Blood Purified by Hood's Sarsaparilla and Health Is Good.

"I was troubled for a long time with catarrh and a bad feeling in my head. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me a world of good. My sufferings from catarrh are over and my health is good."

Mrs. A. A. Libby, Pownall, Maine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Is America's Greatest Medicine. $1; six for $5.
Hood's Pills cure all Liver Ills. 25 cents.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreadful disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hood's Sarsaparilla is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. "We" Gave Them Fits.

A small Canadian boy whose loyalty to the British flag has got him into no end of scrapes with patriotic American youths of equally tender years came up to his father shortly after the battle of Manila was fought and, with a weebegone expression, said: "Say, father, didn't the English ever lick any other boats without losing a man?" The father was forced to confess they had not. "Well," said the youngster, "I guess the Americans aren't so bad, after all, are they?" On the fourth of July when young America was celebrating the naval victory at Santiago the youthful upholder of Great Britain was in the midst of a band of ultra-patriotic boys setting off firecrackers and cheering with the best of them. "There, boy! What are you cheering for?" asked his father. "Cheering for? Oh, say, father, didn't we give those Spaniards fits?"—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Don't Like American Flag.

Madrid, Sept. 26.—It is announced here that 10,000 Spaniards residing in the island of Porto Rico have refused to live in the island under the American flag and have demanded that they be returned to Spain at the expense of the government. The question of the repatriation of the discontented Spaniards has been referred to the state council.

THE ILLS OF WOMEN

And How Mrs. Pinkham Helps Overcome Them.

Mrs. MARY BOLLINGER, 1101 Marianna St., Chicago, Ill., to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I have been troubled for the past two years with falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, pains over my body, sick headaches, backache, nervousness and weakness. I tried doctors and various remedies without relief. After taking two bottles of your Vegetable Compound, the relief I obtained was truly wonderful. I have now taken several more bottles of your famous medicine, and can say that I am entirely cured."

Mrs. HENRY DORR, No. 806 Findley St., Cincinnati, Ohio, to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For a long time I suffered with chronic inflammation of the womb, pain in abdomen and bearing-down feeling. Was very nervous at times, and so weak I was hardly able to do anything. Was subject to headaches, also troubled with leucorrhoea. After doctoring for many months with different physicians, and getting no relief, I had given up all hope of being well again when I read of the great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing. I decided immediately to give it a trial. The result was simply past belief. After taking four bottles of Vegetable Compound and using three packages of Sanative Wash I can say I feel like a new woman. I deem it my duty to announce the fact to my fellow sufferers that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable remedies have entirely cured me of all my pains and suffering. I have her alone to thank for my recovery, for which I am grateful. May heaven bless her for the good work she is doing for our sex."

HEADACHE

"Both my wife and myself have been using CASCARETS and they are the best medicine we have ever had in the house. Last week my wife was frantic with headache for two days, she tried some of your CASCARETS, and they relieved the pain in her head almost immediately. We both recommend Cascarets."

Woman's World

DISTINCTIONS FOR WOMEN.

Honorary Titles That May Be Won in Many Countries.

In the art world men monopolize to a great degree the orders of distinction. Only about twenty foreign orders are open to women, these being strictly confined to a small class.

In England, if the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem be excluded, only three honorary titles can be conferred on the gentler sex. These are the Crown of India, the Royal Order of Victoria and Albert and the Royal Red Cross. The total membership of women in these orders is about two hundred, of whom seventy are of royal blood, thirty-three are relatives of the British Governors of India or Indian princesses, sixty-one are nurses and he remainder are of "high distinction." The Royal Order of Victoria and Albert is noteworthy as being the first order open to women established in the British Empire.

The Order of the Royal Red Cross was instituted on St. George's Day, 1870, for zeal and devotion in providing for and nursing sick and wounded sailors, soldiers and others with the army in the field, on board ship or in hospitals. Her Majesty the Queen is the head of the order. There are eight royal orders at the top of its roll, and foreigners, as well as British subjects, are eligible, of whom there are sixty-seven on the list, about ten of them being religious.

