There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven it to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address F. J. HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Do not begin a long journey until some breakfast has been eaten. After taking a warm drink do not go immediately out into the cold and do not drink anything hot immediately as you come in out of the cold.

To soften nails, rub the following preparation well into them each night and sleep in gloves: Lanoline, one ounce; vaseline, half-ounce; olive oil, ten drops. The hands should always be washed in warm water and the nails polished with a leather.

The upper part of the arms of a woman should be large, full and well rounded. The forearm should not lie too flat. A dimple at the elbow is very desirable. Correctness of form is not the most necessary thing for a good arm. The owner should also possess the power of expression and here is a word of advice—the slowest movements are always the prettiest.

People are most likely to catch cold in the back than they are generally aware of and if neglected may prove a serious matter. The back, especially between the shoulders, should always be kept well covered and never lean with your back against anything that is cold. Never sit with your back in a direct draught and when warming it by the fire do not continue to keep the back exposed to the heat after it has become comfortably warm. To do so is debilitating.

The woman who wishes to retain the beauty of her face should forego the use of the smelling bottle. Stand in front of a mirror and inhale the pungent odor from a smelling bottle and notice the number of lines which form about the eyes, nose and mouth. Each sniff taken from the bottle causes the same screwing up of the face and each time the unbecoming lines deepen. Remember, also, that it is an unpleasant experience which has called up these wrinkles. Those caused by laughing and talking are bad enough, but wrinkles formed by the use of smelling salts give an absolutely undesirable expression.

TUMOR EXPELLED

Unqualified Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. ELIZABETH WHELOCK, Magnolia, Iowa, in the following letter describes her recovery from a very critical condition:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM.—I have been taking your Vegetable Compound, and am now ready to sound its praises. It has done wonders for me in relieving me of a tumor. My health has been poor for three years. Change of life was working upon me. I was very much bloated and was a burden to myself. Was troubled with smothering spells, also palpitation of the heart and that bearing-down feeling, and could not be on my feet much. I was growing worse all the time, until I took your medicine. After taking three boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Lozenges, the tumor passed from me. My health has been better ever since, can now walk quite a distance and am troubled no more with palpitation of the heart or bloating. I recommend your medicine to all sufferers from female troubles."

It is hardly reasonable to suppose that any one can doubt the efficiency of Mrs. Pinkham's methods and medicine in the face of the tremendous volume of testimony.

COMPARATIVE DANGERS.

Soldiers Not the Only Ones Who Are in Peril.
The two girls on a Pennsylvania train from Washington to Philadelphia had in the course of the first hour become acquainted, and in the next they were quite as confidential as if they were known each other for years, such is the beautiful simplicity of girl nature.

"Oh, yes," said the gray-eyed one, blushing prettily, "I have several friends with the army in Cuba. Have you?"

"No, I have not," responded the blue-eyed one. "I have some acquaintances, but I should scarcely call them friends."

"Oh, I don't mean that," exclaimed the gray eyes, without knowing exactly what she did mean.

"With what command is he?" inquired the blue eyes, smiling in rather a superior manner.

"Oh, you tease," twittered the gray eyes, "but, of course, you know, anyhow, and I might as well tell you. He is the nicest fellow you ever saw, and I want you should meet him some time. He is at Santiago now, and has been down there since the troops first landed. It was simply awful when he first went down there to that horrid fighting. Every day we sat waiting for the news that might tell he was shot or something dreadful had happened to him. You didn't have any one down there, and you can have no conception of the perfectly awful strain it is to wait for news from the front when some loved one is there, and the soft gray eyes grew moist at the memory.

The blue eyes took upon themselves the look only blue eyes can take.

"Oh, I don't know," said their possessor, "I have a friend who plays football."—Washington Star.

MICE IN THE PUMPKIN.

The Boss Product of the State of Maine Was Spoiled by Them.

Aided by the rich output from an active waterspout, George Archer was able to produce the biggest pumpkin grown in Maine this season. At the fairs where it was exhibited recently it was awarded $27 in cash prizes, and Mr. Archer carried home blue ribbons enough to start a millinery store. Everybody who saw the pumpkin wanted some of the seed, but Archer, feeling that his native town demanded his loyalty, refused to sell, telling the would-be purchasers that he had agreed to donate the pumpkin, seed and all, to the village church, which would hold a pumpkin pie social, at which time the seeds would be sold to the highest bidder, the proceeds to go to the minister.

The social was held in November. More than 400 persons attended, some of them coming from Kennebec County in order to bid on the pumpkin seed. When the meeting had been called to order and the minister had offered prayer Mr. Archer started to carve the pumpkin with a big stick knife. He opened it with two strokes, and as he laid the hemispheres down upon a table a nest of lively mice scampered away among the audience, causing the women to leap on top of the pews and making an animated scene for several minutes. The mice had not only spoiled the pumpkin for purposes of pie, but they had eaten up all of the precious pumpkin seed, for which the owner had been offered $50 cash.

