Memorial Day Celebration.

The celebration of Memorial Day, under the auspices of Maj. C. B. Cox, Post, of the Grand Army, promises to be equal to any previous observance of the day in Freeland. The old soldiers have followed their annual custom of extending invitations to all civic societies of the town to participate in the parade and memorial exercises, and the responses coming in indicate that the parade will be a large one. The day is to be observed on an unusually large scale throughout the country, and Freeland will not be found lacking either in numbers or enthusiasm. Rev. J. B. Kersechner, of St. John's Reformed church, will be the orator of the day.

The invitations sent by the veterans to the societies connected with St. Ann's Catholic church have been accepted and arrangements are under way to take part in the exercises of the day. Committees representing St. Patrick's Beneficial Society, Young Men's C. T. A. O. H., have met in joint session to perfect the plans. George McLaughlin, Esq., was selected as chairman and Peter D. Gallagher as secretary.

The joint committee will act in conjunction with Maj. Cox's Post in bringing out the full strength of the above societies, and will also invite other organizations and persons not members of any society to take part in the demonstration. The members of the societies which have inaugurated this movement will parade as American citizens, discharging their society uniforms for the day.

It is believed that this plan will swell the ranks by many hundreds and make Freeland's celebration the leading one in Luzerne county.

Sudden End of an Eviction Case.

Judge Albright presided in court at Wilkes-Barre on Monday and disposed of a case which some years ago attracted the attention of the state. It was that of Joseph McMonagle vs. J. S. Wentz & Co. The plaintiff brought suit in consequence of being ejected from his home in Hazle Brook during a strike in that town in 1886. He sued the company before a Hazleton alderman and secured $300 judgment. The company appealed from this decision, and after a dozen years the case finally reached court.

McMonagle was one of several miners who were evicted from Wentz & Co.'s dwellings on a cold March morning, and the company's action created much indignation at the time. The case lingered along, delay after delay occurring, until Monday last. When Judge Albright heard the circumstances he immediately granted a non-suit and there-by ended a case which had been prolonged at a great sacrifice to the plaintiff, who is now defeated. McMonagle is now a resident of Chicago. He lived in South Heberton several years ago.

Firemen Adopt a Uniform.

A special meeting of the Citizens' Hose Company was held last night to consider the question of uniforms. Samples, prices and designs were submitted by two of the local tailoring establishments, and it was decided to adopt one of the uniforms offered by the Guarantee Clothing Company. This is of a sky blue color and consists of a double-breasted sack coat and trousers. The cap worn at present will be retained.

The uniforms will be furnished at the rate of $11.50 each. As there is not sufficient money in the uniform fund to pay for more than one-half of the fifty-six suits required to equip the company, there may be some delay in ordering the new outfit.

Death of an Aged Woman.

Mrs. Bridget Boyle, wife of Patrick Boyle, died suddenly at their home on Ridge street yesterday morning. She passed away so quietly at 5 o'clock that none of the other inmates of the house knew of her death for some minutes after she expired. The deceased was 77 years of age. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mary, the wife of ex-Burgess E. P. Gallagher. She had been a resident of the town and vicinity for many years. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at St. Ann's cemetery.

Hungarian Killed on Tuesday.

Andrew Morochak, aged 26 years, employed in a gangway in No. 5 colliery, Jeddo, was instantly killed on Tuesday afternoon by a heavy fall of coal and rock. He resided on Burton street, Bivanton, and is survived by a young wife, to whom he was recently married. The deceased was a member of St. Mark's Greek Catholic Society, which will attend the funeral this afternoon. The interment will be made in the Greek Catholic cemetery at Bivanton.

Two Millions a Year.

When people buy, try and buy again, it means they're satisfied. The people of the United States are now buying Cascarets Candy Cathartic at the rate of two million boxes a year and it will be three million before New Year's. It means merit proved, that Cascarets are the most delightful bowel regulator for every body the year around. All druggists, 10c, 25c, 50c a box, cure guaranteed.

COUNCIL MEETING.

John F. Boyle Named as Chief of the Borough Police Force.

Monday evening's meeting of the borough council was attended by all the members. Borough Surveyor McNair, of Hazleton, was present and gave a description of the work done by him last fall. It was decided that the surveyor, street commissioner and street committee go through the newly-annexed portion and have grade stones placed at the intersection of all streets. The council agreed to sit as a board of appeal on dog taxes when the adjusted valuation of the borough is received. The street committee was ordered to have Carbon street repaired, east from Centre.

