Normal School, East Stroudsburg, Pa.
A few points for your consideration wherein we excel. What constitutes a good school? Listen!

1. A faculty of superior instructors of recognized ability. This we have.
2. Good boarding. This is a recognized feature of this school. Students are here for work, and they must be properly fed. The best market affords is none too good.

3. Home-like treatment and comforts.
Those the school fully provides.

4. Healthful location. Beautiful surroundings. These you know we have as thousands of visitors to this great resort region and its sanitariums can testify.

Now listen! Read carefully and take time to consider and compare. We are the first and only normal school in the state that furnishes its students' rooms complete. The only school to carpet the students' rooms with fine Brussels carpet. You need not "take up your bed and walk" when you come here.
Check your trunk to this point and come with it. We furnish bedding and make you comfortable.

Hark! Listen again. We were the first and only school to introduce plain and fancy sewing, dressmaking and fancy needlework, without additional cost to pupils.

College preparatory department. Music department.

New buildings always neat and clean.
Fire escapes on all buildings. Lighted with gas and heated with steam.

Rates reasonable. Not as cheap as some where they make up the difference in poor boarding and lack of home comforts.

We have so much more to tell you, if you will but write to us.

Very truly yours,
Geo. P. Bible, Prin.

"McDoodle's Flats" at Mount Carmel.
Mt. Carmel, Pa., September 28, 1898.

The theatre goers who failed to see "McDoodle's Flats" were for once in the bad luck to miss a performance that for its kind none has ever been seen in Mt.
Carmel. The vaudeville parts were very funny and every actor is a star.

The work of Miss Florence Clair was up-to-date and is a leader in such parts as she takes. Frank W. Berry took the house by storm with his funny songs and sayings and is an actor that can go before any audience and please them.

Messrs. Hanson and Mullen, as Poodle and McDoodle were the funniest pair ever brought to our opera house and it only surprises us that actors of their class ever get outside of the larger cities. In fact the whole bill is made up of first-class people under a like management and such a combination is bound to meet with praise wherever they go.

Board of Health Meeting.

Freeland Board of Health met for reorganization on Friday evening at the residence of Charles Dusheck. Hugh Malloy was appointed president pro tem, after which the board proceeded to the election of officers, as follows: President, Hugh Malloy; secretary, Dr. J. H.
Cloud; health officer, James J. Ward.
The health officer reported nuisances at the properties of Mrs. Beckler, Ridge street; Mrs. Boyle, Centre street, and Messrs. Cunningham and Seiple, Walnut street; also the keeping of grease in the cellar of a house in the alley between Centre and Ridge streets, below South.
A formal lamp for the fumigation of rooms with formalin vapor has been purchased, and the health officer will distribute disinfectants where necessary.

Diphtheria exists in but four families at present and it is hoped that its spread will be prevented. One chief factor in increasing the disease is the carelessness of members of families or in their visiting neighboring houses where the disease exists, and the habit will probably not be stopped until the health officer arrests the persons so violating the law. Those in charge of the parochial schools at Woodside will be requested to allow no children to return to school after exposure from diphtheria or scarlet fever unless bringing a certificate from the health officer.

The board will recommend the periodical fumigation of the borough schools, and the flushing of the streets with water from the fire plugs.

After Illegal Game-Hunters.

The Club Game and Fish Protective will pay a reward of $10 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of any person who kills or catches, or has in possession after being killed, any pheasant, quail, woodcock, deer, wild turkey, rabbit or hare out of season, or any person having a ferret in possession while hunting. The seasons in which they may be killed are as follows:

Rabbit, from November 1 to December 15, inclusive.

Deer, from November 1 to November 30, inclusive.

Wild turkey, pheasant, quail and woodcock and black and gray squirrel, from October 15 to December 15, inclusive.

Penalty, from $10 to $100 and $25 for having a ferret in possession while hunting, or one day in the county jail for each dollar of penalty imposed.

Penalty for hunting deer with dog, or killing deer in waters, $100.

Stephen Drasher, president.
Wm. J. Brogan, secretary.

Pure, Clean and Wholesome.

Bartel's beer, porter and ale are three beverages which the people are rapidly learning to rely upon. For appetite, health and strength, drink any or all of them. They are manufactured more for medicinal purposes than for any intoxicating qualities they may possess.
Used judiciously, Bartel's beer, porter or ale will be found an excellent tonic.

READ HIS FIRST MASS.

REV. B. J. O'DONNELL OFFICIATED
AT ST. ANN'S CHURCH.

Impressive Ceremonies Were Conducted Yesterday Morning by the First Young Man of Freeland to Attain the Catholic Priesthood.

