TRIFES.

What will it matter in a little while
That for a day
We met and gave a word, a touch, a smile,
Upon the way?
What will it matter whether hearts were brave
And lives were true;
That you gave me the sympathy I crave,
As I gave you?
These trifles! Can it be they make or mar
A human life?
Are souls as lightly waved as rushes are
By love or strife?
Yes! yet a look the fainting heart may break
Or make it whole;
And just one word, if said for Love's sweet sake,
May save a soul.

Woodpeckers Eat Poles.
Readheaded woodpeckers have destroyed, during two years, a carload of the poles which support the wires of the Kansas City and Independence electric line. The busy little birds bore into the poles and scoop out a cavity, where they lay their eggs and raise their young. In this way the poles are weakened so that they break under the weight of the wires.

The wood of the poles is the soft white cedar, and is easily penetrated by the sharp bills of the woodpeckers. The supports for the wires last usually ten years, but now there are many that must be replaced at once at a cost of about $15 apiece. Last year scores of the readheaded pests were shot by employees of the electric railway company.—Kansas City Star.

Arrested Under Alien Act.

The first arrest to be made under the act that forbids the employment of aliens on municipal work and further forbids their being employed over eight hours a day, which was passed by the last legislature, was made in Scranton on Friday. The act is violated daily in all parts of the state, and so little regard is paid to the law that the labor unions decided to test it. J. A. Price, the walking delegate of one of the Scranton unions, swore out a warrant for the arrest of M. J. Ruddy, contractor, and Antonio Magnotta, sub-contractor, before Alderman Miller. Mr. Price claimed that they had employed foreigners on a new school building, and that the men were being worked nine and ten hours per day. Both of the defendants were held in $500 bail for their appearance at court.

Pushing the Bicycle Path.

The Associated Wheelmen met at the Cottage hall Thursday evening. The committee on route reported that an old road leading from town to the other side of Sandy Run would, with some repairs, make a very good path. A committee consisting of H. C. Koons, F. H. Albert, Victor Oswald and Joseph Birkbeck, was appointed for the purpose of securing its use from the owners and to report this evening, when the association will take action on the construction of the path. Several routes having been suggested from Sandy Run to White Haven, it was thought advisable to appoint a committee whose duty it would be to select the most suitable. The committee is composed of Jerry Woodring, Nell Gallagher and Edward Mocham, of Sandy Run.

Hazleton Defeated by the Tigers.

The best ball team that Hazleton could get together came over yesterday to give battle to the Tigers. There was a small attendance at the park. The playing on both sides was good, but failed to arouse any considerable enthusiasm, and the Tigers won by a score of 9 to 5. Brehm and Kimmel composed the battery for the visitors, and Ferry and Gaffney did the heavy work for the Tigers. Hazleton was outplayed at every stage of the game and at no time had an opportunity to win. They were unable to touch Ferry when his meant runs. Following is a summary of the score:

Innings:..... 3 1 0 2 1 0 3 0 — 9 2
Hazleton..... 0 0 0 0 1 1 3 0 — 5 7 6

An Important Decision.

An important decision, and one of general interest, has been rendered by Judge Lyons, of Juniata county, who was on the bench in the Columbia county court, at Bloomsburg, when the now celebrated case of John H. Eisenhower, the deposed principal of Centralia schools, was tried. Eisenhower was elected principal for a term of three years, and when he had served one year he was ousted without any charges being brought against him. The court awarded him nine months' salary, $755, with interest and costs, and under the decision he can recover pay for the full term of three years. Previous to going to Centralia, Mr. Eisenhower was principal of the schools at Mahanoy City.

A Local Story of Mine Rates.

"The Mine Rates' Warning," a story recently published in the New York Evening Post, appeared on Thursday in the TRIBUNE and attracted considerable attention. It is from the pen of H. E. Rood, a former editor of the Plain Speaker, and the local flavor given the tale made it particularly interesting to our mining friends. The reader of it will easily recognize in the narrator ex-Legislator James A. Sweeney.

