

Dr. W. J. Garrison, dentist and physician, of White Haven, Pa., who has during the past week opened a branch office at No. 84 Centre street, Freeland, Pa., where he will give his personal attention on Wednesday of each week, is a dentist of unlimited experience, has no superiors and but few equals. Notwithstanding he is a man of circumscribed financial means, yet he is a moving power, and the weight of his political influence has often been felt in Carbon, Luzerne and Wyoming counties.

He gains steadily, rapidly and enduringly on the confidence and admiration of his patients.

Not many years since he aided in the election of William N. Reynolds to a high and honorable office. He was elected by a majority of less than one dozen.

While working in the interest of Mr. Reynolds he spent his hard-earned money with the expectation of having it returned at the hands of Mr. Reynolds; but the fact that it never was remitted during his term of office evidences that Garrison is self-willed and possesses a pride that towers above the tide of political suckers. Later when the same honorable gentleman came before the people for office, he was defeated and largely so through our hero's instrumentality.

Many more instances of similar character might be cited to show that the Doctor is a man of commanding courage and sternness of principle, but space does not permit. In him are united all the qualities so essential in a man of benevolence and magnanimity. Sometime ago he learned that the prisoners, confined in the Carbon county jail, were deprived of religious books or papers; whereupon he brought it to the notice of the secretary of the Y. M. C. A., who promised to look after their religious wants in this respect. Dr. Garrison, at his own outlay, placed books and papers in the sheriff's hands for the benefit of the prisoners, which proved in many instances an inspiration and an uplift to them in every sense.

Dr. Garrison, although a God-fearing man, is not a member of any church. He however is the founder as well as president of the American Aid Association for the reclaiming and elevating of fallen humanity. We need not speak of the great service he has rendered this cause throughout the state; his memory will be a strength and inspiration to all who are engaged in this noble work. His is a busy life. He may well be crowned the king of dentists, as from his present locations he can not only control the prices in dentistry but force it down to any price suitable to himself. He has established an immense practice.

There is nothing fictitious about him and his success is based on merit alone. Do not withhold admiration from those who admit themselves bravely.

He gives his personal attention to all who may desire his services, at the following named towns at the specified times:

MONDAY, 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. and TUESDAY, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. PITTSBURGH, corner of South Main and Charles streets.

WEDNESDAY and Evening of EACH WEEK, 84 Centre street, McMonahan building, next door to P. F. Nulty, undertaker.

THURSDAY, 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. and FRIDAY, 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. MAUCH CHUNK, Race street, opposite St. Mark's church.

SATURDAY, 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. and SUNDAY, 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. WHITE HAVEN, Basin street, near Postoffice and Bank.

WHAT TO WEAR AND HOW TO MAKE IT.

May Manton's Hints Regarding Seasonable Toilettes.

A charming combination is here represented in steel gray and white broadcloth decorated with black gurgule lace and narrow black satin ribbon "frizzed on." The yoke and standing collar of white cloth is overlaid with black gurgule lace applique to match decorating the fronts, back and sleeves. The fashionable fronts are cut low and crosses in "indor" style, just enough fullness being collected by gathers at the waist to pouch becomingly over the belt. Glove fitted linings that close in center front support the deep yoke that is included in the right shoulder seam, and closes with the standing collar over on the left shoulder. The over fronts lap to left and close invisibly with the shaped belt. Over the seamless back that is smooth at the top a rounded yoke facing is applied, the fullness at the lower edge being laid in overlapping plaits at the center.

A novel feature is the smooth round bertha of white cloth that outlines the yoke edged with narrow black "frizzed" ribbon and the shaped belt that lengthens the waist line.

The stylish sleeves are shaped with two seams, the upper portions being adjusted by gathers and tacking over the fitted lining to form a puff at the top. At the wrists a narrow pointed cuff is joined that flares downward over the hand.

Very satisfactory results are obtained by combinations in a waist of this kind, which may either match or contrast with the waist. Turquoise blue with black in silk or velvet, oleander pink silk with olive broadcloth and dark red satin with soft grey green poplin, are new and artistic combinations in coloring that unite with black or cream gurgule now so fashionable.