The borough solicitor's report as to the assessment of dogs was presented. The opinion stated it was the duty of the borough assessor to make the assessment. The burial of dead animals is not strictly a part of the high constable's duty; it can be delegated to any other person by council. He also reported the number of feet of ground owned by Mrs. McDonald, on Ridge street. An ordinance is to be prepared empowering the street commissioner to bury dead animals after June 1.

The light committee recommended reducing the arc lights on the streets from twenty-nine to fifteen after June 1, and the same was passed by the council. The committee was ordered to re-locate the lights. A special committee, consisting of Messrs. Kline, Mulhearn and DePiero, was appointed to view the Public park and report what improvements are needed. The fire committee reported having had hose repaired and the bill for the same, $2.50, was ordered paid.

The lockup committee presented a draft of alterations proposed in council building, and it was agreed to meet next Tuesday evening, at an hour earlier than usual, to examine the plans.

The sanitary committee reported having viewed the sewer outlet. They were instructed to confer with Lehigh Valley officials with a view to having the culvert under tracks made larger. They are also to have the alleys properly cleaned.

The committee appointed to look up the report of the auditor on South Heberton annexation was ordered to have him make his report to court as soon as possible.

A petition for a sewer from residents of Fern street was read, also for one from Washington street, on Luzerne, west to alley. A resolution authorizing the construction of the latter was read twice, then laid over until next meeting.

A committee, consisting of Messrs. Meehan, Mulhearn and Kline, was appointed to wait on the coal companies of the vicinity and arrange to procure stones for the street.

Burgess Gallagher presented the name of John F. Boyle as chief of police to succeed William Doggett, who left for the West on Monday. Mr. Boyle's nomination was promptly confirmed and he was sworn in.

LOCAL WAR NOTES.

Frank Brogan, of Drifton, has enlisted in the Seventh regiment, artillery corps, of the regular army. He is stationed at New York at present, but expects to be sent to Cuba or to the South soon. The artillery service is considered the best in the army, the pay being better and the necessary qualifications being higher than in the cavalry or infantry.

Written applications to join the famous Sixth regiment, regular cavalry, have been made by some Freeland boys to Lieutenant Furlong, the recruiting officer of the regiment at Philadelphia. A reply received last night advised them not to go to Philadelphia yet, but to expect a summons to be examined within a few days.

Luzerne's regiment of the National Guard is no more. After filling the ranks to the war limit, the Ninth was mustered into the national service yesterday and will move south in a few days. Its official title now is the Ninth Pennsylvania Infantry, Volunteer Army, United States of America.

Eugene Rielly, who enlisted on the St. Paul as a second-class fireman, has been promoted to seaman. On the trip from Philadelphia to join the Flying Squadron he showed such aptitude for seamanship that the officers requested him to leave the harder job and take a place on the deck.

Steve Welsh, who recently joined the United States Marine Corps, has been detailed to a clerkship in the corps' recruiting office in Pittsburg, where he will be stationed until sufficient marines have been enlisted.

A recruiting office for the Eleventh regiment, regular infantry, has been opened at Wilkes-Barre and hundreds are facing the rigid examination.

The old soldiers received their pension checks this week and many a social bumper was drank in honor of Dewey's great victory.

A. Oswald sells three bars of grand-mam's butter milk soap for the small sum of 5c.

Warden Boland Won His Case.

The case of James Boland, warden of Luzerne county jail, against the county, was decided in his favor on Monday by the supreme court. The public is familiar with the facts in the Boland vs. Luzerne county case. Controller Lloyd had refused to countersign orders for prisoners' board bills until the total sum had exceeded $13,000. The controller's claim was that 30 cents per day was too much to pay for the meals of prisoners. He also attacked the validity of the contract. The case was referred to Frank W. Wheaton, who decided in favor of the warden. Mr. Lloyd took an appeal and this action of the supreme court no doubt will settle a much vexed question. The decision will cover cost of feeding prisoners up to the present term or during the term of office of Warden Boland. The full amount of Mr. Boland's claim is $13,447.05. The controller desired to pay at one-fourth of that sum, or $3,361.76, at a 7½ cents a day rate.

The county commissioners have presented a bill for the month of April, the amount of which is $1,062.45, at the 30 cents rate. The controller will, he says, make another objection to that, as it comes under a new contract. Public opinion, however, is against the controller, the taxpayers believing that the county should not be put to the expense of another "spite" suit against a valid contract. Until Lloyd restores to the county treasury the $2,500 which he drew out when he assumed office, and for which he never performed an hour's service, his cry of "stop thief" against others will not fool the citizens.

Schoenly County in Bad Shape.