Archer was bitterly disappointed. So were all those in the audience.

The Blessing of Laughter.
Some one has said that "a sense of the ludicrous and the faculty of laughter are the most useful parts of our nature. Laughter is essentially a social, a sympathetic and a contagious power. Some nations, particularly the Orientals, are said never to laugh; but all European nations have been great laughers, and the ludicrous has played an important part even in their history. By means of laughter, absolute monarchs have been controlled, and even Demos, himself, has been made to laugh at his own follies till he was almost ashamed into good sense. Quackeries, hypocrisies and affectations of all kinds have been exposed and suppressed, and the reformation was promoted by the united efforts of reason and ridicule. The sense of the ludicrous and of the pathetic have their sources not far from each other in the highest part of our nature. A good laugh, periodically administered, would excite those sympathetic feelings and general dispositions, which are most needed for regenerating our moral system. Then men, whom we have sent home laughing, would have experienced an hour's pleasure without fear of misgiving at the time and without remorse or reaction afterwards."—Detroit Free Press.

"Ship Surrounded by Whales."
Whales, dolphins with their rainbow colors when dying, the famous bird, the albatross, porpoises and other members of the great family of the deep are incidental to the neighborhood of Cape Horn. Whales are still plenty, and interesting stories are told of them by the old-time shiver-timbers captain who has rounded the Cape a half dozen times and likes to tell of it. One of this sort on his first voyage in those seas awakened his sleeping crew with this command:

"A vast there, stop that snoring, you land lubbers!"

This being repeated at intervals, and the men wide awake, they declared they had not snored and began an investigation with lanterns. This was their report to the captain:

"Ship surrounded by whales, all snoring."—Chicago Times-Herald.

The fact that bicycles are taxed in France makes it easy to collect statistics as to cycling in that country. The returns for 1897 show that there were then 498,860 bicycles in France, compared with 203,000 in 1894. The income derived from the bicycle tax in 1897 amounted to about $130,000.

Did you ever see a snow storm in summer?

We never did; but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snow storm.

No need of this snowstorm. As the summer sun would melt the falling snow so will melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp. It goes further than that; it prevents their formation. It has still other properties; it will restore color to gray hair in just ten times out of every ten cases.

And it does even more; it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick; hair, and short hair becomes long hair.

We have a book on the Hair and Scalp. It is yours, for the asking.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expect from the use of Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system, which may be easily removed. Address: DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

CONSTIPATION

"I have gone 14 days at a time without a movement of the bowels, not being able to move them except by using hot water injections. Chronic constipation for seven years placed me in this terrible condition; during that time I did everything I heard of but never found any relief; such was my case until I began using CASCARETS. I now have from one to three passages a day, and if I was rich I would give $1000 for each movement; it is such a relief!"—ATLANTA, GA., ATIMBER L. HUNT, 1859 Russell St., Detroit, Mich.

A QUEER OLD WORLD.

It virtue would allure like sin How easily might goodness win.

If right went laughing by like wrong The devil would lose half his throng.

But virtue seems so cold and proud That merry sin attracts the crowd.

And right has such a solemn air Men follow wrong, the debonaire.

And care so eats the daytime up, At night they seize mad folly's cup.

And drink forgetfulness 'till dawn, And so the queer old world goes on.—Lilla Wheeler Wilcox, in the Critic.

Coal in the Philippines.
Admiral Dewey has submitted to the Navy Department, at Washington, by mail a detailed report in regard to some of the extensive mineral resources of the Philippine Islands. The report gives special attention to coal. The Admiral says that coal in large quantities is to be found in Luzon and adjacent islands and that it is of good quality. He represents that the coal mines are not far removed from the seacoast in some places, and that by a minimum investment of capital the product of the mines can be brought to the ocean. Admiral Dewey expresses no opinion in his report in regard to the purpose of working the coal mines, but the inference is that naval coaling stations in the Philippines could be kept supplied in the future with a large quantity of good fuel without incurring the necessity of bringing it long distances in colliers.—New York Sun.

A Town Ruled by Love.
The most unique settlement in the United States is the town of Commonwealth, Ga. There is no need for money at Commonwealth, for everything goes into the common fund, and every man shares exactly alike. There are no rich people in Commonwealth, and no poor people. All work for one another, and the law and creed of the community is "Love." If a person wishes to build a house the lumber is furnished from the mill operated by the members of the settlement. If vegetables are wanted the common garden supplies the need. The settlement is run on the co-operation plan. "Love thy neighbor as thyself" is a law that is strictly observed.—Junior Tidings.

OUR UNCROWNED RULERS.

Give the children roasted apples to eat frequently and as many oranges as they want.

