THE GAME OF CRAPS. Originated Just After the Civil War When the Darky Had Idle Time.

The originated Just After the Civil War When the Darky Mid Idie Time. The Southern negro trusts fortune with all the blind faith of a little child. He carries a buckeye for sore eyes, a potato for rheumatism, a wisp of hair from the tail of a black dog for pains in the back, a voodoo charm to protect him against the machinations of his enemies, and a rabbit's foot for luck. With this collection in his pocket he goed scanfidently forth to woo the fickle goddess Chance. But not in cards or in twirling wheels or in any of the de-vices known to the devotee of Monte Carlo does he put his trust, and not even the great American game of poker has any fascination for him. But in craps, played in his own remarkable craps, played in his own remarkable way, he delights. Who invented it and when or where it originated no one can say, but soon after the close of the war, when the ne-gro for the first time in his life could taste the sweets of idleness-and a delicious morsel it was and is-this alluring device for causing coins to change pockets started, and it spread like a contagious fever.
