Hip Disease

Terrible Results of a Fall—How Health Was Restored.

"I was injured by a fall and began to have pains in my knees, and one of my limbs cramped and pained me severely. Physicians decided that I had a severe case of hip diseas." I was taken to a hospital and underwent an operation but a cure was not effected. I had seven running sores on one limb. At hast I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and improved from the first bottle. Hood's Sarsaparilla has entirely cured me and I am to-day in perfect health." John C. Botle, 45 Water Street, Ware, Mass.

Rooting Currant Cuttings.

It is very easy to make cuttings of either currant or gooseberry bushes. A foot length of last year's growth, with the end smoothed off and fixed standing in the soil, will put out roots from its smoothed surface. It is best to only leave one bud above ground. This will make the stem for the future plant.

ings it would be rather difficult to suggesta means, as one that could be applied in the barn or outbuildings might not be agreeable if used in the residence.

A solution of crude carbolic acid sprayed over the ground and on the walls will drive them completely away, but if the residence is infested with them, powdered borax will perhaps be the most effectual remedy. Keep the dogs, hogs and sheep away from the barn, as it is absolutely impossible to have them there without having fleas.

—Home and Farm.

Sand soap is recommended as especially useful in case of small boys, whose hands frequently refuse to yield to the softer persuasions of ordioary soap and water. It may be made at home much cheaper and better than it can be purchased. Cut into small pieces any pure soap and melt it. When quite soft remove from the fire and stir into the mixture about that the quantity of clean dry, sea sand that has been well heated. As soon as the mixture is cool enough to handle roll into balls or cut into squares, and put into a cool place to dry and harden.

Mr. Ingals said that the railroads had reached a crisis, where something must be done to avoid disaster not only to the railroads but also to the Since the control of the intersident of the intersident

ODD DUCKS OF PORT TAMPA

Of the Wild Variety, They Response

Of the Wiid Variety, They Respond Readily to Man's Call.

The most interesting thing at Fort Tampa is the duck. Port Tampa is a collection of piers, but there is a hotel builf on piles that are dressed in sewer-pipe trousers to keep the teredo away, No shooting is allowed around the grounds or the piers, and, of course, nor a little stuff is thrown from the hotel that is good food for ducks, pelicans and gulis. Accordingly these birds come about the hotel in flocks, and not only are they without fear of the people there, but they have learned to come for food when any one whistles for them as if for a dog.

"At first it seems as if the birds come as readily to the call of one person as of another, but the fact is that two or three people about the hotel are on speaking terms with them. The birds know their volces, and are plainly very friendly with them. At an old boarlanding stage the pelicans gather a dozen at a time, and, sitting there in the sun, preen their feathers and scratch their ribs with their long, ungainly looking bills. The fact that a lot of people are standing six feet away is in no way disturbing to them unless some unmannerly fellow pokes them with a cane. In that event the bird gives the intruder a white-eyed look of astonishment and utters a protest in a volce that is so gentle and delicate as to make one wonder where in the world such an ungainly bird got it. Then it dops its way to safety beyond the piers.

"Only the smaller ducks come about the hotel, but they are excedingly beau tiful and graceful in their movements while the gulls in their dancing flight are of endless interest. No one has tried to teach the birds to come to hand for food, it is said, but it is plain that any one with knowledge and tact and low might establish an acquaintance there that would enable him to write a most interesting story about our feathered brothers affoat."

An Anti-Substitution Victory.

Allen S. Olmsted, of Le Roy, N. Y., whose phrase, "A sample sent free on application," is so sublquitous in the newspapers, won a signal victory when Justice Laughlin, in Supreme Court, Buffalo, issued a permanent injunction on the ground that the Foot Powder in question was an infringement on Foot Ease, the original one, for shaking into shoes, etc. Suits will be brought against all others who imitate his trade mark, powder or sample packages, which packages are sent free. A postai card addressed Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y., gives your feet relief.