Confirmation at Eckley.

Bishop Hoban, of Scranton, was at Eckley yesterday and administered confirmation to a large class of boys and girls at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. The services were impressive and were followed by an able sermon from the bishop. Fathers Brehony, of Eckley, and Phillips and Burke, of Hazleton, were present and assisted in the services.

FOSTER TEACHERS.

Directors Make Appointments and Shake Things Up Somewhat.

Foster school directors sprung a surprise on the applicants for schools by making the appointments on Friday evening. Only a few newspaper men and spectators were present when the board met, but before the secretary finished reading the hundred or more appeals for appointments the Woodside building was well filled. The appointments were made by a vote of 5 to 1. Directors Woodring, Evans, Ziestloff, Lesser and Kuyrim voting for the following list and Director Brior against it: Drifton—Harvey Hoffman, $60; Maggie Carr, $40.

East Foster—Margaret Streator, $35; Eckley—John J. McGill, $60; Lizzie James, $40; Lizzie Noll, $40; Annie McLaughlin, $40.

Fondryville—Bridget Timony, $35; Hazle Brook—George C. Farrar, $60; Mary Powell, $40.

Highland—James S. McDonald, $60; Pearl Mowrey, $35.

Pond Creek—Francis Solomon, $45; Sandy Run—Joseph G. Sarricks, $60; E. P. Stewart, $40; Grace Palmer, $40; Sandy Valley—John McCarry, $45; Scale Siding—Mary Boyle, $35; Tannery—Edith Morrison, $40.

Upper Lehigh—Jesse A. Alden, $60; Lulu Schmidt, $40; Celia Gallagher, $40; Woodside—W. E. Martin, $60; Mary McLugh, $40.

The usual joy on one side and disappointment on the other followed the appointments. The new teachers are Jesse A. Alden, Mrs. Mary McLugh, Margaret Streator, Bridget Timony, Mary Powell, Pearl Mowrey, Francis Solomon and Mary Boyle. The teachers who failed to be reappointed are George Brill, F. O. Haiges, Con McGeehan, Mrs. Mary O'Donnell, Mary Fulmer, Annie Lindsay, Emma Bottoms and Mary Gallagher.

Very few teachers were given the schools they taught last year, the shaking up being general. Misses McLaughlin, James, Stewart, Morrison and Gallagher are the only teachers who received the schools they held last term.

Regular Monthly Meeting.

The Foster board met Saturday evening in regular monthly session. In the absence of President Woodring, Director Kuyrim was elected to preside. The commission of Treasurer Ziestloff was fixed at 2 per cent. The directors reported necessary repairs required at different schools, and it was decided to have them made.

A motion was made and carried to reconsider the action of the board at its organization, when it was decided to reduce the salary of the superintendent. It was decided not to purchase any school apparatus other than necessary books. The superintendent was instructed to have a list of supplies needed at the next meeting.

The schools will open on Monday, August 15.

A Prophet from Sock's Pond.

Three typical farmers from near Sock's pond, close to the dividing line between Luzerne and Monroe counties, came into Alderman Davison's office Friday morning and the spokesman of the party, says the Wilkesbarre Nesdealer, informed the alderman that a murder had been committed and that they had the evidence to prove it. The speaker told of his being a believer in the law of Moses and how at various times he had used his belief to ferret some crime or other.

Some time since an old woman living at Bear Lake disappeared and no trace of her was ever discovered. At that time, so the farmer said, they traced her to a short distance of a farm house. The occupant of this house recently had a quarrel with his wife, who left him for fear of being murdered. The news coming to the prophet through the laws of Moses, he interpreted this man as being the murderer. So steadfast was he in the belief that he, and his companions also, wanted the warrants sworn out and the man arrested.

One of the others said he had dreamed or heard that the body of the woman was taken to a medical school in Philadelphia, and that some man was on his way here with a photograph of it. The matter was turned over to the district attorney, who will determine whether the farmer foretells events or not.

Training For Road Races.