Somewhat analogous to the Order of the Red Cross is the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem. The Queen is the sovereign of the order and the Prince of Wales grand prior. This order confers medals for gallantry in saving life on land, and several of those who have received it have been women.

The Albert Medal was instituted March 7, 1866, for gallantry in saving, or attempting to save, life at sea, and since 1877 for similar acts ashore. The only woman who has received this decoration is Miss Hannah Rosbotham—now Mrs. Parr—who was presented with the medal in 1882 by Her Majesty.

There are now fifty-two Frenchwomen who belong to the great National Order of the Legion of Honor, and eight other Legionnaires have been removed by death. At the head of the list stands Mme. Rosa Bonheur, the great painter. The award of the French jury, which gave to her the Grand Prix for "The Horse Fair," carried with it the cross of the Legion of Honor. The decoration was refused to her on account of her sex in 1853, but was ultimately conferred upon her in 1865. She was promoted to the rank of Officer in April 1894. Frenchwomen may also receive the distinction of becoming Officer de l'Instruction Publique, or of being elected Officer d'Academie.

It is interesting to note that orders for women exist in France, Bavaria, Heese, Saxony, Turkey, Japan, Wurtemberg, Prussia, Russia and Spain.

Something New in Fancy Work.

The general effect of sampler-work is to be revived in the cross-stitch patterns again becoming popular, though it has never entirely gone out of use in practical needlework, as dressmakers employ it daily in finishing and fastening. But although the sampler-stitch is to undergo a revival as a method of ornamentation, it will not be upon the quaint old samplers; for these utilitarian days will have none of the purely decorative unless it can serve some practical use. Hence, the scraps are showing as latest designs new weaves of linen and cloth especially manufactured for cross-stitch work, for which are designed patterns suitable for table-scarfs, cushion covers and various household linens. Of the new materials brought out for this work, one is called Panama cloth, and is to be used for table-covers. It comes in white and ecru, and measures one and one-fourth yards in width, costing twenty-five cents a yard. It is woven in well-proportioned squares or blocks to guide the placing of the stitches. It is very easy to work upon this any of the various cross-stitch patterns illustrated in the small books furnished with this work and material. Bulgarian wools and cottons, electric floss and the filling-silk are the various materials used in working these designs, and can be obtained in a variety of shades. The pattern must always be followed one way throughout the whole piece, or it will show a difference when completed. Work from right to left across the pattern in single cross-stitch, then turn and go back, crossing these stitches with the utmost care. —Woman's Home Companion.

A Mirror That Flatters.

A "flattery mirror" is the latest contribution to the ranks of middle-aged women, and it is really an invention worth considering, as it deceives no one except the person who uses it, and is a willing party to the deception. That it will be adopted by many young women who have relinquished the hope of ever posing as beauties is very apparent, for she who looks into this mirror beholds such a softened and beautified presentation of her face and features that she is entirely satisfied with the result.

"Just think of it!" said one woman who has used it ever since it was discovered, "I used to find more fault with my poor face, always seeing new lines and wrinkles and making myself wretched over them, until I saw the mirror advertised and had taken a peep into one. Then I recalled the baskets of peaches, with their pink veils, and saw that this glass was an improvement on that design. Of course I make it a rule of my life never to look in any other mirror, and so I carry with me the softened, idealized vision of my face as it appears there. It has made me satisfied with myself, and that is a great gain."

"I always hated my tell-tale mirror," said a business woman. "I looked so practical and uninteresting in it, but this new one makes me look really attractive, so that I go to my work and am not troubled with dissatisfaction over my appearance."

The effect is produced by a shadowed corner and a gauze veil over the mirror. —Chicago Times-Herald.

The New Paris Hats.

Very light colored and white felt hats are not suitable for street wear, but a great many are brought over, evidently intended for carriage wear, or for wear in the country during the season. A very smart one of white felt is trimmed with two tones of brown, and the coloring is exquisite. The hat itself is really somewhat on the sailor shape, and is worn back from the face to show the hair arranged in a soft bang. On the top of the hat is a long brown plume, and around the crown a fold of light golden-brown velvet. Under the brim is another brown feather, put in in the most graceful fashion so that it droops down over the hair at the back. This same style of hat will be copied later in the dark felts, and also in velvet.

