BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

PARAGRAPHS GATHERED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE REGION.

Synopsis of Local and Miscellaneous Occurrences That Can Be Read Quickly. What the Folks of This and Other Towns Are Doing.

A. Oswald sells three bars of grand-mam's butter milk soap for the small sum of 5c.

John Haley, an old resident of South Centre street, is dangerously ill. He is not expected to survive long.

The Lehigh Valley railroad is already advertising half-rate tickets to Freeland on G. A. R. Day September 10.

Ladies, don't fail to see those fancy 25c skirts at A. Oswald's. He sells lots of them and they are dandies.

The grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias will hold its annual convention in Lebanon, beginning tomorrow.

St. Patrick's cornet band will attend the picnic of St. Gabriel's parochial school at Hazle park this evening.

The Holiness Christian Association baptized several new members by immersion in the sand spring at Milnesville yesterday.

The members of the Bankers' Association for Luzerne and adjoining counties held their semi-annual meeting at the Glen Summit hotel on Thursday.

The council of the Daughters of Liberty, of town, held a basket picnic in conjunction with the Audenried and Hazleton councils at Hazle park on Saturday.

The Fearnots Athletic Association, of Driffton, will conduct a picnic in the ball park on Saturday evening next. St. Patrick's cornet band will furnish dancing music.

The people in surrounding towns who have potato gardens fear that the few stalks that withstood the excessive heat of last month will be killed by the cold of the late few nights.

Rev. J. B. Kerschner, pastor of St. John's Reformed church, will hold memorial services for Freddie, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sippel, who died July 9. All relatives and friends are invited to attend. Services at 10:30 a. m. English services at 7:30 p. m.

Judge Woodward was left a bequest of $3,000 by the will of the late Ex-Mayor Suro, of San Francisco, Cal. The bequest is thought to have come to the judge through his father, who was once a member of congress and assisted Mr. Suro in passing a tunnel bill.

After being cautioned by fellow-laborers against using a naked lamp at the Vulcan colliery, Mahanoy City, on Friday, Mike Silisky struck a match and fired a quantity of gas. Martin Meyer, Matthew Weikew and Silisky were roasted badly in the explosion which followed.

The annual temperance reunion will be held at Mountain Park on Tuesday, August 30. The speakers will be Dr. S. C. Swallow, candidate for governor; Wm. R. Irvin, of Williamport; E. D. Nichols, Esq., candidate for lieutenant governor, and Mrs. Annabel M. Hooley, of West Pittston.

A little picnic at Nesquehoning had a sad ending Thursday afternoon, when nine-year-old Jennie Williams, of Scranton, who was visiting relatives there, met death by drowning. The girl attempted to cross Nesquehoning creek on a log and lost her balance. She fell into the stream and was drowned before her companions could summon aid.

Fifteen-year-old William Reese's search for coal lead him beneath a train of cars at the coal storage yard at Mahanoy City on Friday. The train moved suddenly and crushed both the lad's legs and one hand. The mother, an agonized witness of the accident, rushed forward and snatched him from beneath the moving wheels as he was about to be mangled by a second car.

Pale Crown Export Stock Lager.

A food, a tonic and an invigorator warranted that only the choicest malt has been employed in the manufacture of this absolutely pure and unadulterated beer. It builds up and strengthens the system of the weak and debilitated; it aids and hastens the recovery to health and vigor of the sick and convalescent, and is especially recommended to persons suffering from indigestion and dyspepsia. It is an easily assimilated food which possesses all the invigorating and tonic properties dormant in malt in the most pleasing and palatable form, differing widely from other similar preparations in that it contains a large percentage of free carbonic acid, the refreshing agencies of which are well known. It is recommended by physicians. For sale by all saloons, cafes and restaurants. Brewed by Bartels new brewery, Edwardsville, Pa., a branch of the famous Bartels brewery, of Syracuse. Charles Boczkowski, agent, Freeland.

ARRESTED FOR UNBECOMING CONDUCT.

A smart young man of Sandy Run was arrested last evening by Chief of Police Boyle on orders from Burgess Gallagher. He was accused of acting in an insulting manner to promenaders along Centre street. Several complaints regarding him reached the burgess, and after watching him closely in person for a few hours last evening, he decided that the man's manners were a violation of the borough ordinance.

He was arrested and taken to the lockup. While on the way two of his friends interfered with the officer and attempted to release the prisoner. Their efforts were not successful, as they were immediately placed under arrest themselves.

They were given a hearing and sentenced to pay a fine, in lieu of which they were committed to jail for five days. The young man who was first arrested gave security for the payment of his fine, and was released. His over zealous friends are still behind the bars.

A LITTLE NEW YORKER STRANDED.

When the late Lehigh Valley train drew into the station the other night, a little girl alighted and gazed around in a startled kind of way. She finally attracted the attention of night operator, B. J. Duffy, who learned that her name was Flo Anderson, and that she had been sent to Ashland by the New York Tribune Fresh Air Fund. She had a certificate to show for it, but the line where the name of the person to whom she was assigned should have been written was left blank, presumably by mistake. She did not know whether any one here had sent for her or not. John H. Rowe happened to come along just about this time, and the girl's predicament was explained to him. He very generously took charge of her and she is now staying at the Ashland House. Mr. Rowe wrote to Rev. Willard Parsons, manager of the Tribune Fresh Air Fund, this morning, asking for information. She had been to Freeland before but never to Ashland.