To make this waist for a lady of medium size will require two yards of material forty-four inches wide.

Circular Skirt.

One of the most fashionable skirts now in vogue is here illustrated in mixed grey velvelling trimmed with ruchings of the material edged with narrow satin ribbon.

The upper portion is of circular shaping fitted at the top by short darts, to the lower edge of which the graduated flounce is joined. The flounce is very deep in back and narrow in front, which gives the admirer tablier effect so very generally becoming.

The placket is finished at top of the center seam in back, the fullness at the waist being laid in deep single plaits at each side. Gathers may be employed to adjust the fullness if so preferred. The sweep at the foot measures 4 3/4 yards.

Almost any style of material can be handsomely developed by this graceful model and flat trimming of braid, gimp, passementerie or ribbon will decorate stylishly.

To make this skirt for a lady of medium size will require 4 1/2 yards of material 44 inches wide.

Woman's Sexton.

New Orleans boasts of the only woman sexton of a cemetery in the United States. In the quiet little cemetery of the Dispersed of Jidab, a brave little woman, Elizabetha Donnell Mabel by name, is earnestly and faithfully doing the work hitherto supposed to belong to the sterner sex alone.

There are many recipes for attaining beauty, and much money is spent on medicines and cosmetics for this purpose, but the cheapest and most effective beautifying agent is sleep, and plenty of it.

Deer Hete.

THE ART OF MAKING TEA.

Various Ways of Preparing and Serving the Popular Drink.

The offering of a cup of tea seems about the simplest form of hospitality, and on its face appears hardly capable of affording much entertainment. It remained for two ingenious girls to find out a way of relieving "afternoon teas" of their monotony and rendering them truly entertaining.

These girls had traveled, and they had observed that tea was served in different ways in different countries. Their idea was to prepare tea for their guests after the method of other lands, serving it in all the more interesting ways in succession.

They began with the Russian samovar and the slice of lemon or lime. That was simple enough, but the next "tea" was more novel. It was a reproduction of the Uruguayan mode of tea drinking. The tea of that country was used, prepared like Chinese tea, but with the drinking came the really entertaining part of the affair. There was something far removed from the hackneyed in the sight of a group of guests drinking tea through silver tubes, each of which had at the end a ball-like strainer, known as a bomba or bombilla. It is little wonder that this tea was pronounced a success.

Next on the list was a Mandarin tea, in which a large artistic cup was set in a brass or silver holder. In this cup the tea was placed and covered with boiling water. The process was continued by the placing of a little saucer inside the cup in an inverted position, the saucer being of such a size that it just fitted the cup and kept in the steam and flavor of the tea. When the tea was drawn it was poured from the big cup into dainty little ones no larger than an eggshell.

A Java tea, served in broad, flat cups and flavored with Batavia arrack, was fourth on the programme, and was followed by the Formosa, in which the tea was steeped with tea flowers and one or two orange flowers. The result was a perfume and a flavor of the most intense kind. One of the guests remarked that they were not drinking tea so much as wedding bouquets.

Early Marriages.

The farther south one goes, the earlier one finds marriages take place. A census was taken lately in Algeria, and it was found that the youngest Arab married was twelve years old, and that there were very many boys who were married at thirteen and fourteen, while some at fifteen years of age had several wives. There is a youthful Algerian widower of fifteen and a divorced husband of the same age. Girls are still more precious, and are sometimes married when only eleven years old, though twelve is the more usual age. There are 189 widows of fifteen, and 1,176 divorcees of the same age.

Women in Ancient Egypt.

The religious Egyptian believed his ulterior happiness and his everlasting union with the divinities in the eternal world to be wholly dependent upon his preparations beforehand, and with these the wife had much to do. She was, in fact, as the mother of his children, his savior and liberator, for none but a son could pray for the father's soul on its way to paradise, and she was entitled to and received his homage and loyal obedience.

The Popular Girl.

The popular girl is not necessarily pretty. She has tact and good sense. She is self-possessed. She is modest. She is gentle. She has dignity and self-poise. She is never fussy or ill-tempered. She is not always thinking of herself. She is industrious. She is pure minded and sweet and wholesome. She is never loud or noisy or rude. She is considerate. She cultivates a soft low voice.