Velvet toques are to be extremely fashionable again this season. They are rather different in shape from those worn last year, not quite so large, but like them, are very soft in effect. They are made in different colored velvets. One—especially attractive one—from la maison Reboux, is of a shade of sapphire-blue velvet, and has a small crown of shirred chiffon of a lighter shade. The hat is trimmed with two ostrich-feather tips of a deeper blue, and the stiff bows of velvet ribbon are of very much lighter blue. To wear with this hat is a stiff collar, very high in the throat, and trimmed around the edge with ostrich tips. —Harper's Bazar.

To Make the Girl Happy.

There are two things that the girl can wear if she wishes, which will make her happy. One is a plaid skirt with a coat of a plain color, which blends with it, and the other a toque. Plaids are beautiful, deep and rich in color. The toque is usually becoming, though this season's toques are somewhat bewildering in make-up and large in proportions. However, it is still a toque, and can be made up simply to match different gowns. Speckled breasts like that of the guinea fowl are popular, possibly because they have a polka-dot effect and a long, long quill is quite the thing. Velvet and any number of gay little trinkets in the way of ornaments can be put on the toque. Jets and jetted velvets are popular.

Wool Gowns Trimmed With Black Lace.

Light-wool gowns trimmed with entre-deux of black lace will be worn very late in the season, and are exceedingly smart. One style of gown is made in an odd fashion as regards the trimming, which consists of bands of black lace insertion put on in a spiral effect. The waist is bloused in front, and is trimmed in the same manner, and has also a pleated yoke collar trimmed with two bands of narrow entre-deux. The sleeves have deep lace cuffs. The collar and belt are of pink satin, with three rows of narrow black velvet ribbon. The hat for this gown is worn down over the face, and is trimmed with black ostrich tips that fall to either side, and directly in front a rhinestone buckle.

Some Very Old Trees.

Some of the oldest trees in the world are to be found in Great Britain. The tree called William the Conqueror's oak, in Windsor Park, is supposed to be 1200 years old. The famous Bentley and Winfarthing oaks are at least two centuries older.

TAKING FACE MASKS.

The Subject's Life Hangs on the Efficiency of Two Small Quills.

One often observes when reading of the demise of a celebrity that a mask was taken by Mr. So-and-So, the celebrated sculptor, soon after the death, but really very few people know how this is carried out. They might have some idea that plaster of paris is put over the dead man's face, but there the idea ends.

A mask from life is taken almost precisely in the same way as after death, save that much greater care has to be used, as the subject's life hangs on a very thin thread, or, to be more precise, two small quills. It requires a great deal of nerve and patience to undergo, the sensation being most disagreeable. When a mask from life is about to be secured, the subject reclines on a long table, and towels are placed around his neck and forehead, to prevent the plaster going where not intended. The face is slightly greased, but not enough to fill the pores of the skin. Care has to be especially taken with eyelashes, as otherwise, in the subsequent operations, these are likely to be pulled off, which would not be exactly pleasant. A small quill is now inserted in either nostril to allow the subject to breathe through, and cotton wool lightly pressed around the base to keep the liquid plaster from intruding.

A pair of scissors is always kept handy, so as to be able to cut off the tops of the quills, should by any chance the plaster splash up and cover them. All being ready a few cheering words are spoken to the unhappy victim and the plaster is mixed. This is carefully poured or sprinkled over the features. The plaster, through being mixed with warm water, quickly hardens, and in the course of about five minutes the mould is strong enough to be taken out. It has to be carefully done, as the subject is generally so very eager to get a mouthful of fresh air once again. A slight tap with the hand is given to the two side pieces, which relieves the joints made by the thread. The top or central piece is then lifted up and pulled slightly downward, so as to withdraw the quills from the nose as they come out with the mould. These sides are then taken off. Probably some of the hair may hold the mould, but with a little coaxing, or by the insertion of the scissors, it can soon be removed. Care must be used to get the ears, but without breaking either the subject or the mould. The ears are only taken on the front sides, cotton wool being placed at the back to prevent the plaster going around. When removed the three pieces are put together and placed on the exterior to hold and strengthen them.