THE BICYCLE PATH.

Everything now looks favorable for the immediate completion of the bicycle path. This is one of the best movements to open an avenue of amusement and usefulness undertaken by the people of Freeland, and it is no exaggeration to say that the work required to push it through, although laborious and unremunerative, will never be regretted. When the path is completed and connected at White Haven with the road to Bear Creek, it will be one of the most delightful stretches in the state for an easy pleasurable ride. Should the new path, paralleling the Lehigh Valley railroad from Glen Summit to White Haven, which is now under advisement, be completed, the wheelmen of this region will then have a circuit of road unsurpassed in the country.

LOOKING UP FREIGHT RATES ON COAL.

The executive committee of the Anthracite Coal Association, comprising W. G. Thomas, of Pittston; Voris Anton, of Mount Carmel, and Meredith L. Jones, of Scranton, held a meeting at Scranton this week and considered much data bearing on discrimination in coal freights, and decided that the carrying railroad companies are violating both letter and spirit of the Inter-State commerce law, to the detriment of the business communities depending upon the anthracite coal trade.

"A BOY WANTED."

At Hazleton opera house Blaney's rapid-fire farce comedy extravaganza, "A Boy Wanted," will be presented on Saturday, August 20. It is keyed right up to the minute with no end of bright dialogue, new music, catchy songs and ludicrous situations, and goes with a howl of laughter from beginning to end. The company of comedians and pretty girls never fail to keep their auditors amused during the entire performance. The cast includes Louis Hartinotti, acrobatic comedian; Lillian Harper, singing soubrette; Knox Wilson, German comedian and musical artist; Fred Valz, comedian, and piano soloists Bickell and Haight; novelty sketch duo Lillian Arzell and Julia Taylor; singers and dancers and a chorus of fifteen.

THREE LIVELY RUNAWAYS.

A Whiskey Barrel Bumped the Legs of One Horse—Latter Excites Others.

An erratic boy named Page, who tends bar at Mike Pasternak's saloon on Centre street, carelessly threw a small whiskey barrel out of the cellar on Friday and caused a runaway which threatened the demolition of three teams and several business places along the street, but fortunately did not result in anything more serious than a little damage to the carriages and a lot of excitement.

A horse belonging to Edmund Cox, of Driffton, started the commotion. It was hitched to a light buckboard and was standing in front of Grover's drug store. Near it was Dr. Neale's team, attached to a double carriage, and close by stood another horse and covered wagon belonging to M. Friedlander, of Hazleton.

When young Page threw the barrel out of the cellar it rolled off the sidewalk and struck Cox's horse on the leg. The horse stepped to one side and the barrel rolled down the gutter and struck it again, on the hind legs. This excited the animal and he made several wild leaps, than a plunge. His rearing disturbed Friedlander's horse and the latter made a dash down Centre street. Dr. Neale's team then caught the excitement and ran up the street.

Cox's horse ran about ten yards, but was captured by John E. McHugh. The only damage it did was to break the harness. Friedlander's ran down Centre street as far as Nicholas Cappee's, where, after escaping a trolley car in the middle of the street, the wagon became fast against a couple of poles. The top of the wagon was torn off, besides being damaged in other parts. The striped pole in front of Cappee's was knocked down, and a few inches more would have caused a general smash-up in the glass barber shop on the sidewalk. Dr. Neale's team was handled by Andrew Keenan, Sr., of Upper Lehigh, who stuck to the reins when they began to run, and steered them against a telegraph pole where they stopped. The tongue of the carriage was broken and the horses were slightly scratched.

TELEPHONE BOX BROKEN.

The Lehigh Traction Company's telephone box at the corner of Centre and South streets was broken open some time on Friday night. Conductor Griffith Pritchard went to use the 'phone on Saturday morning, and discovered the box with the door open. He examined it very carefully and found the instrument badly damaged. It was hardly fit for use, and will have to undergo a lot of repairs before it is restored to its former condition.

A RAPID STENOGRAPHER.

Isaac S. Dement of Chicago is known as the champion shorthand writer. At an official meeting at Lake George, N. Y., in 1888, he wrote 252 words a minute for five consecutive minutes from new matter. He claims to have written 402 words in one minute before a business college at Quinley, Ill.

MILK DEARER THAN CHAMPAGNE.

Champagne is cheaper than milk just now in Rhodesia. The latter costs about $3.75 per bottle. Before the rinderpest any amount of milk was to be obtained at 12 cents a bottle, and on some occasions as low as 6 cents.

TO HANDLE HOT PLATES.

Hot plates can be lifted by a new utensil without any danger of burning the hands, two wire frames being attached to a handle, with one frame sliding in a socket, to fit different sized plates.

ADDICTED TO ENGLISH.