Riders in road races are practically amateurs in the truest sense, being for the most part young men who are employed during the day and have little chance to pursue a regular course of training. They know that some preparation is necessary and so they hurry home from work, gulb down a meal and then mount their wheels for a hard ride. Such procedure is injurious. A veteran trainer suggests a better course of training as follows: "Rise early in the morning, eat a few oatmeal biscuits, take a ride for three or four miles, return and take a sponge down with a little cold water with some alcohol in it. If the weather is not fit, a brisk walk to business, if not over two or three miles, is good. Walking will do riders much good at all times.

"A young business man should, after working hours, put on a change of clothing, eat a few crackers, but drink nothing, and go out for a spin before a hearty supper. For the first week do not attempt to go more than a three-mile clip for four miles or so. The second week increase the distance to five or six miles. It would be wise not to go over this. If possible the rider should then be rubbed on a training cot with a dry towel and liniment used. The portion of the body not being rubbed should not be exposed. Take no more exercise for an hour later, eating supper in the meantime."

Experience shows it to be a fact that hot drinks relieve the thirst and "cool off" the body of the rider when it is in an abnormally-heated condition better than ice-cold drinks. It is far better and safer to avoid the use of drinks below sixty degrees.

In fact, a higher temperature is to be preferred, and riders who are much troubled with thirst will do well to try the advantages to be derived from hot drinks, instead of cold fluids to which they have been accustomed.

Hot drinks also have the advantage of aiding digestion, instead of causing debility of the stomach and bowels.

FELL AT THE FRONT.

JOHN W. JONES, OF UPPER LEHIGH, KILLED AT SANTIAGO.

He Was Quartermaster-Sergeant of Company E, Seventh United States Infantry, and Was Shot in a Charge on the Spanish Breastworks on July 2.

Our neighboring town, Upper Lehigh, can claim the honor of being the first in this part of Pennsylvania to give a life in the war for humanity. Sergeant John W. Jones was killed in a charge upon the Spanish breastworks near Santiago on Saturday, July 2.

Mr. Jones was a resident of Upper Lehigh for many years until February, 1889, when he enlisted in Company I, Seventh infantry, of the regular army. He served his term, then came back for a short while. Finding no great change in the conditions from the time of his first departure, he again forsook civil life and returned to his regiment. Up to the outbreak of the war his headquarters were at Fort Washakie, Wyoming. In April last, with thousands of others, he was rushed to Tampa, Florida, where his regiment was recruited to war strength. This opened the way for promotions, and Mr. Jones was raised to quartermaster-sergeant of Company E.

The Seventh was in the thick of Friday and Saturday's fighting before Santiago. It is a part of General Chaffee's brigade, in General Lawton's division, and the accounts of the battle go to show that several times during these two days General Chaffee's men bore the brunt of the battle. The loss in this brigade tells its own story of the heroism of the men composing it.

The casualties of the Seventh, as taken from General Lawton's official report rendered to the war department, foot up thirty-three killed and ninety-five wounded. Company E's loss alone was four killed and eleven disabled. Among those who fell wounded were the colonel and major and five of the field staff, while four of the regimental staff were killed.

During the period he spent as a soldier Sergeant Jones did not forget his friends in this vicinity. In his letters to the editor of the TRIBUNE, with whom he corresponded occasionally, he invariably asked for additional news besides that which the TRIBUNE gave him of his acquaintances in and around Freeland. He was well pleased with a soldier's life and saw active service in Indian skirmishes during the red men's uprisings a few years ago. In some of these engagements he had several narrow escapes from being captured by the savages. Notwithstanding the fact that at times he was stationed as high as 147 miles from a railroad, and mail had to be carried via couriers, he did not miss a single issue of this paper from its first number until about two years ago, when a few copies went astray.

Mr. Jones has no immediate relatives in this vicinity at present, so far as we can learn. A brother, Evan R. Jones, lived at Upper Lehigh several years, but removed to Scranton in July, 1894.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh.

That contain mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system.