From Mahanoy City Black Diamond. If Schoenly county isn't sold out for its debts before the war with Spain is over it is because a new redeemer cometh soon or its creditors will be lenient. It is claimed that a quarter million dollars would not square its indebtedness. It is so stricken with poverty, inability to raise cash and other complaints more or less fatal that the officials at Pottsville were unable to cough up to the patriots who done duty as bible-kissers and jurors during May's first week of criminal court. Only in exceptional cases do "found guilty" litigants settle their cost. They've got no money with which to do so. Sixty per cent go to jail, and the county must pay for them.

The commissioners made an effort to borrow $10,000 on Saturday, but Controller Snyder refused to endorse their order until the court passes upon the validity of it. The controller alleges that no more money can be borrowed without first filing a statement of the condition of the county.

Important Mining Case Decided.

From the Hazleton Plain Speaker. Alderman Heidenrich's office was filled on Monday with spectators interested in the case of Thomas McBrierty against the Cross Creek Coal Company for a claim of $160, the amount due him for coal mined in a breast in Oneida slope. The company refused to settle with Mr. McBrierty, claiming that the coal belonged to them although Mr. McBrierty loosened and mined it. Abner Smith represented the plaintiff and D. J. McCarthy the defendant company. The alderman rendered full judgment in favor of the plaintiff. It is said that the company will appeal the case to the courts, but if it is thrown to a higher tribunal the result cannot be otherwise than as decided on Monday.

New Jail Warden Appointed.

The prison board met on Tuesday and elected James McAndrews, of Plains, to succeed James Boland as prison warden. McAndrews was a watchman at the jail and the position vacated by him was filled by electing ex-Commissioner Thomas Dullard. The prison board reduced the daily allowance for feeding prisoners from 30 cents a day to 23 cents. The Republican members of the board wanted it reduced to 18 cents, but this was considered too low by the majority.

AROUND THE COLLIERIES.

NOTES AND COMMENTS ON CONDITIONS AT THE MINES.

Outside Help Is Getting Scarce at Some Breakers—Young Men Are Rapidly Deserting the Coal Fields—Restrictions Are Affecting This Town.

So great has the number of people grown who have left these parts within the past month that some coal companies have suddenly found themselves confronted with a scarcity of help in several departments. This is especially true in regard to outside hands—men who work about the breakers and help to rush the coal through these great cleaning structures. "Platform men," the term applied to those who work around the tops, are already so scarce that Markle & Co. are unable to work their three breakers on the same day. The outside help has decreased to such an extent that the men at Oakdale and Highland must be concentrated at Jeddo breaker when it works, and when Oakdale and Highland collieries are in operation Jeddo must contribute to the breaker forces of those places.

Platform work has for years been performed almost exclusively by Hungarians. It does not require any special skill, but it is increasing from the time coal begins to be hoisted until the machinery stops, it is hard and laborious and the pay is meagre. These conditions, with one or two days of work each week, cannot hold men here who can get away, and the consequence is that such work is shunned.

The miners employed by this company also complain bitterly of the way they are rushed when the collieries work. After a week or more of idleness the mines are run for a day at a rate which causes some of the strongest men to drop from sheer exhaustion. Those who fail to load the required number of the monster cars are reprimanded by the understrappers, who have their orders to send out a designated amount of coal each working day.

The idea seems to be to save as much as possible on the time of the drivers, company men, breaker hands and others who are paid by the hour. By sending out two days' coal in ten hours the cost of production to the operators is reduced nearly 50 per cent, but the employes pay the penalty of this saving by earning less and sacrificing their health.

This slavish and inhuman policy is causing the young men of the vicinity to desert the mines at a rate which will soon leave but few to become victims to the god of avarice. The young men realize the fact that a brief time at such work will break them down physically as well as financially, and their resolve to seek other fields of labor, while a misfortune to the community, will undoubtedly be a benefit to themselves. At present the demand for laboring men is not great anywhere, but the Freeland boys who are fleeing from the coal fields will surely find employers somewhere who will not demand, besides an honest day's toll, a pound of flesh in exchange for every dollar paid their workers.

The suspension of a large number of Freeland men by the Upper Lehigh Company has had a depressing effect upon this town. The justice of giving preference in the work to those who reside in the company's dwellings and trade in the company's store cannot be disputed, nevertheless the orders have thrown out of employment several who were faithful workers in Upper Lehigh for many years. Since the partial resumption at Sandy Run the same conditions have prevailed, none of the Freeland men who worked there when the mines closed having been re-employed.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials and address.