Epidemics of Suicide.

That suicide may be epidemic is now a recognized historic truth. Not only suicide clubs have been founded, but veritable plagues of suicide, such as Moreau described after the French Revolution, have occurred. This applies not only to the act itself, but also to the means for its accomplishment. When the body of a man was recently found floating in one of Philadelphia's reservoirs a city official predicted that another body would probably soon be found because of the publicity given the subject by the newspapers—and this prediction came true. In ancient times one of the Greek cities, Miletus, was the scene of an epidemic of suicide among young women, until the magistrate proclaimed that the body of the next victim would be exposed nude in the market-place. This harsh decree, so contrary to the instincts of our modern civilization, promptly put an end to the appalling craze. —Philadelphia Medical Journal.

A Lucky Accident.

Sixty years ago Joseph Gillott was a working jeweler in Birmingham. One day he accidentally split one of his fine steel tools, and being suddenly required to sign a receipt, and not finding a quill pen handy, he used the split tool as a substitute. The happy incident led to the idea of making pens of metal.

A Father's Story.

From the Evening Crescent, Appleton, Wis.

A remarkable cure from a disease which has generally wrecked the lives of children, and left them in a condition to which death itself would be preferred, has attracted a great amount of attention among the residents of the west end of Appleton.

The case is that of little Willard Creech, son of Richard D. Creech, a well known employe of one of the large paper mills in the Fox River Valley. The lad was attacked by spinal disease and his parents had given up all hope of his ever being well again when, as by a miracle, he was healed and is now in school as happy as any of his mates.

Mr. Creech, the father of the boy, who resides at 1022 Second Street, Appleton, Wisconsin, told the following story:

He Goes to School.

"Our boy was absolutely helpless. His lower limbs were paralyzed, and when we used electricity he could not feel it below his hips. Finally we let the doctor go as he did not seem to help our son and we nearly gave up hope. Finally my mother who lives in Canada wrote advising the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I bought some.

"It was when our boy had been on the stretcher for an entire year and helpless for nine months. In six weeks after taking the pills we noted signs of vitality in his legs, and in four months he was able to go to school.

"It is two years since he took the first of the pills and he is at school now just as happy and well as any of the other children. It was nothing else in the world that saved the boy than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

A B. & O. Denial.

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is not going to adopt the Kautz locomotive for service between New York and Washington as has been stated in an item which has been going the rounds of the papers for the last month. The Motive Power department of this railroad has looked upon the rumor with considerable amusement, as within the past year and a half the Royal Blue trains have been hauled by the finest, fastest and strongest ten wheel passenger engines in the world. These locomotives have 78 inch drivers and since they have been in service have proved so eminently satisfactory that nothing better can probably be secured. It will be remembered that one of these magnificent new locomotives, the 123, pulled Vice-President-Elect Hobart on March 2nd, 1895, from Philadelphia to Washington in 136 minutes, a distance of 135 miles, and made one five minute stop. They frequently run 30 miles an hour with six and eight cars, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad is under no necessity of changing its type of passenger motive power on the Royal Blue Line, and experiment with a locomotive whose usefulness has yet to be demonstrated.

HEALTHY MATERNITY.

Two Grateful Women Tell of the Help They Have Received From Mrs. Pinkham.

The climax of life force in woman is capable motherhood. The first requisite for a good mother is good health. Health of body means health of the generative organs.

Read what Mrs. G. A. NONTAMAKER, Bluffton, Ohio, says about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and how well it prepared her for maternity:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I must say a word in praise of your Vegetable Compound. I used three bottles of it when I was pregnant, and labor was not nearly as long as it was with my other babies; and my baby is so healthy to what the others were. I think every woman should use your Compound when pregnant, it will save them so much suffering and misery. I cannot say enough in praise of it. If ever I need medicine again, I shall use your Compound."