Smallest Queen in the World.

Probably the smallest monarch in the world reigns over the Hindoo vassal state of Bophal, and governs a people of more than a million souls. This dwarf is a woman, Djihan-Begum by name; but although she is about 50 years old, she does not appear larger than a child of ten. Her diminutive size does not prevent her, however, from holding the reins of government with a firm hand, and in her realm quiet and order are supreme.

Sunset Bell.

At the sunset hour, in Seoul, Corea, a town bell proclaims the fact when the sun has vanished beneath the horizon. No man is allowed in the street after that hour, under the penalty of a flogging; but, strange to say, the women were permitted to go around as usual, visiting their friends, or strolling for pleasure.

Queer Asiatic Custom.

It is a common Asiatic custom for the bridegroom to give chase to the bride either on foot, on horseback or in a canoe. If the bridegroom catches the fugitive he claims her as his wife; otherwise the match is broken off.

EMPERESS OF CHINA.

CLEVER BUT UNSCRUPULOUS WOMAN WHO RULES 400,000,000 PEOPLE.

Has Attracted the Attention of the Civilized World—The Most Brilliant Woman in the East—Wasa! Wase! When the Emperor Saw and Loved Her.

The dowager empress of China (Tuen-Tson-Hsi) is now the absolute mistress of 400,000,000 people. She has deposed the "Civine ruler," overturned a dynasty, made bargains with kings and emperors, laughed in the face of Great Britain's best statesmen and set herself up as the real and only mogul. Her sway extends from the rising sun to the summits of the mighty mountains overlooking India.

The eyes of the civilized world are turned upon her. Her will may precipitate the bloodiest war that man has known. Her whim or caprice may involve Christendom in the struggle of history. The dowager is now sixty-five years old, and probably the most brilliant woman in the East. She was a slave when the late emperor saw her and loved her. In the Orient the king is all powerful, and princes may marry beggar girls at their will. Tuen's beauty won her position and power, and her fine brain—scheming through all the years, the real power behind the throne—has at last made her the mistress of the Chinese empire.

Tuen is not the mother of the de-throned emperor. She is his step-mother, which accounts for the cruelty with which she has treated the sacred monarch. The situation in China today is this: The dowager is supreme mistress of the country. Kang Yu Mei, who was going to reform the antique customs of the kingdom, has fled in precipitation. The emperor, who recently took from Li Hung Chang the yellow jacket—symbol of power—is a prisoner in his own palace. The crooked stick policy is in the ascendant. Russia is backing the dowager and Li will soon be placed on the throne of power once more. Peking is freer, apparently, to-day from the impress of Western civilization than ever. Great Britain sees her glorious trade prospects vanishing, and with them the United States sees her own hope of commerce in China dwindling.

A Word of Warning

The trouble with thousands of women is not "female weakness," although many physicians suppose it is. The real trouble lies in the Kidneys, Liver and Bladder. Doctors often fail to effect a cure, simply because they don't give the right remedy. Women as well as men can ascertain for themselves if their Kidneys are diseased.

Ladies can take Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy with perfect assurance of relief. It will cure them of Kidney, Liver and Bladder disorders just as certainly as it cures men.

Mrs. G. W. DAVENPORT, of West Troy, N. Y., says: "I was troubled with my Kidney and suffered intense pain in my back and loins. The wife of Dr. Robinson, pastor of the First Avenue Methodist Church, recommended Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I got some, and have used it ever since, with the result that I am greatly benefited. All pains have left me, and I am like another person."

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is a perfect blood and nerve medicine. It restores the liver to a healthy condition and cures the worst cases of constipation. It is a certain cure for all diseases peculiar to females.

Sample Bottle Free

Favorite Remedy is such a certain cure that the DR. DAVID KENNEDY CORPORATION, Rondout, N. Y., will forward, prepaid, a free sample bottle to every sufferer who sends his or her full postoffice address and mentions this paper. The fact that our liberal offer appears in this paper is a guarantee of its genuineness.