How long should a child remain in a bath? This must, of course, depend upon circumstances; the time must be varied according to the age of the child. For the first four or five weeks of an infant's life it should not be kept in beyond three or four minutes, and the duration must be gradually prolonged as the child grows older until it extends to a quarter of an hour, a period which may be allowed after it has attained the age of 3 years.

When the baby pokes an inquiring finger into the fire or tumbles against a hot steam radiator a quick way to relieve his shrieks is to cover the burned surface with baking powder till a preparation of equal parts of lard and lime water can be applied and covered with soft cloths. If the burn is slight covering with the white of an egg or pure lard will relieve the agony. Burns caused by lime or lye or an alkali of any sort should be treated by vinegar or lemon juice; burns caused by acid should be treated with water and moist earth.

There are households in which the children are scarcely permitted to speak above their breath. This is not at all right. In the home there should be freedom of speech. Children should be encouraged to express, in a modest way, their opinions before their parents and to come to them for advice and counsel in all their difficulties and dilemmas. If this course is pursued they will not be likely to take any serious steps in after life without either consulting the old folk at home or applying the home standard of propriety to whatever enterprise they may have in view.

ODDS AND ENDS.
A cycling firm in Cologne has patented a new bicycle bell, in which is concealed a kind of revolver, which is to serve the double purpose of frightening away vicious dogs and cheeky tramps. By merely pressing a button attached to the side of the bell ten cartridges can be fired off in succession, these giving such a loud report that obnoxious persons and animals would not think twice of beating a hasty retreat.

Machines for treating coffee, used in Brazil, are made in the United States, but require improvements in view of local conditions. Thus the coffee driers are very unsatisfactory, and the inventor of a thoroughly effective drier would reap a fortune in Brazil. Driers now made use too high a temperature, and the product is not uniform. It seems the solution of the problem would lie in the use of comparatively low temperatures and of an exhausting pump.

A student of Spanish annals has added an interesting chapter to the history of prices by revealing from the archives of the Escorial what it cost to discover the new world. The stipends of the discoverers, at all events, did not amount to much. The pay of an able seaman was only, it seems, 10 francs a month, while a captain drew only 80 francs, or about 3 guineas, a month. As for Christopher Columbus himself, his earnings were at the rate of 1,600 francs, or $320, per annum. Even in Spain salaries have risen since those days.

Poe Not Expelled from College.
William H. Browne writes the following letter to the Baltimore News: "I see a paragraph going the rounds of the papers to the effect that it is remarkable that Edgar A. Poe should be honored by a bust erected in the university from which he was expelled. It has been shown again and again that Poe was never expelled from the University of Virginia. Mr. J. H. Ingram, the author of a well-known life of the poet, wrote to Mr. William Wertenbaker, secretary of the faculty, to inquire about Poe's conduct and standing, and that gentleman, who was librarian during Poe's residence and knew him well, replied, not from memory only, but after searching the records, that 'at no time did he fall under the censure of the faculty.' Mr. Woodbury, another biographer, says that during Poe's residence he did not come under the notice of the faculty, which is stated to have been at that time unusually watchful and strict."

Advice is about the only thing the average man will give freely without money and without price.

OVER-WROUGHT NERVES OF WOMEN.

Extracts From Letters Received by Mrs. Pinkham.

"I am so nervous and wretched." "I feel as if I should fly." How familiar these expressions are. Little things annoy you and make you irritable. You can't sleep, you are unable to lift ordinary burdens, and are subject to dizziness.

That bearing-down sensation helps to make you feel miserable. You have backache and pains low down in the side, pain in top of head, later on at base of the brain.

Such a condition points unerringly to serious uterine trouble. If you had written to Mrs. Pinkham when you first experienced impaired vitality, you would have been spared these hours of awful suffering.

Happiness will be gone out of your life forever, my sister, unless you act promptly. Procure Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and begin its use, then write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., if there is anything about your case you do not understand.

You need not be afraid to tell her the things you could not explain to the doctor, your letter is seen only by women and is absolutely confidential. Mrs. Pinkham's vast experience with such troubles enables her to tell you just what is best for you, and she will charge you nothing for her advice.

Mrs. JENNIE BIERLY, Youngdale, Pa., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM.—Will you kindly allow me the pleasure of expressing my gratitude for the wonderful relief I have experienced by taking your Vegetable Compound. I suffered for a long time with nervous prostration, backache, headache, loss of appetite, a heavy bearing-down feeling, also burning pains in the groins. I could not sleep, was tired all the time, had no ambition. Life was a burden to me. The pains I suffered at times of menstruation were something dreadful. I thought there was no cure for it. I saw your advertisement in the paper, and my husband advised me to try your medicine. I took five bottles, and now I am well and happy. Your medicine saved my life."