The most successful tonic known to medicine for women approaching maternity is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a safeguard for every woman who uses it, and the fullest benefit comes from its use with Mrs. Pinkham's advice freely offered to all women. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

Here is a convincing statement, bearing directly on this subject, from Mrs. E. BISHOP, of 1818 Pacific St., Brooklyn, N. Y.:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am a great believer in your Compound. I was almost despairing of ever again being well, as I was a great sufferer, and had been for years. I suffered from womb trouble, and had terrible blind fits. After writing to you I tried your Compound. The result was astonishing. I have used it and advocated it ever since. In childbirth it is a perfect boon. I have often said that I should like to have its merits thrown on the sky with a search-light, so that all women would read, and be convinced that there is a remedy for their sufferings."

Biggest Wedding in History.

On the day that Alexander the Great was married no fewer than 20,202 persons in one ceremony were made husbands and wives. This seems impossible, but the event really took place, his historical record tells us. This monster wedding occurred upon the conquest by Alexander the Great of Persia, which was then ruled over by King Darius. Alexander married Statira, the daughter of the conquered king, and decreed that 100 of his chief officers should be united to 100 ladies from the noblest Persian and Median families. In addition to this, he stipulated that 10,000 of his Greek soldiers should marry 10,000 Asiatic women. When everything was settled a vast pavilion was erected, the pillars of which were 60 feet high. One hundred gorgeous chambers adjoined this for the 10,000 noble bridegrooms, while for the remaining 10,000 an outer court was inclosed, outside of which tables were spread for the multitude. Each pair had seats, and ranged themselves in a semi-circle round the royal throne. Of course, the priests could not marry this vast number of couples, so Alexander the Great devised a very simple ceremony. He gave his hand to Statira and kissed her—an example that all the bridegrooms followed. Thus ended the ceremony, and that vast number were married. Then followed the festival, which lasted five days, the grandeur of which has never been equaled since.

I suffered from womb trouble, and had terrible blind fits. After writing to you I tried your Compound. The result was astonishing. I have used it and advocated it ever since. In childbirth it is a perfect boon. I have often said that I should like to have its merits thrown on the sky with a search-light, so that all women would read, and be convinced that there is a remedy for their sufferings."

can be made painless, safe, sure and easy by using MITCHELL'S COMPOUND.

Mrs. T. R. LEE, Carbonate, Pa., writes:—I think it is the greatest medicine in the world for women. I was sick only a very short time, did not have any doctor and got along fine. My little girl 11 months old is healthy and plump. I sing its praises wherever I go. My mother-in-law, who is 70 years old, thinks it a splendid medicine. Address: DR. J. H. DYE, MED. HEALTHY MATERNITY.

Two Grateful Women Tell of the Help They Have Received From Mrs. Pinkham.

The climax of life force in woman is capable motherhood. The first requisite for a good mother is good health. Health of body means health of the generative organs.

Read what Mrs. G. A. NONTAMAKER, Bluffton, Ohio, says about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and how well it prepared her for maternity:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I must say a word in praise of your Vegetable Compound. I used three bottles of it when I was pregnant, and labor was not nearly as long as it was with my other babies; and my baby is so healthy to what the others were. I think every woman should use your Compound when pregnant, it will save them so much suffering and misery. I cannot say enough in praise of it. If ever I need medicine again, I shall use your Compound."

The most successful tonic known to medicine for women approaching maternity is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a safeguard for every woman who uses it, and the fullest benefit comes from its use with Mrs. Pinkham's advice freely offered to all women. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

Here is a convincing statement, bearing directly on this subject, from Mrs. E. BISHOP, of 1818 Pacific St., Brooklyn, N. Y.:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am a great believer in your Compound. I was almost despairing of ever again being well, as I was a great sufferer, and had been for years. I suffered from womb trouble, and had terrible blind fits. After writing to you I tried your Compound. The result was astonishing. I have used it and advocated it ever since. In childbirth it is a perfect boon. I have often said that I should like to have its merits thrown on the sky with a search-light, so that all women would read, and be convinced that there is a remedy for their sufferings."