In 1794 the habitual users of the English language did not number more than 30,000,000; in 1897 their number was estimated at 110,000,000.

VICTORIA'S VISITORS.

The number of visitors admitted to the State apartments at Windsor Castle (Queen Victoria's real residence) last year was 94,775.

"IT'S TOO BAD!"

said the man with heavy boots and chin whiskers. "There's a big ship called the 'Indiana,' and one called the 'Massachusetts,' and so on. But where's the 'New Jersey'?"

"NEVER MIND,"

replied his companion. "We ain't slighted. I understand they's a hull bunch o' bonts known as 'the Mosquito Fleet.'" asked the teacher of a history class. "He played the fiddle," replied Sammy Wilkes.

"WHAT WAS NERO'S GREAT CRIME?"

THREE MORE DEATHS IN THE NINTH.

Privates Leonard Degan, of Company D, Joseph H. Detweiler, of Company G, and Jonah I. Jenkins, of Company F, Ninth Regiment died of fever at Chickamauga on Wednesday. Degan was a resident of Dushore, Detweiler, of Reading, and Jenkins, of Wilkes-Barre. These three deaths make a total of eleven in the Ninth. There are still more than two hundred soldiers of this regiment sick.

Since the above was put in type another death occurred in the Ninth. Valentine J. Armbruster, of East Mauch Chunk, a private in Company L, succumbed to typhoid fever.

A novel dispute took place over the body of Private Jenkins, when it arrived home. It was claimed by two parties—his mother and his foster-mother. It looked for a time as if legal complications would arise and Attorney Charles B. Lenahan was employed by Jenkins' mother to look after her interest in the case.

Jenkins' right name is Hughes, he being the son of Alexander Hughes, who died when the child was but 15 months old. Mrs. Hughes married a man named Chubb. She had been obliged, when the lad was strong enough, to apprentice him to Daniel Jenkins to learn the trade of a mason.

When Jenkins died he willed to the young man property valued at $15,000, showing the degree of love he bore him. The two women claimed him, but Mrs. Jenkins won.

PROTESTANT ASSOCIATION ELECTION OFFICERS.

The national convention of the American Protestant Association finished its business at Scranton and adjourned to meet next August at Pittsburg, where will be celebrated the semi-centennial of the organization of the order. Officers were elected as follows:

SNAKE'S EYES DUST-PROOF.

The serpent is peculiarly liable, crawling as it does on the ground in sandy and dusty localities, to injuries of the eye, and this organ is therefore protected by being placed under the skin or outer epidermis. When a snake sheds its skin, which it does three or four times a year, the skin of the eye comes off with the rest.

PATIENCE REWARDED.

FOSTER SCHOOL AFFAIRS.

VERY QUIET MEETING WITH LITTLE BUSINESS ON SATURDAY NIGHT.

More books to be purchased—Prices set for cleaning and whitewashing—Bill paid—A petition regarding Woodside Teachers—Other business.

Foster township school board held a meeting in the Woodside building on Saturday evening. All the members were present. The committee appointed at the last meeting to investigate the overcrowded conditions of Highland schools recommended the appointment of another teacher to relieve the congestion. One application was received for the position—from Mrs. Mary O'Donnell.

Director Koyrim nominated Mrs. O'Donnell, and President Woodring named Miss Annie Lindsay. Mrs. O'Donnell was elected by the votes of all the directors except Mr. Woodring.

On the recommendation of the committee on supplies the directors decided to purchase the following books: Ten dozen primers; ten dozen first and ten dozen second readers of the "National Method of Reading."

The board fixed the rates for cleaning the school buildings as follows: For scrubbing and cleaning, each room, $3; for whitewashing, each room, $3; for cleaning each section of outhouses, $1. Directors Lesser and Zeisloft desired to fix the price for whitewashing at $4, and showed that, even at that price, the parties who did the work had little left after taking out the cost of materials and scaffolding. But the majority of the board could not see it in this way. They preferred to save money on the whitewashing, which worthy people in the school district might earn, and squander it in other directions for things which could be had for less money.

Jesse Fairchilds of Pond Creek, who was fined $25 in a suit of law at White Haven some time ago, sent a written plea to the board to refund him the money. The board accepted the money without any hesitation or question, but could not see its way clear to paying back the fine. So the directors merely read Mr. Fairchilds' plea, and humorously decided to hold on to the money.

Director Bryor presented a petition, urging the board to reconsider the placing of teachers, and reappoint Miss Lulu Schmidt to the Woodside school. The petition was signed by less than thirty residents of the district, some of whom had placed their names on it without having read it—a common procedure when petitions are circulated around Driffton—and many of whom had no children attending the school. The directors treated it as it deserved, in unanimously refusing to remove the present appointee.

The following bills were ordered paid: Plain Speaker, publishing, $16.00; Progress, publishing, $16.30; G. A. Woodring, repairs, $4.65.

A JAUNDICED VIEW.

"I don't see why it should be deemed a disgrace," the youthful bachelor remarked in the course of the conversation, "for a woman to ask a man to marry her."

"It isn't a disgrace," replied the elderly maiden. "Idiocy is a misfortune."
