws. She has all along earned a man's wages and has been able to support and give her seven fatherless little ones a good common school education. She is fond of the hard labor, and has lost but five days during her connection with the mill, and then she was ministering to a sick child."

Drawn on the Jury.

The following citizens of this vicinity have been drawn to serve as jurors on the dates preceding their names:

June 6.—Bernard J. Carr, Condy Boyle, Foster; Archie Nesbitt, Jeddo; John McClellan, Freeland; Peter McMonigle, Hazle.

June 13.—John Shrack, William Melkranz, Hazle.

A Lake of Wine.

It recently took two powerful steam pumps a week to fill the largest wine reservoir in the world. Properly speaking, it is a lake—a lake of red wine 104 feet long, 34 feet wide and 24 feet deep.

Of course it is in California, that State of big things, that this wonder is to be seen—down at Asti by the Russian River valley, and the lake itself is the blending of the juices of grapes from a thousand vines. As a system of blending wine it is in this respect as much a wonder as in point of quantity and place of keeping.

It is another proof also that necessity is the mother of invention, for if it had not been that the colonists could find no way to dispose of their wine in a profitable manner, owing to its abundance, it is probable the lake would never have been created and another wonder thus lost to the world.

The tun of Heidelberg, which the last generation, and even some of the present, learned to think of with wonder, is but a child beside a full grown

Coal Company's Philanthropy.

From the Hazleton Plain Speaker.

The Lehigh Valley Coal Company has posted notices telling their employees that if the latter were favorable to the organization of a relief fund the same would be organized in the towns in which they have collieries. The organization of the same is left to the men and there is nothing compulsory about the matter. The object is to relieve the families of men who may meet with fatal accidents in the mines and also those who may be injured while at work. All who sign to join will contribute one day's wages which will go into the treasury. In case of an accident another assessment will be made of a day's wages and the company contributing as much as the total contribution for their share.

In this manner the company will give as much as all the members. In case of the death of a man $50 will be contributed to pay burial expenses. The widow will receive $3 per week for one year after death, provided she does not marry and each child under twelve years of age is to receive $1 per week. In case a man is injured he will also receive a benefit.

Publish the Exonerations Lists.

From the Weatherly Herald.

Borough councils and school boards should combine and publish the list of exonerations. Those taxpayers who pay their tax regularly would like to know who are not paying their just dues and the reasons. The exonerations list would not be so big if the names of those exonerated were to appear in public print. In some cases where exonerations allowed by the borough and school for the reason of poverty, the borough could find employment for these persons on the streets.

A great number of names appear on the assessor's lists and copied to the tax duplicate, of people that have been dead a long time, others that have moved away years ago and still others that cannot be found and never lived here. Many duplications are also made; the same person in the lists twice. These people have all have to be exonerated and the list is swelled to enormous proportions.

Some More Wires Need Cutting.

From the Wilkes-Barre Reporter.

Naval officers say that it is a great piece of good luck for Commodore Dewey that the cable is cut. While they go no further they probably think that if the wires to the White House were also severed the war would probably last a fraction as long. It was no wish of the president to fight a battle in Manila waters. In fact he had made up his mind to call the Asiatic squadron back home when an unexpected turn of affairs caused the governor of Hong Kong to order the American vessels out the harbor. They had no place to go and were consequently sent to Manila. Thus England may be said to be indirectly responsible for the good luck of Commodore Dewey in having a chance to face the Spaniards.

Dewey's Relatives Bobbing Up.

From the Hazleton Sentinel.

Many of our older citizens will remember Loren Dewey, who died a few years ago in Pittston. He was a step-brother of Commodore Dewey, they having had the same mother. Loren Dewey was the grandfather of George E. Dewey, stenographer of the orphans' court of Luzerne county.
