The Movement Assumes Shape.
Arrangements have been completed between Scranton Board of Trade officials, representing similar organizations at that end of the anthracite fields, and officers of the Mount Carmel Business Men's Association and Board of Trade for a convention in Scranton on June 28 and 29 to consider ways and means to secure lower freightage on anthracite coal.

Delegates from business men's organizations throughout the anthractic region are urgently requested to be present. An effort to secure uniform rates through the interstate commerce commission or the courts is contemplated. The roads carrying coal now charge two and eleven mills per ton per mile respectively on bituminous

COCAL WAR NOTES..

The man who looks up odd things has been casting his eyes over the army to find the tallest man. An Ohio regiment had a strapper that measured six feet four inches and was proud of the honor until the Fourth Pennsylvania took the starch out of the Buckeyes by exhibiting a big Lehigh countian who stands six feet seven. In the number of brothers enlisted this state is the leader, the Sheridan troop, of Tyrone, outdistancing all others with its seven Flecks. Their father was also a member of the troop but failed to pass the physical test. When it comes to coutests Pennsylvania always shows up well.

Thomas Challenger's twenty-first birthday was celebrated the other even-ing by a number of friends gathering at his home. Games of various kinds were played until 11 o'clock, when an excel-lent repast was served. The young man was wished many happy returns of the date.

The Nerub Cow.

The dairy farmer who is feeding a scrub cow and guessing that she pays, may be said to be "gambling in stock." It's a sort of board of trade business. That is, she trades a very small lot of poor milk for her board, and leaves the dealer short on butter and long on endurance.

Don't Get Gay in Weatherly.

From the Weatherly Telegraph.

A young man from Freeland named is R. Bollinger made a disgraceful exhibition of himself Sunday evening about 9 o'clock near the Bobbin works. He was loaded to the neck with bad whiskey and became imbued with the idea that he could lick anything that walked, He drew a pair of steel knuckles from his pecket, threw off his coat and began pounding against the side of the Bobbin works. After he had attracted a large crowd he further displayed himself by insulting every lady that passed, the language being disgraceful.

After he had made a spectacle of himself for about twenty minutes Constable Mill and Chief of Police Romig arrived on the scene and yanked him to the lockup, where he was left over night to sober up. He was given a hearing before Burgess Swith Mende
