

REMOVAL SALE

OF THE GUARANTEE CLOTHING COMPANY.

On account of the great increase in our business our present storeroom has become too small and we are compelled to seek larger quarters. We take pleasure in announcing to our friends that we have secured the

REFOVICH BUILDING, 37 CENTRE STREET,

(recently vacated by Hart, the English Tailor.)

and will take possession on June 29, after which date we will be pleased to greet you there. By securing this new storeroom we will be better able to cater to the wants of the people by carrying a much larger stock and will be able to display our goods to better advantage. We promise that the change will be appreciated as heartily by our patrons as by ourselves, as it will give purchasers a larger and more varied stock to choose from. Before moving we will inaugurate a SPECIAL BARGAIN SALE.

EVERY DAY UNTIL JUNE 29.

We offer all goods in the storeroom in the Breslin Block at a reduced price, rather than remove them to our new stand. We do not promise that we will give goods away, but we assure you that you can save money on any article of clothing or gents' furnishing goods that you buy from us during this special sale.

OUR STOCK CONSISTS OF ALL NEW GOODS.

The Latest Styles of

Mens', Boys' and Children's Ready-Made Clothing, Bicycle Suits, Single Pantaloon, Knee Pants, Stiff, Soft and Straw Hats and Gents' Furnishing Goods.

MERCHANT TAILORING.

We have made some heavy reductions in the prices of our made-to-measure garments. Drop in and see for yourself how reasonable we will make you up a good suit. We cannot here give you details of our superior values and our unequalled bargains, but we cordially invite you to come to our store, learn our figures and examine the goods. "Seeing is believing" and to thoroughly appreciate our fair dealing methods you should give us a call.

We thank you for your kind patronage while in the Breslin Block and hope for a continuance of the same in the REFOVICH BUILDING AFTER JUNE 29, 1898.

VERY RESPECTFULLY YOURS,

Guarantee Clothing Company.

LITTERS FOR THE WOUNDED

The Present Army Model and Frederick Remington's Improvement.

Major James P. Kimball, surgeon in the United States Army, has written an interesting article in "The Albany Medical Annals" on the subject of "Transportation of the Wounded in War." He says:

"The first stage in the travels of the wounded man is from the ground on which he has fallen to the collecting or first dressing-station. This station, according to Army regulations, is 'the nearest place to the combatants where the wounded and those caring for them may not be unnecessarily exposed to fire.' Formerly this was a distance of not more than five hundred or six hundred yards, but the increased range of the modern rifle now necessitates the establishment of the first-dressing station at least one thousand to twelve hundred yards behind the firing line. There is usually one such station behind each regiment engaged, or, if the regiments be small, one behind each brigade. To these stations bearers carry on litters the seriously wounded, after they have received on the field the necessary first aid, such as the application of a tourniquet in cases of severe arterial hemorrhage, and of improvised splints to broken bones.

"The bearers are a part of the sanitary force, which varies somewhat in strength in different armies, but is commonly equal to about 4 per cent. of the troops in line."

A comprehensive description of the hospital corps is given, and then Major Kimball tells about the means of transportation and the evolution in the United States of the hand litter. During the Civil War the Halstead litter was used. This was eight feet long and weighed twenty-five pounds. The present litter, model of 1895, weighs sixteen and one-half pounds, folds completely, and may be carried on the shoulder almost as easily as a rifle.

"Wheeled litters, to be drawn or pushed by hand, have been modeled from time to time, but on the chance ground of battle-fields, often rough and broken, these litters have been of little use."

Major Kimball considers the "litter-carrier" recently invented by Frederick Remington the best adaptation of the wheel to the litter that has been made. It consists of a single wheel and a framework to hold the litter. The litter is fastened to the carrier by a pin which is attached to the lower side of each litter pole. Folding legs are let down to hold the carrier firmly in position when the litter is to be put on or taken off. The litter-carrier

thus adjusted, with the litter placed upon it, is about thirty inches in height, and could serve on occasion as an operating table. When the carrier is in motion, the legs fold back and are secure by a simple device to the litter poles. The model which I have tested weighs thirty-seven and one-half pounds.

"The litter-carrier is designed for two bearers, one of whom pulls, while the other pushes; but should one of the bearers become disabled, it can be moved by one man alone."

Poor Princess Clementine!

At the last court ball in Brussels Princess Clementine danced in the quadrilles. The Princess never dances alone with one partner, but she is allowed to participate in a quadrille. The King probably knows the difference between the dignity of his daughter dancing with a partner in a quadrille and dancing with a partner in a polka or waltz. Clementine has never danced a waltz in her life at these court balls. She is now twenty-eight years of age, and her life is anything but an enviable one. She is treated far more like an overgrown girl than anything else. Her hours are regulated throughout the day.