The first Freeland young man to enter the ranks of the Roman Catholic priesthood is Rev. Bernard J. O'Donnell, O. S.
A., who was ordained at Villanova on Thursday by Papsal Delegate Martinielli.
His first mass was celebrated yesterday morning at St. Ann's church. It was a solemn high mass, and in it were included many of those impressive ceremonies which mark the services of this denomination. The church was crowded far beyond its seating capacity, the entire parish taking a special interest in the occasion, since the central figure of it all was the first of its sons who has attained that elevation in religious work to which many are bending their efforts.

Rev. O'Donnell, as celebrant, was assisted by Rev. L. A. Delurey, O. S. A., president of the Augustinian college at Villanova; Rev. Francis Mack, of St.
Ann's church, was the deacon, and Peter R. O'Donnell, of Freeland, a brother of the celebrant, and who also has selected the priesthood as his vocation, was the sub-deacon. In the sanctuary were seated Rev. M. J. Falliehe, pastor of St. Ann's church, and Rev.
W. A. Coar, O. S. A., of Villanova. The young priest performed his arduous duties in a manner that was dignified, yet unostentatious, and at the conclusion gave his blessing to the hundreds who pressed forward to receive it. St. Ann's choir assisted at the mass with very fine music.

Rev. Delurey preached the sermon, the subject matter of which pertained to the dignity and duties of the priesthood. It was, without doubt, one of the finest efforts ever rendered in St.
Ann's church, especially his welcome of Rev. O'Donnell to the priesthood of the Order of St. Augustine.

After the services the visiting and local priests repaired to the residence of Rev. O'Donnell's parents, where the young clergyman's relatives, friends and acquaintances, many of whom came from a distance, tendered their congratulations and well wishes.

Revs. Delurey, Coar and O'Donnell returned to Villanova at noon today.

Rev. Bernard J. O'Donnell, O. S. A., is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Donnell, of Ridge street. He was born at Foundryville, Foster township, on February 11, 1874. His parents removed to Drifton when he was quite young, and his early education was consequently received at the Sisters of Mercy schools connected with St. Ann's church. On September 12, 1891, he entered St.
Thomas' college, Villanova, conducted by the Order of St. Augustine, and after four years study he was admitted to that organization. By diligent work he advanced rapidly in the numerous branches of education required to be mastered by students for the priesthood, and on Thursday last, September 29, 1898, his laudable ambition was satisfied, he then receiving holy orders from the hands of Archbishop Martinielli. For the present he will remain in the college at Villanova.

The Ordination Ceremonies.

Friday's Philadelphia Times says:
"The pretty church of St. Thomas, of Villanova, attached to the Augustinian college there, was crowded yesterday morning to witness the ceremony of ordination which was conferred upon three young novices. The ceremonies opened at 8 a. m. with a solemn procession from the sacristy to the church of novices and priests attired in the capouche and cowl of the order and followed immediately by Archbishop Martinielli, D. D., O. S. A., who celebrated low mass. At certain intervals throughout the mass Monsignor Martinell conferred the sacrament of holy orders upon the three candidates, Revs.
F. E. Toucher, O. S. A.; B. J. O'Donnell, O. S. A., and N. J. Vasey, O. S. A., who remained in the sanctuary and who were assisted respectfully by the Revs.
T. J. Cummings, O. S. A.; J. J. Leonard, O. S. A., and E. A. Flynn, O. S. A.,

"Archbishop Ryan was unable to be present at the ordination ceremonies, but arrived at the college shortly after their conclusion to congratulate the young priests. All three priests will celebrate their first masses on Sunday next. Father Toucher will officiate at Villanova, Father O'Donnell at Freeland and Father Vasey at St. Augustine's, Philadelphia."

Swartwood Has a Full House.

On Thursday Mrs. Samuel P. Swartwood, of Mountain Top, gave birth to a baby girl, the twenty-fifth child of which she is the mother. Mr. and Mrs.
Swartwood were married about twenty-five years ago, and of the twenty-five children born to them there were but two sets of twins. Twenty-two of the children are alive and all live at home, making a very crowded house. The oldest is twenty-four years of age and is a brakeman on the railroad.

LOCAL WAR NOTES.

Since the exclusive publication in the TRIBUNE on July 11 of the death of Sergeant John W. Jones, the first man of our vicinity to fall in the late war, the TRIBUNE has endeavored to obtain further details of his death than were published in that issue.
With the assistance of his brother, Evan R. Jones, of Scranton, we present today to our readers part of a letter from Joseph C. Fitzgerald, a member of Company E, Seventh regular infantry, to which the deceased belonged. This letter was written to David J. Reynolds, of Denver, Col. The latter was a personal friend of John W. Jones, and states that John had agreed to leave the service at the expiration of his term, May 30 last, but the breaking out of the war caused him to change his mind and re-enlist.
Mr. Fitzgerald writes from Santiago, Cuba, under date of August 11, as follows:

"In reply to your letter concerning our departed brother, John W. Jones, I am sorry to inform you that I have been unable to obtain the address of any of his relations. I have tried in every way possible, but have failed so far. However, I am in hopes that in the near future I will be able to furnish you with the information you desire. He left some papers in the company mess-chest, and I hope to be able to get to it soon, as we are ordered to leave here for the United States and we may get our message, which I have not seen since we came on the island. You have no idea how hard it is to have to bury our dearest friends on an island like this without even a box to place them in.
John was buried about seventy-five yards in the rear of where he fell, with thirty-four others of his regiment. He fought and died bravely. He was shot through the forehead and never uttered a word after being hit, dying almost instantly. It was a hard-fought battle and we were in the thick of it from 8.30 in the morning until 4 in the afternoon. But as cruel as the war was, it is hardly as bad as it is now, owing to the number of fever cases here. The way the men are suffering is horridly.
If I can get his papers in the mess-chest, I will give you more information about poor Jones, and in my next letter more about our regiment's part in the memorable battle of Santiago."

The condition of John McKinley, Freeland's representative in the Fourth artillery, became more serious last week, and the officials sent for his brother, James, of New York city. The latter is now with him in the general hospital at Camp Wickoff, Montauk Point, and is leaving nothing undone to bring back his brother's health. Typhoid fever and malaria have set in, but so far the danger point has been averted. John is one of the few Pennsylvanians who was given an opportunity to distinguish himself in Cuba, and his friends here hope he will be as victorious over the disease as he was over the Spaniards.

Thomas Newcomb enlisted at the United States recruiting office in Wilkes-barre, and was ready to be sent to Fortress Monroe, when his father appeared on the scene and protested against the boy going away, saying he was under 21.
Lieutenant Siviter refused to give him up. Habeas corpus proceedings were then entered before Judge Woodward, who ordered that the young man be handed over to the custody of his father, saying he had first claim.

William Sheedy, a recruit for the regular army, who was on his way from Wilkesbarre to Washington to join his regiment, was taken to a Philadelphia hospital Friday in a frenzied state from drinking a quart of whisky. At Wayne Junction Sheedy became quite violent and threatened to kill the other men, whom he thought were Spanish soldiers.
He was finally overpowered by his companions and strapped down.

Among the souvenirs held by Freeland boys is a beautiful silver badge, the property of C. F. Haganey, of the First Penn'a. It contains his name, No. 5, and U. S. S., signifying United States scout. Charley was one of the thirty men selected by General Brook from the 27,000 in the First army corps to scout duty, and takes a pardonable pride in possessing this valuable souvenir.

James Davis, of town, is recuperating at the home of his sister, Mrs. David P.
Jones, South Centre street, after passing through the monotonous life at Chick-mauga. He was with Company K, of the Ninth. Jim is an old standby of Uncle Sam's, having served previously in the Marine Corps.

Eugene Riley, who served on the St.
Paul, has decided not to re-enter the naval service, and will be honorably mustered out when his furlough expires.
Gene saw enough hot work on the St.
Paul to do him until the government has another scrap on its hands.

Robert D. Hay, chief musician of the Ninth Penn'a., will shortly publish the song "Taps," the words of which are by the late T. P. Ryder.

Four Perish in a Mine Fire.

A fire broke out at the Midvale mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, at Wilkesbarre, Saturday morning, and for a time the lives of fifty men were in danger. The fire was at a point 3,500 feet from the foot of the slope, and in a part of the mine where there are few openings. All but four of the men escaped, although a determined effort was made to reach them before they were suffocated.

The dead are: Peter Craik, of Midvale, a miner, aged 36, leaves a wife and three children; Michael Tomiso, of Plains, a laborer, aged 27, unmarried.
The other two shut in by the smoke are:
John Pavaleck, a miner, aged 30, has a wife and two children. John Dorak, a laborer, aged 26; unmarried. There is but little hope of finding the men alive.

Married at Beaver Meadow. ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. Mr. McNellis is an engineer on the D. S. & S. Railroad and has a host of friends, and the bride, who is a cousin of Father Dever, is a respectable and popular young lady of Beaver Meadow. The young couple will take up housekeeping in Freeland.

Luzerne's Murder Cases.

George Bartlett, who is in jail on the charge of murdering James Moffatt at Pittston two weeks ago, was given another hearing on Friday before Squire Loftus at Pittston. The most important witness was Warren Richmond, who was shot by Bartlett at the same time that he killed Moffatt. At the conclusion of the hearing the prisoner was held, without bail, for trial.

The trial of Joseph Ratchkopsky for the murder of Anthony Regales ended upper end of the county.