She rises at 6:30 in the morning, summer and winter, whether she likes it or not. She is obliged by the Queen to assist at 7 o'clock mass said every morning in the Palace Chapel at Laeken. After breakfast she either goes for a walk or a drive. One generally meets her driving into Brussels in company with one of her ladies-in-waiting. Every one says the Queen is really too rigid and too exacting. Princess Clementine has no liberty, no will of her own in any trifle. She cannot put on the dress she wishes, nor can she choose her own hats. Such is her life with the Queen. But when she has the good fortune to travel with the King she enjoys perfect freedom as far as these details are concerned. Leopold is exceedingly fond of his youngest daughter.

Small Tommy's Wish. Small Tommy was very fond of candy, and asked: "Mamma, can God make anything he wants to?" "Of course he can," was the reply. "Well," exclaimed the little fellow, "I'd just like to see him make a stick of candy with only one end to it."

Welcome News

Any information that tells how sickness and disease can be overcome is the most welcome news a paper can print. Although this is an advertisement, it contains facts of more vital importance than anything else in this newspaper.

It tells of a medicine known for over thirty years as Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. It is a medicine that purifies the blood, and restores the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs to vigor and strength. Its principal ingredient is not alcohol. It does not ruin men's and women's lives by causing intoxication and fostering the appetite for strong drink.

Favorite Remedy cools and purifies the blood. It is not like the many "bitters," "compounds" and "tonics," now so widely sold, which heat and inflame the blood, doing more injury than good.

Favorite Remedy cures troubles of women just as certainly as it cures troubles of men. It restores the Liver to a healthy condition, and cures the worst cases of Constipation. It cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, all Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Diseases, Gravel, Diabetes and Bright's Disease.

"My complaint was Stone in the Bladder. Physicians said my case was hopeless, but Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me."—D. H. HOAG, Lebanon Springs, N. Y.

Sold in all drug stores for $1.00 a bottle. One teaspoonful is a dose, and you will experience relief long before first bottle is taken.

Sample Bottle Free! Every person troubled with any of the ailments mentioned above is offered a chance to try Favorite Remedy without any cost whatever. Send your full post-office address to the DR. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, Rondout, N. Y., and a free sample will be sent you. Please say you saw the advertisement in this paper, so we may know your request is genuine.

FREELAND, PA., JUNE 20, 1898.

British Meddlers Rebuked.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer. It keeps the state department at Washington and the authorities at Berlin busy denying the stories of German interference sent out to the world by British correspondents who date their dispatches from Berlin or London with entire impartiality. There is some danger that if these stories are continued the people for whose consumption they are designed will begin to ask: Why this great desire to stir up bad feeling between the United States and Germany? Even in London there is begining to be an impression that the plan is being overworked, and denials from London are getting to be almost as frequent as the denials at Washington and Berlin.

The strength of England's new-found friendship for the United States is indicated by this overpowering desire to prove, not only that England is friendly, but that England is our only European friend. This is very far from being the case. Just now in Europe we have only one enemy, and that is Spain. Even in France subscriptions are under way for the benefit of the American wounded. Outside of Spain, we are friends with all the European powers. As the New York Sun well says, a war with Germany would be as fratricidal as a war with England.

The neutrality of all Europe is certain, and it will be duly appreciated by the people of the United States, just as any attempt to break it would be vigorously resented and permanently remembered.

Judge Gordon, of Philadelphia, prominently mentioned as the Democratic candidate for governor, was quite honest towards his party in the campaign of 1896. He did not favor Bryan nor Bryan's platform, neither had he any time for the Gold Democratic ticket. He believed that the most effective way of defeating Bryan was to vote for McKinley, and he has publicly declared that he so voted. The Tribune knows of a whole lot of Democrats who will be just as true to their political convictions next fall as Judge Gordon was to his in 1896, and if Gordon is named as the party's candidate for governor they will remember his effective method of defeating an undesirable man.

The war has overshadowed almost everything else with most people and newspapers, but the White Haven Journal refuses to lose sight of the new county question. The Journal is hazarding all kinds of projectiles and shells toward, but they seem to be loaded with nothing more dangerous than wind. Regardless of the opposition of our

White Haven contemporary, new county sentiment is increasing daily and a new county will be soon a reality. The Journal ought to remember that there are some things in life wherein the interests of the few should be subordinated to the needs of the many, and a new county is one of these.

The new war tax will not be pleasant. It was not levied by the government for pleasant purposes, but because money will be needed to wage the war against Spain. While the revenue is being expended in driving the barbarous Castilians from the Western Hemisphere little complaint will be heard, but as soon as that is done the tax should be remitted. It might be remarked, by the way, that the only objection entered to date against the war tax comes from the tobacco trust. This tribe cannot understand why the poor classes are not allowed to shoulder all the expense.

The Democratic state convention will be held at Altoona on Wednesday of next week. The candidates to be named are governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs, judge of superior court and two congressmen-at-large. The prophets are predicting various platforms for the party. It seems to be understood that state issues will be made the rallying cry, but a determined fight will be waged to keep gold-bugs off the ticket.
